WILD HORSE IS ACTOR AT SHOW

"King of Wild Horses" to Be Shown at Princess Friday and Saturday.

At last the screen has the perfect actor—the actor that does not simulate emotions—that is not a slave to the director's exhortations—the actor that follows no school of interpretation and acts with simple but telling naturalness. Never do you doubt his meaning.

And this actor is the magnificent wild stallion that runs off with the whole show in "The King of Wild Horses" which comes to the Princess theatre Friday and Saturday. It is evident from the very start that here is no trick, trained horse, but there is no doubt but that directing him was tricky business. There is no doubt about his being an unconquered creature of the wild.

"The King of Wild Horses" was written by Hal Roach, who also produced it. It is the story of a wild stallion—a black of power and cunning—a king among his kind. Rivals has challenged his leadership, and he has conquered. Man had sought to capture him and failed, until Billy Blair took up the chase solely for the honor of capturing the beautiful creature.

Words are inadequate to convey the thrill and suspense of this hunt—horse sense against man's skill. It is certain that Blair never would have caught the Black except for the forest fire that filled the horse with greater fear than his fear of man. He permits the man to save him from the fire and he is won—but not conquered. He does not belong to the man—the man belongs to him!

The plot does not revolve entirely around the horse, there being a bad man who has involved the heroine's brother in a cattle stealing episode and a romance between Billy and the sister. The Black is instrumental in uncovering the villain's plot and bringing the love story to a happy ending. Blair is played by Leon Bary in true cow-boy style and Edna Murphy is pretty and charming as the heroine. Other roles are ably portrayed by Charles Parrott, Pat Hartigan and Sidney DeGray. Fred Jackman's direction shows a fine understanding of animals.

Caravan of Farmers and Businessmen to Take in Northwest Dairy Shows

Twelve Red River Valley counties will send a caravan of 150 cars carrying 700 farmers and business men to the Twin cities on August 31 and September 1 to see the visual presentation of the inside story of dairying and diversified farming at the Northwest Dairy Exposition.

This delegation is by far the largest organized body to travel so great a distance to any similar exposition in the country.

Counties which have representative cars are Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk, Norman, Mahnomen, Clay, Becker, Ottertail and Wilkin.

Plans for the tour as assembled by Delmer H. LaVoi, field representative for the Northwest Dairy Exposition committee in a recent trip through the Red River Valley, include action by each civic and businessmen's association, commercial club, chamber of commerce, Kiwanis club, Lion's club, Rotary club, and all others in the larger towns in each county to furnish one car each and pay the transportation expenses of from three to five farmers for that car. Appropriate action has already been taken by most of the organizations in the territory.

Starting early Sunday morning, August 31. two separate parties will be organized on the Canadian border at Hallock and Roseau and travel south to Warren where they will converge and join a third party waiting for them at that point.

From Warren the caravan will travel southward through Crookston and Mahnomen gathering strength as it goes. Reaching Detroit at noon, the entire delegation will be the guests of the Detroit Commercial club at a luncheon.

At the night stop at St. Cloud, within striking distance of the Twin cities, the caravan will be met by representatives of the St. Cloud Chamber of Commerce, the Minneapolis Civic & Commerce association and the St. Paul association who will escort it to the Twin cities.

Convoys of St. Paul and Minneapolis patrolmen will meet the delegates to clear the way for a parade of the two cities. All delegations coming to the Twin cities for the exposition will be met by similar convoys.

After parading the two cities the [illegible] will proceed to the exposition grounds where it will disband to view the Northwest Dairy Exposition exhibits.

To keep members of the tour in touch with one another during their stay at the Exposition, the Northwest Dairy Exposition committee at the suggestion of many of the organizations participating in the tour, has arranged for a Red River Valley headquarters tent to be placed near the Como avenue entrance.

For the convenience of all delegates the state fair board has arranged for a special advance admission book of four tickets which will be sold at $2. Regular admission to the grounds is 75 cents; admission with the advance ticket is 50 cents. These advance books must be purchased prior to August 24 and can be used separately to admit an adult at an outside gate, admit an automobile to the grounds, admit an adult or child to the unreserved section of the grand stand, bleachers, or horse show, or it may be exchanged at its value of 50 cents on the purchase of a reserved seat or box seat in the grand stand or horse show. The tickets are detachable and transferable. They are on sale at all banks in the Northwest.

A. C. Vorseth at Elevator.

On August 1, J. E. Thompson, who has been manager of the Hanson & Barzen elevator at this place for the last four years, will leave for Minneapolis where he has a couple advantageous positions to investigate and if not suited there he will go to North Dakota to investigate another elevator position. To relieve Mr. Thompson here has been secured A. C. Vorseth of Thief River Falls. Mr. Vorseth was elevator man here for several years and was relieved by Mr. Thompson years ago when he went to Thief River Falls to become employed on the Soo rip track. Both these men are enjoying the esteem and full confidence of the grain producing farmers, and while they dislike to see Mr. Thompson leave they are glad to see Mr. Vorseth secured to take his place. Mr. Vorseth will enter his duties next Friday.

California Visitors.

Mrs. Chas. Davis from California, formerly Bertha Jacobson and at one time a resident of this township, arrived here on Thursday from Wannaska for a weeks visit with her sister, Mrs. Julia Axelson. Mrs. Davis has spent a couple of weeks visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Helge Jacobson, and with two sisters, Mesdames Carl Nelson and O. H. Olson at Wannaska, arriving there from Rochester, where she had undergone two serious internal operations at the Mayo clinics, and from which she is recuperating at a satisfactory rate.

The Radium baseball players motored here Sunday to clash with the locals, and this time brought home a victory by a score of 1 to 12. Rosewood was victorious at Radium two weeks ago and the boys feel they are about even at this time. Rosewood at this time was assisted by two Warren players, and Rosewood also had two subs.

A Big Dollar's Worth for Each Dollar

President Coolidge in an address to business men recently said that "the deal in which one side 'gets the best of it' is not good business. It does not promote more business or produce confidence in business generally."

The remarkable growth of this Company in 22 years from one obscure store to 571 stores scattered from ocean to ocean, proves the President's point.

The Golden Rule has been our guide. For each dollar given to us we have given a big dollar's worth in return.

A Big Dollar's Worth for Each Dollar

President Coolidge in an address to bnsiness men recently said that "the deal in which one side 'gets the best of it' is not good bnsiness. It does not promote more business or prodnce confidence in bnsiness generally."

The remarkahle growth of this Company in 22 years from one ohscure store to 571 stores scattered from ocean to ocean, proves the President's point.

The Golden Rule has been our guide. For each dollar given to ns we have given a hig dollar's worth in return.

Thief River Lands Legion Convention

1925 State Meeting of Minnesota Department of American Legion Awarded City After Hard Battle

DELEGATION OF BUSINESS MEN AND LEGIONAIRES TO ST. CLOUD DESERVE CREDIT

Thief River Falls Defeats Hibbing, Its Only Rival, By Vote of 349 to 248 on Convention Floor This Morning—Task of Entertaining Visitors Next Year to be Biggest Job Ever Undertaken By This City But It Will Be Done.

Hip! Hip! Hooray!
Hip! Hip! Hooray!

"Thief River Falls lands 1925 state convention American Legion."

The above was the text contained in a message received at 1:15 today by Mayor Arneson from Morlan Bishop, Legion delegate to the St. Cloud convention which concludes its state session today at St. Cloud.

Members of Eklund Post, American Legion, are to be congratulated upon their achievement in landing the convention against the city of Hibbing, known all over the world as the richest city in the United States.

Mayor Arneson who returned from St. Cloud this morning states that the spirit of '76 which was displayed by the Thief River Falls delegation at St. Cloud made this city the 1925 convention choice.

The Hibbing delegation came in shiny limousines with four large brass bands. They were supplied with pamphlets, souvenirs and accoutrements which fairly dazzled the delegates.

Thief River Falls descended upon St. Cloud in a fleet of rattling little utility cars which could be heard for blocks. They had a clown band which was the hit of the convention, in fact this motley bunch of musicians contending against tremendous odds in the shape of uniformed bands and drum majors, literally took the St. Cloud convention by storm.

Commander Oscar Smith worked like a trojan and he was ably assisted by Morlan Bishop, Dr. Swedenburg, H. O. Chommie, Vic. Polman, Ted McGinn, H. S. Snyder, Lawrence Hermanson and numerous other members of the local post. They were the busiest most irrespressible gang of convention hooomers that made its appearance at St. Cloud. Hibbing with its band and Rolls Roices were simply lost in the tumultuous greeting which met the efforts of the local contingent on behalf of Thief River Falls.

A citizens committee composed of Mayor Arneson and H. A. Brumund, representing the city and Dr. Froehlich, Loren Johnson, E. O. Mogenson and Herman Bischoff representing the Commercial club, gave its assistance to the Legion delegates.

Upon their arrival in St. Clond Sunday afternoon the local contingent immediately got into action. The clown band paraded the principal streets, doing a snake dance which attracted hundreds of followers, and hurling a shrapnel of "Jazz" music down the main thoroughfares of St. Cloud which swept the Hibbing crowd from their feet.

The Thief River procession was a grand fanfare of emblems and tokens proclaiming the supremacy of the metropolis of northwestern Minnesota. Accompanied by tooting horns and screaming automobile horns the Thief Riverites proceeded from one hotel to another in a convincing avalanche of noisy argument. If there was a citizen of St. Cloud who did not hear a Thief River badge when the snake dance ended it was because he was home in bed.

Mayor Benson handed the city over to Thief River.

Chief of Police Ed. Brick, the biggest chief in the state, viewed the howling mob from his police car. As the procession passed him he yelled to Mayor Arneson: "Go as far as you like fellows, we are for Thief River 100 per cent."

During the snake dance Herman Bischoff entertained the hotel crowds with his Scotch selections, singing alternately at the Breen and Grand Central, the leading St. Cloud hotels. By the way, Herman sang two songs before the convention on Monday afternoon just before National Commander Quinn arrived on the scene. The big commander got the finest reception one could imagine but it is a question if his reception was greater than the ovation accorded our own Herman Bischoff.

Halvorson of Warren played with the band and was introduced to the crowds as the John McCormick of Thief River Falls, his fine tenor voice bringing much support to this city. (A lot of the ladies promised to come here next year just to meet Halvorson.)

Then there was Larson of Ada, "Senator Swanson, of Thief River Falls," who told the crowds all about us fifty-fifty. Half Swede and half English. He was a scream.

The coming of the convention will bring more than 1000 Legion delegates to the city and perhaps half that many delegates of the Women's Auxiliary. It will mean a lot of work on the part of the Legion and upon every citizen of Thief River Falls will devolve the task of assisting in the huge program of entertainment planned by the service men.

It's the biggest job Thief River ever tackled, but the old town will do it up brown.

You tell 'em.

How it Was Done.

The matter of deciding the 1925 convention first came before the "Time and Place Committee," which met yesterday morning. Supt. Ole R. Sande was a member of this committee and much credit is due him for the fine presentation he made of the case for Thief River Falls. Mayor Arneson was also given an opportunity to briefly outline the claims of the city to the 1925 convention. The committee stood 7 to 1 for this city, two members of the committee being absent. This morning the convention adopted the report of the committee by a vote of 248½ to 369½.

THE 1925 LEGION CONVENTION.

Will bring to Thief River Falls more than 1000 delegates, besides alternates, wives and sweethearts.

It is likely that from 3000 to 5000 visitors will invade the city for the three days of the convention.

From 12 to 15 bands and drum corps, ranging in size from 30 to 75 pieces will parade the down town streets during the convention.

At least 40 pullman cars will be parked in the city during the three days.

The Soo Line has promised to run several special trains to Winnipeg if the Legion so desires.

The National Commander of the Legion, several State Commanders and their staffs will speak at the convention.

Staff writers and photographers representing all daily newspapers will be on band to cover the convention.

Movie men will record the big doings for the screen to be shown all over the country.

Entertaining the convention will place upon the shoulders of Thief River Falls the biggest job it will ever be called upon to bear.

SCHOOL TO OPEN IN SHORT TIME

September 2 Set as Day For Beginning Grind of Next School Year.

The Tribune is in receipt of a letter from Supt. I. T. Simley of the local schools, who now is taking an advanced course in school administration at Columbia University, New York, in which he states that he is enjoying good health but that he is very busy.

Mr. Simley states that school here will be opened on Tuesday, September 2, at which time pupils will be enrolled and actual work begun. A preliminary session will be held on Monday, September 1, which will be devoted to a general teachers' meeting and to final organization work. At any time after Monday, August 18, people will confer a favor if they will call the superintendent's office and list board and room. This information will be tabulated and sent to all teachers.

More detailed information concerning the opening of school, a list of instructors, etc., will be given in a future issue of The Tribune.

MAYFIELD DANCE CAUSES TROUBLE

Two Brothers Pay Heavy Fines Following Visit of Sheriff Ole L. Ihle.

There was a barn dance at the John Omdahl farm in Mafield last Saturday night, and it started no end of trouble. Acting on a tip that everything out there wasn't according to Hoyle, Sheriff O. L. Ihle and Deputy Kongelf started for the place and arrived on the scene shortly after midnight.

Evidence of moonshine was plentiful, according to the officers, and the sheriff surprised a group under the trees in the act of passing around a bottle of the contraband stuff. Arthur Omdahl took exception to the conduct of Constable Simon Breiland in interfering with the program of the evening and proceeded to beat him up to the best of his ability. Omdahl was arrested on the charge of assaulting an officer and Monday morning paid a fine of $100 in Judge Tarrant's court for displaying his fistic ability.

John Omdahl also was arrested, charged with conducting a public dance without the proper permit. He was assessed a fine of $50 and costs, which he paid.

Sheriff Ihle is determined to put a stop to the illegally conducted country dances, which in many cases amount to no more than moonshine carousals. He says he will secure a sufficient number of deputies to police all parts of the county in an adequate manner and warns offenders that both the dance law and the prohibition law will be enforced to the letter in Pennington county.

Rev. and Mrs. Smith to Move to Bemidji Soon

Rev. J. B. Smith, former pastor of the local Methodist church, accompanied by Mrs. Smith, left Tuesday on a short trip to Bemidji. Rev. Smith owns a farm near that city and expects to make arrangements to make his home there within the near future. His health has not been of the best for some time and he makes the change in the hope that the outdoor air of the wooded country will prove beneficial. The many Thief River Falls friends of Rev. and Mrs. Smith trust they will find time to pay occasional visits to this city.

Flag Decorations Ready.

Nearly 100 flags have been purchased by different marchants of the city through the sale sponsored by the Elmer J. Eklund post and in charge of Henry Froseth and Haaken Olson. During the forepart of the week Roy Miller and Earl Effinger have been busily at the task of fixing the holders and with the arrival of the staves expected this (Wednesday) evening, the city should appear in a holiday attire that will please everyone.

SLUGGERS LOSE TO ST. HILAIRE

Down Stream Baseballers Grab Sunday Game With Score of 5-3.

The local baseball team continued its losing streak last Sunday and dropped a game to St. Hilaire which by all the laws of averages should have been won. The jinx was busily at work, however, and every time the locals got men on bases and a beautiful opportunity to make scores, an error or something was sure to happen and the side retired. It was a good game, however, and furnished the fans with plenty of thrills. A return game with St. Hilaire will be arranged for in the near future and the results should prove different. Losing two straight to the lads from down stream isn't so bad but the locals would hate like everything to make it three.

Middle River is coming here next Sunday for a game on the fair grounds diamond. The Middle River boys have been putting up a fine brand of ball lately and the contest here Sunday should prove right up to snuff. An effort is being made to arrange a game with Holt for some time next week but the day on which this will be played has not yet been decided upon.

A pilgrimage to Warroad is planned for Sunday, August 17, at which time the locals will meet the team from that village. Baseball is a leading sport in the northern towns and it is said the Warroad team is one of the best in that section of the state. Quite a number of local fans and rooters are planning on accompanying the team on its trip to Warroad.

Senator Hansen Leaves on Extended Trip to Europe

Senator C. L. Hansen, who recently disposed of his interests in the First National bank of this city due to ill health, embarked yesterday from New York and is planning an extended tour of Europe. His first stop will be at his old home in Denmark, where he will spend some time with his aged mother. After completing his visit there he expects to visit the other Scandinavian countries as well as continental Europe. With a long rest and the change afforded by travel it is believed Senator Hansen's health will improve to the extent that when he returns to Thief River Falls he will again be his former robust self.

Building Nearly Complete.

The fine new building of the Peterson-Biddick company is now almost complete and the company expects to move into it some time next week. It is a fine structure and will provide a first-class business home for the concern.

GREATEST COUNTY FAIR TO OPEN GATES TO PUBLIC ON THURSDAY MORNING, AUG. 7

Thos. D. Schall, Republican Nominee For United States Senator, to Speak Friday Afternoon in Front of Grandstand—Senator Magnus Johnson Scheduled For Speech Saturday—Favorable Weather Only Required to Make Fair Greatest Yet.

Tomorrow morning the greatest county fair in the history of Pennington county and Northwestern Minnesota will throw open its doors to the public. Exhibits are all in place, the entertainment features are ready and all that remains to make it the best Pennington county fair ever held is favorable weather from now until Saturday night.

As a special attraction for Friday afternoon, Thomas Schall, Republican nominee for United States senator, will deliver a speech in front of the grand stand. The blind congressman is said to be a wonderful speaker and as this is his first appearance in Thief River Falls during the present campaign, his speech should be eagerly looked forward to by everyone.

But Friday isn't going to be the only big speech day. Saturday afternoon United States Senator Magnus Johnson will be here to deliver a speech to the folks of this section. The senator is well known here and has spoken in the city on previous occasions. It is needless to say that his appearance here will draw an enormous crowd and it is freely predicted that Saturday will break all attendance records at the fair.

More free attractions are offered at the fair this year than ever before. Seventeen fine acts will be presented before the grand stand each afternoon and evening. Of these ten will be given by Hoaglan's Gigantic Hippodrome company, and include complete games of auto polo, thrilling chariot races, three-horse standing races, tandem races by thoroughbreds, push-ball, kicking mule, eight-horse elimination race, a two-horse Roman standing race, the bucking Ford, and running races participated in by four American record holding horses. Chicott's Novelty Troupe will present two separate acts of hoop rolling, slack wire walking, aerial stunts by trained dogs and juggling. The Carlson sisters, aeralists, will present two good acts. Three acts are put on by Lester & Griffin, unsurpassed clowns.

Exhibits in all departments will equal if not exceed those of former years. Especially is this true in the livestock department, where the showing is exceptionally strong. Pennington county will have more reason than ever before to feel proud of its livestock after viewing the exhibits at the county fair.

The woman's department promises to be better than ever this year. Not only is there added interest in this department, but there is a larger variety of better exhibits than in previous years.

Fireworks are offered as a special attraction for two evenings. Something out of the ordinary is promised in this line, the display being one of the best available from the world's largest producers of fireworks spectacles.

Taken all in all it will be a banner fair. Those in charge of preparations have been tireless in their efforts and the result is sure to please all classes of visitors. Take at least one day off and visit the Pennington county fair this year. Let's go!

NORTH DAKOTA MAN HELD HERE

Picked Up By Sheriff on Liquor Charge After Collision.

Lars Christianson of Hatton, N. D., is held in the Pennington county jail while an effort is being made to raise $500 bonds, the price placed upon his liberty by Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant after a hearing in that court Monday morning.

The trouble started Saturday night on the highway a mile and a half west of town. Christianson and Emil Beck, also of Hatton, were driving toward town, when they collided with a car coming in the opposite direction. Nobody was seriously injured but both cars had to be hauled to a local garage for repairs. Sheriff Ihle was notified and started for the scene of the accident, accompanied by Deputy Kongelf. The two Dakota men had started for town on foot and were met by the sheriff. He, however, went on to the place where the accident had occurred, where he was told that the drivers of one car had started for town on foot. Starting back toward the city, the sheriff overtook the two men and halted his car. Christianson was seen to take a bottle from his pocket and throw it into the ditch, where it was afterwards located and found to contain a quantity of moon. The officers than placed the man under arrest for transporting liquor, but Beck was allowed his freedom upon his promise to appear as a witness at the hearing Monday.

Some time Monday forenooo, however, Beck flew his kite and his pal was forced to face the judge alone. After hearing the evidence in the case Judge Tarrant bound the defendant over to the district court under bonds of $500, which up to this time have not been forthcoming. It is not likely that an effort will be made to locate Beck as no specific charge was placed against him.

Stores of City to Close At Noon Friday in Order That All May Go to Fair

It is announced that all stores in the city will be closed at noon next Friday to give owners and employes an opportunity to visit the county fair that afternoon. Friday has been set apart as Thief River Falls day at the fair and it is urged that the afternoon attendance be made as large as possible.

Those who wish to do any trading Friday should bear in mind the noon closing and govern themselves accordingly. The opening hour after the fair performance has not been set, it being deemed advisable to let each business man determine this to suit his own convenience.

Visiting in Montana.

Mrs. D. B. Mathewson and children left last week for Malta, Montana, where they expect to spend several weeks visiting relatives. Mr. Mathewson, who is a brakeman on the Soo, says that if he gets too lonesome he will pack up and join them in a short time.

A Hot Time in the Old Town.

The Citizens' Committee to the St. Cloud convention, accompanied by the clown band which rendered such herculean service in landing the 1925 meeting, will arrive in the city some time before midnight tonight. They left St. Cloud about noon and should be here by 11 o'clock. Present plans call for a noisy demonstration upon their arrival and it is the prediction of The Tribune that Thief River Falls late this evening will get a taste of convention stuff just as an eye opener for 1925.

Don't go to bed too early tonight unless you are sick.

Legion to Put on Bowery Dance at the Auditorium During County Fair Days

A bowery dance will be conducted at the city auditorium Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week under the auspices of the American Legion. Music will be furnished by Emard's orchestra of Grand Forks, one of the best musical organizations in this section of the country. The Legion boys extend a cordial invitation to fair visitors to spend a few hours at the auditorium during their stay here. There is plenty of room for everybody and the best floor in the city.

In the meantime Mr. Forder is devoting his time to introducing the invention and is heving it menufactured in small quantities so as to care for the demand already created. The device hes been given many severe tests and in every case has proven its superiority over other devices designed for the same purpose. MANY motorists have put Red Crown in the tanks of their coupes, limousines, touring or other passenger cars, after having proved in their trucks that for service and economy, Red Crown is the business gasoline.

One of the large packing houses writes:

"We find that Red Crown Gasoline gives entire satisfaction in our large fleet of motor trucks—starting easily, accelerating rapidly, and giving excellent mileage.

"In our business every truck must move on time. Dependability is essential in order that exacting schedules may be maintained in the distribution of perishable products.

Hand-picked Thoroughness
The RUMELY System

YOU know how the farmer tests his clover or alfalfa crop. First he breaks off a few heads. Then rubs and rubs them between the palms of his hands. When hulls are loosened he blows away the chaff. Then he carefully picks out the foul seed and other foreign substances. There remains a sample of perfect seed ready for market.

A Rumely Huller gets the seed out in the same way. Cylinders pick off the heads. Three big shaker pans separate heads from stems. Hulling cylinder loosens the hulls and "rubs" out the seed. Screens and air blasts thoroughly clean the seed. That's why the Rumely Huller always delivers clean seed ready for market.

See this time-tested machine. It is beautifully balanced — smooth running — long lived. Like the Rumely Ideal Separator, the Rumely Huller has unusual capacity. Straw goes through in a steady, even flow. Come in and let us show you why it pays to own Rumely machinery.

THE SPIRIT OF '76.

The City of Thief River Falls takes off its hat, so to speak, to the gallant boys of the American Legion who landed the 1925 state convention of the American Legion for this city.

Not only are we inexpressibly proud of the efforts of our delegation at St. Cloud, but we are simply doubled up with glee over the prospect of playing bost next year to the American Legion fellows. It is not often that a city of 6000 souls is given such a man's sized job, but the same spirit of co-operation that landed the convention, when concentrated upon the task of entertaining the men and women of the Legion, will put the city on the map in a way which could not be accomplished in any other way which now comes to mind.

MAKE IT A HOT ONE.

The Tribune desires to impress upon the minds of all people the extreme importance of patronizing the county fair.

To begin with the fair is an institution of great merit. The cattle exhibition alone is well worth many times the price of admission. Under no circumstances sbould any loyal Pennington county man or woman miss the style show of cows and bulls born and bred within the confines of the county. They are the chief reliance of our future prosperity and as such deserve all the homage we can give them.

There will be some dandy horses, some mighty fine sheep, some choice hogs (not road hogs) a lot of fancy chickens, etc., etc.

The agricultural exhibit will be in a class by itself. It will be better than ever and the showing this year will be a barometer of Pennington county soil.

And by all means do not overlook the Woman's building. The exhibit housed in that building will be a sight for sore eyes. The art exhibit and various school exhibitions will well repay you for the time spent in this department.

We need not dilate upon the sports program, the free attractions before the grand stand which has cost the management a neat sum, the huge carnival and aerial performers. Also we should mention the fireworks which will close each day's program.

Oh, boy, it would take pages and pages to tell all about it, but time and space prevents us, so do the sensible thing.

Go and see it all.

Pennington county will be at the state fair with an exhibit which will make the rest of the state sit up and take notice. If people only knew what we grew in this neck of the woods there would be a rush for land equal to the days of '49.

Look out for fakirs during the fair. Local authorities are doing all they can to protect the public but this has been a tough season for crooks and they are hungrily casting about for new suckers. Don't be one.

Beware. Beware. Beware. If you get fleeced during the fair, blame yourself. No games will be offered which are not designed to return handsome dividends to the man behind the wheel. Remember that.

You will be remiss in your duty to Pennington county and the men who are going over the top in an agricultural way if you do not buy an admission to the big fair which opens here tomorrow.

Fair officials predict a record crowd at the fair grounds Saturday afternoon when Magnus is presented to the assemblage by the mayor of Thief River Falls.

Hear Tom Schall, blind candidate for United States Senator, at the county fair Friday afternoon. They say he is an orator of the first water.

Herb. Fuller says the county fair will be bigger and better than ever. Well, all we can say is—she'll be a bearcat if that is the case.

Booze peddlers will give Thief River Falls a wide berth during the fair if they bave as much sense as God gave geese.

It will be Tom Schall or Magnus Johnson after November. Hear the gentlemen at the county fair and take your choice.

MAE MURRAY HIT AS MEXICAN GIRL

Metro Star Scores Triumph in "Mademoiselle Midnight" at Princess.

A decided departure from the usual run of Mae Murray pictures and filled with many fine moments of comedy and drama, "Mademoiselle Midnight" the Metro star's latest picture at the Princess theatre, Sunday and Monday, will be the feature.

The film began with a prologue depicting the court of Napoleon III, and introduced a French lady in waiting. This girl, portrayed by Miss Murray, is the grandmother of the modern girl of the story proper. The beauty of the scenes at court was simply astounding, and Miss Murray looked magnificent in the hoop-skirts of the period.

Going into the modern period, the change of scene nevertheless kept the same air of old-fashioned beauty that prevailed in the opening sequence. The Mexico of Miss Murray's picture was a delightful, backward sort of place with quaint houses and quainter people.

The star appeared as Renee, the daughter of Don Pedro de Quiros, a wealthy cattle owner of proud family. Renee is afflicted with a curious malady inherited from her grandmother, a lady in the court of Napoleon III. At midnight she is subject to a madness which makes her incapable of knowing what she does.

With this premise, the story developed many thrilling moments, and kept the audience on edge.

Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Barackman and son Rufns, who have been visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. M. W. Brink during the past week, left Wednesday morning by car accompanied by Mrs. Brink, for Lake Reimer, where they will enjoy a short outing with Mrs. Franklin Barackman and two daughters, who have a camp at the lake, before their return to Lincoln, Kansas. Upon the return journey, Rufus will leave the party at Owatonna, he having accepted a position in the high school there as head of the science department.

Dr. A. W. Swedenburg was summoned to Cannon Falls Monday upon receipt of a telegram from relatives with whom his daughter Dorothy and son Carl, are staying, statiog that Dorothy was suffering from blood-poison caused by an injury to her foot while in bathing. An operation was performed but the outcome is as yet, unknown.

Nellie E. Paine

Last Saturday occurred the death of Mrs. Nellie E. Paine at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Curran, death being caused directly from a cerebral hemorrhage. She was 76 years, 11 months of age at the time of death, being born in Illinois, August 20,1847. She was widowed some years ago and has lived with her daughter at the Corran home on Main avenue north. The remains were shipped to Brainard Saturday for borial.

Theodore Thompson.

Saturday, August 2, occurred the death in this city of Theodore Thompson of Duluth, direct cause of death being septic pneumonia which was caused from a wound inflicted on himself the Sunday previous. He was about 48 years old and was horn in Norway, coming to this country some 30 years ago. Burial will be in Greenwood. Fuueral arrangements have not been completed as yet.

What's freezing in the bucket?

Chances are, you'd be curious, too, if you didn't know what a simple way this is to have as delicious fruit ices as ever made hot days cool.

There's a can of DEL MONTE Sliced Peaches in that bucket (or maybe it's Pears, Crushed Pineapple, Apricots, Strawberries, Loganberries, Fruits for Salad, etc.)

It has simply been packed in equal parts of ice and coarse or ice-cream salt and then allowed to stand and freeze slowly for about three hours. In a few minutes, now, this can will be opened, and then certain lucky people are going to enjoy as cool and refreshing a treat as ever was served on a hot day.

And remember—ice is just as helpful to you these hot summer days in many other ways. It not only adds to your enjoyment of food, but safeguards your health as well.

A Safe Rate of Interest

It has long been recognized that one of the earmarks of a good, safe investment is a moderate rate of interest. Particularly is this true at this time when money rates the country over have slowly receded.

Because of this, this bank, in order that we might keep our business on a basis of sound, prudent banking, have found it necessary to return to the old, established interest rate of 4 per cent on Time Deposits and Savings Accounts.

Accordingly the First and Peoples State Bank announces that on and after September first, 1924, this inerest rate as a safe rate for a safe bank to pay. We feel that the bank owes its customers and the community the best service and protection possible to render. We invite your business on this basis of SAFETY FIRST AND ALWAYS.

ROSEWOOD

Thompsons Surprised.

A community surprise-farewell party was tendered Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson at the Rosewood hall last Wednesday evening by about fifty of their friends. The evening was merrily passed at dancing and socially and refreshments were served. The Thompsons will leave the beginning of the week for Gully, their former home town, where they will spend some time before proceeding to Minneapolis where Mr. Thompson plans to secure future employment. The household belongings have been shipped to Gully by truck. All the good wishes of the community are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Thompson for their future happiness and prosperity and an assurance that we have enjoyed and appreciated their four-year stay at this place. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, also in their turn, wish through the columns of this paper, to extend a cordial farewell to all their many friends throughout the community, whom they did not have a chance to give a handshake personally, and also a hearty thanks to all the partakers in the pleasant evening of the surprise party. They assure us they have enjoyed their stay here as much as we have and hope to have the pleasure of meeting with the Rosewood people again at some future time.

Furans Leaving for Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Furan, who have made their home at this place for several years since Mr. Furan dissolved partnership with Severt Benson in the barber business at Thief River Falls, will leave this month for that place where Mr. Furan will be employed with Mr. Benson in his barber shop. Mr. Furan has been engaged in various business opportunities during the years he has been at Rosewood, coming here first as a county organizer for the Nonpartisan League political organization. At one time he was in partnership with John Sorenson in tha garage business, and was one of tha starters of the Rosewood garage. He has been agent for various lines of trade and radio apparatus, and has also taken a few turns more or less satisfactory at farming in this community. Since coming here he has had the misfortune and sorrow of losing his first wife through sleeping fin, but has also had the joy of securing a new life partner, at this place. Mr. Furan is a many-sided man, a cordial friend and a good-hearted neighbor; wherever a brain and a pair of hands can find usefulness, he will always make some progress. There is only one thing about it; we hate to see Mr. Furan leave, and while we realize that Rosewood was not large enough to satisfy his ambitions continuously, we believe he will find a wider field for progress and study at Thief River Falls. Mrs. Furan is a very cheery and pleasant woman and will be missed greatly by her many Rosewood friends.

A. C. Vorseth arrived here Friday morning from Thief River Falls and will take charge of the Hanson-Barzen elevator, besides being agent for the Thief River Falls Co-operative cream station and custodian of the Soo property here. Interest Rates Lower
On September 1st our interest rate in Savings and Certificates of Deposit will be 4 per cent. Supply and demand for money has forced down interest rates on loans which in turn has made it necessary for all banks working on a conservative basis to lower interest rates on deposits.
The margin between interest paid on deposits and the interest we get on loans is the basis of the bank's profit and soundness, for without profits a bank cannot long maintain service and safety for its patrons.
We want your business always on a basis of SERVICE, SATISFACTION and SAFETY which at this time means the safe rate of interest of

MISS DALTON IS BADLY INJURED

Star of "The Law of the Lawless" Refused Aid of a Double.

Because she refused to permit another woman to double for ber in a stirring scene in which she escapes from a blazing minaret in a Tartar village, Dorothy Dalton suffered a severe fall and a painfully lacerated knee during the filming of her latest Paramount picture, "The Law of the Lawless," which will be on view at tbe Princess theatre next Friday and Saturday.

In the action of the story Miss Dalton is imprisoned in a mosque during an exciting battle between the villagers and a band of invading gypsies. At the climax of the fight the mosque is set afire. The star makes her escape by dropping from the minaret of the mosque to the neighboring housetop and fleeing across this uneven perch to safety.

Realizing the danger to which Miss Daltcn would be exposed, Director Victor Fleming wished to substitute a professional feminine dare-devil for these scenes, but this plan was promptly vetoed by the star. She insisted on playing the scenes in person.

Negotiating the drop from the minaret safely, Miss Dalton hurried across the housetops. But in clambering from one to another she lost her footing, fell to the adjoining roof and was unable to continue with the scene. A doctor was summoned and an examination revealed that the injury was no more severe than a sprained and lacerated knee and a general shaking up. She was able to continue work the following day and repeated the scene without further accidents.

"The Law of the Lawless" is a story of the wild country of southeastern Roumania. Theodore Kosloff, Charles de Roche and Tully Marshall are featured. Margaret Loomis and Fred Huntley also are in the cast.

Funeral services wsre held a week ago for Walter Harland Peterson, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Peterson, farmers south of Clearbrook, who was killed by an auto while walking on the highway near his father's farm. The boy was walking on the left hand side of the road and did not notice the car coming until it was close by. The car was occupied by four business men of Ironton on their way to Roseau. The boy turned when the car neared him and noticing it was on the left hand side, turned to the right. The driver also turned to the right, hitting the boy and hurling his body through the air against the end of a culvert. In his effort to miss the boy the driver turned so far the car went over the grade and brought up against a telephone pole, badly damaging it and injuring some of the occupants severely. The lad was immediately taken to Bemidji but died without regaining consciousness.

Bumper Harvest Begins.

Rye cutting in Red Lake connty is under way and the wheat harvest will become general within the next two weeks, with a crop outlook the best it has been since 1915. There are few reports of black rust over the entire northwest and but few traces of red rust. The rainfall has been such that this year proved one of the best small grain seasons for many years. The North Dakota crop prospects are the hest they have been in several years and farmers generally are reporting bumper crops. The acreage of wheat is not as large as usual and this fact is certain to assure good prices for wheat this fall.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Two brothers were killed instantly and a third brother was hurt perhaps fatally when lightning struck them as they were weeding their garden eight miles east of Bemidji Saturday. Local Folks State Facts About Red Lake's Resort

Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Johnson and family motored to Red Lake one day recently and looked over the lots and beach. Mr. Johnson says he found it to be the best summer resort in the Northwest. The roads now are as good as can be expected, according to Mr. Johnson, and if anyone is afraid to go to Red Lake on account of the roade he should get over the notion at once. The roads are entirely passable and those visiting Red Lake will be rewarded with seeing one of the finest beaches in the world and much other beautiful scenery.

Mr. Johnson, who reached the lake Thursday, drove back to town Saturday for more "grub," returning to the lake in the evening with Mr. and Mrs. S. Brandon and family and Mr. and Mrs. Davidson and Hazel Davidson. The party camped at Esplee that night, went to the lake early in the morning and returned to Thief River Falls late Sunday evening. At least 200 people were at the lake Sunday, and many went out for a nice ride with "Gib" Becken in his launch. Mr. Johnson says: "Let us all boost for Red Lake and a good road out there."

A Hot Day Causes Many More Telephone Calls

A very hot day will often cause as many as one-fourth more telephone calls. On such days, more people stay indoors and use the telephone.

Rainy days and very cold days also mean that more telephone calls will be made.

Snow storms, likewise, add to the problem of providing service by tying up transportation and causing people to transact their business by telephone. And frequently sleet storms tear down poles and wires, shutting off service.

Uniformly satisfactory telephone service is our constant aim, but occasionally conditions arise which are temporarily beyond all human control. At such a time we especially appreciate the patience of our patrons until the situation can be met.

QUIET SESSION OF COUNCIL ON ROUTINE WORK

Monthly Reports of Various City Departments Submitted to Aldermen.

Police Department Reports One Bid Received for Motorcycle Purchase.

Routine matters occupied the attention of the city council at its regular session last night, manq informal matters coming up for discussion and keeping the aldermen on the job until a late hour, all of them being present.

The various monthly reports were submitted and ordered filed. The report of the clerk showed a balance this month of $12,729.96 after having issued warrants totalling $61,171.66, the receipts having been $37,559.05 and the balance July 1, $36,342.57. The water department showed earnings for the quarter of $2,510.39 and the electric light department $3,862.39. The report of the judge of the municipal court showed fines and fees collected amounting to $40.35, while the report of the chief of police showed a total of four arrests in July. The report of the dairy inspector showed a continued improvement in conditions with all dairy herds up to requirements.

The city clerk reported only one bid received on the police department's motorcycle, but no definite action was taken until further information is received from the state as to the license thereon.

The appointment of Mrs. Della Zeh as a member of the park board to succeed her late husband, was confirmed by the council.

A petition from various property owners for the extension of the white way on LaBree avenue north from Third to Fourth street was laid on the table, it not having been accompanied by the cash necessary to install the posts and lamps as was done when the original system was installed.

The petition for a milk license renewal to Albert Johnson was favorably acted upon, as was also the application for a building permit of the Trinity Lutheran church for repairs to the parsonage at an estimated cost of $700.

A communication from the Jacobson Engineering company of Minneapolis regarding the construction of a hydro electric power plant in connection with the dam was ordered received and filed.

The city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids on a heating plant at the poor house to be opened Sept. 9.

No action on the application of Jas. Farr for a soft drink license was taken, following a request from the W. C. T. U. that it be refused.

The electric light department was instructed to install lights at the various school entrances where there were recesses at the doorways, complaints having been filed that young people were frequenting these places and disturbing the peace. The lights will be connected up with the street lighting system so that the lights will be turned on and off at the power house and thus burn all night.

GREAT PICTURE COMING SUNDAY

"Women Who Give", Reginald Barker's latest Metro production which comes to the Lyceum theatre Sunday and Monday is heralded as the season's most thrilling story that deals with seafaring men and their wives and sweethearts who patiently await the return of their loved ones who go down to the sea in ships. It is an adaption of that famous classic, "Cape Cod Folks," by Sarah P. McLean Green and has been directed with all the noted skill of Mr. Barker, who engaged a most impressive cast to enact the leading roles.

The two prominent feminine characters in the photodrama are played by Barbara Bedford and Renee Adoree who are two particular favorites of the motion picture fans in this city. Robert Frazer enacts the leading male role, that of a young captain of the fishing fleet, and this popular young actor has never been seen to better advantage. Then there is Frank Keenan, who needs no introduction to the theatre-going public, and Joseph Dowling, who made such a distinctive hit in the title role of "The Miracle Man." Others who round out the superb cast include Margaret Seddon, Joan Standing, Victor Potel, Eddie Phillips and William Eugene.

"Women Who Give" has numerous exciting and thrilling scenes among which might be mentioned a desperate battle with a huge swordfish in which the players nearly lost their lives, the most realistic shipwreck scene ever filmed and the firing of a cottage by the lighthouse keeper. This last episode pictures the desperation of the keeper when the big light fails and he realizes that a ship with his son aboard will go on the rocks if not properly guarded by the light. He sets fire to his own home as a substitute for the broken down beacon that for years has guided the fishing fleet safely into port.

NARROW ESCAPE IN CAR SMASHUP

Dr. and Mrs. Swedenburg Badly Shaken Up in Auto Collision Saturday.

Friday night, while returning from an 80 mile trip south of Erie, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Swedenburg were badly shaken up, the doctor also suffering a small scalp wound, and their car damaged when they were run into by a Ford three miles east of this city. Driving to the city, Dr. and Mrs. Swedenburg had already been pushed far to the right side of the road by a car swerving into the highway from a side road. The Ford, occupied by four Erie people, was coming at a fast clip, and evidently unnerved through the fact that he was almost upon a horse and buggy, the driver turned the car and drove head on into the doctor's car, ripping off the lights, the radiator and front of the car and rendering the doctor and his wife unconscious. The Ford turned turtle and pinned the occupants underneath, but they were not injured when assisted from their position by the doctor. The car was not badly damaged and they drove on to Erie, Dr. and Mrs. Swedenburg being taken into town by another car. Very much dazed by the shaking up that was administered to them, the doctor and his wife are uncertain as to some of the details of the accident and would like to see the farmer whose horse and buggy so narrowly escaped.

LEGION INVITES FOLKS TO LUNCH

Proposition of Entertaining 1925 Legion Convention Taken Up Thursday.

A big meeting will be held at the Legion rooms Thursday of this week, when business men and others will get together with the members of the Legion in perfecting plans for entertaining the 1925 convention of the Legion, which was secured for this city at the state convention recently held at St. Cloud.

Entertaining the state convention is no small job, and it will require the united energy of Legion members and every other citizen of Thief River Falls to do the job up properly. For this reason the Legion boys have arranged the meeting for tomorrow night and earnestly request everyone to be on hand. Lunch will be served and the evening will be devoted to making tentative plans for next year's convention. Thief River Falls is going to do the job up brown—there is no question about that—and it is well that preparations are getting under way thus early for the proper entertainment of the delegates. When the 1925 convention is history, all will concede thet is was properly taken care of. Turn out Thursday night and do your bit.

MUCH MONEY TO HELP BEET MEN

Gigantic Corporation Ready to Help Farmers If U. S. Gives Support.

Expenditure of several million dollars to extend the beet sugar industry into this section as a means of helping the farmers work out their present financial difficulties, is assured, providing the government retains its present policy and refuses to listen to the voice of the sugar trust and the interests that would profit in Cuban sugar through destruction of home competition.

A. E. Carlton of Colorado Springs, Colorado, president of the Holly Sugar corporation, third largest beet sugar company in the United States with factories in California, Idaho, Wyoming, and Colorado, announces this development will be handled by a new corporation with a capital of several million dollars.

Some time ago the beet sugar manufacturers detailed a party of investigators to look into the Red River valley and the Northwestern country as a possible field for raising sugar beets and building sugar factories. One of the men who made this investigation was perhaps the geratest chemical authority on sugar beets in the country. After touring Minnesota, North and South Dakota, this man made an extended report to the beet sugar manufacturers in which he stated that there was no more promising field in existence for raising sugar beets and manufacturing sugar than this territory, particularly the valley of the Red River of the North.

Interests in the Red River valley have sent another appeal here for business and farm leaders to adopt resolutions asking President Coolidge, our state senators and representatives in congress from this district to protest against efforts now being made to have the tariff on sugar reduced. This reduction, it is pointed out, would remove entirely the opportunity of this section to secure the benefits of several million dollars to be expended in the development of sugar beets, a cash and practically guaranteed crop.

President Carlton in an announcement of his plan for extending the beet sugar industry to the Northwest, pointed out that in the fifteen principal wheat growing states more than 106,000 farmers since 1920 have lost their farms through foreclosures or bankruptcy, and more than 122,000 in addition to this, have surrendered their property without legal proceedings.

It is no wonder then, that President Coolidge is interested in bringing about a diversification of crops in the Northwest and that the growing of sugar beets should be looked to as an important measure of relief. National leaders have been impressed by the possibilities of extending the beet sugar industry to the wheat growing states and with any sort of proper support it is believed that this agricultural industry can soon attain to the greatness it should have in this territory.

It is an economic monstrosity, according to President Carlton, to import nearly all of our sugar and be dependent upon foreign growers. The production of American sugar under a proper competitive tariff is a twofold relief, meaning freedom from foreign control of the sugar market and bringing prosperity back to the American farmer.

These facts have been conceded by great leaders of the country and were even pointed out in the LaFollet platform, read at the Republican national convention at Cleveland.

Sugar beet growers enter into contracts for the sale of their crops as soon as the planting begins. The ultimate price they receive depends upon the price at which the refined sugar is sold, but there is also a minimum guarantee and an assured market.

Already 7,000 acres of sugar beets are under successful cultivation in the Red River valley of Minnesota and North Dakota. It is believed that more than 70,000 acres can be grown in that valley alone. It is necessary at present for the beet growers of North Dakota to ship their beets 400 miles to the nearest factory. If continuance of the present tariff makes it advisable for a new corporation to carry out their plans, not only will growing of much greater acreage be financed, according to President Carlton, but new factories will be erected near the fields. Agricultural experts say this diversification of crops will soon increase the wheat yield by helping restore soil fertility.

"The farmer's table is not covered with luxuries the year round", the Red River valley interests have informed President Coolidge; "his farm is mortgaged now for from three to five thousand dollars. A saving of four or five dollars on sugar and removing the domestic competition to the Cuban crop would not do much toward lifting that mortgage. We might as well argue that the farmers should welcome cheap wheat so that their bread might cost a penny less."

ATTENDANCE ON SECOND DAY GREATEST IN HISTORY OF ASSOCIATION; EXHIBITS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS EXCEL FORMER FAIRS

Penington county's twenty-third annual fair came to a close Saturday evening, breaking all previous records in every departmtnt. Friday was the biggest day ever recorded at a county fair here, the gate receipts amounting to $2,045.15. The aggregate for the three days was $3,480.50, which exceeds previous exhibitions by a considerable margin.

Not only in attendance did the county fair break records. In all departments of exhibits, with one or two exceptions, were the collections larger and better than ever before. Particularly was this true in the livestock sections. Not only were Pennington county exhibitors well represented, but outside men were here with fine showings. Ed. Paradis of Brooks has a wonderful exhibit of black Aberdeen Angus cattle and Chas. Franks of Warren showed a beautiful herd of Herefords. These herds, in addition to the usual fine showing of dairy cattle from Pennington county, made the livestock sections show up very well.

In the poultry line the showings were perhaps not as numerous as in some previous years, but the quality was of the best and some of the finest birds to be found in the state were on display. The hog exhibits excelled all previous efforts and proved without a doubt that the hog industry in Pennington county is fast coming to the front. Some of the finest reds and blacks seen anywhere were very much in evidence.

The woman's building, as usual, proved a revelation. Here were the exhibits of the schools, the handiwork of the women of the county, and the occupational exhibits put on by Oakland Park sanatorium. It was the chief object of interest on the grounds and crowds surged continually through this building during the three days of the fair.

The free attractions this year proved very popular with the people and the grandstand and bleachers were packed to the limit with folks who enjoyed the free numbers offered on the platform in front of that structure. Bucking mules, horse races and auto polo sandwiched in between served to give the program just the right amount of pep to satisfy the audience. Some of the performers were the most clever ever seen in the city. Two evenings of marvlous fireworks attracted many people and the evening attendance the first two nights of the fair broke all previous records. Music for the acts was furnished by The Thief River Falls Municipal band, H. S. Snyder conducting. The boys put on a program of marches and popular numbers which made a distinct hit with the audience.

Congressman Thomas Schall was scheduled for a talk on the afternoon of the second day of the fair, but for some reason failed to make his appearance. This was a great disappointment to many people who had come long distances to hear the Republican candidate for the United States senate.

But what the folks misses Friday was more than made up for Saturday, when Senator Magnus Johnson, congressman Knut Wefald and John W. Gorley of the American Economic Institute of Chicago delivered addresses. Mr. Gorley was the first speaker and made a plea for a better understanding of the railroad situation by the people in general, giving it as his opinion that public ownership of railroads in this country is a huge mistake. He cited a number of figures from the war period to prove that private ownership is the best and most economical from every standpoint.

Mayor J. S. Arneson, who introduced the speakers, next presented Mr. Wefald, who spoke principally upon the problems confronting the farmers of the nation and the legislation which has been attempted for their benefit during the recent session of the national congress. He made a strong plea for legislation to remedy the condition of the farmer and his remarks were listened to with rapt attention by the large audience.

The last speaker of the afternoon was Magnus Johnson, and he gave a good account of himself. Magnus never fails to make a hit and his speech here Friday afternoon was no exception. He also made a strong plea for a "square deal for the farmer' and promised that if the voters should decide to return him for another term in the senate he would devote all of his time and energy to securing for the man on the farm the equal rights with the men in other industries.

Badly Injured.

WARREN YOUTHS ARE BOUND OVER

Youths to Answer to Serious Charge Before District Court Next Term.

Harold Olson, Ralph Swenson and Elmer Bergquist of Warren were bound over to district court under bonds of $1,000 each as the result of an escapade indulged in by the trio here during fair week. The case came as the sequel of an outing in which it is alleged the young men assaulted one Marguerite Cordell.

It seems that the boys, out for a good time, hapened upon the Cordell woman as they were about to leave the fair grounds. Just what transpired is somewhat of a mystery, but it is alleged that cries of distress brought officers to the scene and the boys were brought to court on the serious charge above mentioned. The boys made no attempt to defend themselves, and admitted that they had a hand in the carousal which preceded the case in court. They, however, waived examination, and details of the incident will be divulged when the case comes up for trial next February.

Several stories concerning the event are in circulation, but The Tribune prefers to let the matter rest until such time as the testimony is submitted to the proper authorities.

Truck Tips Over; Breaks Leg of Carnival Attache

Orrin Hickey, of Morgantown, Ind., suffered a broken leg in an acident happening Monday at the local fair grounds when the truck owned by Charles Shirley tipped while endeavoring to make a short turn to avoid running into a car coming out of the grounds. Mr. Hickey was riding on the running board with others and it is thought that the added weight of the riders caused the accident. Mr. Shirley suffered a shaking up and an unidentified man had his hand cut. Aside from breaking all the glass in the windows and windshield, the truck came through all right.

Butter Price Drop Is Explained by Meyer

The recent decrease in the price of butter is accounted for, says H. F. Meyer, in charge of the butter sales department of the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries association, by the fact that there is an overproduction of butter due to continued good pastures.

In a statement made last week to the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, Mr. Meyer commented on the fact that the price of butter extras at the present time is 37½ cents as compared to 44 cents for the same period last year. "This is due," said Mr. Meyer, "to the fact that last year was a dry year and butter was scarce, while this year with comparatively rainy weather pastures have kept up, causing an over-production. Butter is going into storage this year as rapidly as it was coming out of storage at the same period last summer."

According to Mr. Meyer government figures show that there are 102,000,000 pounds of butter in storage at the present time, as against 76,000,000 at the same period last year. Butter is going into storage at the rate of 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 pounds a week.

"The unfortunate part of the situation", said Mr. Meyer, "is that the fine butter from Minnesota is going into storage instead of into direct consumption. This is because Minnesota sweet butter has better keeping qualities than the centralizer butter which is going into direct consumption."

Egg Shipments Total 50 Carloads Monthly

The Minnesota Co-operative Egg and Poultry Exchange, which officially commenced business at St. Paul, July 14, 1924, is now handling about six carloads each of eggs and poultry a week. The combined poultry and egg business, therefore, is about 50 cars a month.

The value of each car of poultry averages $2,500 and of each car of eggs $3,500. On this basis the monthly business on poultry amounts to nearly $85,000 and on eggs, $60,000.

According to a communication received by the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, eight additional local associations will start operations about September 1. These include the Thief River, Lincoln county, Bemidji, St. Charles, Twin City, Hinkley, Jackson county and Graceville associations.

A. A. McPheeters, manager of the exchange, reports that egg receipts are light at this time owing to seasonal conditions. The association is already having calls for its products from eastern carload buyers.

The exchange is working at present on the brands and marks under which it intends to market its products.

PENNINGTON TO ENTER EXHIBIT

Agricultural Possibilities of County to Be Shown at State Fair.

Pennington will be one of the 44 counties of the state which will have an exhibit at the 1924 state fair. Plans are now being made for this important project, and Geo. M. Wilson is placed at the head of the committee which has in charge the gathering of exhibits. The entire project is in charge of J. S. Arneson, who last year handled it but on a small scale due to the short time allowed and for other reasons.

With Mr. Wilson in general charge of the exhibit and with a number of local men assisting him in securing a good display, there is no reason in the world why Pennington county should not be able to make a snappy showing. County Agent McCann will pick out the finest sugar beets, Paul Engelstad the best samples of potatoes, F. F. Haynes the best alfalfa, while others will be secured to select speciment of grains and other products to be included in the exhibit.

Pennington county will compete with counties of the Northern section, the state being devided into three sections. Counties in this section besides Pennington are Roseau, Norman, Becker, St. Louis, Koochiching, Lake, Crow Wing and Aitkin. Competition is keen and some of the exhibitors in charge are persons of much experience in that line, but those in charge of the local exhibit promise that if the material is gotten together it will be displayed to the best possible advantage. Work will be started at once in lining up the material.

The winner from the northern section last year was Koochiching county. The state fair guarantees $350 to every county exhibit scoring at least 800 points out of a possible 1,250 points.

RED LAKE DEAL COMES TO HEAD

Members of Association to Meet on August 21 For Final Arrangements.

A meeting of the directors of the Red Lake Summer Resort association was held this afternoon, upon the call of President E. O. Mogensen. It was decided at this meeting that all members of the association meet at the Commercial club rooms on Thursday, August 21, at 3:30 p.m., when all final details of the association will be ironed out.

Sale of lots has been going on at a satisfactory rate for some time and it now appears certain that the association will go forward with no further difficulty. The possibilities at Red Lake appeal to everyone and the association is securing memberships from all parts of the Red River Valley. It is expected that before another season rolls around the concern will be in shape to improve the ground now leased near the narrows of Red Lake and that this will furnish one of the most ideal rest and recreation grounds in the entire state. It is confidently believed that within another year nearly all of the preliminary work will have been done and that cottages and other improvements will have been erected at the lake so that instead of being a dream, the summer resort at Red Lake will have become a reality.

Turn out to the meeting on August 21 and do your bit toward making the Red Lake resort the playground which nature intended it to be.

First Carload Out.

The first straight carload of butter which was ever sent out of Minnesota under definite brand was shipped to eastern markets last week by the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries and was branded "Land-O-Lakes" government inspected butter. The importance of the above statement will be appreciated when it is understood that Minnesota has been shipping dairy products for thirty years, none of which has ever before been branded.

Manager McGuire reports that a representative of a chain store company in New York has contracted large lots of "Land-O'-Lakes" butter. This buyer represents 850 stores which can handle a car a day of the Association's branded product.—Polk County Leader.

Farmers Not Growing Rich Over Night Say Farm Bureau Chiefs

Brand Statements Regarding Mounting Farm Profits as Premature and Misleading.

"Exaggerated estimates regarding the enormous profit which the recent rise in prices has already meant to farmers are premature, unwarranted and misleading." So reads a statement issued by the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation last week.

The Farm Bureau desires to take as rosy a view of the present agricultural situation as possible, says the above statement. "On the other hand, some of the recent estimates of city spokesmen with regard to the large profits which are being made and will be made by farmers, especially in the Northwest, by reason of the recent price rise are on the surface absurd."

"It is all right to talk about the high price of corn, wheat and other farm products," the statements continues. "If the present prices on these products are obtainable when the farmer is ready to market his crops, agriculture will indeed be in a position which it has not enjoyed for four or five years. So far as wheat is concerned there is every reason to believe that present prices will continue. World conditions indicate that there will be a scarcity in wheat and that good prices will be obtained for wheat that is available.

"The situation so far as corn is concerned, however, is quite different. The outcome of the corn crop is a matter of speculation. Reports from all sections of the Northwest do not warrant too great optimism with regard to this crop. The corn situation is by no means good. Stands are extremely spotted, many fields are full of weeds, and much of the crop is so far behind that it will need something approaching a frostless fall to mature. If, despite its backwardness, corn should mature and yield well, there is a chance of a lowered price through a reduction in livestock feeding. This might easily happen through a reluctance on the part of feeders to feed high priced corn to livestock.

It should be understood that so far as the present prices of farm products are concerned these are of little benefit to the farmers of the country. Wheat, for instance, is high in price. But it should be remembered that the largest percentage of the 1923 wheat crop was out of the farmers' hands before the prices showed any decided trend upward. It is estimated that considerably less than 1 per cent of the 1923 wheat crop remained on the farms of the country on July 1. Comparatively few farmers, therefore, are benefiting from the recent price rise.

The Farm Bureau has no desire to appear pessimistic. It does feel, however, that there has been a lack of balance in a lot of the estimates and prophesies which have appeared in print. A good crop and a continuation of high prices will undoubtedly mean for farmers some paying of debts and an easing of the strain of the last four years. Another good crop will be necessary, however, before the farmer can make any appreciable epansion in his farm program.

Incidentally, it will be time enough for the farmer to think about expanding in any degree, when he realizes a good return on his 1924 crop.

Curious Case Decided.

An interesting case was decided recently in the courts of Fergus Falls when Bernard J. Hilkowski, a son of Mrs. Josepha Hilkowski, who died a few months ago in that city, filed a claim for $1,800 for services rendered. He claimed to have stayed at home and worked on the home place from 1903 to 1911 under an agreement by which he was to be compensated at the time of his mother's death. The property had been equally left to all the children by a will.

One of the curious legal phases of the case was the fact that ordinarily the statute of limitations would have barred recovery as far back as this, but in this instance, it was contended that payment was to be made at the time of the mother's death, and consequently the statute would not begin to run until that time. The agreement was difficult to prove, but a brother finally testified that there was such a compact existing, and upon reduction of the claim to $1,700 to allow for vacations plus a voluntary reduction of $50, making the sum equal to receiving $25 per month during his employment at home, the case was decided in Mr. Hilkowski's favor.

Room for a Surprise.

If the speed limit of 25 miles per hour is "unreasonably slow' why can't we have the law changed instead of violating it. Or doesn't a law that interferes with our progress count for anything? We are not asking with the expectation of receiving a reply—we are just wondering.—St. James Independent.

The RUMELY System

YOU know how the farmer tests his clover or alfalfa crop. First he breaks off a few heads. Then rubs and rubs them between the palms of his hands. When hulls are loosened he blows away the chaff. Then he carefully picks out the foul seed and other foreign substances. There remains a sample of perfect seed ready for market.

A Rumely Huller gets the seed out in the same way. Cylinders pick off the heads. Three big shaker pans separate heads from stems. Hulling cylinder loosens the hulls and "rubs" out the seed. Screens and air blasts thoroughly clean the seed. That's why the Rumely Huller always delivers clean seed ready for market.

See this time-tested machine. It is beautifully balanced — smooth running — long lived. Like the Rumely Ideal Separator, the Rumely Huller has unusual capacity. Straw goes through in a steady, even flow. Come in and let us show you why it pays to own Rumely machinery.

LINGER A LITTLE AND LINGER LONGER.

During this summer, renewed efforts are being made to lessen the number of deaths and injuries at railroad-highway crossings throughout the country.

In 30 years—

Our poulation increased 68 per cent.

Fatal railroad crossings accidents increased 345 per cent.

Injuries in crossing accidents increased 652 per cent.

Motor vehicles increased from 0 to 15,092,177.

In 1923 there were produced in the United States, 4,014,000 automobiles. This represents an increase of 23 per cent over the preceding year. There is at the present time one automobile for every seven of our population.

Last year there were 2,2668 persons killed and 6,314 injured at railroad-highway crossings. If the victims of these accidents had used only a little judgment, they would have escaped death. It is estimated, based upon previous Interstate Commerce Commission reports, that during the persent year, 2,800 persons will be killed and approximately 8,000 injured. Every day in the year 7.6 persons will be killed and 21.8 injured. This is equivalent to one person killed every three hours, day and night, and one person injured per hour. Eighty per cent of all crossing accidents involve motor vehicles.

The automobile at the railroad-highway crossing is a serious problem and should command the attention of every thoughtful citizen.

The ideal solution of the railroad-highway crossing problem is separation of the grades. This is vnot attainable with 256,362 grade level crossings on class 1 railroads alone. In 1922, the latest available figures, 705 grade level crossings were removed, BUT the net increase of crossings for the year was 3,855, practically all of which were added without railroad solicitation.

If no new crossings were added, it would be physically impossible to remove the present crossings in the lifetime of anyone now living, because of the serious interference with absolutely essential traffic movement, the construdctional and labor problems involved and the wholly phohibitive cost.

Several years ago conservative engineers estimated the average cost of crossing elimination, city and country, at $50,000 per crosing. These figures must be revised and it is now believed, that the average cost will approximate $75,000 per crossing. It is easily seen that the stupendous sum of $19,000,000,000 may be involved; more than the Interstate Commerce Commission's preliminary valuation of all of our railroads. If the money could be borrowed it would cost nearly a billion dollars a year for interest alone.

The value of organized effort for safety has been demonstrated upon the railroads through the reduction of deaths of employes on duty from 4,534 in1907 to 1,657 in 1922. This result has been achieved notwithstanding a vastly larger force of employes in service during the latter year.

It is logical to assume that education of the traveling public to the gree of care when approaching and passing over railroad crossings will have a good effect in reducing such accidents.

By whistle and bell, due and timely warning is given of the approach of tarins. The traveler upon the highway, particularly the driver of an automobile, should be charged with full responsibility for his conduct in approaching and passing over railroad crossings.

Every driver over a railroad-highway crossing owes to himself, his passengers and to the employes and passengers on trains, a POSITIVE DUTY to CROSS CROSSINGS CAUTIOUSLY. This simple procedure will; in itself, save many, and possibly hundreds of lives.

This is vacation time; it is also the time for an increase in grade crossing accidents; it need not be a dangerous time if every driver will realize thet every grade crossing is hazardous.

ANY TIME IS TRAIN TIME AT A RAILROAD CROSSING.

Stop at grade crossings and cross in low or second speed.

When you reach a crossing and wait for a train to pass, do not get too close; stop back about seventy-five feet and shift to neutral. Brake shoes on the wheels of railway cars have been known to come off and if one should strike you serious injury would be the result. Do not get too close to the passing train.

When you have waited for e train to pass do not start up as soon as it clears the crossing—wait until it has gone about 2,000 feet. This will give you a clear view of the opposite track.

Grade crossings are guarded by warning signs which are far enough from the right of way to give you time to slow down and stop.

Associate the sight of these signs with the sight of a traffic officer at a busy corner. When the officer says "stop", would you disobey him? The penalty at most would be a fine. In the case of the grade crossing the penalty for any disregard of the warning sign may be your life.

An epress train crosses a highway in about seven seconds. Is it an economy to try to save seven seconds at the risk of your life?

Today it is recognized that accidents at railroad crossings are not primarily railroad problems. Analysis shows that it is the public which suffers the pain, mutilation, death and distress in such mishaps, and finally pays.

The public may mean YOU! LINGER A LITTLE AND LINGER LONGER.

WINNING THE BARBERRY WAR.

Observers who have traveled extensively over the spring wheat country of the Northwest states report little evidence of the black stem rust of grain which science has traced to common barberry as source and cause.

It is easy to draw large conclusions from small premises, but it seems fair to say that the comparative freedom of the wheat fields from black stem rust is a fruit of the militant fight carried on in the North Central states to uproot and destroy barberry bushes. Federal and state governments have aided in the extermination of this rust-breeding pest, but the main credid goes to the farmers who, convinced that the scientists were right, set themselves to the business of clearing their places of barberry.

Tremendous ravages have been made on the wheat fields of the Northwest from year to year by rust. The loss in the last few years has been estimated at scoreso f millions of dollars. Rust reduces both yield and quality, thereby cutting two ways into the farmer's pocketbook.

It looks today as if the fight on barberry was worth many times what it cost in time, muscular energy and money. Anything that contributes to the increasing of acre yields in farm crops is abundantly worth while; and more particularly so when quality of product is improved.

The war on barberry is not yet over, although many successful skirmishes and major battles against it have been won. Conditions in the fields this year souhld act as a supr for a continuance of the eradication campaign.

THIS WEEK

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

A Three-word Speech.

Farmer's Day.

Cream For Railroads.

Wall Street's Trinity.

John W. Davis means to hold the short speech record, a wise, almost pious resolution. He will "accept" his nomination in only four thousand words of talk.

Great moderation and self-control, you say. Yet in thirty-one verses of the first and two verses of the eecond chapters of Genesis the Bible describes ths creation of earth and everything on it. And the whole thing, inclnding the rest on tha seventh day, is told in about ONE thousand words.

For brevity and beauty, candidates, editors and especially advertisement writers should study the Bihls especially Genesis, Job, Isaiah and the Sermon on the Mount. Any Presidential candidate might make an acceptance speech pleasing to 99 in 100 in three words, as follows: "MEN ABOVE DOLLARS."

Salesmen are pouring into the Northwest farming districts to sell goods that stores will soon be selling, thanks to high prices for wheat.

Stocks are going up, especially railroad stocks. That has importance for everybody. It means that intelligent observers see good times ahead.

Railroads seem to be the "lambs" of our Government, and it remembers the injunction "Feed my lambs."

Recently, when the farmer was practically bankrupt, dozens of banks in the Northwest closing their doors, etc., it was suggested that railroads might reduce freight rates, at least on farm products.

Bnt with wheat going up, the Interstate Commerce Commission says the value of ferm crops will increase a thousand million dollars this year. Therefore, NO reduction in freight rates.

The cream, off the top, must go to the railroads.

Suppose the farmers, for a change, are getting a decent price for their crops. The qnestion involved is: Are the railroads charging too much? Not what is the farm making.

Greet and fashionable Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, standing at the top of Wall street, publishes this report:

Last year's income, $2,148,631.

Present assets of that littla band of followers of the lowly Nazarene, $18,329,058.

You note, "Carried to renewal acconnt, $186,762."

The young man (see Mathew, 19th Chaptar) that "went away sorrowful" after being told, "Sell that thou hast and give to the poor," prohahly sits in Trinity's congregation, if there is anything in the reincarnation theory.

"Think of one Episcopalian church keeping on hand thirteen millions of undivided assets, while scoree of the Episcopalian elergy, miserahly underpaid, struggla to make ends meet.

The world hears with amazement of two French fliers setting a new "duration mark," staying up 37 hours 59 minutes 10 seconde. Put this clipping away for your great grandchildren. They will see a round a world machine, coming down perhape once a year for complete overhauling, landing passengers from smaller machines ebove Paris, London, Yokohama, Bombay, New York. "All out." And the trip all the way around will be made in twenty-four hours—only 1,000 miles an hour.

There NEVER comes a time when a human being is of "no use to tha world."

The Greek philosopher, ninety years old, that killad himself because he stumhled on leaving his class, made a mistake. He should have said: "I may stumhle, hut I shall go on teaching."

Everyone can be valuable to the world hy setting an example of conrage and endurance.

The other day in New York a young woman lay in a hospital with both her legs amputated. That was the price she paid for giving hirth to a child. SHE might have said, "The world has nothing more for me." What she did say, was, "I am delighted to lose both my legs, if I mnst, as long as I have my baby."

That's worth a good deal to the world.

PRISON PLANT HAS A DEFICIT

Profit of $954,990 on Twine Offset by $958,887 Loss in Machine Shop.

The financial results of the manufacture of hinder twine and of the manufacture of farm machinery in the prison at Stillweter has had very little consideration from those engaged in the sale of these lines in the state of Minnesota, nor have the results of the financial operations of these indnstries been understood generally by the farmers and taxpayers of the state.

It is not the pnrpose of this article to offer any criticism of the board of control. It, no doubt, helieves that it is doing its dnty in the management of these industries. It has probahly done the best it conld considering the pressure bronght to bear on the board hy the legislature and the demand for cheaper priced implements.

Those engaged in the implement business in the state, at least, should understand the financial result to the state of Minnesota of the operation of these plants. The reduction the state had made and is making on binders, mowers and rakes, under the prices made on competitive goode of this class, which are made with free lahor and with the investment of private capital are not justified by prodnction costs.

The following taken from recorded figures, ehows the result of the operation of the farm machinery plant for four years—1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923 ending January 31, 1924.

Net sales for 4 years	$2,587,851.95
Net loss for 4 years	958,887.56
Per cent of net loss to net Sales	37.05 per cent.
Charged to Reserve for Contingencies in year ended Jan. 31, 1922	80,437.54
Transferred to Revolving fund	928,450.02

It is interesting also to note the amount and division of the payroll for this period between citizen labor and prison labor. The figuree are as follows:

Citizen labor	$595,725.27
Inmate labor
To inmates	90,064.37
Per diem chg. for inmate labor	488,083.55
Total	$1,123,212.29

This shows that in the operation of the farm machinery plant at Stillwater more than 50 per cent of the labor bill was for citizen labor.

In the year, ending January 31, 1924, the state sold nearly as many mowers out of the state as it did in the state and a large number of hay rakes were shipped out of the state. The figures are as follows:

	Binders	Mowers	Rakes
In state	1189	1879	1163
Out of state	996	1712	636
Total	2185	3591	1799
Per cent cut	45	46	35

From the foregoing it readily can be seen thet farmers in other states have received the benefits of low prices made on these machines almost to an equal extent with Minnesota farmers. The losses however, are of concarn only to the citizens of Minnesota.

BUREAU WILL APPOINT STATE TAX COMMITTEE

In line with its plans to set np local committees for the purpose of investigating and studying all phases of the tax problem as previously announced, tha Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation has recently sent to its county and townehip leaders a pemphlet outlining the points to be covered in this study.

"We are asking the county and township units of the Farm Bureau to start these investigations at once if they have not already done so," said J. F. Reed, President of the Minnesota Farm Burean Federation. "In the near future a state tax committee will be appointed for the purposs of keeping in tonch with and coordinating the efforts of the local and county committees.

"Wa have heen careful not to make any recommendations with regard to tax reductions. Rather we hava suggested some of the things which a tax study should inclnde with the idea that those who make the study would be aroused to the necessity of action of soms sort through these studies. We have been especially careful to amphasize the fact that unwise rednctions or economies might do more harm than good by striking at the things most needed hy the communities."

Commission Will Make Study of Butter Tariff

John Brandt, president of the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries association, reports thet largely as a result of the agitation of his organization the Tariff commission will hegin at once an investigation of the problem of adequate tariff on butter. This investigation will take precedence over others recently started or contemplated.

An appropriation of $37,000 has been set aside by the commission for the purposes of this study, which will concern itself with a comparison of the cost of production of butter in the United States and other countries, notably Denmark, Holland and Canada. A careful study will be made by the commission of the butter industry in Minnesota.

The present duty on butter is 8 cents a pound. Under the recent tariff law the president has the power to increase this amount 50 per cent, which would raise the tariff to 12 cents a pound.

The agitation for an increase in the butter tariff was prompted largely by the drop in the price of butter in this country in March, occasioned by large importations from New Zealand and Denmark.

Egg Marketing Exchange Is Already Functioning

Three carloads of eggs and a similar amount of poultry were handled by the Minnesota Cooperative Egg and Poultry Exchange during its first week of husiness in its new quarters at St. Paul.

At a meeting of the hoard of directors of the exchange, held at St. Paul, Monday, July 14, arrangaments were made with the Central Warehouse company for warehousa facilities. Those present at this meeting were: Hagbarth Bus, president; J. A. Voelker, vice-president; William Cordas, secretary; J. A. Krall, treasurer; M. R. Johnson; A. A. McPheeters, general manager and A. W. Rogers, sales manager.

The offices of the Egg exchanga will be with the Central Warehouse company, adjoining those of the Minneeota Cooperativa Creameries association. While the Egg exchange will work in conjunction with the Creameries associetion, using the credit and traffie departments of the latter association, It will be maintained as an entirely separate organization. It is tha feeling of tha directors of the exchange that by using some of the machinery of the creameries association they can maintain tha organization in the beginning at a minimum expense and a maximum of service.

Undar the present arrangement all district aseociations are to market their eggs and poultry through the exchange which will act as a central selling agency. The prodncts of the exchange will be marketed under proper brands which will be estahlished hy it in the near future.

"A large percentage of the eggs marketed hy the exchange," said manager McPheeters, "are going into 'extra' grades. To our knowledge Minnesota eggs have never before been put out under an 'extra' grade."

Mother Anxious About Veteran.

A mother in serious condition over worry as to the disappearance of her son who served in the World war has applied to the Minneapolis office of the U. S. Veterane Bureau for aid in locating the missing veteran. It is believed that he is somewhere in the northwestern states of Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota or South Dakota.

The veteran, Donald B. Elliott, disappeared from his home, 5401 University avenue, Chicago, Ill., on March 9, 1924. He was a former member of Co. "C," 134th Infantry, with a distinguished record of service.

He is described as 25 years of age, of slender build, five feet eight inches tall, with dark anhurn hair and brown eyes. "Considerably freckled," is also furnished as a means of identification.

Relatives are deeply concerned over the physical condition of his mother. They fear a fatal outcome nnless her boy's whereabouts is determined in the near futnre. Any information regarding him should be immediately communicated to C. D. Hibhard, District Manager, U. S. Veterans Burean, Minnespolis, Minn. He will immediately forward the anxious relatives any enlightening information received.

Penney Company Victims of Attempted Robbery on Day Force Takes in Fair

Some time during last Friday afternoon, when the clerical force was in attendance at the Pennington county fair and the store in common with others in the city was closed, a sneak thief made a bold attempt to rob the J. C. Penney store in this city. Entrance was gained through one of the main doors by the use of a strong screw driver or jimmy, and the intruder evidently had planned to ransack the store at his leisure. However, something must have happened to scare him away because he left hurriedly before being able to attach himself to anything of value. Just why he left after gaining admittance is hard to understand, but something must have thrown a scare into him and he pulled up stakes and left without ceremony. A close checkup of the stock fails to show anything missing and Mr. Nelson, manager of the store believes the thief was scared away before being able to secure anything of value.

Interest Rates Lower

On September 1st our interest rate in Savings and Certificates of Deposit will be 4 per cent. Supply and demand for money has forced down interest rates on loans which in turn has made it necessary for all banks working on a conservative basis to lower interest rates on deposits.

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Is the Business Gasoline

MANY motorists have put Red Crown in the tanks of their coupes, limousines, touring or other passenger cars, after having proved in their trucks that for service and economy, Red Crown is the business gasoline.

One of the large packing houses writes:

"We find that Red Crown Gasoline gives entire satisfaction in our large fleet of motor trucks—starting easily, accelerating rapidly, and giving excellent mileage.

"In our business every truck must move on time. Dependability is essential in order that exacting schedules may be maintained in the distribution of perishable products.

"Included in our fleet are trucks of various makes and sizes, from 1-ton delivery cars to 15-ton tractor trailers, and they operate efficiently on Red Crown Gasoline."

Summer tourists will find Red Crown everywhere in ten Middle Western States, and everywhere the same. By using Red Crown, they will get more and better mileage; uniformity in quality, thoroughly dependable operation with consequent avoidance of the irritation and delay occasioned by constant carburetor adjustment.

REDUCED RATES TO HARVESTERS

Three Northwestern Railroads Offer Inducements to Harvest Hands.

Anticipating unusually heavy demand for help to harvest the big crops of North Dakota and Minnesota, the passenger traffic officials of the Northwestern railroads have announced special rates for harvest hands.

Governor R. A. Nestos of North Dakoto writing to the railroads aays: "The present outlook is that we will have a bumper crop in tbe state of North Dakota as every section of the state seems to be in aplendid shape."

Similar reports have been received from Minnesota, and prompted the railroads to plan for the harvest hand movement earlier than in years past.

Passenger officials of the three leading railroads, the Soo Line, Northern Pacific and Great Northern, report that they have msde application to the Interstate Commerce commission for permission to publish tariffs on less than statutory notice naming low one way fares from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Superior and Sioux City to the harvest fields of Minnesota and North Dakota.

The rate from the Twin cities and the Head of the Lakes will be $5.00 per copita ond from Sioux City $6.50. Fares will he availahle for porties of five or more traveling on one ticket and will be second closs.

WESTERN TOUR IS INTERESTING

Dr. and Mrs. J. Biedermann and Mr. and Mrs. Julien Provencher returned to this city August 1st from an extended motor tour covering nine states and lasting six weeks. They saw many things of beauty and enjoyed their trip immensely, but they are back home with the conclusion that the best piece of graveled road in these nine states is the stretch from this city to Crookston and nowhere ore roads ss well marked as in this same Land of the Sky Blue Waters.

After streaking through the middle section of North Dakota, visiting in Fargo, Bismarck, Mandan, Dickenson and Medora, the party took the more southern route through Montana, following the beautiful Yellowstooe trail along the river through the colorful badland country to Milea City, on to Billings.

Visiting in Bntte and Missoula, they crossed tha line to Wallace, Idaho, a town noted for lumbering and silver mines as Butte is noted for its copper. In Rose Lake, a little lumbering town near Wallace, they visited for a short time with relatives. They also enjoyed short visits in Couer d'Alene and Spokane. The farther west the party went, the dryer the country became. In Washington, crop expectations are very low as there was very little snow in the mountains last winter and water for irrigation is correspondingly scarce. Approaching Wenatche, the party began passing orchards of apples and entered the "Apple Way" road to the city along which road there is nothing to see for miles except fruit trees that line the highway and stretch in either direction. Slipping over the coastal range through Bluette Pass, which has an equally divided ascent and descent within a total distance of 20 miles, the motorists continued to Seattle and Tacoma.

They enjoyed fishing in the sound for salmon trout, visited the Bremerton navy yards, also going through the battleship Arizona, which with the New Mexico, was at anchor there at the time. They also spent a day in Ranier National Park, going up to an altitude of 14,500 feet and enjoying a snow battle.

Leaving the Puget Sound cities, the party motored on the coost highway through Portland and Salem, which cities they tell of as very lovely, to Willows, California, where they visited with Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Gambell, former residents of this city.

Arriving in Oakland, the party ferried across the bay on a boat so large it could accommodate 165 automobiles and arrived in San Francisco where they spent a short time visiting Golden Gate Park, Cliff House, where they watched the surf and seals, also visiting Chinotown, spending colorful hours visiting the quaint shops.

After a short trip to Berkeley, the party traveled back to Sacramento and from there crossed east to the Nevada line and the desert. Going was very hard. Alkali dust was so thick and the sand so deep that the car traveled on the average of five miles an hour and stops had to be made every little while until the dust had settled and they could see whether the road was still where it was supposed to be. In 75 miles of this country they met three cars and saw two homes that were occupied. Drinking water in this country was selling, to travelers at least, for 15 cents a glass. Everything was high here, although in California they paid 96 cents for a quart of cream and egga were 45 cents a dozen.

Between Colfax and Donner Lake, Nevada, they descended four thousand feet from an altitude of seven thousand feet in twenty minutes. At this place there is a very interesting memorial statue as a mark of the winter in 1842 when the snow fell until the gronnd was covered to a depth of 30 feet and a party of 80 pioneers trapped here by the storms lost half their number. A tablet at the base of the Donner statue is engraved with the names of the 42 unfortunate victims.

The party visited a short time in Reno, and traveled northeast through Midas and Alko, noted for their gold mines and in the latter town, the hot springs. They began to see greener lands as they neared the Idaho line and rode along the beautiful Snake river into Idaho Falls, leaving there for Yellowstone National Park.

The large number of visitors cared for in this park and who come from all over to see thia land of geysers, may be slightly guessed at from the fact that there are 300 sight-seeing cars always out and always filled besides the unnumbered private cars entering and leaving all the time. They enjoyed themselves immensely watching the different sights, visiting the tame tront lake where they saw literally thousands of trout averaging three and four pounds. They also visited Yellowstone canyon and the falls and found them to be among the high spots of beanty along the trail. While here they met Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Soards and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Plough of this city, also visiting at the park and a classmate of Dr. Biedermann's at the University of Minnesota, whom he had not seen for 20 years.

They motored to Bntte coming out of the park through the Gardner gateway and resumed their homeward journay after a notable night in the former city when they awoke the morning of July 26 to find the tent covered with hoar frost and everything else white. The remainder of the trip over the Yellowstone trail through North Dakota and home agoin was uneventful.

People were very nice to them on the trip and camps proved very pleasant except that it seemed the larger the city, the poorer the tourist camp. Every city west of Miles City, Montana, had a camp charge of 50 centa on the average. One of the finest things discovered on the trip, rivaling, perhaps, the beauty of Yellowstone folls, was the water pouring from the holes of a shower bath after a dusty drive, according to the voyagers. Many of the western camps have them and they are one of the most useful, even necessary adjuncts that will go further towards making a camp appreciated than any other one thing. Dr. Biedermann stated that there is a standing fund of $25 in his pocket as a donation toward any move to install a shower bath in the tourist park of this city.

Fur Swindlers Alleged to Have Visited Bemidii

Bemidji, Minn., Aug. 12—Posing as sailors, who by hook and crook had smuggled valuable furs into the United States from European countries, three smooth-tongued saleamen, sold a bunch of rabbit skins abont this city to people who were led to believe they were buying valuable seal and aable furs.

The fur selling atunt did not last long, but it was a whirlwind while it lasted and it was not until some of the persons who had bought, grew auspicious and had the furs examined that the exploiters left the city and left no forwarding address.

Among the victims were a number of working girls who pnt the entire savings of the summer into the "bargains" offared by the sailors. The coats and wraps which were worth about $45 or $50 were sold at not less than $150 and often as high as $300. In each instance the salesman got cash.

Selling rabbit skins ia an old game, and the fur is often so cleverly disguised that it takes an expert to identify it. When sold as sable it is dyed brown and the fur is left in its original state. When it is sold as seal it is dyed black and clipped. For the first year it makes a presentable garment but time tella and it usually falls to pieces the second year.

The salesmen who visited Bemidil told their prospective customers that they had smuggled the furs from England and France and that by avoiding the dnty they were able to sell them exceptionally cheap. They were dressed as sailors, and carried cards showing that they had been licensed by the state of Minnesota to deal in furs.

CHANCE BETTER FOR RE-OPENING OF LOCAL BANK

Depositors of Closed Citizens Bank Busy Formulating Plan.

Court Hearing Postponed at Request of Depositors' Committee.

Much activity touching upon the re-opening of the Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls, closed on January 5 by the state banking department, has been in evidence during the past week, and those in close touch with the situation are hopeful that a solution of the problem will be found in the very near future.

Several meetings have been held during the past few months by depositors of the institution, resulting in a closer understanding by them of the situation and what is required of them before a re-opening can be affected. A committee of 12, appointed by the depositors, is working on a plan which gives every indication of meeting with favor but which has not yet reached a stage where it can be made public or where action can be taken upon it.

At the hearing before Judge Grindeland in district court last Thursday, called upon petition of the state banking department for the purpose of getting an order enforcing the stockholders' double liability provision of the state law, the depositors were granted a continuance of the hearing for 30 days, and representatives of the banking department expressed willingness to agree to further postponements providing reasonable evidence is submitted to show that progress is being made by the depositors towards eventually re-opening the bank.

RESORT LEADERS MEET THURSDAY

Permanent Organiation of Red Lake Association to Be Perfected.

Tomorrow, (Thursday) afternoon at 3:30 has been set as the time for the first meeting of the members of the Red Lake Resort association. The meeting will be held in the Commercial club rooms. The gathering tomorrow was decided upon last week by the directors of the tentative organization, who have been conducting the membership drive for some time and who have been very successful in their efforts. At the meeting tomorrow permanent officers will be elected, lots will be selected, by-laws decided upon, and other details of the organization taken up.

The idea of a summer resort at Red Lake has proved very popular not only in Thief River Falls, but in all parts of the country tributary to this city. Memberships are coming in from nearly all towns and villages in the northern section of the Red River valley, and it is expected that many of these members will be in attendance at the first meeting of the association.

Prowlers Gain Entrance to Local Store But Get Nothing to Pay for Job

Some time during Monday night the LaVogue shop on LaBree avenue was broken into, entrance being gained through the basement door, which is on the alley side of the building. There is a trap door leading from the basement to the upper story, which was forced loose from its hinges by the intruder before he could get into the store proper.

The cash register had been tampered with but was not opened. It is of a complicated type and evidently the visitor had no experience in the operation of such a machine. It contained three or four dollars in change. A close checkup of the stock fails to disclose anything missing, although it is possible a few articles may have been taken. Police are working on the case in an effort to disclose a clue as to the identity of the prowler. Circumstances seem to indicate that he was a novice in the art of burglary, or that he was scared away before securing anything of value.

Should Subscribe for Stock.

At the meeting of the Commercial club at Grand Forks last Thursday, which Dr. H. W. Froehlich and V. C. Noper attended, it was decided that everyone in the section intending to raise sugar beets next year should subscribe for stock for the building of a sugar beet mill at East Grand Forks. Unless $500,000 is subscribed by the 10th of November, the mill will be an impossibility, it was stated.

Plummer Farmer Fails to Estimate Yield of First Load of Barley Threshed

The first threshing in this section came to the notice of The Tribune this morning. A local man who came from Plummer yesterday is responsible for the story that a machine there started on barley. A neighbor brought over a small load of bundles to thresh out some feed and brought with him sacks to hold 20 bushels, which he judged the load should yield. Instead of 20 bushels the load produced slightly more than 50. The bundles were taken from a space of considerably less than one acre, and it wasn't the best part of the field by any means.

PROSPECTS FOR BANNER YEAR GROW BRIGHTER

Pennington County to Garner Greatest Crop in Its Entire History.

Harvestering of Rye, Oats and Barley Now Going on at Full Speed.

Latest reports from the front—the agricultural front—of Pennington county are most encouraging. Translated into plain English and simple language, the aforesaid reports bring the following glad tidings: Pennington county farmers are garnering the greatest harvest in the history of this section. There is no mistake about it. Farmers are unanimous in their opinion that this is a banner year all around so far as the yield of rye, barley, oats and wheat is concerned. While threshing operations have not yet begun so that actual bushelage per acre can be determined, anyone who is a judge of grain can easily see that nearly every field will produce an abundance.

Add to the above encouraging condition the fact that the price of grain is better than for many years and steadily advancing, and it can be seen at a glance that the condition of the Pennington county farmer is going to be better from now on. And with the return of prosperous conditions for the farmer will come better times all around. Bankers and business men, professional men and laboring men—all will feel the effect of the bumper crop Pennington county is turning out this year.

Most of the rye and barley are now harvested, with the oats and wheat cutting in full swing. It is expected that many threshing machines will be running within a few days and The Tribune will be badly disappointed if it will not be given the privilege of announcing in its next issue some record-breaking yields of grain on Pennington county farms.

Good Progress Reported on Work of Building New Highway to St. Hilaire

Satisfactory progress has been made during the past few weeks by Contractor Lloyd Crown and his crew, who are building the seven miles of new highway on No. 32 between Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire. During the early part of the summer much unfavorable weather set the work back considerably, but indications now are that the whole project will be completed by the end of September. To realize the magnitude of the job one has but to look at the completed portions of the road. Countless thousands of tons of dirt have been dug from the sides of the highway and placed in the middle, forming a beautiful grade several feet high and wide at the top, with deep drainage ditches at both sides. The grade is thoroughly packed, with the top smooth and hard. After this stretch of road is completed and graveled, which is likely to be next year, it will be one of the finest stretches on the entire Minnesota trunk highway system.

Stebbins Return.

Mrs. F. J. Stebbins, accompanied by her two daughters, the Misses Goldie and Esther, and Mrs. Perl McKey, returned to this city Monday after having made a tour of over 1,600 miles through different sections of this state, the trip lasting two weeks. Miss Beula Chamberlain of St. Charles, Minn., returned to this city with them and will be Miss Goldie's guest for a short time. They will depart the latter part of the month for Chicago where they will enter the university.

Texas Tourists Here.

Yesterday a load of tourists driving a car with a Texas license plate upon it was seen on the streets of Thief River Falls. These people had a long way to travel but finally found a state where good roads and summer resorts abound.

HIGHLANDING CHILD DIES FROM CUTS RECEIVED WHEN RUN OVER IN FIELD BY FATHER'S BINDER

Orlando Hamm, Three Years Old, Strays Into Field and Wanders Into Path of Machine—Right Arm and Right Leg Nearly Severed From Body—Dies From Loss of Blood After Reaching Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hamm of Highlanding township are mourning the death of their three-year-old son, Orlando, which occurred last Thursday in a very tragic way. The child, who had been playing about the house all afternoon, got out of his mother's sight for a few minutes and wandered into a field a short distance away where his father was engaged in cutting grain with a binder. Mr. Hamm did not see the lad until he heard a scream and the horses made a lunge forward. He was then discovered in front of the sickle, but could not be extricated for a few moments until Mr. Hamm got the horses somewhat quieted down. When the father finally reached his little son he discovered that the right arm and the right leg were almost severed from the body and blood was flowing profusely from other cuts and wounds.

Picking the boy up, Mr. Hamm rushed to the house, where he and Mrs. Hamm to the best of their ability tried to stop the flow of blood. They then went to the house of a neighbor, half a mile away, and here secured an automobile in which the injured boy was rushed to Thief River Falls and placed under the care of a physician. The lad was still alive but unconscious from loss of blood and passed away in a short time despite all efforts to save his life. The accident occurred about five o'clock in the afternoon and nearly two hours elapsed before a doctor could be reached. Considering the nature of his wounds it is marvelous that the boy was alive when his parents reached the city.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at Highlanding, conducted by Rev. S. L. Tallakson, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church. Burial was made in the Highlanding cemetery. The grief stricken parents have the sympathy of neighbors and friends in the tragic death of their little son.

FARMERS NAMED AS CLUB GUESTS

Ten County Dairymen Will Spend Week at Northwest Dairy Exposition.

N. A. Anton, S. E. Hunt, Henry Koop, Will Smith, Karl Beiswinger, R. M. Johnson, Gunstad Knutson, Fred Kraemer, Albert Johnson and Morgan Vaughan have been selected by the Thief River Falls Commercial club as guests of that organization for the week of the Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Exposition. Paul Engelstad, Gust Wilken, Jens Letnes, Hans Fjeld and Henry Oen are the alternates. The selection was made by the agricultural committee of the club last Saturday.

Last year the club conceived the idea of sending ten representative dairy farmers of the county to the fair and exposition each year in order that valuable information might be brought into this section for the improvement of the dairying industry. Results a year ago proved beyond a doubt that the club had struck upon a good idea. Last year's delegation came back with new ideas, with new ideals, and with a firmer determination than ever before to continue in their chosen method of farming. The delegates saw some of the finest dairy animals in the country, visited a number of the state's best dairy farms, and spent considerable time in the judging rings receiving valuable pointers from men who are recognized authorities.

The delegation will leave Thief River Falls in a body over the Soo Line and will make its headquarters on the fair grounds. The club is making arrangements for the entertainment of its guests after their arrival on the grounds.

"Bill" DeParcq Feeling Fine.

The editor of The Tribune had the pleasure of visiting the DeParcq cottage at Shamineau lake near Motley last Sunday. It will be remembered that Wm. DeParcq had his back broken last summer in an automobile accident near Strathcona. It was thought at the time that his injury would prove fatal but he has continued to improve to such an extent that he now get around the cottage by the aid of crutches. "Bill" is looking well and sends greetings to his many Thief River Falls friends. His mother, who has faithfully nursed him since his accident, is with him at Shamineau. Mr. DeParcq is at Mankato, where he has a position with the Standard Oil company.

Morris Man to Open New Grocery on Third Street

G. W. Suckstorff, for many years engaged in business at Morris, this state, has decided to enter the grocery business in Thief River Falls. He is now busily engaged in preparing the building on Third street recently occupied by Hill's Auto Supply company and part of the stock has already arrived. The opening date has not yet been decided upon but will likely be about September 1.

Mr. Suckstorff, after looking over many fields, finally came to the conclusion that Thief River Falls held the best opportunity for business success and he decided to locate here. Further announcements regarding the opening date and other information concerning the store will appear in the advertising columns of The Tribune next week.

CHLORINE CURE FOR COLDS HERE

Thief River Clinic Installs New Machine for Use of Gas in Practice.

Drs. Mellby and Froehlich of the Thief River Clinic have installed a Gilchrist Chlorine Ejector. This is a type of apparatus being used in Washington, D. C., for the treatment of acute colds, influenza, bronchitis, whooping cough, etc.

President Coolidge was successfully treated for an acute cold some time ago and many prominent patients in Washington official circles are being treated daily.

The idea of using chlorine gas as an antiseptic has been known for a long time, but it was not until last winter that Dr. Vedder and Dr. Sawyer of the Medical Corps, U. S. A., perfected the method of treatment. There is at present one apparatus installed in the Surgeon General's office and one in the Munition building of the war department at Washington.

The apparatus consists of a glass container in which the chlorine gas is measured before being released into the room. The chlorine gas, itself, is shipped in steel tanks from the manufacturers. During treatment the patient is placed in a practically air-tight room, in which the chlorine gas is liberated. The patient remains in this room for one hour, and by breathing the chlorine laden atmosphere the germs of influenza, colds, bronchitis, whooping cough, etc., are killed.

Tournement Going Strong.

With at least 30 people taking part, the golf tournament that started last Saturday and Sunday is proving very popular. During the middle of the week not much progress is made, as business at this time of the year is taking up the interest of everyone to the exclusion of everything. However, next Sunday, it is expected that great strides will have been made in the elimination contests now being staged. At the present time George Mostue is in the lead.

The women's games which had also been scheduled for this week have been postponed until next week.

Buttermaker Resigns and Accepts New Job; Leaves to Local Patrons' Regret

Harold Olson, for four years buttermaker and manager for the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association, last week tendered his resignation to the board of directors, effective at once. Mr. Olson recently accepted a position as buttermaker at the Barnesville creamery, also a co-operative concern, and left the latter part of the week with his family for that city to take up his new duties. The Barnesville creamery is one of the best in the state and has an annual output of approximately 300,000 pounds of butterfat. It is not as large as the local creamery, which now produces about 600,000 pounds of butter per annum.

Mr. Olson has done valuable work for the local institution and it is with genuine regret that directors and patrons see him go. The creamery here for the present will be in charge of Secretary T. H. Bjerke, with John Neuland superintending the crew at the plant. This arrangement, if it proves successful, will mean a considerable saving in the operating expenses of the institution.

Early Frosts Do Damage to Some Crops in County

Several light frosts struck this section of the state last week, the heaviest reported being last Wednesday night. Many alarming reports were circulated for a short time concerning the damage done, but later investigation over all parts of the county show first reports have been grossly exaggerated. It is true, however, that many fields of buckwheat were seriously damaged, a patch of very late flax here and there shows effects of the frost, and on some of the lower ground may be found corn which suffered considerable. In the aggregate, however, the damage is small. The weather has now warmed up and all danger of further frosts is past for the time being.

SOO EMPLOYES TO ENJOY FINE PICNIC SEPT. 1

Squaw Point Is Selected as Place for Holding Big Annual Event.

Committees Now Busy Making Plans and Arranging All Details.

Picnics come and picnics go, but the picnic of them all is coming on Labor Day. So say the Soo Line employes, who are sponsoring the event scheduled at Squaw Point for Monday, September 1. In fact, there is only one thing which possibly can interfere with the complete success of the venture and that is weather such as to make it entirely impossible for folks to assemble out of doors.

Committes are busily engaged in perfecting plans and arranging details of the big picnic. Prizes have been donated by Thief River Falls businessmen to be used as awards in the various sporting events under the same plan as last year. There will be two baseball games, one for ladies and another for Soo Line employes, tugs of war and 25 or 30 other sporting events in which both old and young may participate. A dance will be enjoyed afternoon and evening in a bowery twice the size of that used last year. There will be something doing every minute of the day without a dull moment for anyone.

Free ice cream and coffee will be served, but visitors will be required to furnish their own lunches. Cigars and soft drinks may be purchased on the grounds if desired.

It is expected that several good speakers will be on hand but this part of the program is yet incomplete. Further announcement regarding the speakers will be made next week. Fine arches beautifully decorated are planned for the entrances to the park.

While the Soo Line employes are sponsoring the picnic, the general public is cordially invited and will be made to feel entirely at home. The event is strictly public in character and people from country and city are urged to attend.

County Exhibit at State Fair Coming Along Fine; Much Larger Than Before

Geo. M. Wilson, in general charge of gathering the Pennington county exhibit for the Minnesota state fair, is busily engaged these days in gathering material for the showing. So far he has been very successful and present indications are that Pennington county will have an exhibit at the fair this year of which it may well feel proud. A job of this kind means a lot of work, but Mr. Wilson and his able assistants are equal to the task. Help them by contributing the best you have. Call Mr. Wilson, the county agent or The Tribune. Someone will be sent to your place immediately to get the article you desire to exhibit.

Dolans in Accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dolen of this city, Miss T. B. Dolan of Superior and Ed. McMahon of Superior narrowly escaped severe injuries, possibly death, Monday evening when Mr. McMahon's car in which they were riding ran over the bank near Red Lake Falls.

The party was returning from Red Lake Falls about 10:30 and were driving slowly down the hill just this side of that city when the steering wheel mechanism broke, the car ran over the bank and landed right side up in the river. Luckily, but for a severe shaking up, no one was injured and, securing another car, they arrived at their home in this city a short time later.

Elks Picnic.

The annual picnic given by the Elks lodge will this year be given on Labor Day, the lodge joining the Soo Line employees in a day of pleasure at Squaw Point. Further particulars of the program will be given next week in The Tribune.

LEGION MEN TO START WORK ON MEETING PLANS

State Convention Next Year Biggest Problem Now Facing This City.

Meeting Friday Evening to Open Team Work With Local Business Men.

No one realizes better than do members of Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion what a task confronts the post and the city of Thief River Falls in entertaining the next annual state convention of the Legion. Many of the boys have attended these conventions and have a pretty good idea of what the requirements are. It is a big job and no mistake.

With the intention of getting the ball rolling without delay, a big meeting has been called for Friday evening of this week to be held at the Legion hall. To this meeting every person in Thief River Falls is invited, for there is work to do and everybody must take a hand. A citizens committee consisting of Dr. G. A. Penney, J. Provencher, H. A. Brumund, Rasmus Oen, L. M. Rayson and Carl B. Larson has been appointed and is busy visiting business men and urging upon them the importance of attending the meeting Friday evening. It is hoped in this manner to secure a record breaking attendance.

At the meeting tentative plans will be discussed, committee appointments made and other details looked after. State Commander Edward Lindell has sent word that he expects to visit Thief River Falls soon and it is hoped to have all committee appointments made and most preliminary arrangements for the convention attended to before his arrival.

BOYS AND GIRLS GET FREE TRIP

Many County Club Workers to Attend Minnesota State Fair.

Winners in Pennington county boys' and girls' club work have been announced and the victors are happy in the thought of spending a week at the Minnesota state fair. The only exception is the sheep club where the winners go to the South St. Paul Livestock show in November.

Natalie Woolson with a Guernsey and Lawrence Letnes with an Ayrshire won in the dairy calf club; Lena Best took first in the pig club with her Poland China, while Estella Hanson and Helen Satre were given awards in the sheep club. Ansof Dahlen and Grace Mostue won free trips in the bread baking club conducted at the high school during the past term.

Gordon Hunt and Randall Noper will go to the state fair for winning the judging contest, while George Wilson and Bryan Westphal of St. Hilaire will spend a week in the boys' camp at the state fair grounds for their activities in club work.

Pennington county boys and girls are taking active interest in club work and the various activities connected therewith are doing them a world of good. It is a highly commendable undertaking and The Tribune hopes more and more of the young folks will take part in it with each succeeding year.

Farmer Delegates to Fair Are Guests of Commercial Club at Thursday's Lunch

Other matters of importance will come up for discussion at the luncheon tomorrow and every member is urged to be present.

The RUMELY System

YOU know how the farmer tests his clover or alfalfa crop. First he breaks off a few heads. Then rubs and rubs them between the palms of his hands. When hulls are loosened he blows away the chaff. Then he carefully picks out the foul seed and other foreign substances. There remains a sample of perfect seed ready for market.

A Rumely Huller gets the seed out in the same way. Cylinders pick off the heads. Three big shaker pans separate heads from stems. Hulling cylinder loosens the hulls and "rubs" out the seed. Screens and air blasts thoroughly clean the seed. That's why the Rumely Huller always delivers clean seed ready for market.

See this time-tested machine. It is beautifully balanced — smooth running — long lived. Like the Rumely Ideal Separator, the Rumely Huller has unusual capacity. Straw goes through in a steady, even flow. Come in and let us show you why it pays to own Rumely machinery.

Two hundred forty-five dollars was gathered in, but because of the system of wiring which will have to be introduced and the number of head phones needed before the patients can enjoy the different programs, at least $800 will have to be raised. However, it is hoped that the necessary funds will be available so that the radio may be installed before Thanksgiving.

The Republican party in Minnesota may not be dead—it may only be acting that way.

It is up to every booster in the county to help out in the matter of placing a fine Pennington county exhibit at the state fair. Get in touch with Mr. Wilson and do your bit this week.

Prices are going to be very good this fall, according to the signs of the times. No one will begrudge the farmers a fair price for whst they have to sell and it is the fervent wish of all that prices continue to soar at least for a time.

Pennington county is lucky to have escaped the devastating storms which have inflicted enormous damage in other sections of the country. We are traveling under a star of good fortune, to be sure, and we trust the knockers who are so prone to find fault will take notice of this circumstance.

Pennington county today is the home of alfalfa. Don't forget to emphasize this fact when talking to strangers, as no better slogan can be used in boosting the agricultural advantages to be found here. Nowhere else in the world can alfalfa so easily be grown—a fact which will sooner or later make our farm land reach its real value.

Thief River Falls is being discriminated against by the city of Winnipeg in the matter of advertising placed upon road signs leading south of that city, so tourists charge. If that is so, then Winnipeg not only owes this city an apology but should take steps immediately to place itself in the proper light. It is said that hundreds of signs south of Winnipeg point the way to Grand Forks, Crookston and Detroit, while Thief River Falls, the most important of all, is entirely left out. Recently this city went out and got the 1925 Legion convention which will bring thousands of visitors to Winnipeg next year, and local boosters, Legion men and others, do not feel that the treatment of Thief River Falls as above noted is quite fair under the circumstances.

MINNESOTA AUTO TAX FAR BELOW AVERAGE

Addition of 2-Cent Gas Tax Would Fail to Bring Motor Vehicle Levy Up to Common U. S. Figure.

Minnesota could add a 2-cent gas tax to the present state motor vehicle tax and its car and truck owners still would be paying less taxes on their machines than those of the average state.

Nickles N. Dimes, the gas tax man, addressed the foregoing statement to readers of The Tribune, and said it was based on a survey made by a disinterested organization, the details of which will be made public later.

"Inquiries from many people, as to whether the gas tax will be an added tax or partly take the place of the present tax on automobiles, what the gas tax rate will be and so forth," said the gas tax man, "prompts this statement.

"Minnesota voters at the November election will not decide whether a tax is to be placed on gasoline, but only whether the receipts from such a tax, if one is levied hy the etete, shall be used for needed road work or to pay miscellaneous state expenses. If a majority of all votes cast are 'yes' votes and the legislature places a tax on gasoline, the money will go on the roads. If the amendment is not adopted, and failure to vote is equivalent to a vote against it, the money will go into the state general fund and not for roads.

"The legisleture now has anthority to order a gasoline tax, bnt cannot divert the proceeds from it to road purposes without an amendment to the constitution, which requires a favorable vote of the people.

"Regardless of the result of the November vote, the legislature next January is expected to consider a gas tax proposal, partly because of the extra revenue it will hring the state from outside tourists—probably more than $500,000 a year. Also it will decide the rate of tax, whether it shall be an additional levy and all other details. It will have the same control over that as over the motor vehicle tax rates and may adjust them as it deems best."

The survey on which the gas tax man promised details leter shows among other things that in spite of the $12 minimum, Minnesota anto taxes are less in proportion on the lighter and less expensive cars than on the heavier costly models, as compared with those in the majority of states.

August Report Shows Central Is Growing

On the eve of the third anniversary of its establishment ths Central Livestock Commission Association of South St. Paul presents a report for the first seven months of its operation for 1924 which shows an appreciable increase in business over the same period for last year.

The net earnings of the association for the first six months of 1924 over and above all operating expenses amount to $55,310.93, as compared with $50,279.46 for the corresponding period of 1923.

Piano Teacher Announces Semester Opening Sept. 1

Mrs. Doris Halvorson Pope announces that the first semester of her piano class will begin Monday, September 1, with registration on August 29 and 30. Those who wish to begin or continus their study of piano should avail themselves of this opportunity.

Mrs. Pope, who is a graduate of Oberlin conservetory and is now an advanced pupil of Madame Baily-Apfelbeck of Minneapolis, has had the musical advantages and training of more than the ordinary mnsic teacher and is thus ahle to give the most thorough and excellent training. Those who have attended her recitals from time to time have observed how carefully her pupils are trained as to technique, poise and thoroughness. Her knowledge of pedagogy, theory of music and musical history serves to give her pupils an all around musical education, which is most necessary in this age. Just the bare knowledge of the instrument is not sufficient. 23

AS OTHERS THINK

Reply to Congressman Wefald.

Editor Tribune:

For the many courtesies extended me last week at the fair grounds I am deeply grateful to the good people of Thief River Falls and Pennington county. Owing to the shortness of time I could not enter at length on the discussion of the railroad problem.

There was one statement, however, of the eminent congressman that is so misleading that it should be corrected at once else many might be deceived.

He said: "The Federal government virtually guarantees the earnings of the railroads of the United States. Such statement is contrary to the facts, which are as follows. Certainly if anyone should know whether the railroad earnings are guaranteed by the Esch-Cummins law of 1920 it must be Mr. Esch and Senator Cummins, who wrote the law. Let us see what they themselves say:

On October 30, 1922, Senator Cummins in a speech at Des Moines, Ia., spoke in part as follows on the Esch-Cummins law: "It is in no sense a guarantee. It is simply a declaration to congress that in its judgment a return of 5½ per cent)now in 1924 5¾ per cent) would meet the constitutional requirement that private property shall not be taken for public use withont just compensation."

"I repeat," continuea Senator Cummins, "that it is not a guarantee, as et once must be admitted when it is remembered that during the year 1920 the net operating income of all the roads was less than one-third of one per cent and the first two months of 1922 the net operating income of all the roads was substantially three and three-tenths per cent, and no one contends or has ever suggested that the government is under any obligations to make up ths difference between the actual net earnings of the railroads and the 5½ per cent."

Mr. Esch is now a very able and conscientious member of the Interstate Commerce Commission. In the decision of the commission rendered in the famons Western Grain Rates case, the commission ruled as follows: "It does not constitute a guarantee to the carriers, nor is the obligation cumulative."

Again in the decision rendered May 24, 1922, the Interstate Commerce Commission said:

"Determination of the percentage implies or carries with it no guarantee."

I have thus quoted Senator Cummins, who with Mr. Esch wrote the law, and also I have quoted two decisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission to the effect that there is virtually no guarantee of earnings to the railroads by the government of the United States.

Will the congressman therefore accept the first opportunity to correct the false impression which his remarks must have made on the splendid andience of Saturday afternoon?

The American Economic Institute, which I represent, is not political—we are pnrely economic—engaged in getting the facts before all the people. We are not for or against any man, institution or idea, but we stand for the truth abont these businesa prohlems, and for the truth we shall continne to stand and to fight wherever we can serve the people of the United States.

Mrs. Thelma Erickson to Open Studio Sept. 1

Mrs. Thelma Erickson, well-known pianist and teacher, expects to open her studio, 708 Knight avenue, about September 1. Mrs. Erickson's ability in her chosen line of endeavor is evidenced by the fact that each year invariably, and without solicitation, she has had a class in piano of more than 65 pupils, beginners, intermediates, and advanced, and her services were so in demand this summer that she was obliged to continue teaching throughout the summer months. Her work in Thief River Falls and surrounding territory for the furtherance of musical education is something of which the city can justly be proud.

McMahon-Dickey.

A quiet pretty wedding was celebrated at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening at six o'clock when Miss Orra McMahon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McMahon living in Silverton township, was married to Benjamin H. Dickey of this city. The bridal couple entered to the strains of the Lohengrin processional played by Mrs. Thelma Erickson. They were attended by Miss Elfreda Knudsen and Dreng Bjornaraa. The ceremony was performed by Charles Gerlinger, Presbyterian pastor.

The bride was gowned in a lovely blue canton crepe dress trimmed in silver, wore a white hat and carried a shower boquet of white roses. Her bridesmaid wore a blue silk dress trimmed in white, also wearing a white hat and carrying a boquet of pink peas.

Immediately following the wedding service, a bridal dinner was served at the home of the bride with a few near friends and close relatives present. The same evening Mr. and Mrs. Dickey left by car for Winnipeg, to spend a week camping at the lake shore.

Mrs. Dickey is very well known in this city as a nurse, having practiced that profession here for the past two years. She received her early schooling here and entered training at the Wright's Memorial hospital at Fergus Falls, graduating from there in 1922.

Mr. Dickey has been associated with the Penney company for the past two years. He is an eastern man, coming from Lancaster, Penn. Before the war and for a short time after, he was manager of the Three Rivers, Mich. store for the Macalester chain stores. During the war he served for some time over seas.

The newlyweds after September 15 will be at home to their many friends who wish them all kinds of good luck in their venture on the high seas of matrimony.

Joel Shoberg and John Sorenson spent Sunday at Red Lake, going by way of Highlanding, Oklee and Gully to the Red Lake Agency and returning by the Red Lake outlet, Thorhult and Grygla. This lake, which has of late been given so much attention by the people in this section as a summer resort, is indeed worth seeing by those who have the opportunity. The Agency has a fine view of the lake and is a nice Indian town with several large government buildings. The outlet reveals two sunken government boats and the source of the Red Lake river. The lake on the west is bordered by woods through which a winding trail leads the traveler. The beach is of fine smooth sand, and looking east no shore can be seen. The water seems to meet the horizon, giving the whole a very impressive appearance. The waves on an ordinary day are large enough to rise to the breaking point, forming very beautiful whitecaps that make it look like an ocean beach in the sunlight. Hundreds of tourists visit the lake every Sunday.

THRILLS GALORE AT BIG STATE FAIR

World's Greatest Features Engaged by Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Exposition, August 30 to September 6.

Zip! Bing! Bang!

These three words symbolize the great $100,000.00 entertainment program of the coming Minnesota State Fair, Aug. 30 to Sept. 6, more effectively than any three other words in the dictionary.

Thrilling Program.

Exciting horse races; thrilling auto races; auto push ball, America's newest sport; a gorgeous fireworks spectacle; auto polo by world-famous auto poloists; a score of spectacular open-air circus acts; two dozen small circuses within a circus on the midway; a dozen great bands and orchestras; pigeon racing, horseshoe pitching—these and many other attractions will be presented.

Auto racing, featuring twenty of the world's greatest dirt track drivers, will be staged opening and closing Saturdays, [illegible] Wednesday, Sept. 3. [illegible] premier auto racer of the world, in a new creation of his own make, the "[illegible] Special," faster even than [illegible] "[illegible]," in which he has broken so many world's records, will be the headliner of the program.

Lovers of horse racing will enjoy the finest program ever seen at Hamline, four days, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 1, 2, 4 and 5. The management is offering $24,500 in added money, which means that horsemen will carry away more than $30,000, including returned entry money. This is more money than will be won in purses at any other meet in America this year, even on the Grand Circuit.

The gorgeous fireworks spectacle, "Tokio," depicting in thrilling fashion the horror and destruction of the Japanese earthquake, will hold the center stage each evening of the fair. A scenic setting 400 feet long and fifty feet high, will be destroyed each evening in a whirlwind of fire. Tons of fireworks will be blown up at the climax.

Never in the history of the Northwest has such a stupendous amusement bill been assembled from the four corners of the globe to entertain the half million persons who are to attend the fair. New features of every kind have been engaged in every field of out-door entertainment.

A score of open-air circus acts, assembled from all parts of the New and Old World, will play each afternoon and evening on great stages before the Grandstand. Auto push ball and auto polo, two exciting American sports, will be played daily. The Morris and Castle Shows will play the midway. A dozen bands and orchestras from all parts of the state will play.

FOR RENT—Flat with heat and bath in Dobner-Meehan block. See M. C. Burns. 52tf

An Appreciation of Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

THERE'S just one way you can know the vast difference between Red Crown and other gasolines. That is by asking Red Crown to get you out of difficulties. It does it every time.

Here's one man's experience:

"Red Crown had been my engine fuel for many years—long tried, well tested, and entirely satisfactory—

"But, in a foolish moment, YOU KNOW, on the advice of a (so-called high-test) gasoline salesman, I changed my brand, and for several months used other kinds of gasoline with various unsettling results, as: Short mileage, with more frequent filling of my gas tank; hard to start after the lighter elements were used out of my tank; lack of power on a hill, with always in low as I climbed; and, to top my difficulties, one day I ran out of 'gas' on the hill.

"Then I was cured. I had always carried a gallon of Red Crown under the seat, and I put it in the tank and climbed the hill on high gear for the first time in months. Red Crown for me from now on."

Furthermore, Red Crown takes a hint with a haste that will delight you. It has the right attitude toward its job—peppy, active, ready to anticipate your desires, and always dependable.

Forestall trouble. Put Red Crown in your tank now—and laugh at sand, grades and mud!

What's freezing in the bucket?

Chances are, you'd be curious, too, if you didn't know what a simple way this is to have as delicious fruit ices as ever made hot days cool.

There's a can of DEL MONTE Sliced Peaches in that bucket (or maybe it's Pears, Crushed Pineapple, Apricots, Strawberries, Loganberries, Fruits for Salad, etc.)

It has simply been packed in equal parts of ice and coarse or ice-cream salt and then allowed to stand and freeze slowly for about three hours. In a few minutes now, this can will be opened, and then certain lucky people are going to enjoy as cool and refreshing a treat as ever was served on a hot day.

And remember—ice is just as helpful to you these hot summer days in many other ways. It not only adds to your enjoyment of food, but safeguards your health as well.

Labor is Plentiful; Wage Level is Lower.

For the first time since the War many of the counties in Minnesota are over-supplied with labor. This is due largely to the fact that industries in the cities are curtailing or shutting down altogether. The Public Employment office reports no difficulty in meeting demands for farm labor.

The July labor report compiled by F. L. French, Secretary of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, shows a reduction in the average wage per day of from $3.14 in July 1923 to $2.47 on July 1924, and in the wage per month of from $60.00 in July 1923 to $47.92 in July 1924.

Ole Sande Back.

Ole R. Sande, county superintendent of schools, returned to this city Monday from a six weeks' stay in St. Paul where he has been studying at the University of Minnesota, taking the course in rural school management.

Drunken Driver.

A sentence of 20 days in the workhouse is being imposed on drunken drivers. Not much progress will be made with sentences as short as these. A drunken driver is a terrible thing on a highway. Permission to drive should be taken away from every drunken driver for one year. Then there should be ways and means of ascertaining whether the rule has been violated, and if it is, the violator should be sent to prison.—Minneapolis Journal.

Amusement Park Talked.

The 15th annual Old Settlers' picnic held at the Greene grove just south of Stephen, was well attended, although threatening weather early in the day kept a number away who had planned to attend.

The address of welcome was given by F. A. Green, president of the association and the main address of the day was given by Dean W. C. Coffey of the University of Minnesota.

The main feature of the business meeting was the suggestion of Dr. Wattam of Warren that an amusement park be established in Marshall county on the banks of one of the rivers, where a swimming pool could be provided and where a pavilion and other places of recreation could be erected. Dr. Wattam and several others were named on a committee to consider the proposition.

MINNESOTA TON LITTER CONTEST LEADS IN U. S.

Pennington County Farmers to Take Part in Statewide Competition.

Southern Portion of State Has Wide Lead in Number of Entries.

Pennington county has entered two pig litters in the first real ton litter contest beld in Minnesota. Two hundred fifteen litters were nominated in the preliminary stages of the contest by 200 or more farmers in 43 counties of the state. On account of accident and disease many of the litters have already dropped out, but enough remain to assure one of the biggest competitions of the kind in any state in the union this year.

Litters from elght different breeds of swine bave been nominated for tha contest. Duroc-Jerseys lead with 85 entries, Poland Chinas some next with 58, and Chester Whites are in third place with 21. Other breeds represented are the Hampshires, Berkshires, Tamworths, and Spotted Poland Chinas.

Martin county leads the state with 80 litters nominated, Mower county coming second with 28, and Freeborn county third with 14. Dakota county has enrolled 12 litters, Rock county 11 and Dodge county 10.

Results of the contest cannot be announced until November. The agricultural extension service of the university is co-operating with the Minnesota Livestock Breeders' association and the Minnesota Swine Breeders association in carrying on the project, with H. G. Zavoral of University Farm in personal charge. Cash prizes totalling near $1,000 will be distributed among the winners.

Five pigs constitute the average litter grown in Minnesota. If the same tonnage of pork can be produced from fewer sows with less feed, a real economy in pork production bas been brought about. This is the goal of the Minnesota litter contest.

"BILL" D'PARQ WINS DECISION

Industrial Commission Decides He Is Entitled to Compensation.

A decision of interest to many in this locality was last Saturday handed down by the Industrial Commission of Minnesota. In the case bronght by William DeParcq to recover compensation for injuries sustained by him in an automobile accident a little more than a year ago. The case was first heard by a referee of the Commission who made findings and awarded compensation to the young man. The insurance company thereupon appealed to the commission proper. This appeal was on the motion of the petitioner dismissed owing to some defects in the appeal papers of the insurance company. Later the insurer moved for a new hearing and when this motion came up the matter was fully argued on the merits before the commission with the result that the commission has now denied the motion of the insurer for a new hearing, and awarded compensation and this finally brought the case to an end so far as the proceedings before the commission is concerned. There is still an oopportunity for the insurer to appeal the case to the supreme court. But with the decision of the referee to begin with and now of the commission in his favor, "Billy" is sanguine that the outcome in thut court also will be favorable.

The case involved a considerable amount, the weekly indemnity awarded aggregating $10,000.00, payable during the continuance of the disability. In addition hospital and medical expenses running into several thousand dollars are involved. Billy's large circle of friends locally will be pleased to learn of the outcome of his case, and still more pleased to leern that he is making good progress towards recovery. He is at present sojourning at Lake Shamineau, near Staples, in this state.

H. O. Chommie of this city represented the petitioner in the case, the defendant being represented by Briggs, Weyl & Briggs of St. Paul.

THRILLS GALORE PROMISED FANS

New Metro Picture Tale of Sea With Struggle of Men Uppermost.

Promised as being something different and original in film plays, but so realistic and human a drama of the sea thnt one almost feels the sting of salty spray, the new Metro picture, "Half-a-Dollar-Bill," a Max Graf production will be shown at the Lyceum theatre Sunday and Monday.

Anna Q. Nilsson is the featured feminine player, who gives the most notable performance of her career es a girl pressed by poverty to abandon her baby that it might live, and who then recovers her child in later years through the most dramatic developments.

William T. Carleton, Raymond Hatton, Mitchell Lewis, George MacQuarrie, and Alec B. Francis comprise the cast, while a juvenile "find" in fonr-year-old Frankie Darro makes his screen debut in the picture, and proves himself a remarkable child actor.

"Half-a-Dollar-Bill" is the name given the foundling by Captain McTeague, when he finds tha baby with the torn half of a dollar bill pinned to it, its mother having kept the other belf in order to identify her son when she is able to claim him. McTeague brings the child np as his own, so that when he is several years older Bill is mascot of the ship.

MANY EXAMINED AT FREE CLINIC

Examinations Provided by Health Association During Fair Are Popular.

Have you had a physical examination this year?

At least 42 Pennington county people can answer "yes" to this question, for this number was examined at the free clinic conducted by the Minnesota Public Health association's examiner during the county fair, according to a final report received this week from the state association. Pennington was ona of the first counties to have the Truck Clinic of the state association as a fair feature, and its success here marked the beginning of a busy season, for 'Health on Wheels' has its appeal, and people all over the state are interested in their own health, the truck's reception everywhare shows.

Twenty-two of those examined during tha clinic here had some physical defect requiring medical attention and were advised to see their family physicians promptly. "The slight disorder of this year may be the serious disease of next year," is the state association's slogan and for this reason part of its campaign is to teach the importauce of periodic physical examination, which insures the early discovery of tronble. While the examination with the accompanying health talk reached only 42 people, it was well worth while if this was all that was accomplished, those who take advantage of its services or watch its work declare, but in addition the health exhibits and demonstrations reached hundreds with their information on building health and preventing disease.

The local clinic was financed hy funds raised through the sale of Christmas seals, which support the entire campaign of the state association against tuberculosis and for the promotion of health. More than 1,000 examinations bave been made by the clinic this summer to carry bealth inearly this summer to carry health information into every corner of the state. Pennington was among the first counties in the state to utilize it as a county fair feature. During the rest of the month and in September t bas a heavy fair schedule, including the following counties: Carver, amsay, Renville, Scott, Yellow Medicine, Roseau and Isanti.

As the result of a raid carried out by Sheriff Ihle and Night Patrolman Krogstad last Seturday morning on his barber shop, Wm. Poirier on Monday pleaded guilty in municipal court to the charge of maintaining a nuisance. He was assessed a fine of $75, which he paid. A pint bottle containing liquor was found in the shop and formed the basis of the complaint. Poirier maintains that the liquor was strictly for his own use and that he never sold a drop to anyone.

PLANS MATURE IN MATTER OF OPENING BANK

Prospects Brighten for Re-organization of Citizens State Bank.

Depositors' Committee and State Department Reach Agreement.

It will be good news to the depositors of the Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls and to the public in general to learn that the depositors' committee and the state banking department have agreed on a plan for the re-opening of the bank. The term used in speaking of the plan is "the depositors' reduction agreement," and is adopted with changes to meet local conditions wherever suspended banks are being re-opened by the banking department. The depositors' committee consists of twelve members, with W. W. Prichard, Sr., in active charge of the matter.

It is conceded by those who have thoroughly studied the matter that there is no way to re-open the bank other than by this "depositors' reduction agreement." In order to carry this out it will be necessary that a voluntary assessment of the full capital stock of $50,000 be paid and also a cash payment of $20 per share for each $100 of stock to create a surplus fund of $10,000 as required by law.

The present charter of the Citizens State bank must be retained, and as a number of the larger shareholders are unable to meet the assessment an agreement has been entered into whereby they will surrender their stock in the bank and also their shares of stock in the Citizens Security company to the depositors' committee in trust in lieu of assessment.

The assets of the Citizens Security company approximate $50,000. As the new shareholders of the Citizens State bank will pay in the voluntary assessment of $50,000 the depositors of the bank will benefit thereby.

The success or failure of the plan now rests with the depositors. If all will sign promptly the stock subscription and reduction agreement the bank could be re-opened within the next 90 days. The blanks are now in the hands of the printer and will be ready for circulation within a day or two.

The members of the committee have given freely of their time in working out this problem and now ask that all who are interested in the welfare of Thief River Falls and community put their shoulders to the wheel and help make this a success.

KNOCKOUT FOR JACK DEMPSEY

Battle With Drama Harder Work Than Scraps With Firpo or Gibbons.

"I'm glad it's all over," said Jack Dempsey, with great relief, after finishing the greatest battle of his entire career.

The scrap he referred to was his ten round engagement with the motion picture drama at Universal City, Cal., where he played the hero in a series of ten two-reel pictures just released under the group title of "Fight and Win," which appear at the Lyceum theatre Friday and Saturday. Each one is a complete story.

"Training for a fight," he said, "of course is the hardest work connected with a boxing contest. But training for a motion picture, and going thru with it, is tougher work than anything I ever before had to tackle.

"I thought that my game was a difficult one, but it's not in it with that of a motion picture actor. They have to observe the same rules of diet and exercise and rest that I do. I found that a few people in the motion picture industry didn't take their work seriously enough to see that they should keep in proper physical condition, but they're rapidly dropping out of their game, just as does a boxer who does not keep in proper trim.

"They had me up at 6:30 every morning. By the time I took my shower, dressed, ate breakfast and made up, it was nine o'clock, and that was the time I had to be on the set. You may smile when you read that I wore make-up. It grated on my nerves to think that I had to put powder and grease paint all over my face before I appeared before the camera. It did not seem right stuff for a fighter.

"But they took some tests of me without make-up and when I saw them I realized that I had to do like all the other actors. Without make-up I was out of the picture—you couldn' see me, my face was so dark; and since they were paying me to be seen in this picture I decided that I'd better let them put powder on my face so it would be caught by the camera."

New Ordinance Will Come Up for Discussion This Week at Meeting of Club

An important meeting of the Commercial club will take place tomorrow (Thursday) noon and every member is urged to be present. The question of proposing an ordinance in the city for the regulation of solicitors and peddlers will come up for discussion at this time. Many business men have felt for some time that local institutions are entitled to some form of protection from outside solicitors, who pay no taxes and contribute nothing to the support of the community. It is an important topic for discussion and the club will make an effort tomorrow to arrive at some definite conclusion regarding the question.

SCHOOLS BEGIN TERM TUESDAY

Everything Is Set for Most Successful School Year in City's History.

Next Monday afternoon a general teachers meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Lincoln high school. School will officially open the following day at 9 a.m. All high school students should come prepared to buy books for the year's study and a sum of from five to seven dollars will be necessary. Grade pupils should come with paper and pencils.

This year a slight change in the first grade enrollments will be made. During the first two weeks any child may be enrolled in classes who will be six on or before December 1. After the probationary two weeks, however, no one will be admitted to the classes.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the schools, buildings have been overhauled and fixed, everything needed has been purchased and teachers are arriving every day. The numerous details associated with the opening of school have all been smoothed out and everything points to a most successful year. The most extensive rebuilding has been carried on this year in the high school gymnasium, the floor being entirely replaced. This will not be ready for a short time, but will be opened to practice as soon as possible.

The school bulletin will be distributed to the public Saturday of this week and should be looked for by everyone as it will give every kind of information as to equipment, entrance requirements, courses of study, school officers and a section on general information with a directory of all school officials and teachers.

Times Editor Slips One Over on Friends: Has a Wife But Guards Secret

Dreng Bjornaraa, editor of The Times, is a peculiar cuss to say the least. Not only is he peculiar, but there are times when his conduct is not entirely above reproach. Here he has been posing as a gay bachelor all summer when as a matter of fact he took unto himself a wife on June 14, his better half being Miss Elfreda E. Knudsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard Knudsen of this city. Of course this is perfectly all right in a way, but it is hard for the many friends of the young couple to forgive them for keeping the wedding a secret for such a long time.

The news came out last week after the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Bjornaraa for Winnipeg, where they spent a week at the lake. They then mailed announcements of the wedding to their friends, the document stating that the nuptial knot had been tied at Winnipeg, June 14, more than two months ago.

The Tribune joins other friends in extending congratulations and best wishes to the Times editor and his bride, and hopes their path through life may be strewn with roses. In one way Dreng is more fortunate than the average—he has a wife who has demonstrated that she can keep a secret.

Holt Sunday School Will Hold Picnic Here Sunday

The Holt Lutheran Sunday school, according to an announcement received yesterday by The Tribune from the pastor, Rev. M. B. Ordahl, will come to Thief River Falls next Sunday in a body for the purpose of holding the annual picnic in the local tourist park. The children will be accompanied by their parents and friends, and the picnic is expected to be a most enjoyable affair. A picnic dinner will be enjoyed at noon, with a devotional program following.

LEGION STARTS WORK ON GREAT STATE MEETING

Preliminary Plans Made at Monster Meeting Last Friday Night.

All Residents of City to Act as Unit in Preparing for Convention.

That Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion has the people of Thief River Falls solidly back of it in the matter of making preparations for entertaining the 1925 convention of the Legion was made evident last Friday evening at the meeting called by the local post for the purpose of discussing this big question. The Legion hall was packed to the doors with business and professional men of the city, all eager to do what they can in helping make the convention a success.

At the meeting Friday evening the problem of entertaining the convention was discussed from all angles. Commander Oscar Smith and others explained to the visitors how the work will be divided among sixteen committees, and how each of these will be formed and of what their duties consist. It was decided that each committee shall be headed by a Legion man as chairman, with business and professional men included so as to make the entire city work as a unit in the gigantic task confronting it.

While no committees were appointed Friday evening, the need for immediate action was stressed and a number will be chosen in the very near future. The tasks of other committees will not require such an early start and these will not be named until later on.

With the spirit of co-operation evident at the meeting Friday evening, Thief River Falls has nothing to fear concerning the problem of properly entertaining the 1925 Legion convention. This city had the gumption and the energy to land the convention and The Tribune ventures the prediction that this same spirit will prevail to the extent that next year's meeting will be an unqualified success.

Mrs. Peterson to Europe.

Mrs. Leonard Peterson of Crookston, well known here where Mr. Peterson was superintendent of the water and light department for many years before removing to Crookston, left this week on an extended trip through Europe. She will visit principally in Sweden and does not expect to return until next spring. Her daughter, Miss Alice, accompanied her as far as Minneapolis, where she will visit for a few days.

COUNTY EXHIBIT NOW COMPLETE

Pennington to Make Excellent Showing at Great Minnesota Fair.

Geo. M. Wilson and his crew of assistants have been busy as bees during the past week getting in readiness the Pennington county exhibit which will be shown at the state fair this year. The Tribune does not hesitate in saying that it will be one of the best to be seen at the fair, and that it will serve effectively to open the eyes of visitors from other sections of the country to the agricultural possibilities of Pennington county. Last year this county put on an exhibit at the state fair for the first time, and although it was not as large as it should have been it served to attract considerable attention. With the experience gained last year and the greater amount of time and energy put into the proposition, this year's exhibit should be far superior to the one shown last year.

Many marvelous samples of grain and other products have been gathered from the farms of the county. There are fruits galore, sugar beets, alfalfa and other grasses. Especially fine will be the alfalfa exhibit, of which have been gathered a large number of excellent plants. Grains of fine quality and unsurpassed vegetables from the gardens of the city and county will be there in profusion. All of these products are being loaded on a truck and will be taken to the fair grounds in this manner. Ample time will be taken to get the exhibit nicely arranged by the opening day of the fair.

Mrs. Thelma Erickson, whose father, Secretary of State Mike Holm, had charge of the Roseau county exhibit for many years and won first prize four years in succession, is in charge of preparing the Pennington county products for the exhibit.

DEPOSITORS OF BANK MAY SIGN PROOF OF DEBT

Surrender No Rights Signing Paper Sent Out by State Department.

Bank Liquidation Checked When Re-organization Plans Develop.

W. W. Prichard, Sr., head of the depositors' committee in charge of re-opening the Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls, is in receipt of a letter from the state banking department relative to the blank proofs of debt recently sent to depositors of the closed banking institution. Some depositors have feared that signing these proofs of debt might in some way stand in the way of reorganization plans now under way and for this reason have hesitated to affix their signatures to the blanks, but the banking department insists that such is not the case. Following are two paragraphs of the letter touching upon the matter in question:

"For your information I beg to advise you that we are mailing out the blank proofs of debt to the creditors of the Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls for filing their claims, inasmuch as before you, as representative of your committee, had called at this office, we had already arranged for the printing of these blanks and the publishing of this notice in the local paper.

"You may advise anyone who inquires regarding the filing of their claims against a closed bank, that the filing of their claim will in no way affect the plans for reorganization; that creditors have three months to file claims and that it is only because there had been such a delay that we felt forced to send out these blanks, and had not the notice already been published we would have deferred it for a little time. Nearly all the banks that have re-opened under reduction agreements had claims filed previous to the re-opening."

WHEAT GROWERS TO LEAVE CITY

Co-operative Headquarters Transferred to Minneapolis by Directors.

The organization headquarters of the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-operative Marketing association, which has been maintained in Thief River Falls since the movement was launched more than a year ago, will this week be transferred to Minneapolis. This decision was reached at a meeting of the board of directors of the association held a short time ago.

The pool office of the association has heretofore been maintained in Minneapolis in connection with the American Wheat Growers Associated, and it is with the idea of effecting economies and providing a smoother working organization that the Thief River Falls office is being moved to the city and placed in close conjunction with the other two. Minneapolis is the terminal market for wheat handled by the association and therefore the directors decided upon that city as the logical location for all departments connected with the organization.

No change will be made in the working force of the association, G. W. Counell, in active charge of the office here will move to Minneapolis and continue in the same capacity, while W. H. Frederick will continue as secretary. L. R. Roberts and the Misses Elsie Sundahl and Dagny Tharaldson of the present office force will be employed at the new location and are making arrangements this week to move to Minneapolis.

Thief River Falls regrets very much that the association has found it advisable to leave Thief River Falls. The location of the office here has been the means of bringing wide publicity to this city and has meant considerable in a business way. The association now boasts a membership of nearly 10,000 wheat growers in the state, being credited with the most rapid growth of any state association in the national organization.

Radium Meets Defeat at Hands of Local Sluggers

The Radium baseball team came over Sunday afternoon and engaged in battle with the locals, coming out of the fray with the short end of a 11 to 0 score. The game was one-sided all the way through and provided no thrills for the spectators.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Fuller Honored on Twenty-fifth Anniversary of Marriage

More than 100 friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fuller gathered at the Masonic hall last Thursday evening to honor them on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary. The hall was gaily decorated with flowers and the hours were pleasantly passed in card playing and old-time dances. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Daniel Shaw, toastmaster, called on a number of friends of the honor guests, all of whom in short talks spoke in high terms of Mr. and Mrs. Fuller as neighbors and citizens and joined in wishing them many more years of wedded happiness. A purse of silver was presented the couple in remembrance of the occasion.

INTERMEDIATE CREDIT BANKS REDUCE RATES

Lower Re-discount to Financial and Co-operative Institutions.

Co-operative Marketing Associations to Get Money at 4½ Per Cent.

Reduction of re-discount rates was bank authorized on August 19 for the intermediate credit banks by the federal farm loan board, it is announced from Washington. The new rate to financial institutions is five per cent and to co-operative marketing associations four and one-half per cent.

The rates heretofore have ranged up to six per cent on some classes of paper and to five and one-helf per cent on others. The action of the board in authorizing a cut in the rates is in line with the easier money market throughout the country. The board, in an official statement, said the reductions were due largely to the lower rates which it has had to pay on debentures of the intermediate credit system.

Farm loan board officials declared the reductions, coming at this time, would mean a great saving to the agricultural communities, particularly through the direct loans to cooperatives. It was said that a majority of the volume of farm products will be marketed in the next few months and the lower rediscount rates for the co-operatives will bring a corresponding saving to them and their members.

Loans through the intermediate credit system now outstanding aggregate something in excess of $87,000,000 with a constant call for more money at this season of the year. Commissioner Cooper of the board, said that some of the loans are maturing and such renewals as are sought will bear the lower rate of interest. The renewals are expected, however, to be smaller than usual, because of the improved position of agriculture generally.

Joe Jetland Bound Over to District Court Last Week on Serious Charge

Joe Jetland of this city was last week arrested and on Saturday morning appeared before Judge N. W. Tarrant in municipal court on a carnal knowledge of a female child. The complaint was signed by Helga Hetland, who now is an inmate of the state school at Shakopee, and who is said to be only 16 years of age.

Jetland was bound over to district court and his bonds placed at $1,000. He has as yet been unable to furnish bonds and is held in the Pennington county jail.

Summer Weather Strikes Section After Prolonged Cool Spell; Badly Needed

The warmest weather of the season struck this section of Minnesota on Monday, following a period of low temperatures and several nights in which frost caused some damage to growing crops. While the warm spell comes too late to be of maximum benefit to corn, it will do wonders in developing and bringing to early maturity those fields which escaped frost. With favorable weather from now on there is every reason to believe that the corn crop in Pennington county will average up fairly well with other years although it has been decidedly backward all summer.

Carlsons on Trip.

August Carlson and family left this morning on a few adys' motor trip which will take them to Fargo, N. D., and the Twin cities. If the weather and roads are favorable they expect to be back in Thief River Falls by Saturday night or Sunday.

CROOKSTON MAN KILLS SELF AND DIVORCED WIFE

E. O. Hagen, Prominent Attorney, Figures in Minneapolis Tragedy.

Fourteen Year Old Daughter Sees Father Commit Killing.

Eric O. Hagen, 45, prominent attorney of Crookston and well known in Thief River Falls, shot and killed Agnes Hagen, 36, his divorced wife, and then committed suicide in Minneapolis early Monday morning. According to detectives investigating the case, Hagen came to Minneapolis about a week previous in an effort to affect a reconciliation with his former wife.

Their daughter, Beret, 14, who makes her home with her father, had been visiting with her mother and was to have returned to Crookston with her father on Monday. The girl had packed her traveling bag and was waiting for her father when Mr. Hagen drew a revolver and fired three shots at her mother. Mrs. Hagen fell in the hallway of her apartment and died almost instantly. One of the bullets struck her in the mouth and the other two were in the head. Hagen then ran into the bedroom and turned the gun on himself. He died while being taken to the hospital in an ambulance. Two bullets were lodged in his head.

Eric O. Hagen was a prominent attorney of Crookston. He has served Polk county as county attorney for two terms and following the tragic death of Judge A. L. Hovland in an automobile accident in 1921, served the country as Judge of Probate until the 1922 election, being appointed by Governor J. A. O. Preus.

It was after Mr. Hagen's term as county attorney had ended that Mrs. Hagen sued her husband for divorce which was granted. She left Crookston to make her home in Minneapolis.

A year ago Mr. Hagen suffered a stroke of paralysis and since that time has been far from strong. He recovered sufficiently to return to his legal practice and joined in a partnership with John Hongen.

Friends of Mr. Hagen, who talked with him before he departed for Minneapolis, where he expected to be reconciled with his former wife and bring her back with him, said that brooding because she was not preparing to return with him, must have caused him to lose control of his will power.

SOO LINE TRAIN IN BAD SMASHUP

No One Injured in Rail Accident Near Orleans Last Monday Night.

The Winnipeg southbound flyer, due here at 9:35, was derailed Monday evening about one and one-half miles north of Orleans, near the Canadian border. Just what caused the accident has not yet been determined, although a broken rail is considered most likely to be responsible.

The tender, a combination baggage and mail car, three coaches and the front trucks of a diner left the track before the engineer succeeded in stopping the train, while the engine, the rear end of the diner and five sleepers remained on the rails. No one on the train was injured.

The passengers were taken back to Noyes, where a new train was made up. This proceeded to Warren over the Great Northern, thence to Thief River Falls over the Wheat Line and thence to the Twin cities. The train arrived here about 3:30 Tuesday morning.

A wrecker was sent out immediately from here and by four o'clock the following morning all of the cars were placed back on the rails and the road cleared for traffic. A passenger on the train ventured the statement to The Tribune the morning after the accident that Engineer John Mitchell piloting the engine at the time of the wreck, showed wonderful skill and presence of mind, and it was due to him that a more serious wrick was averted. W. J. Douville of this city was fireman on the wrecked train.

Pay-as-Yon-Use.

A man who drives his automobile 15,000 miles during the year gets five times as much use out of the highways as the man who drives his car 3,000 miles. A gasoline tax would equalize this difference, requiring the man who drives the most to pay the most in highway taxes. In other words, the farmer who uses his car largely for the purpose of occasionally driving to town wouldn't be compelled to pay as high a tax on the same make of car as the man in town who drives hundreds of miles every week.—Luverne Herald.

Big Eastern Buyer Praises Egg Co-op.

As an example of the way in which their product is being received on the market, the Minnesota Cooperative Egg and Poultry association submits a letter received from one of its large eastern customers in regard to a car of eggs shipped early in August, which reads as follows:

"We are glad to report the arrival of another car of very fine eggs. We want to congratulate your association on the thorough way they are packing eggs. In our 25 years of experience it is the finest summer packed eggs that we have had experience with; in fact, they are superior in a good many cases to some of our local henneries, for which we are paying more money.

"The eggs are beautifully packed and finely graded and it has been a pleasure for our egg foreman to run through a car like this. We surely will be glad to consider next spring your April and May packed products.

"We assume you will have an increased supply of eggs during September and possibly the first half of October. We shall by that time probably want an extra car a week shipped."

MAGNUS JOHNSON'S REPUBLICANISM.

Senator Magnus Johnson is said to have declared in a speech last week that if the Republican party would do some housecleaning he would feel inclined to reaffiliate with the organization of which he for a long time was a member.

He objects to the leadership of the party in the Northwest, and especially to the leadership in this state. Not the real leadership, but the assumed leadership of such men as Andy Rahn and Ed. Smith, whom Tommy Schall recently exhumed from the political graveyard and placed upon the Republican state central committee.

When Senator Johnson expresses his disgust with the existing condition in this state, he voices the sentiment of a great many who have no idea of affiliating, formally with the Farmer-Labor party, but who feel at this time very much like voting against that phoney Republican, Tommy Schall, whose voice is ever raised against the bosses, but whose heart is eternally with them.

When Magnus said he was a better Republican than Tommy Schall, he said a mouthful. Magnus is at least honest; he is sincere; he keeps good company; he takes orders from no one.

Many people who recall the decay of Republicanism in Wisconsin under the rule of Ike Stephenson and remember the occurrences which led to its dissolution in North Dakota which followed the long period of mismanagement of the party by Alex McKenzie feel that in Minnesota there ought to be a movement started for the purpose of saving our organization from a similar fate. They know that a vote for Tommy Schall will be a vote for shoddy Republicanism and would also tend to prolong the influence of such undesirables as Rahn and Smith.

Therefore, there doubtless will be thousands of Republican votes cast for a Farmer-Labor candidate for United States senator in the hope that the election of Magnus Johnson will save the party from further disgrace.

PASS THE AMENDMENT.

One question upon which all political parties in Minnesota appear to agree, is that the constitutional amendment authorizing the levy of a gasoline tax for good roads purposes in this state should be carried at the election this fall. If the amendment is adopted, the next legislature will take up the matter of enacting the necessary legislation to put it into effect.

A gasoline tax is admittedly a fair and equitable method of raising money with which to construct and improve roads. Those using the highways pay under this plan a sum proportionate to the benefits they receive, and outsiders as well as residents of the state share in the expense. A large number of states are now levying a gasoline tax, and in the main it has been proved a popular tax. There is no reason why it should not prove popular in Minnesota.

Leave City.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Roberts and daughter Gladys, who have been residents of this city during the past year, expect to move to Minneapolis this week, leaving by car either Wednesday or Thursday morning. Mr. Roberts has been connected with the Minnesota Wheat Growers association during his stay here and the removal of the offices to Minneapolis necessitates the family moving. During their stay here they have shown themselves very public spirited people and Mrs. Roberts has been widely commended for her church work and the couple will be missed by a wide circle of friends.

Sawmill Leaves Cass Lake.

The shriek of the whistle of the sawmill will not be heard next spring. Lumber is moving rapidly from the yards and by fall there will be nothing left of the piles that marked the mills of the J. Neils Lumber company. Cass Lake must turn to other channels for prosperity. We have timber here for small woodworking plants, and some industrial king will sooner or later see his advantages at Cass Lake. At present, however, our timber is going to Cloquet.—Cass Lake Times.

THEODORE CHRISTIANSON.

Theodore Christianson, editor of the Dawson Sentinel and Republican nominee for governor, has issued the following statement addressed to the voters of Minnesota:

"I owe my nomination not so much to my own efforts as to efforts of the most loyal group of friends that ever backed a candidate for public office. The home people who extended their influence into every part of the state, the press of Minnesota, the women who carried on a crusade in my behalf, the commercial travelers who carried my message to every city and village, former associates of the university and in the legislature and a thousand other personal friends—these, together, put over the campaign that resulted in my nomination.

"The state of Minnesota is overwhelmingly Republican. With a program that is in accord with what its people think, championed by candidates in which they have confidence, and backed by a party organization that truly represents the people, we cannot fail to win the approval of the electorate in November.

"I believe that there is not as much partisan bitterness in Minnesota today as there was two years ago. Most of the people have learned that the way to get good government is not to smash up the old parties, but to make the old parties right. Careful discrimination in the selection of party candidates and care in the building of the right kind of party machinery will do more to give us good government than any third party movement conceived in the minds of disappointed office-seekers.

"I am going to go the limit to make the Republican party organization right. In that effort I enlist the support of every good citizen in the state of Minnesota. If we co-operate in that effort, we shall not fail."

In addressing the Lincoln club of Minneapolis the Saturday evening preceding the primary, Mr. Christianson outlined the platform on which he made the successful campaign for the nomination and concluded with a striking peroration which sets forth the essential difference between the two political groups in Minnesota which will contest for supremacy this fall. Mr. Christianson declared:

"Relief from a tax burden—local, state and national—which has grown to such proportions in recent years as to be rapidly reaching the point of confiscation of private property by the state is the predominating issue of the campaign and the subject of most vital interest to the voters of Minnesota at this time."

As steps toward tax reduction and greater efficiency in state government Mr. Christianson advocated:

An adequate budget system.

Consolidation and reorganization of state departments.

Arousing a strong public opinion insistent on curbing expenditures.

A pay-as-you-go policy and, where bond issues are necessary, enactment of legislation to discharge its own obligations.

Giving tax payers protection against local public extravagance through the right of appeal to the state tax commission to block unwarranted expenditures.

"Born and raised on a farm, I share the aspirations of those who labor," said Mr. Christianson in concluding his address. "My sympathies are not with the drones of society, but with its workers. I have introduced and supported measures in the interests of agriculture during my service in the legislature, and when I am in the executive chair, the farmers of Minnesota will know that they have a governor who understands them because he is one of them.

"The demand for economic readjustment is insistent today. The Republican party stands for gradual readjustment to meet changing needs, not for revolutionary readjustment involving the overturning of the economic order. No economic readjustment is ever final, because the conditions with which it deals are never fixed, but ever changing. In effecting economic readjustments, the prime object be sought is not a dead leveling of society, such as is sought by our radical friends but a distribution of rewards that shall stimulate every man, whether he possess one talent or five, to spend himself to the utmost for the advancement of his community, his state, the race and its civilization.

"The Republican party has always stood, and must ever stand, for equality of opportunity; but equality of opportunity does not imply either equal distribution or communistic ownership of wealth. It implies an equitable distribution, one based, not on the accident of birth or on power possessed through monopolistic control of resources, but on the capacity of each individual for service. In any society, some men by virtue of greater foresight, more talents and better self-control, will acquire more property than others. The labor of some men is more productive than that of others. The Republican party does not stand for the idea that every man shall occupy the same social station, have the same bank account and live in the same kind of house as every other man. But, emphatically, it stands for the idea that to every man shall be open the door of the same opportunity. That was the idea of that stalwart Republican, James A. Garfield, when he declared that 'while European society is stratified like the rocks in the earth, ours is stratified like the ocean, where from the sternest deeps, any drop may rise to glisten on the highest wave that rolls.' Upon that conception of democracy, the Republican party chalanges the forces that stand for a universal mediocrity, well knowing that when the American people are confronted with the choice of advancing or retreating, they will choose the path of constructive progress."

Father Dies.

Mrs. Charles Evenson of this city received a telegram last Saturday morning telling of the sudden death of her father, Oscar Murk, living near Ottertail, Minnesota. He was quite an aged man, but had seemed in the best of health when visiting with his daughter in this city a short time ago. The cause of death was heart failure, the attack coming while Mr. Murk was in the barnyard feeding the poultry.

Mrs. Evenson left the city immediately by motor with her son, Oscar, to attend the funeral. Mr. Evenson, who has been attending to business duties in Akeley, met his wife and son in Ottertail upon their arrival and proceeded to the Murk farm where they will stay until after the burial. Pennington Potatoes Are Being Certified as Seed

A. Heiagen of the state department of agriculture last week certified three fields of potatoes in Pennington county for seed, certification being an assurance of heredity of the crop and a great aid in securing a ready and desirable market. He states that the fields in this vicinity are especially fine.

The plots certified are the 40 acre field of Chas. Correll, the 20 acre field of Jens Letnes, and the 100 acre plot of Peter Engelstad.

CLOSED BANKS MAY BE OPENED

Improvement in Agricultural Situation Is Given as the Reason.

Improvement in the agricultural situation in the Northwest will make possible the re-opening of between 25 and 30 closed Minnesota banks before the end of 1924, A. J. Viegel, state superintendent of banks, said on Monday.

At the same time the North Dakota state bank commissioner reported at Bismarck that 15 closed North Dakota banks had solved their difficulties and were practically ready to re-open.

Two railroad presidents, in statements, also predicted a prosperous season for the Northwest. Charles Donnely, president of the Northern Pacific, returned from on Atlantic coast trip and said; "Eastern business men are unanimous in their confidence that a substantial expansion of business may be looked for this fall."

Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern, returned from a study of conditions along the Great Northern territory to the Pacific coast, with the report that the large crops of Minnesota are being duplicated all over the Northwest and that the "tonnage from products of agriculture in Great Northern territory will be nearly as large as in 1915 which was a banner year."

"Stockholders of Minnesota banks which were closed because of depleted reserves, are now in a position to aid in financing the banks so that poor paper can be taken care of and the banks re-opened," Mr. Veigel said. "This is being accomplished because the big crops, bringing fair prices, are providing funds. There are 25 banks now working out plans to re-open and with those already opened, the total may pass 30.

They were on their return to the Canadian city from a motor trip to southern Minnesota and Iowa, where they visited other relatives. Mr. Knapper was very much impressed with the country around Thief River Falls and may decide to invest in a Pennington county farm if he can dispose of his Canadian holdings. Crop failures are common in western Canada, according to Mr. Knapper, and during the fourteen years he has farmed there he has raised only one bumper crop, the remainder being poor yields or absolute failures. This year he didn't even find it necessary to pull the binder out of the shed, all crops being completely dried up before July 1.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

BREAK CONTROL OF SUGAR TRUST

Farmers of Northwest Who Grow Beets Save Soil and Protect Housewife.

Building sugar factories and raising more sugar beets in Minnesota, North and South Dakota will have three important results:

1.—Break the control of the sugar trust which boosts the price of sugar as soon as the present small American crop is sold and eaten.

2.—Reduce the price of sugar by providing year-round competition with Cuban imports.

3.—Restore farm prosperity by providing a guaranteed cash crop that takes little fertility from the soil and leaves it in better tilth.

These facts have been pointed out by commercial clubs in that section of the Northwest where the new industry of sugar beet raising has been introduced with great success. These commercial clubs have appealed to business and agricultural leaders here to impress Government officials with the necessity of preserving conditions under which the sugar industry can be extended in the Northwest.

"Government investigators find 75 per cent of the Cuban sugar crop under control of New York banks which are intimately linked with refiners of Cuban sugar. The sugar we use from February when the domestic crop is exhausted until it comes on the market again in December, we are compelled to buy from these New York bankers and their allies, because they own the Cuban sugar, by far our largest sugar supply. These facts are pointed out by the Moorhead, Minn., Commercial club and other similar bodies which are located in northwestern Minnesota and North and South Dakota.

The only real relief from the frequent price boosting of sugar can be found neither in Government suits nor women's boycotts such as we had last year, but in greater production of sugar grown on our own farms.

The American sugar industry with the exception of two small sugar companies, one in Ohio and the other in California, is independent of any trust control and handles a product composed of nothing but the sunshine that warms the soil and the rain that falls upon it. Sugar is carbon, hydrogen and oxygen, elements contained in the air and water and when these are chemically united in the right proportion and extracted from the beet, the rest of the beet goes back into the land. For this reason sugar takes no fertility from the soil.

"In 1920 we bought nearly one billion dollars worth of sunshine and rain in the form of sugar, just as if we did not have any ourselves.

"If the American beet sugar industry is stimulated and encouraged, it will provide the only effective protection of the American housewife and at the same time a means of salvation for the farmers of the Northwest.

"Those interested in the sugar beet industry would do well to read an article in the August, 1924 number of the National Geographic magazine, entitled "From Granada to Gibralter," in which the writer quotes from 1901 Baedeker which describes Granada as full of "filth and decay, a living ruin" and expressing a pessimistic hope that the beet sugar factories just proposed may increase industry and revive prosperity.

This was in 1901. The answer is now evident. The province of Andalusia of which Granada is the capital, is today bustling and industrious. The province and city have now a dozen or more beet sugar factories. Huge piles of brown sugar beets are seen at each station. Numerous freight trains and farmers' carts are loaded with them. The city of Granada is paved, its streets are crowded, many fine buildings and stores have been erected, prosperity abounds everywhere. Such a result produced in a region of ruin and decay in old Spain in a few years forecasts the wonders that may be hoped for in this magnificent Red River Valley of the North from this new and promising industry. Sugar manufactured here would bring money into the Northwest. We are buying too much and selling too little outside. Let us reverse the process.

Minnesota Roads Best.

The state of Minnesota has a splendid system of marking the highways, so clear and plain that one who can read need not run off the road or take the wrong road. Every curve is marked plainly, R or L, as are the narrow roads, railroads, dangerous curves, etc. Minnesota roads under the Babcock administration are among the very best in the United States.—Stillwater Gazette.

What's freezing in the bucket?

Chances are, you'd be curious, too, if you didn't know what a simple way this is to have as delicious fruit ices as ever made hot days cool.

There's a can of DEL MONTE Sliced Peaches in that bucket (or maybe it's Pears, Crushed Pineapple, Apricots, Strawberries, Loganberries, Fruits for Salad, etc.)

It has simply been packed in equal parts of ice and coarse or ice-cream salt and then allowed to stand and freeze slowly for about three hours. In a few minutes, now, this can will be opened, and then certain lucky people are going to enjoy as cool and refreshing a treat as ever was served on a hot day.

And remember—ice is just as helpful to you these hot summer days in many other ways. It not only adds to your enjoyment of food, but safeguards your health as well.

POTATO EXCHANGE SHIPS FIRST CAR

Warehouses Opened for Business at Sixteen Points in Sand Land District.

The Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange last week shipped its first car of potatoes. It moved from Anoka, one of sixteen shipping points at which the Exchange last week opened warehouses for the receipt of potatoes. Other warehouses are being opened daily and by September 1, exchange officials expect to be receiving potatoes at 50 stations, at least.

Instructions sent by Leo H. Wright to warehousemen, call for close grading, the Exchange's best potatoes being packed on a basis that makes them superior to U. S. No. 1, the best grade, under government regulations. Only member's best potatoes will get into this grade, as the Exchange has adopted a policy of close grading for the purpose of re-establishing the standing of Minnesota potatoes in the terminal markets.

The Exchange now is receiving potatoes at Anoka, Bethel, Cedar, Forest Lake, Braham, Chisago City, Center City, Cambridge, Elk River, Harris, Isanti, Princeton, Pine City, Stacy, Wyoming and Zimmerman. All these shipping points are in the early or sand land section of the state.

Thus far arrangements have been completed for 185 houses and, according to Mr. Wright, receiving facilities have been completed at all except a very few stations in the entire potato growing sections of the state.

Among the new stations at which arrangements were completed last week was McIntosh, one of the most prominent potato shipping points in the state.

Eliminating Death Crossings on Roads

Minnesota Highway Department Separating 523 Railroad Grade Crossings on Trunk System.

Elimination of 523 out of 830 railroad grade crossings on the Minnesota trunk highway system is made public by Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, in a highway bulletin this week. Separations accomplished number 263 and 260 others are in prospect. The 307 grade crossings remaining on the big 7,000-mile state system, the bulletin states, are those in which local conditions do not seem to justify at this time the expenditure necessary to effect separations.

State highway projects this year, the bulletin continues, will eliminate 65 grade crossing death traps, 57 by relocations, 5 by overhead crossings and three by underpasses. Last year 85 such crossings were eliminated, 59 by re-locations, 9 by overheads and 17 by underpasses. In previous years the total was 113 eliminations, 61 by re-locations, 15 by overheads and 37 by underpasses. Plans are completed for 260 additional eliminations, 202 by re-locations, 32 by overheads and 26 by underpasses.

"Although federal highway aid can not be expended on highway projects involving grade crossings which are physically possible of elimination," said Commissioner Babcock, "the Minnesota department has effected such eliminations only where the expense was reasonably warranted. However, the benefit of any doubt always has been given the road user in these death trap elimination plans. A number of grade separations have been adversely criticised but there is confidence here that the wisdom of those changes will be established in the near future."

Grade crossing elimination in Minnesota is part of the general policy of not only improving and maintaining trunk routes as well as laws and funds will permit, highway officials said, but of building-in safety with superelevated curves and like special construction, erection of guard rails, posting of warning signs and so forth.

Hand-picked Thoroughness

The RUMELY System

YOU know how the farmer tests his clover or alfalfa crop. First he breaks off a few heads. Then rubs and rubs them between the palms of his hands. When hulls are loosened he blows away the chaff. Then he carefully picks out the foul seed and other foreign substances. There remains a sample of perfect seed ready for market.

A Rumely Huller gets the seed out in the same way. Cylinders pick off the heads. Three big shaker pans separate heads from stems. Hulling cylinder loosens the hulls and "rubs" out the seed. Screens and air blasts thoroughly clean the seed. That's why the Rumely Huller always delivers clean seed ready for market.

See this time-tested machine. It is beautifully balanced — smooth running — long lived. Like the Rumely Ideal Separator, the Rumely Huller has unusual capacity. Straw goes through in a steady, even flow. Come in and let us show you why it pays to own Rumely machinery.

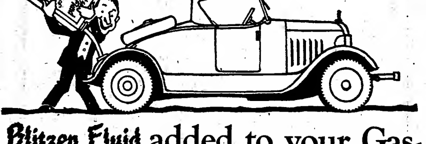
Treat Your Gasoline With-

Blitzen Fluid

"The Fountain of Motor Youth"



Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas-

Increases Mileage of Gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon.

CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor troubles. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap in motor engineering, as it softens the fiery coke-like carbon deposits and expels it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forms a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

When carbon is gone grinding of valves becomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean and perform at their highest efficiency; carbon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and you will enjoy that extra power and smoothness of a clean well preserved motor.

Blitzen Fluid is used by men in the Auto Motive industry who know that it will not injure the most sensitive motor. It is produced by chemists to put and keep your motor in the state of highest efficiency and saves in gasoline and repair bills sufficiently to entirely or largely reduce the cost.

ADD 2 OUNCES OF Blitzen Fluid TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS and give Blitzen Fluid a fair test in accordance with the condition of your motor. Notice the difference.

In your community Blitzen Fluid "The Fountain of Motor Youth" is sold at Pyramid pumps and service stations.

KICKS ON SIGNS BRING RESULTS

Action of Motor League in Routing Tourists Brings Strong Protest.

A short time ago it was brought to the attention of Thief River Falls that a number of signs had been placed along the road south of Winnipeg giving distances and directions for reaching all important towns in this section with the exception of Thief River Falls. This naturally aroused the ire of local boosters and the matter was called to the attention of Winnipeg.

Following are excerpts from a letter written by Col Webb of Winnipeg to A. C. Emmett, secretary of the Manitoba Motor League, showing that Winnipeg's heart is in the right place and that the signs were placed with official sanction of the real boosters who make that city their home:

"I have received quite a number of complaints lately, and even deputations from Thief River Falls stating that the Motor League routes everybody via Warren and Crookston, and makes no mention of the alternative route via Thief River Falls.

"We in Winnipeg are looking all the time for the co-operation of the towns to the south of us, and particularly Thief River Falls, and as the road is much better via Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls to Crookston than the road from Warren to Crookston, it is suggested that as much as possible we endeavor to route them that way, particularly as it does not effect anybody between Crookston and Warren, as there is no place that anyone would stop or even look at between these two points.

"The road between Warren and Crookston is just a graded road, whereas the Thief River Falls road is gravelled, and in first class shape all the way, and it is a much more attractive and scenic route, and I believe it is essentially to our interests to co-operate with all the business houses and the people of Thief River Falls, because they take so mucb interest in co-operating with Winnipeg.

"I would like very much indeed if you would act on this suggestion, because it means a great deal to Winnipeg, and after all is said and done it is the mutual interests of each different town on the road that counts more tban the mere routing of a person individaully, and we cannot expect to have the whole heatred cooperation of a good sized town like Thief River Falls is we do not co-ooerate with tbem."

Permanent Organization Formed by Promotors of Red Lake Resort Ass'n.

The following officers were chosen at the meeting of the members of the Red Lake Resort association held in Thief River Falls last Tbursday afternoon: E. O. Mogensen, president; Math Barzen, first vice president; A. D. Borneman, Hallock, second vice president; Geo. M. Wilson, secretary; F. H. Herrick, treasurer; directors: A. C. Kvennes, Middle River; O. S. Ostgaard, Gatzke; Martin Myrbo, Viking; Ralph Taralseth, Warren; Wm. Hunt, Goodridge and George Johnson, Grygla.

The directors, upon being named, selected their own set of officers from the more than sixty members present at the meeting. Although it was deemed expedient that the principal officers be located in this city, the project is one covering the entire Red River Valley, including Manitoba, Canada. Every town in the entire valley around this district was represented at the meeting.

County surveyor, Bert Umlund, left Tuesday for the site of land at the Narrows of the lake and is busily at work making a detailed map of the land, showing the lots reserved for the lodge, boat houses, public gathering places and consessions. Within a few days a committee will leave for the agency to take up the matter of securing logs for the erection of cabins. In fact all the necessary details are being covered with dispatch nnd by next spring a thriving summer resort colony should be very much in evidence.

MASTERPIECE TO COME ON SUNDAY

Norma Talmadge Excels in 16th Century Romance at Lyceum Theatre.

It seems hardly sufficient to say that "Ashes of Vengeance," Norma Talmadge's latest First National production, which will be shown at the Lyceum Sunday and Monday, is a masterpiece. It is a most ambitious motion picture combining a marvelous spectacle of the 16th century and a love story of delicate charm executed in a thoroughly entertaining manner.

But it is the story itself which stands out from these massive settings, a story of heredity, hate and desire for vengeance which is dissipated by the valor of a man upon whom humilitation in every form is visited, and turns to an exalted love which wipes out a long existing feud of two noble families. It would require columns to describe the rush of incident, of physical and emotional conflict through which this transition is accomplished. Mob scenes, thrilling sword fights, romance and political intrigue figure in a succession of situations in natural and logical sequence—and dominating it all is Norma Talmadge. More beautiful than ever, as the proud Yoeland de Breux, more regal, more admirable in her emotional scenes.

And opposite her, Conway Tearle is superb as the brave and noble de-Vrieac, despised by Yoeland when brought into her house by her brother Comte da la Roche, his enemy, after sacrificing himself for his financee and becoming the slava of la Roche.

The action of the play, already moving rapidly, is given impetus with the entrance of Wallace Beery, as the Duc de Tours, cruel profligate whose pursuit of Yoeland brings the play to en effective climax. Never has Beery given a more finished portrayel. To the credit of the producer be it said that he did not hesitate to select the finest artists obtainable in support of his star. The portrayals of Tearls, Berry, Courtenay Foote, Josephine Crowell—of the entire cast, in fact, are flawless.

New Night Cop Named to Patrol Streets of City

Thief River Falls has a new night cop in the person of Fritz Christenson, who took up his duties Tuesday night. Mr. Christenson was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of E. L. Krogstad, who decided to return to his former occupation as brakeman on the Soo Line. The new officer has had considerable police experience and The Tribune believes he will fill the position with credit to himself and to the city.

KICKS ON SIGNS BRING RESULTS

Action of Motor League in Routing Tourists Brings Strong Protest.

A short time ago it was brought to the attention of Thief River Falls that a number of signs had been placed along the road south of Winnipeg giving distances and directions for reaching all important towns in this section with the exception of Thief River Falls. This naturally aroused the ire of local boosters and the matter was called to the attention of Winnipeg.

Following are excerpts from a letter written by Col Webb of Winnipeg to A. C. Emmett, secretary of the Manitoba Motor League, showing that Winnipeg's heart is in the right place and that the signs were placed with official sanction of the real boosters who make that city their home:

"I have received quite a number of complaints lately, and even deputations from Thief River Falls stating that the Motor League routes everybody via Warren and Crookston, and makes no mention of the alternative route via Thief River Falls.

"We in Winnipeg are looking all the time for the co-operation of the towns to the south of us, and particularly Thief River Falls, and as the road is much better via Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls to Crookston than the road from Warren to Crookston, it is suggested that as mnch as possible we endeavor to route them that way, particularly as it does not effect anyhody between Crookston and Warren, as there is no place that anyone would stop or even look at between these two points.

"The road between Warren and Crookston is just a graded road, whereas the Thief River Falls road is gravelled, and in first class shape all the way, and it is a mnch more attractive and scenic route, and I believe it is essentially to our interests to co-operate with all the business houses and the people of Thief River Falls, because they take so much interest in co-operating with Winnipeg.

"I would like very much indeed if you would act on this suggestion. because it means a great deal to Winnipeg, and after all is said and done it is the mutual interests of each different town on the road that counts more than the mere routing of a person individually, and we cannot expect to have the whole heatred cooperation of a good sized town like Thief River Falls is we do not co-ouerate with them."

Permanent Organization Formed by Promotors of Red Lake Resort Ass'n.

The following officers were chosen at the meeting of the members of the Red Lake Resort association held in Thief River Falls last Thursday afternoon: E. O. Mogensen, president; Math Barzen, first vice president; A. D. Borneman, Hallock, second vice president; Geo. M. Wilson, secretary; H. H. Herrick, treasurer; directors: H. C. Kvennes, Middle River; O. S. Ostgaard, Gatzke; Martin Mytbo, Viking; Ralph Taralseth, Warren; Wm. Hunt, Goodridge and George Johnsor, Grygla.

The directors, upon being named, selected their own set of officers from the more than sixty members present at the meeting. Although it was deemed expedient that the principal officers be located in this city, the project is one covering the entire Red River Valley including Manitoha, Canada. Every town in the entire valley around this district was represented at the meeting.

County surveyor, Bert Umlund, left Tuesday for the site of land at the Narrowe of the lake and is husily at work making a detailed man of the land, showing the lots reserved for the lodge, boat houses, public gathering places and consessions. Within a few days a committee will leave for the agency to take up the matter of securing logs for the erection of cabins. In fact all the necessary details are being covered with dispatch and by next spring a thriving summer resort colony should he very much in evidence.

MASTERPIECE TO COME ON SUNDAY

Norma Talmadge Excels in 16th Century Romance at Lyceum Theatre.

It seems hardly sufficient to say that "Ashes of Vengeance," Norma Talmadge's latest First National production, which will be shown at the Lyceum Sunday and Monday, is a masterpiece. It is a most ambitious motion picture combining a marvelous spectacle of the 16th century and a love story of delicate charm executed in a thoroughly entertaining manner.

But it is the story itself which stands out from these massive settings, the story of heredity, hate and desire for vengeance, which is dissipated by the valor of a man, upon whom humiliation in every form is visited, and turns to an exalted love which wipes out a long existing feud of two noble families. It would require columns to describe the rush of incident, the physical and emotional conflict [illegible] which this transaction [illegible] intrigue [illegible] situations in natural [illegible] sequence—and dominating it all [illegible] Miss Talmadge, more beautiful than ever, as the proud Yoeland de Breux, more regal, more admirable in her emotional scenes.

And opposite her, Conway Tearle is superb as the brave and noble de Vaudrec, despised by Yoeland when brought into her house by her brother, Comte de la Roche, his enemy, after sacrificing himself for his [illegible] and becoming the slave of la Roche.

The action of the play, already moving rapidly, is given impetus with the entrance of Wallace Beery, as the Duc de Tours, cruel profligate whose pursuit of Yoeland brings the play to an effective climax. Never has Beery given a more finished portrayel. To the credit of the producer be it said that he did not hesitate to select the finest artists obtainable in support of his star. The portrayals of Tearle, Berry, Courtenay Foote, Josephine Crowell—of the entire cast, in fact, are flawless.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

Minn Historical Society

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Thief River Falls Tribune

Vol. 24. No. 25 | THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1924 | $2.00 a Year in Advance.

THIS CITY MAY BE CONVENTION PLACE IN 1925

Woodmen of World Have Thief River in View for Next Meeting.

Matter to Be Decided at Big Gathering Next Saturday at Gonvick.

Thief River Falls stands a good chance of landing the 1925 state convention of the Woodmen of the World, one of the strongest fraternal organizations in the country. The matter has been under consideration of officials of the lodge for some time, and these men announce that they are prepared to go after the convention and believe they stand a good chance of landing it. The matter is to be decided next Saturday at a monster meeting to be held at Gonvick, at which time the fine new building of the Gonvick lodge is to be dedicated.

According to present plans of the lodge, 18 automobile loads of lodge members and boosters will make the trip to Gonvick next Saturday. This delegation leaves with the avowed purpose of landing next year's convention for this city, and indications are that nothing serious will develop to prevent the state meeting from coming to this city as desired by the local lodge members. The Thief River Falls lodge is one of the strongest in this section of the state and it is conceded that Northwestern Minnesota is entitled to the 1925 convention. This makes it apparent that Thief River Falls will be decided upon especially since no other city in this part of the state is making any particular effort to land the meeting.

The celebration at Gonvick next Saturday is to be a gala event, with the whole country-side taking part. There will be airplane flights, sporting events, baseball, picture shows, band concerts, speeches, a grand ball, and the formal exercises dedicating the new lodge home. All national officials of the Woodmen of the World will be present on this occasion, and Soverign Commander W. A. Fraser of Omaha, a man of national prominence, is scheduled to deliver an address at 11:15 am

Visiting Woodmen are asked to register at the new hall upon their arrival and they will be given appropriate badges. It will be a gala day for northern Minnesota and a real event for everybody. Gonvick is determined to do itself proud in entertaining visitors, all of whom are asked to come early and stay late.

SPEED CARNIVAL OCCURS SEPT. 21

Great Racing Program to Be Put on By Elmer J. Eklund Post.

At a meeting of Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion held last Thursday evening it was decided to hold a speed carnival at the fair grounds on Sunday, September 21. The proceeds from the event are to be used in helping defray expenses of the state convention to be held here next year.

While the program has not yet been arranged, it is the intention to put on a variety of racing events, including five mile, ten mile and sweepstakes auto races, horse races of various kinds, Ford novelty races, motorcycle races, and races for local cars. About $1,000 will be hung up in purses, and it is expected that drivers from all parts of the Northwest will take part in the events.

The Warren band has been secured to furnish music during the day and preparations are being made to care for a record crowd. The Legion never does anything by halves and the public may rest assured that when the local post sets out to put on a speed carnival it will be a real one. F. J. Burns is chairman of the committee having the matter in charge, and further details concerning the event will appear in future issues of The Tribune.

W. C. T. U. Meets.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Tuesday afternoon at the C. M. Carlson home on LaBree avenue. A short business meeting was conducted, but due to the fact that Mrs. Hardisty was unable to read her report of the state convention, it was made brief. A delightful program of music was then rendered under the supervision of Mrs. Karl Korstad and Mrs. H. L. Sande, after which a delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. C. M. Carlson, assisted by Mrs. J. O. Sether. An unusually large attendance was present at the meeting.

Rev. Tallakson Formally Installed Trinity Pastor at Exercises Held Sunday

With impressive exercises conducted at the city auditorium, Rev. S. L. Tallakson was last Sunday formally installed as pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Besides members of the congregation and others, several visiting ministers and President I. T. Aastad of Detroit were president. Among the ministers were Rev. E. O. Saho of Mavie, Rev. M. B. Ordahl of Holt and Rev. C. M. Grimsrud of St. Hilaire, all of whom took part in the exercises.

Rev. Tallakson and family are now residents of Thief River Falls, and have moved into the Trinity parsonage made vacant when Rev. Swager and family left last week for their new home in Wisconsin.

BERT G. WALKER DIES SUDDENLY

Old and Respected Citizen Falls Victim to Attack of Pneumonia.

Bert G. Walker, for 29 years a respected resident of Thief River Falls, died last Saturday morning in St. Rafael's hospital, St. Cloud, after only a few days' illness from pneumonia. He and Mrs. Walker left here Monday morning of last week in their automobile for St. Cloud to visit for a short time at the home of their son, James Walker. On the way down Mr. Walker became ill and was forced to stop several times for rest before completing the journey. St. Cloud was reached Tuesday evening, and Mr. Walker by this time was so critically ill that it was deemed advisable to remove him to a hospital. His condition gradually grew worse and he died at 5 o'clock Saturday morning as above stated. With him at the time of death were his wife, his son James, and his daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown, who had been visiting at her brother's home for a few days previous to the arrival of her parents.

The body was shipped to this city Saturday and the funeral will be held tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 2:30 from the Presbyterian church, with interement in Greenwood cemettry. The funeral was postponed until Thursday to give relatives living at a distance an opportunity to be present.

Bert G. Walker was born September 15, 1865, at Dubuque, Iowa. He resided there until 1883, when he moved to Hillsboro, N. D. He was married to May Rogers on January 27, 1890, at Fargo, N. D. The couple continued to make their home at Hillsboro until September 30, 1895, when they moved to this city and have made this place their home ever since.

Three children, James E.; Mrs. W. J. Brown and Mrs. H. A. Dybvik, are left to mourn Mr. Walker's death. Other surviving relatives are a brother, B. K. Walker of Gull Lake, Sask., Canada, and one sister, Mrs. G. W. Gardner of LaPorte, Minn. John and Ed. Rogers, brothers of Mrs. Walker and former residents of Thief River Falls, arrived the first of the week from Mobridge, S. D., to be present at the funeral.

Deceased was a man of sterling character, highly respected by everyone with whom he came in contact. He was a barber by trade and during his long residence here conducted shops of his own much of the time. Of late years he put in part of his time looking after his farm near Goodridge, being employed at intervals in local shops. Mr. Walker's sudden and untimely death is sincerely mourned by a large number of friends and acquaintances.

County graduation exercises were held last Thursday evening in the high school auditorium, diplomas being awarded to about 30 boys and girls from the eighth grades of the rural schools. Theodore Utna of the state educational department in St. Paul delivered the address and Supt. O. R. Sanda awarded the diplomas.

Progress Being Made in Citizens Bank Reopening

W. W. Prichard, Sr., head of the depositors' committee of the Citizens State bank, which is working on a plan for reopening the bank in the near future, reports to The Tribune today that satisfactory progress is being made in the matter. The committee is now busy sending out the "depositors' reduction agreements," and all of these will be in the hands of depositors within a few days. Returns are coming in very satisfactorily and indications are that little trouble will be experienced in securing the signatures of a large majority of depositors.

New Tribune Reporter.

Miss Margaret Melgaard, graduate from the local high schools and well known in Thief River Falls, has taken a position as local reporter on The Tribune. Miss Melgaard takes the place of Elra Porter, who resigned last week and left for the Twin cities to take a course in music.

MUCH PUBLICITY FOR PENNINGTON AT STATE SHOW

Twin City Newspapers Carry Articles Describing Exhibits. Etc.

Fact That Products of County Came 350 Miles on Big Truck Mentioned.

Not only is Pennington county getting a great deal of favorable publiccity on the state fair grounds this week, but the newspapers of the Twin cities have printed front page stories and feature articles describing the showing made by the people of the livest little county in the state. Chances are that much more publicity of the same character will appear before the week is over, and when the combined circulation of the large Twin city dailies is considered it is easy to see where Pennington county is getting a lot of favorable advertising through the fact that it is showing a splendid county exhibit at the fair and the further fact that the Thief River Falls Commercial club is sponsoring a delegation of ten dairy farmers of the county who are spending the week at the fair and dairy exhibition.

Following are a few extracts from a front page story which appeared in the St. Paul Daily News the first of the week:

"Mayor J. S. Arneson of Thief River Falls thinks managers of the state fair should offer a handsome prize to the man who brings an exhibit the longest distance. He is confident he would win the prize in a walk-away, for he drove a two-ton truck 350 miles to bring the Pennington county exhibit to the fair this year. Then after arriving he worked with a crew of helpers all Friday night to get the exhibit in place before the formal opening Saturday morning.

"Thief River Falls is doing another thing which Mr. Arneson claims no other city in the state is doing, and which he naturally thinks should be rewarded with a prize. That is sending the ten leading dairymen of the county to the fair at the expense of the Thief River Falls Commercial club. They will arrive in St. Paul Tuesday morning and be met by Mayor Arnason and his two-ton truck at the Union station. He then will drive them to the fair ground. They will spend the rest of the week at the fair.

"Thief River Falls introduced this innovation last year. A rule was made that the ten who won then were not eligible to compete this year. Those chosen as this year's best dairymen cannot get into the competition in 1925.

"The Pennington county exhibit is featured with alfalfa and sugar beets. A campaign to encourage farmers to grow alfalfa was started there with the result that nearly 20,000 acres of alfalfa are now growing in the county. That is more than can be found in any northwestern county of Minnesota.

"Pennington also has a banner sugar beet crop this year, and is the home of the champion sugar beet grower of the world, Alfred Flattum, who lives near the east boundary of Thief River Falls. Last year and this year he won world's prizes with his sugar beets.

"In addition to these exhibits the county has all kinds of grains, including new rust proof wheat, at the fair, and an exceptionally large exhibit of vegetables."

Joe Jetland Saws Way Out of Jail; Not Yet Captured

Joe Jetland of this city, confined in the county jail in default of $1,000 bail when he was bound over to district court last week, evidently decided he didn't care to stick around. Some time last Wednesday night he broke jail and made a clean getaway. Sheriff Ole L. Ihle is on his trail, however, and if Joe values his liberty he won't venture very close to Thief River Falls for some time to come.

It is evident from the appearance of the window through which Joe made his escape that he received assistance from the outside. One of the steel bars was sawed off at the bottom and bent back, making an opening about eight inches in diameter. In addition to this a large hole had been cut in the heavy steel wire lattice work outside the bars. The nature of the job indicates that it was done from the outside, and it is hard to understand how a man could get through the small opening without someone outside the window to help him.

To State Fair.

Randall Noper and Gordon Hont left Friday for the Twin cities where they will represent the boys' and girls' Blue Ribbon club in the dairy stock judging contest at the state fair. Miss Natalie Woolson and Lawrence Letnes, also members of the club, accompanied them and will show their prize winning calves at the fair.

LARGE PORTION OF WHEAT CROP IN STATE POOL

Wheat Growers Marketing Association Shows Rapid Growth.

Organization Started Year Ago Has Membership of Ten Thousand.

Minnesota wheat growers this year have the first opportunity they have ever had to test out the real value of co-operative marketing with a substantial volume of the crop under control.

The Minnesota Wheat Growers Cooperative Marketing association is entering the 1924 crop year with ten thousand members enrolled in the ranks, and with approximately eight million bushels of wheat signed up in the state pool. That is nearly forty per cent of the entire spring wheat crop in Minnesota this year.

Last year this association was organized, and it entered the 1923 marketing season with but few members and handled only a small pool of one-half million bushels of wheat. Yet the existence of this new organization had an effect upon the market that was felt by every farmer in the state, according to W. H. Frederick, secretary of the association.

"During the 1923 crop year," said Mr. Frederick, "for the first time in the history of the grain trade in Minnesota, country elevators paid a premium of two to eleven cents over the station card price for wheat, averaging five cents throughout the state. This premium brought an added income of one million dollars to the wheat growers of Minnesota.

It never would have been received if the wheat growers' association had not been in the field.

"This year the association has a sufficient volume of business to be a real factor in the market throughout the season. With nearly forty per cent of the Minnesota crop signed up in the pool, and with practically one-third of the entire spring wheat crop signed up in the four state pools of Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana, the wheat growers of the Northwest are really coming to the point where they will have something to say as to the price their product shall bring."

Iowa Man Makes Big Trip in Old Buick Automobile Rebuilt for Tourist Car

J. C. Spangler of Gowrie, Iowa, owner of a fine farm near Hazel, arrived in Thief River Falls last week to spend a short time looking after his property. Mr. Spangler employs a unique method of travel and believes he enjoys the distinction of driving the oldest car to make a similar trip this year. His outfit consists of a 1909 four cylinder Buick car, which last year was equipped with a new enclosed body containing all necessities for enjoyable tourist travel.

Mr. Spangler, who for many years has been a carpenter and builder, did all of the work himself and to say that it is a masterpiece is putting it very mildly. He has a complete house on wheels, and the interior is so arranged that meals can be prepared quickly and comfortable sleeping quarters arranged for two persons in a few moments. The old car appears to be in perfect mechanical condition and chugs along just as smoothly as other cars of the same class produced 15 years later.

The Iowa man is greatly pleased with northwestern Minnesota and never misses an opportunity to do a little boosting for this section. He says the hardest problem is to make Iowa folks really understand what this country is like.

Karlstad Boosters Coming En Masse to City Sunday

A communication from E. S. Nordine, editor of the Karlstad Advocate, informs The Tribune that a caravan of boosters from that village, at least a hundred strong, will invade Thief River Falls next Sunday about noon. These folks are out for a good time and to call on their neighbors 'round about the countryside. They expect to enjoy a picnic dinner in the local tourist park and while here will tour the principal streets of the city in a body. Local friends of the tourists are arranging to serve coffee and ice cream at the park in order to make the repast of the Karlstad folks a little more enjoyable. The party is coming in over the Jefferson Highway and expects to spend about two hours in the city. Every citizen should turn out and give the neighbors from the north the glad hand of welcome.

M'FARLAND PUTS GAS DOWN TO 18

Unlimited Supply Secured and Low Price Said to Be Permanent.

M. T. McFarland of the McFarland Auto company this week announces that he will take a hand in the gasoline situation in Thief River Falls, and that he is prepared to stay in the fight to a finish. The price of gasoline at his pump station has been reduced to 18 cents per gallon and the price will remain at that figure indefinitely, according to a statement made yesterday to The Tribune.

While the city is making some headway in securing the necessary equipment to handle gasoline, progress along this line was too slow to suit Mr. McFarland and he decided to start a price war on his own hook. Accordingly he made arrangements for tank wagons to haul in his supply from other stations where the price is considerably lower, enabling him to offer the commodity to the public at 18 cents. Mr. McFarland states that he is assured of an unlimited supply at the lower price and the public need have no fear that his tanks will be found empty at any time.

Other stations in the city still maintain a price of 20.8 cents per gallon with no price cut in immediate prospect. What the outcome of Mr. McFarland's action will be is of course somewhat problematical. One thing is certain, however. Mac will sell a lot of gasoline when it becomes generally known that he is cutting the price nearly three cents below the level maintained at other stations.

New Club Organized.

The Gopher club, a mysterious new society, has recently been organized here and is to be composed of three members. The club is a social organization and will give a series of invitation dances during the coming season. One rule will be strictly followed Any man, young or old, who receives an invitation to one of the dances and does not bring with him a lady, will be charged $2 for the privilege of dancing, while those accompanied by ladies will be charged only $1.

NIGHT TRAIN TO DULUTH NO MORE

Duluth-Thief River Train Taken Off After Three Months Trial.

The night train which has been in operation between Duluth and Thief River Falls since June 1 was taken off on September 1. The decision to discontinue the train was announced last week by H. M. Lewis, general passenger agent of the road, at a conference with the Chamber of Commerce at Duluth. Mr. Lewis submitted reports and statements on the operation of the night train, and showed that the new venture had resulted in a considerable loss to the company.

The new train was started June 1 at the request of the Duluth Chamber of Commerce and business interests all along the line between that city and Thief River Falls. It provided a through sleeping car service between Duluth and Winnipeg, and improved mail service to a considerable extent. Three months of running the train proved, however, that it could not be done without great loss to the company and it was decided to discontinue the service.

While business interests of Thief River Falls regret very much that it was found necessary to cancel this train, it is felt that the Soo Line can hardly be blamed since the business given the venture fell far short of paying the expenses of operation. Railroad companies are not philanthropists and cannot be expected to run trains where there is no business.

CROWDS ATTEND BIG LABOR DAY PICNIC MONDAY

Ideal Weather Conditions Help to Make Annual Event Success.

Music, Speech, Dancing and Sports Keep Folks Entertained All Day.

One of the most largely attended and most successful picnics ever held at Squaw Point took place on Monday—Labor Day. The affair was conducted under the auspices of the Soo Line employes, in conjunction with the Elks lodge and the Masonic lodge. The crowd began to assemble before noon and many families enjoyed dinner in picnic fashion on the grounds.

The Thief River Falls band opened the afternoon program with several musical selections, after which Attorney Wm. Peterson of Lancaster was introduced by W. W. Prichard, Jr., as the speaker for the occasion. Mr. Peterson delivered a very able address, describing the progress of organized labor down through the centuries. His remarks were not political in their nature and in no way could be construed as radical. It was a splendid address, full of good common sense.

After Mr. Peterson concluded his talk, the crowd was entertained during a large part of the afternoon with a fine program of sports. The list of winners in these events is not available at this time but will be published next week. More than 30 events, in which men, women and children took part, furnished a great deal of amusement for the onlookers.

During the afternoon and evening a free dance was given in a large pavilion erected on the grounds for the purpose. Old time music and old time dances were featured and the large floor was packed with folks eager to do the old steps.

Free ice cream was served to young and old, and an indication of the capacity of the crowd for ice cream may be gained from the fact that nearly 90 gallons were consumed with the kids still clamoring for more. The kiddies had the time of their lives Monday afternoon and no mistake.

The picnic was a complete success from every standpoint, and this was in no little measure due to the painstaking work of the various committees in charge of the affair.

FIRE TEAM HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Horses, Wagon. One Fireman Roll Down Bank Into River.

Considering the nature of the experience which came to the fire team and wagon of the Thief River Falls fire department and Carl Carlson, one of the firemen, late Tuesday afternoon, it is little short of a wonder that The Tribune is not called upon to chronicle a serious accident today. As it was the team, wagon and Carlson rolled down the steep bank into the river on the east side at the old mill yards, with no other damage than a broken tongue in the wagon.

The fire department has been called several times this week to put out fires in the saw dust on the mill yards. Tuesday afternoon while engaged in this pastime, the driver of the team stopped the horses near the edge of the river bank and tied up the lines to keep them from starting up. It seems that he tied the lines too tight and the horses after a little responded to the pressure of their bits and started to back up. Carlson was close by and saw the outfit as it approached the bank. He jumped onto the wagon and made an effort to loosen the lines, but did not succeed in stopping the backward motion of the horses and wagon. He reached the top just in time to join in the swift journey down the bank into the river.

Other firemen on the job immediately rushed to the scene and succeeded in getting the mess untangled with no other damage than above stated. Carlson showed no ill effects after his perilous ride and the horses came out of it without a scratch. That no serious damage or injury resulted is considered marvelous.

U. C. T. Meeting.

The local U. C. T. lodge will start the season's activities on Saturday evening, September 13, when the first regular meeting of the season will be held. There will be balloting on new candidates and other important business, and every member is requested to be present. A special banquet has been arranged immediately following the meeting.

Built of Latex-treated Cords

TIRE building took a big step forward when the makers of United States Tires invented the Latex Process.

The added strength and wearing quality given by Latex-treated cords is something that the user of Royal Cords can tell you about from his own experience.

Royal Cords are the standard of value in cord tire equipment—even more certainly today than ever before.

And this holds good whether you are considering a High-Pressure Tire, a Balloon-Type Tire to fit your present wheels and rims, or a Balloon Tire for a 20 or 21 inch wheel.

Community Club Drive Opens.

At a meeting of the Girls Community club last Tuesday at the home of Miss Beatrice Erickson, plans were made for a campaign and the drive for memberships was opened. Miss Beatrice Erickson was chosen as captain of the red side and Miss Inga Oftedahl captain of the blue side, the object being to see which group can secure the larger number of members. As all memberships run out this fall, everyone who wishes to belong must sign up again for the coming year and a complete reorganization of the club will take place.

Other business of the meeting was the decision not to send a delegate this year to the annual state convention at Excelsior. The next meeting will be held Monday at the Community club rooms with the Misses Jeanette Oftedahl, Esther Werner, Nettie Ove, Inga Oftedahl and Anna Majeres and Mesdames H. M. Olson and A. H. THE COUNTRY'S NEED.

No political party can hope for success in the present campaign unless it presents a rational and hopeful program for placing agriculture on a thoroughly sound basis.

Politicians, candidates and statesmen ought to know more about rural conditions. The favorite way for many city bred candidates for public office to get next to rural problems has been to come out to county fairs and other rural festivities, shake hands with the country folks, offer a few platitudes on the importance of agriculture, and then go back home without becoming any wiser themselves.

They meet a lot of country people on such trips and have a good time themselves. The country folks are mighty glad to see them and to get an idea how they look. But not much is gained by this kind of contact with rural life. Public men should talk less about rural conditions. They should read about them and study them more. No man is really fit to make laws at this time unless he has taken pains by special investigation and study to understand rural economics. In this way only can he learn what agriculture really needs and what must be done to help bring it to the position it should rightfully occupy in the nation's structure.

The matter of transient peddlers and solicitors operating in Thief River Falls has become a serious question with local business men. Any number of these transients have been operating in the city during the past summer, taking away good money that rightfully should go to local merchants, and often giving in return an inferior grade of merchandise. It is unfair competition, to say the least, when it is considered that local business men are required to pay high taxes for the upkeep of the city and its schools, while the transient contributes not one cent to the welfare of the city or its inhabitants. He simply gets the money and is gone, no one knows where. While it is a difficult matter to stop this evil by passing laws or ordinances against it, it seems to The Tribune that a campaign of education covering this subject might do some good. Most people buy from peddlers without thinking about whether or not they are doing the right thing. The fluent tongue of the peddler has convenced them that he can sell them a better article for less money than can the local merchant, and they purchase the goods without thinking about the evil results of this method of doing business. If these people can be convinced that loyalty to home institutions pays big dividends in civic improvements and general prosperity, of value to themselves and all other residents of the city, The Tribune believes they will give the peddlers and solicitors the cold shoulder. Let's drive the peddlers out by making it unprofitable for them to ply their trade in Thief River Falls. It can be done.

The night train between Thief River Falls and Duluth was pulled off this week by the Soo Line after having been in operation for three months. Lack of patronage is the reason given by the company for discontinuing the service. It is said that many thousands of dollars were lost in the experiment, and that no perceptible increase in patronage was noticeable after the train had been in operation for several weeks. While The Tribune, in common with all other business interests of Thief River Falls, is extremely sorry the Soo Line found it necessary to discontinue the train, this newspaper cannot see why the railroad company should be expected to maintain a losing venture. People prefer to travel by bus line and automobile and the railroads can hardly be expected to run passenger trains where business does not warrant it.

Here's hoping that something will happen so that Pennington county farmers will be given an opportunity to plant sugar beets without limitation next year. We have the soil and the farmers and it seems a shame that beet production is held down through lack of markets. A sugar mill at Thief River Falls or some other point in the Red River Valley is the crying need of the hour.

The greatest industry in Thief River Falls is again operating 100 per cent perfect. Superintendent Simley and his staff have the schools organized down to a fine point and the great educational machine starts out with prospects for the most successful year in its history. Parents of pupils and other friends of the schools should make up their minds now to take a personal interest in the education of Young America this year, visiting the schools frequently and making the teachers feel that their efforts are appreciated. A school teacher is only human after all and does much better work if she receives a little encouragement now and then.

Oats on one Pennington county farm yielded 70 bushels to the acre this year. When you write a letter to relatives or friends back home it might be well to make casual mention of this fact. Many people living a few hundred miles to the south carry the impression that this part of the state is a barren waste with nine months of winter and three months of poor sleighing, and is it time for people living here to broadcast the truth to the four corners of the earth. What we need is more people and we can get them through persistent favorable publicity.

There is a slight difference between this country and some South American republics after all. Here we cast ballots for president, while many of the voters below the equator put in their time casting bullets. Time will tell which is the most effective in placing the right man at the head of the government.

Moonshine was the cause of another murder in South Dakota this week. That stuff, imbibed to excess, certainly seems to have a knack of getting people into trouble. The old "hard" liquor of prewar days, bad as it was, never could hold a candle to present day moonshine booze when it comes to creating human misery.

The happiest young folks in Pennington county are the boys and girls at the state fair who are there by virtue of their winning high positions in club work. And the best part of it is they deserve all the enjoyment they can get out of the trip.

One distinct advantage is obvious in having two political parties. Each can blame the other for everything that turns out wrong. It's a mighty nice thing to have an alibi, even for political parties.

A scarcity of warm weather should not be expected this fall. Politicians are planning to send a large number of speeches through the air by radio, which should keep frosts away at least until election time.

Herrin, Illinois, is enjoying murder and bloodshed almost every day. It is now the blackest spot on the map of the United States. Thank the Lord, we live in Thief River Falls.

The kickers who claim their home town is dead as a general rule don't have enough gumption to attend an improvement meeting if one is called.

Some folks are too busy in summer to work for town improvement, and in winter when they have the spare time it is not the right season.

A few more crops like the one now being garnered and the loan companies will be doing a mighty slim business in Pennington county.

There is another thing about good roads—desperadoes who hold up rural banks find them mighty handy in making a getaway.

THIS WEEK

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Never "Something for Nothing."

Nearer Perfect Bigger Returns.

A Surprise for Elijah.

No Population Scare.

Charles Fox offers to the United States government an engine that "consumes no gas or other fuel and runs forever."

The inventor says, "You just start her up and let her flicker," and he thinks it will bring millions. It won't bring a cent. A Power wiser than Charles Fox, wiser even than Calvin Coolidge, won't allow us to get 'something for nothing.' That would be bad for us. Therefore there is no perpetual motion, nothing worth having, for which we don't give effort and value in return.

***

It pays to develop a perfect thing, from cows to radio. Mrs. H. McK. Twombly of New Jersey owns a Guernsey named Langwater Fairy, No. 97979. She looks like any other cow, but gives three times as much milk, four and a half times as much butter fat as the average cow. Her amazing record just announced is 18,605 pounds of butter fat in one year. In that kind of prosperity there is no speculation, no manipulating, just plain simple production of wealth through intelligent attention to breeding.

***

Daily the radio offers something new. This time it is "broadcasting church music for rural wedding." The bride, trembling, will give the last poke at her hair, the last tug at her veil. The sexton will "tune in" and up she will march, in Farmingdale, N. J., to the tune of "Faithful and True," played in Chicago, Ill.

***

Florida says, "Come." The rich will answer, "I'm hurrying." Have you an income? Florida offers you fine attractions over and above the fine climate. Florida intends to put into her constitution a provision that will exempt incomes and inheritances from all taxation. This is intended as a "courtesy to prosperous people from the North." They will appreciate it. No death tax on inheritance, no state tax on income! Oh, joy! Oh, rapture! Florida says, "Come to Florida. Here your income is all yours to spend. We chop off nothing and your heirs get all you leave them when you die. We won't tax dead men."

***

A long time ago Elisha "took hold of his own clothes and rent them in two pieces," when he saw Elijah go up in "a chariot of fire and horses of fire."

What are Elisha and Elijah, now in heaven, saying to each other as they see the Right Reverend Harold Roberts Carson, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Haiti, calmly riding from one parish to another in a flying machine? The navy lends him the flying machine and he visits places otherwise inaccessible.

All that men can IMAGINE they can DO.

Dr. Pearl, professor of biometry and vital statistics at John Hopkins says our population will be 197,000,000 in the year 2100. That will be our maximum and then will come a decline.

With all due respect to the learned professor, any child could make as good a guess.

Dr. William Allen Pusey recently told the American Medical Association that population would reach 175,000,000. And "with that density of population, the pressure of existence will become so strong that the death rate, particualrly infant mortality, will overtake the birth rate."

***

That is another poor guess. Under intensive cultivation as it is now understood, the state of Texas alone could feed the earth's entire population, and that is at least sixteen hundred millions.

There will be a thousand million human beings in THIS country, infinitely happier, richer, better off in every way, than any population that has ever lived.

***

In 124 years, since 1800, our population has risen from 5,000,000 to 112,000,000. What is the use of guessing what will happen in the next 120 years? It would have been impossible to guess how many people this country could feed before harvesting machinery was invented. Impossible before the arrival of the tractor.

***

Lack of food won't limit population: Men's brains will always provide for their stomachs. But a higher race will gradually produce fewer children.

Disease breeding cities will be broken up by the flying machine, taking us to live on mountain tops where there is fresh air. These mountains are not to be forever uninhabited.

GOPHER BRAND FOR CO-OP.'S POTATOES

Only Spuds of Highest Quality Will Be Marketed Under Registered Name.

"Gopher Brand" is the name under which the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange will sell spuds for its members. Announcement of the trade name and the design was made last week at St. Paul. The first car rolled from Anoka. Steps are being taken to register the brand and copywright the design, so that it will be impossible for any one to sell under this brand or to change the quality of potatoes packed by the Exchange.

The design and name was selected by Exchange officials as typical of Minnesota, easy to remember, and distinctive. Moreover, it is short, which will permit its use in telegrams without extra cost, as would have been the case had a longer or more elaborate trademark been adopted. This is important because so much of the crop will be sold by wire.

Every possible precaution will be taken to establish Gopher Brand potatoes as a quality product on the markets of the country. Only the best potatoes delivered by members will be allowed in these sacks and they must come up to specifications which make the grade better than U. S. No. 1.

Two separate designs have been adopted, one for the potatoes from the sand land and central section and one for the Red River Valley.

The Exchange recently completed negotiations for a loan of $36,000, obtained from the Agricultural Credit corporation. Notes taken from members during the organization campaign were given as security. This money is being used to meet operating expenses.

Notice for Bids.

Sealed bids for the construction of a potato loading warehouse will be received by the board of directors of the St. Hilaire Potato Warehouse association on the 15th day of September, 1924, at 8:00 o'clock p.m., at the Farmers State Bank of St. Hilaire.

Said warehouse is to be constructed according to plans and specifications which are on file at the office of the St. Hilaire Lumber company, in St. Hilaire.

A certified check for 10 per cent of the amount of the bid must accompany the bid, said check payable to the treasurer of the St. Hilaire Potato Warehouse association.

The board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Bids should be addressed to the undersigned.

Startling Savings Shown by Central Commission

The Central Co-operative Commission association which was organized primarily to save money for livestock producers and shippers of the Northwest, presents some interesting figures in this connection in a report recently compiled for the Minnesota Farm Bureal Federation.

During the first year of its existence Central made an actual net saving to its shippers of $85,879.85; during the second year this amount increased to $88,146.41; and for 1923 this saving jumped to $107,468.51. It is estimated also that Central made additional savings to its members in reduced commissions of approximately $200,000.00.

In the same period the number of cars handled by the association increased perceptibly. In 1921 it handled 12,801 cars; in 1922, 19,646 cars; and in 1923, 23,301 cars. Central's share of the rail business at South St. Paul in the three year period increased from 20.7 per cent in 1921 to 26.79 per cent in 1923.

It may be tough to be an elephant, but at that an elephant don't have to sing in grand opera.

When you've got nothing special to do, just go and tell some fellow you like him.

Pointers on Advertising Taken From Speech of T. K. Kelly at Memphis, Tennessee, August 28

A few weeks before my fortieth birthday, which was several years ago, my wife handed me a good-sized bunch of letters one morning, the letters being addressed and stamped, suggested that I drop them in the mail box on my way to the office. I wore my raincoat that morning, as it happened to be raining, so I slipped the letters in the pocket of the coat, and, upon arriving at the office, I placed the coat in my locker, and forgot all about the letters. I did not wear that same same coat again for several weeks, and that's where my trouble started.

These letters happened to be invitations to my fortieth birthday party. The evening of the party came, the stage was all set. The dinner was supposed to be at 6:00 p.m., but nobody showed up. We waited until seven, but my friends failed to arrive, then lo and behold, my wife said to me, "Do you recall a morning some few weeks ago when I gave you those letters to mail. They were the invitations to your party." Immediately the thought struck me, "By golly, those letters are in the pocket of my raincoat at the office."

The incident reminds me of an old friend of mine who was in to see me the other day. He told me about a motor trip he had taken, driving from Minneapolis up north for a few hundred miles. It happened to be on a Saturday. He visited several towns on his trip, calling in at many stores, and he remarked to me, "Do you know there were about two chain stores in each one of the towns I went through, and they were the only stores that were busy—the other stores didn't appear to be doing much of anything." That caused him to investigate, just as a matter of curiosity, so I asked him the names of the towns he visited. I then wrote to the newspapers in each of the towns and requested that they send me their papers of Thursday and Friday, two days before the Saturday when my friend called at these stores. Upon receipt of these newspapers, I found that in four out of five papers, all the store advertising that had been done was by the chain stores. That solved the problem.

The retail merchants in the towns where my friend visited had failed to advertise in the newspapers, inviting the public to their store that Saturday and the public not receiving an invitation, did not come, but the chain stores had invited them with a neat, effective ad, attractive in style and chuck full of common sense, and, naturally, that is where they went.

So the stores that failed to receive their friends were like my birthday party the crowd didn't come.

I venture to say in all the failures of retail merchants the last three years not 20 per cent of these same merchants advertised religiously in newspapers, whereas, if they did, their investment in newspaper advertising would have brought sufficient trade to prevent a great amount of their losses.

The total newspaper advertising of 122 daily newspapers in 28 principal cities of the United States in the year 1923 was 1,333,954,9971 agate lines—a gain of 92,651,690 lines over the previous year.

We are not handicapped today in unfolding our business the same as our forefathers were who were compelled to depend chiefly upon personal exploitation of the individual, for the circulation in those day was very small.

First of all the newspaper has circulation. A single newspaper will often cover from 60 to 80 per cent of the homes in its territory. Advertising space in that paper will give a much greater return per dollar spent than will any other form of advertising on which postage is spent.

Second, people are accustomed to reading the newspaper. It is not difficult to get their attention, as in the case of the circular letter, the booklet and other forms of direct by mail advertising.

Third, and best of all, it is timely. The advertiser is able to appeal to his audience by frequent advertisements.

So we are led to believe that even criticisms about us in the columns of newspapers is good advertising, and so with the retail merchant, the minute he starts figuring on selling merchandise, he has got to start figuring on the advertising that is going to do it.

Advertising certainly has many sides. It can scream, talk, or whisper, it can attract the eye or befuddle it. It can be an interesting story, or an uninteresting piffle. There are just as many kinds of advertising as there are things to advertise. There is the sincere kind that breathes honesty and truthfulness, and which carries the reader right through to the end, and then again—there is the kind of advertising that says, "Beware, I am just trying to attract attention; I don't mean what I say, and I don't intend to make good on the extravagant claims I am talking about."

Newspapers, however, are not in the habit of publishing misleading advertising, and for that reason the public has unlimited confidence in newspaper advertising.

The retail merchant who will figure on spending two per cent of his gross receipts for newspaper advertising and one-half of one per cent for direct mail advertising, such as letters, post cards, etc., and prepare this advertising the same as if he were talking to his customers when they come in his store, there would be no need to complain about quiet trade.

You may say, "How can I educate myself to write advertising?" I know many successful merchants who have gained their advertising through reading and studying good trade publications which publish splendid articles in every issue. No one can prepare advertising for the goods you own and offer for sale as good as yourself. The merchant who is open-minded and visualizes his opportunity getting his subconscious mind in working order, is not going to experience dull trade.

Like the bathing suit manufacturer a short time ago who originated a picture of a beautiful young lady wearing a bathing suit. He had an actual photograph done in colors and it was so unique and attractive that I have noticed thousands of these ads pasted on automobile windshields.

One of the most successful small town merchants who has been in business for forty years has the happy faculty of getting a lot of free advertising in his local newspapers. Upon his visit to the New York markets twice yearly he writes letters to the two newspapers of his town, telling about New York. He explains about the various improvements there that have taken place since his last visit—he tells about the merchandise market; he even goes so far as to give a brief history of the extravagant, as well as the economic, side of New York life. Hundreds of families in his territory look forward to reading his letters. You must capitalize upon everything pertaining to your business in order to get the public excited about your store.

Department stores in the large cities today never neglect to have their buyers, who go to foreign countries, send thousands of letters to their customers and prospective customers, telling about the huge purchases they have made of foreign goods. I have received many letters from representatives of large Minneapolis stores mailed from Paris, London and other European points. They tell what time their goods will arrive in this country, they explain about the new unique styles, fabrics and values.

I am a great believer in taking my newspaper as a partner in my business. Every newspaper has hundreds of ideas that are workable and profitable that they are only too glad to pass on to retail merchants—a newspaper is a clearing house of ideas especially pertaining to retail business and I wonder some time if we try to get as close to our newspaper as we ought to, as they would like to be with us. If you are interested in your newspaper they will be interested in you, and if you follow up your advertising with attractive window displays, combining that with training your clerks and keeping up your direct by mail advertising, such as sending out a letter or post card monthly, you will find that your newspaper ads have greater pulling power than if you depended on it alone to sell your merchandise.

Take, for instance, the manufacturer, wholesaler or jobber who backs up his salesmen with newspaper advertising and direct mail advertising. Practically 75 per cent of the salesman's work is already done, when he goes to call upon a prospective customer, through the advertising that has already preceded him, the prospective customer already having a very good idea of the merchandise through the advertising.

The crying need today is more advertising. No better illustration can I cite of the effectiveness of advertising than the case of Barker Bros., retail furniture dealers in Los Angeles. A few years ago they sold $700,000 worth of furniture in their store and, through expanding their advertising investment, Barker Bros. last year sold 16 million dollars worth of furniture.

I should think we would all take inventory of ourselves when confronted with actual instances like the above and note what Henry Ford has done the past year through advertising. Up to this year Henry Ford has done very little advertising, but, being far-sighted, he sold himself the idea that in 1924, and perhaps he had in mind not only 1924, but every year afterwards, he was going to invest a substantial amount of his gross receipts for advertising, and his appropriation for 1924 was seven million dollars. Within the past six months I have visited the Ford factories half a dozen times through some business dealings I had with this big firm, and I can assure you, ladies and gentlemen, that there has been no unemployment in the two Ford factories in Detroit, they have been running full capacity, three eight-hour shifts, steadily employing over 160,000 people besides the thousands they are employing in their other large plants all over the country.

Henry Ford has experienced a situation which makes it highly desirable to advertise. Perhaps he foresaw the present slump, which has appeared to hit the motor concerns with special velocity. Perhaps he judged the time ripe solely because of the present restless attitude of the people and the fact that our federal government has declared an open season for swatting big business.

At any rate, for some six months now the Ford Motor company has been displaying itself in the publications of the country, in newspapers large and small, in class periodicals, in farm papers, in general magazines, in street cars, in outdoor positions, and in many other forms of advertising.

With my brokerage business, we appropriated a million dollars for advertising this year, and we are like the National Cash Register company, who claim that they had the biggest business in all their business career during May of this year, and you know how difficult it is to sell cash registers. In an article I read the other day I noticed also that 400,000 Ford cars were sold during the months of May and June of this year and only a short time ago he started on his second ten million cars.

What is the Standard Oil company doing? Their advertising appears religiously in about every newspaper in the United States. They bring home right to our very door the fact that it does not necessarily take money to do business—using your brains and thinking is what counts.

Kennedy-Weeks.

A very beautiful wedding ceremony was performed Wednesday, August 27, at Markville, Minn., when Miss Dorothy N. Kennedy became the bride of Rev. Milton Weeks. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Kennedy, at twelve o'clock noon in front of an improvised altar with Rev. Earl Weeks of Kerkoven, Minn., brother of the groom, officiating.

Mrs. Allen S. Watson of Glen Ellyn, Ill., sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the groom was attended by Rev. Arling Thompson of Minneapolis. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of brides satin and lace and carried a shower boquet of bridal roses and lillies of the valley. Her attendant was attired in orchid chiffon and carried a boquet of Ophelia roses. The double ring ceremony was used, the rings being borne on a satin cushion by Theodore Kennedy, small brother of the bride. Miss Pearl Weeks played the wedding march from Lohengrin for their entrance and other appropriate music throughout the ceremony.

After the service, a reception was held in the Guild hall, at Markville, which was decorated in a color scheme of orchid and bold. About forty friends and relatives were present to honor the newlyweds.

POTATO EXCHANGE TO GRADE CLOSELY

Low Market Demands Selling Only Best Part of Crop, Says President Frank Kiene.

The Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange will exercise unusual care in grading its first crop, it was stated at the St. Paul office this week. Despite a decreased acreage, the production will be equal to or above 1923, because of heavy yields, and the Exchange will meet the situation by selling only those potatoes which are of high quality. "Keep the Little Ones at Home," is the slogan which is being urged on the membership.

To carry out its close grading policy, the Exchange has arranged for the purchase of a large number of graders, having established a line of credit with practically all large manufacturers.

"The retail price of potatoes in St. Paul already is down to 60 cents," said Frank Kiene, president of the Exchange, "and the only way farmers can cope with this low market is to sell a quality product. The smaller per cent of culls and diseased potatoes we market, the higher will be the average price."

The Exchange's warehouse department has completed negotiations for warehouses at 165 points in the state and had deals for some 28 others pending. Before potatoes begin to roll, the Exchange will have houses at more than 200 points.

The Exchange is preparing to handle potatoes, beginning this week. First shipments, it was said, will move from counties in the vicinity of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

The low market, according to S. G. Rubinow, general manager, justified the Exchange's plea that all growers store potatoes on their farms.

Minnesota Does Not Gouge Tourists, Says Secretary of Our Lakes Association

"Minnesota, rather than gouging the tourist, is inclined perhaps to overdo in the matter of free service."

This was the answer of H. C. Hotaling, executive secretary of the Ten Thousand Lakes Association, to charges that the summer visitors to Minnesota were being overcharged by garages, hotels, resorts and others.

"Almost every town in Minnesota has a free tourist camp ground," Mr. Hotaling pointed out, "and these places are in a great many cases so elaborately fixed up as to approach an ontdoor hotel, the roof being the only thing lacking. In fact, these camps have become so popular that many hotel and resort men have declared that their husiness is suffering greatly. As a matter of fact, we are too generous for our own good in many cases."

"Of the thousands of tourists, both incoming and returning, who stop at the offices of the Lakes association, not one instance of overcharging has been reported, he said.

"The American man, especially the tourist, gets up on his toes and starts to yell the minute he is overcharged a nickle," said Mr. Hotaling, "and the fact that we have received no complaints is testimony to the fairness of onr people in their capacity of hosts to the summer vacationists of the Middle West and the nation."

Mr. Hotaling pointed out the fact that a single complaint, such as that recorded in a Minnesota paper recently and widely copied, could receive such wide publicity was proof of its rarity.

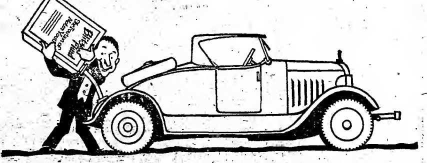
Blitzen Fluid

"The Fountain of Motor Youth"



Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas

Increases Mileage of Gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon.

CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor tronhles. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap in motor engineering, as it softens the fiery coke-like carbon deposits and expels it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forms a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

When carhon is gone grinding of valves hecomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean and perform at their highest efficiency; carbon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and yon will enjoy that extra power and smoothness of a clean well preserved motor.

Blitzen Fluid is used hy men in the Auto Motive industry who know that it will not injure the most sensitive motor. It is produced by chemists to pat and keep your motor in the state of highest efficiency and saves in gasoline and repair bills sufficiently to entirely or largely reduce the cost.

ADD 2 OUNCES OF Blitzen Fluid TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS and give Blitzen Fluid a fair test in accordance with the condition of your motor. Notice the difference.

Gentilly Cheese Factory Brings Prosperity to All Farmers of That Section

A report received the latter part of last week by Father Elie Theillon, of Gentilly, from J. B. Baumgarter, inspector for the Minnesota Dairy and Food Commission, is very flattering regarding the quality of cheese produced in the Gentilly cheese factory and the general sanitary conditions of that institution.

Mr. Baumgarter visited the Gentilly factory on the 21st of this month and made a thorough inspection of the premises and product and in his report stated: "This is one of the best factories in the state and a credit to the cheese industry. The cheese maker is doing good work."

Gentilly cheese is recognized wherever distributed as being of the finest flavor and texture, and at the recent North Dakota State fair held in Grand Forks, N. D., it was awarded first prize with a score of 98½ per cent.

These testimonials are only small reward to Father Theillon for his ceaseless efforts in building the Gentilly community from a poverty-stricken area whose inhabitants were on verge of bankruptcy and starvation to one of the wealthiest communities in the state of Minnesota. About twenty years ago, according to information, residents of the Gentilly community were fighting odds of nature in attempting to raise crops on soil that was not adopted to profitable farming. Father Theillon came into this deplorable condition and at once recognized the feasibility of converting it into a dairying community. He soon started work on his theory and the present modern cheese factory and renewed prosperity are the results.

The Gentilly cheese factory contains some of the most modern machinery for this obtainable and it is housed in a handsome brick structure designed and built especially for it.

The entire output of the institution is ordered far in advance, according to Father Theillon, and during the past few days, he stated, the Minneapolis club and the L. S. Donaldson company of Minneapolis were among those who received large shipments.

The factory is open to visitors during all hours of operation, according to Father Theillon, and those in charge will be pleased to explain every detail.

Noted Writer to Tell All About Minnesota Soon in Several Magazine Stories

Peter J. Schwah, known to all readers of the outdoor magazines, left Minnesota yesterday following a month's tour of the state gathering material for several magazine articles.

Mr. Schwah was accompanied by his wife and daughter, and made an extended tour by automobile and canoe. He fished for small mouth bass in the Mississippi near Winona, visited Alexandria, Fergus Falls, and the whole lake park region, fished for muskies near Park Rapids, and finished the St. Croix river.

"I have obtained material for several good articles," he said, "and will write them this winter. Taken as a whole, the trip was the most satisfactory I ever have taken. Minnesota has reason to be proud of her roads, her lakes, and her forests. I was impressed with the Superior Forest."

"Minnesota has what most other states lack: a balanced fare for the outdoorsman. From the mountainous scenery of the Mississippi valley, to the lakes of the Lake Park region and the virgin wilderness of the Superior preserve, there is very little repetition, and we might have made a miniature tour of America within this one state."

"The fishing was just as varied, Mr. Schwab said, and commented on the luck of those anglers who live here and can take advantage of it.

"The upper St. Croix is the most beautiful water I ever have fished," he said, "and the Mississippi was a close second."

His trip was under the auspices of the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota association.

TAXPAYERS' CLINIC TO FEATURE FAIR

Citizens May Learn What State Taxes Buy at Minnesota Department Shows at Exposition.

What Minnesota gives its citizens in return for less than six cents the state takes out of each dollar of general property taxes—counties, townships, cities and villages getting the remaining 90 cents plus—is to be depicted in many novel ways at state department exhibits at the coming state fair. The exhibits will be housed again in a large building on machinery hill near the north end of the fair grounds.

"Thousands of good citizens who saw the state departments displays last year were surprised to learn that less than $6 out of each $100 of general property taxes, with miscellaneous revenue added, pays all expenses of state government, from the cost of running the legislature to that of heating the capitol, and including the salaries of all the inspectors and state employes and officials," said John Coleman, general committee chairman.

"We want to give more thousands of taxpayers the same pleasant surprise at this fair, and to make it still more enjoyable and draw larger numbers of people to the building, special entertainments and attractions have been planned.

"Almost any question about state government and state affairs will be answered for the citizen who will take time to visit the fair exhibits."

The Capitol Glee Club, composed of 50 voices, will sing programs every afternoon and evening at the state departments building. The Training School Boys band will play hourly concerts and other music will be provided. Wild animals and other attractions to interest old and young are being arranged. Then the several departments will present callers with maps, booklets and souvenirs, all to demonstrate the public services given by the state and to promote the development of Minnesota.

Everything connected with the state exhibits at its own fair will be free to all.

Need Winter Grain Seed? Write Haedecke

Farmers in need of good winter wheat and rye seed for fall planting should write to A. D. Haedecke, University Farm, St. Paul, for a copy of the seed list issued by the Minnesota Crop Improvement association of which he is secretary. Certified seed of Minturki and Minhardi wheats and of Minnesota No. 2 rye and Rosen rye can be obtained in quantities. Minnesota No. 2 rye is especially recommended for the northern part of the state because of its hardiness and yielding ability. Rosen rye has given good results in the southeastern part of the state where winter killing is not so much a factor. The different experiment stations of the university have supplies of registered seed which can be obtained of Mr. Haedecke.

Grocery Chain Firm Boosts Home Butter

In testimony of its confidence in the product of the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries association, with which it recently closed a contract for three cars of butter a week, a chain store concern in New York City is planning to advertise in all the New York daily papers the fact that it handles the Association's butter.

This concern controls 850 stores in New York City alone. It is only because the Creameries Association is unable to supply these stores with more butter that the contract does not call for a greater amount. The chain company could use seven cars if the Association were in position to supply this amount. It is the first New York chain company to buy a strictly quality butter.

During a recent week the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries association shipped butter to New Orleans, La., Richmond, Va., New Haven, Conn., Denver, Col., and Springfield, Mass. This was the first time that Minnesota butter had ever been shipped to any of these cities. The association is finding new markets for its butter almost every day.

New Station Oats Are Giving Big Yields

Some magnificent yields of Gopher oats, which were developed at the Minnesota Experiment station, are being reported from southern Minnesota localities. One farmer says he had a yield of 110 bushels to the acre. Gopher oats is a selection from a commercial variety of 60-day oats which was first made by the university plant breeders in 1917 and was listed for distribution to the farmers in 1922. Because of its stiffness of straw it has been especially recommended for sowing on the rich corn fields of southern Minnesota. However, it is in strong favor in northern areas of the state on account of its early maturing quality.

Council Grants Legion Free Use of Auditorium For Entertainments.

The business before the council last Thursday night when it met in adjourned session from Tuesday evening was one of a routine nature and was attend to in prompt manner, only two aldermen aldermen being absent, viz., Oscar Paulson and T. A. Fossum.

Representatives of the Eklund post of the American Legion asked for usa of the auditorium at various times the coming 11 months without charge as they wished to stage several events thereby raising part of the funds that will be required to finance the state convention of the Legion here next August. This was duly granted with the understanding that the plays and dances were to be home talent.

A communication from the Library board stating that Mrs. Frissell had resigned and that Mrs. Myrland had been named as her successor was read and ordered filed.

Two applications for refreshments licenses were received from J. J. Vorachek and Hans Finsand, accompanied by the license fee of $10, both being duly granted on approval of the license committee. Mr. Vorachek will open in his own building at the northwest corner of First street and LaBree avenue, formerly occupied by Jas. Farr, while Mr. Finsand will occupy the building formerly occupied by the Ralston barber shop.

A petition was received from several residents in the southwest part of the city asking for the vacation of the south end of Duluth avenue bayond the new cut-off of the Babcock highway, the property owners claiming that there will be no further need of the street for ingress to their property. The council laid the matter on the table until the situation is gone into by a personal investigation as it might effect the public.

The Soo railway wishes to install a white way lamp on the north side of Third street east of Atlantic avenue and offered to pay the cost thereof on presentation of the bill from the city. The request was ordered granted and the lamp will be ordered at once.

Chairman Martin Evenson reported progress on the improvement at the dam, stating that the leak had about been plugged and that little further expense would have to be incurred for a few years, unless something unforseen happens. The cost of the work done the past month is very negligible and already the water in the dam is rising despite the continued dry weather this summer.

QUESTIONS COME BEFORE BANKERS

National Convention This Month Most Important For Many Years.

Coming in the midst of the presidential campaign, particular interest will this year attach to the convention at Chicago of the American Bankers association, which always devotes a large part of its sessions to leading questions of general welfare and to formulating a declaration of principles on business and financial subjects.

Local bankers have received a communication from Walter W. Head, president of the association, pointing out the importance of this year's meeting and urging their attendance. Mr. Head said in part:

"The American Bankers association is to meet this year in the midst of a national campaign, in which are involved the election of a president and vice president, the selection of senators and congressmen and the determination of important questions of foreign and domestic policy. Such a campaign always affects the course of business and finance in some degree. More than that, it inteads always to raise questions in the minds of men of every walk of life, relative to the efficiency of their government, the propriety of policies undertaken or advocated and the continued stability of institutions which may be subject to attack.

"The American Bankers association is not engaged in partison politics and its convention at Chicago, September 29 to October 2, will be entirely devoid of partisan flavor. Our convention, however, will necessarily take note of the situation in which the country finds itself. It will naturally survey its own and related fields, in order that its highest intelligence and utmost energy may be devoted to the maintenance of those principles of economic sanity and progress to which we are always devoted.

"Banking itself is an agency. Bankers are vitally interested in all the great industries which make up the economic life of the nation. As bankers—and as citizens—we will review, in our general sessions, some of the important problems affecting these industries and we will undertake to contribute to their solution. Such a survey is important to every section of our country and to every banker who is a member of this association."

Our idea of the ragged edge of nothing is the record that some politicians stand on.

Baby Actress Now Star in Magnificent Photo Drama

One of the most pleasing features of the Universal production, "The Darling of New York," starring Baby Peggy, which will be presented Friday and Saturday at The Lyceum theatre, is that it is dramatically interesting without making any obvious attempt to be dramatic.

It would be less dramatic, perhaps, if it were not for the fact that the incidents around which the theme of the story is woven, concern tha experience of a four-year-old girl, a poor little waif who was unfortunately cast in with a bunch of crooks.

This little, big-eyed child attracted public favor doing bits in feature plays and during the last year she has been featured in comedies. The picture in which she is now appearing at the Lyceum theatre, is her first jewel vehicle. It is now understood that Universal will contiue to star the youngster in big features. Such a policy should prove satisfactory to both the film company and the motion picture public, for she is well worth it.

The story was evidently written especially for the tiny star and the picture has been handled in such a way that there is hardly a scene in which attention is not rivited on her, or the raggedy-doll that she carries. In the doll are hidden the jewels that the crooks smuggled from Italy to America.

Baby Peggy is supported by a strong cast, which is made up almost of "character" actors. Most prominent in the supporting cast are Sheldon, Lewis, Gladys Brockwell, Pat Hartigan and Carl Stockdale.

King Baggot directed the filming of the play.

Couple Wedded Here Last Week Figure in Crossing Smash on Honeymoon Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lillevig, who were married in this city on Monday of last week by Rev. George Larson of the Zion Lutheran church, met with a serious accident on their honeymoon trip but luckily escaped with their lives. The following item from the Baudette Region gives details of the mishap:

"The honeymoon trip of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lillivig of Bostic Creek came near ending in a tragedy Monday afternoon. Mr. Lillivig, who lives at Bostic Creek, left Saturday for Thief River Falls where on Monday a popular young lady of that city, formerly a teacher at Bostic Creek, became his bride. They were on their way home by auto and nearing the crossing just east of Warroad when the C. N. R. train came along. The driver did not see the train until he was a few feet from the track and he immediately swerved the car but not in time, and the locomotive caught it on the side. It turned two complete somersaults, throwing Mr. Lillivig out, but the brida was still sitting in what was left of the front seat when the car stopped rolling. Mr. Lillivig received injuries to both hands while Mrs. Lillivig escaped with a few scratches. After brief medical attention they continued their trip by train. The car was a total wreck, and the owner disposed of what remained of it for ten dollars."

DUTY ON SUGAR UP TO COOLIDGE

Reduction Would Cut Farm Profits, Beet Growers Tell President.

With the fate of the sugar tariff now entirely up to President Coolidge efforts have been renewed throughout the Northwest to show that farmers who have depended on a profitable market for beets want no change in the present duty of $1.76 per hundred pounds. The American Farm Bureau Federation has sent resolutions to Washington protesting against any reduction in the sugar tariff.

It is understood that three members of the tariff commission have recommended a reduction of $1.35. Two other members have presented a minority report advising the president to keep the present import against the Cuban crop. The sugar tariff now rests solely with the president, to whom the American sugar industry is appealing to keep the present duty.

The campaign throughout Minnesota and North and South Dakota which started with resolutions adopted by the Moorhead Commercial club were taken up by other business and farm organizations, seeks to strengthen the president's hand in standing by the minority report as a means of assisting farmers of the Northwest in working out their own salvation.

"If this reduction were made," says the Moorhead Minn. Commercial club, "it would at once permit the entrance into this country of a vast quantity of foreign sugar produced by cheap black labor and hauled by water transportation. This would enable the Cuban interests to so lowar the price in this country during the few months that American sugar is on the market, as to take away the profits of our new beet growing industry.

"The price our farmers receive from the sugar company for their beets is on the sliding scale and is dependent on the price of sugar at New York. If the New York quotations are $8 per cwt., our farmers will be paid $8 per ton for their beets. If it drops to $6 per cwt., our farmers receive only $6 per ton for their beets.

"If the sugar tariff were dropped fifty per cent as the cane sugar people desired, this would mean an immediate drop of nearly $1 per cwt., in the price of sugar and this would lower the price paid our grower by $1 per ton. On an average yield of ten tons per acre it would mean a loss to our farmers of $10 per acre, or a loss of $300 on a 30-acre tract of beets. It would mean a total loss to our community this year of $40,000 for our 4,000 acres of beets. If our acreage were increased next year to 12,500 it would mean a loss of $125,000 to the community. Even the 41 cent reduction recommended by a portion of the tariff commission would mean nearly half that much loss, or $62,500 on 12,500 acres.

"Yet, this would mean no saving in sugar prices for the people, for it has been the history of the sugar market, that with home competition out of the way, the trust controlling the Cuban sugar have boosted the price far above any tariff wall ever imposed by this country. More American sugar is the best guarantee of a fair retail price throughout the year.

"In asking other communities to join our fight to save the present sugar tariff, our Commercial club is contending for the interest of the people and endeavoring to prevent an action that would decrease their revenues and perhaps destroy this new industry."

The movement to save the present sugar tariff is supported by the American Farm Bureau Federation, highest authority among the farmers of the nation.

Since it became a national organization the Farm Bureau has discovered that the sugar trust, controlling the Cuban imports, is an enemy of the production of sugar on American farms and hence an enemy of the American farmer. In their resolutions sent to Washington, the American Farm Bureau Federation says:

"Whereas, it appears an effort has been made on the part of certain interests to bring about a change in the axisting tariff rates upon sugar; and,

"Whereas, the beet sugar industry is a vital and an extensive industry throughout the major portion of the western states of the union and any lowering of the present tariff rates would be a serious setback to the agricultural interests of said region, and consequently to all other interests in tha country:

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that in the sense of the American Farm Bureau Federation that the existing tariff rates should remain undisturbed until fair adjustments can be generally made, and it is the sense of the executive committee that Gray Silver, Washington representative of the A. F. B. F. be and he hereby is instructed and directed to take such steps as he deems advisable and as shall be consistent with the present status of this question, to the end that said existing tariff upon sugar shall remain undisturbed."

CREAMERY CHECKS SHOW BIG TOTAL

Shipments of butter to New York, Chicago and Philadelphia from the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries association in July totaled 276 cars.

Of this number 228 cars went to New York, 17 cars to Chicago and 31 cars to Philadelphia. This is an increase of 31 cars over the shipments for June.

It is the practice of the Creameries association to advance the local creameries composing its membership 80 per cent of the value of their shipments, the balance being paid at the end of each month. During July the advance payments to creameries amounted to approximately $1,800,000, while the 20 per cent balance at the end of the month totaled approximately $635,500.

Some large checks were paid out by the Association during the month of June. The fiva highest settlements include:

Twin City Milk Producers Association	$105,910.39
Farmers Creamery, Milaca	51,168.29
Glencoe Butter & Produce Association	45,996.38
Farmers Co-op. Creamery, Mora, Minn.	29,747.75
Producers Co-op. Creamery Buffalo, Minn.	27,068.71

CITY OBSERVES DEFENSE EVENT IN PROPER WAY

Appropriate National Defense Day Program to Be Given Friday.

Princess Theatre to Be Used Instead of City Auditorium.

Residents of Minnesota are called upon to show their fealty and allegiance to the United States and to join the nation in mobilizing the citizenry and military forces of the country, at the call of the president, on September 12, which has been designated by presidential proclamation as National Defense Day.

The day is set aside by President Coolidge as one upon which the nation will again test its war strength, not only in military forces, but its industrial power as well. Officials in charge of the movement have made it plain that the move is not to be ascribed as a militaristic event, but is for the purpose of keeping alive the lesson of effective organization in the event a need arises.

Governor Preus, shortly following the presidential proclamation, issued a similar order, calling upon the citizenry of the state to co-operate with the nation's chief executive in demonstrating that Minnesota is prepared to meet all national emergencies and all demands of loyalty. No statewide program will be adopted, according to a committee of citizens appointed by Governor Preus, but each community will be asked to carry out a program of activity which will revive the "call of patriotism."

Thief River Falls will observe Defense Day with an appropriate program to be given at 8 o'clock Friday evening. The program will be given at the Princess theatre beginning at 8 o'clock sharp.

Following is the program to be given Friday evening:

Opening Remarks ....
..................Mayor J. S. Arneson.
The Americans Creed.
..................Rev. Charles Gerlinger.
Prayer..................Rev. Chas. Gerlinger.
Community Singing ....
.........Maude L. Johnson, Director.
Address ....H. O. Chommie.
Community Singing.
Pledge of Loyalty.

LOCAL BANKERS MAY AID CO-OP.

Meeting Here Wednesday One of Ten Arranged by Potato Exchange.

Bankers of Pennington and Red Lake counties will meet at Thief River Falls September 17 for a conference relative to financing the movement of the 1924 potato crop in this vicinity. Present also will be S. G. Rubinow, general manager of the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange and Fred P. Fellows, director of finances and members of the Pennington and Red Lake County association's executive boards.

The state exchange is pledged to a pooling plan, the prime purpose of which is to prevent dumping the crop at digging time and to give every member a fair average price for the crop. Thus, the Exchange will make partial payments, these to begin as quickly as the association rolls enough cars to enable it to make a distribution to all members, whether a particular member's crop has been sold or not. These payments will continue until the crop is sold and the average price determined.

One purpose of the meeting will be to make plans for giving to members of the Exchange such assistance as may be required by pressing obligations. Banks in all potato growing counties are supporting the organization and it is expected that whatever is reasonably necessary will be done according to Seymore E. Hunt, president of the Pennington County Potato Growers Co-operative association.

In a recent issue of the Potato Grower, administrative officers of the Exchange pledged to the membership partial payments as fast as the orderly marketing program is carried out.

Mrs. Froehlich to Convention.

Mrs. H. W. Froehlich left Sunday evening for Minneapolis to attend the state convention of the Federated Women's Clubs at Excelsior on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Mrs. Froehlich is state chairman of Community Service and a representative of the local Woman's club.

WANT SOME SHEEP?

Carl A. Rand of Des Moines, Iowa, was in the city this week in the interest of the agricultural credit corporation, the ten million dollar organization which has proved of great service to farmers during the past six months. Mr. Rand stated that he is ready to place any number of young Montana sheep on Pennington county farms at very reasonable terms. The farmer will be charged $10 per head for the sheep, with no cash down payment, 30 per cent at the end of the first year, 30 per cent the second year and 40 per cent the third year. Application for sheep should be made immediately as the offer expires September 21. See the county agent or any member of the committee appointed last spring to represent the credit corporation.

SHERIFF NABS CHECK ARTIST

Man of Many Aliases Taken Back to Aitkin County for Trial.

The way of the transgressor is hard. Walter Hanson, alias A. J. Barnes, alias Gene Bonner, etc., found it out last week. Upon information from the sheriff of Aitkin county Sheriff O. L. Ihle last Friday placed Hanson under arrest and held him in the county jail until the following morning, when the Aitkin officer arrived and took the prisoner with him. Hanson was wanted at Aitkin on a charge of passing a number of bad checks.

According to the best information available, Hanson, who also travels under half a dozen aliases, originally came from Solvier, Iowa, but has been operating extensively in northern Minnesota during the past few months. In most places he is said to have posed as a real estate man making arrangements to take a party of Iowa land seekers out to investigate farms offered for sale. He put on a bold front and it is alleged, succeeded in passing checks for considerable sums before seeking greener fields.

Here Hanson sought employment on a farm and secured a position with Waldie Christensen, where he remained until his term of service was terminated by his arrest. He managed to circulate one check for $10 in Thief River Falls, but made this good by producing the money when the holder of the check put in a kick.

What Hanson's idea was in going to work on a farm no one knows. He did not spring his real estate gag here and posed only as a transient laborer.

Young Girl Badly Bitten While Playing With Dog

Avis Johnson, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Johnson of Carleton, Minn., was badly bitten while playing with a puppy on the Sam McMahon farm Monday. Avis, who is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. McMahon, residing eight miles east of the city, was playing with the dog when he became rough, knocked her down, and bit her about the face and feet. The child was brought to this city for medical treatment and seems to be doing nicely, showing no signs of the rabies. The dog is kept tied up and under observation so that in case madness developes, the child may be given the Pasteur treatment immediately.

ENROLLMENT IS GREATEST EVER

Lincoln High School Starts Year With Over 400 Students at Work.

The enrollment at Lincoln high school this year on September 5 was the largest for that date in the entire history of the school. There were 395 students last Friday at the end of the first week, as against 343 at the same time last year, 349 two years ago, and 325 three years previous. By Monday, 15 more had been registered, raising the total to 410. These have not yet been classified but the enrollment up to September 5 was as follows: Post-graduates, 29; Seniors, 89; Juniors, 66; Sophomores, 79; Freshmen, 132, making a total of 395.

The Senior class is the largest ever entered here and with the addition of the post-graduates, there will be, at a conservative estimate, a graduating class of 130, or approximately twice as many as the number that received diplomas last spring.

A large number of the students who registered at the close of the last term have not yet returned to school, and if the usual number of new students keep entering throughout the year as in previous years, the enrollment at Lincoln high school should be close to 500 by next spring.

This is a picture of the agricultural exhibit which came the longest distance to the state fair.

It consists of the various products of Pennington county, featured by alfalfa, sugar beets and rust proof wheat.

The exhibit was brought 350 miles to the fair on a two-ton truck. Mayor J. S. Arneson of Thief River Falls is standing at the left in the picture holding some of the alfalfa which has made Pennington county famous throughout Minnesota. A drive to encourage the raising was made there two years ago with the result that thousands of acres now are under cultivation.

Next to Mayor Arneson is George M. Wilson and Mr. Arneson's son, Harold Arneson, who helped him bring the exhibit to St. Paul and then worked all night getting it in place for the opening of the fair.

At the right is Mrs. Thelma Holm Erickson, Thief River Falls, daughter of Mike Holm, secretary of state, who spent most of her time at the fair in the Pennington county booth showing the exhibit to visitors.

DEPOSITORS OF CITIZENS BANK MAKE HEADWAY

Reorganization Plan Sponsored by Committee Has General Approval.

Prospects for Reopening of Local Bank Brighter as Time Passes.

The committee in charge of making arrangements for the reopening of the Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls, closed January 5 by the banking department, reports that depositors of the institution are freely signing the reduction agreements, and that prospects are daily growing brighter for the eventual resumption of business by the bank.

W. W. Prichard, Sr., head of the committee and in active charge of the matter, stated to The Tribune yesterday that if any depositor is in doubt concerning the best thing to do regarding the signing of the depositors' reduction agreement, he should immediately call on some member of the committee for reliable information concerning the plan of reopening. Under no circumstances, says Mr. Prichard, should the depositor accept idle gossip as facts. It is difficult to understand why any person should oppose or talk against reopening closed banks as proposed by the state banking department. Surely the Citizens State bank reopened for business would not be detrimental to any interest in the community. On the contrary, it would be most helpful in restoring confidence and good will.

Other banks in the state which have been closed during the recent period of depression are making plans to reopen under practically the same plan as the method to be used by the Thief River Falls committee. At a meeting of the depositors of the First State Bank of Balaton, which closed its doors on July 25, it was decided to reorganize the institution. The poor paper held by the bank will be placed in a trust fund to be held by the depositors. All deposits will be discounted 60 per cent and a 100 per cent assesament will be made on all stockholders, if the plans as outlined at the meeting are carried out.

Mr. Prichard and the other members of the committee are working early and late in getting matters arranged for the reopening of the Citizens bank. That their efforts are bearing fruit is evident from the expressions of depositors and the attitude of the general public regarding the matter.

Celebration at Gonvick Attracts Record Crowds; Convene Here Next Year

The celebration staged last Saturday at Gonvick by the Woodmen of the World attracted a record crowd and everything went lovely until rain started to fall in the afternoon. This naturally curtailed the outdoor numbers of the program and caused many people to leave for their homes sooner than planned.

The matter of next year's convention is left with national officers but inasmuch as Thief River Falls is the only place which has put in a bid for the meeting there is no question but what the event will be staged here. Twelve automobile loads of Thief River Falls lodge members and other boosters were present at Gonvick last Saturday.

RACE CARNIVAL HUMMER EVENT

Exceptionally Strong Program to Be Put on By Legion Sept. 21.

Committees in charge of the speed carnival to be put on here at the fair grounds Sunday, September 21, by Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion, are busily engaged in making all necessary arrangements for the big racing event. As noted last week in The Tribune, proceeds from the undertaking will be used to help defray expenses of the Legion state convention in Thief River Falls next year.

Most of the noted drivers of the Northwest will compete for the big cash purses to be offered. There will be a five-mile auto race, a ten-mile auto race, and a sweepstakes auto race. In addition to these there will be motorcycle races, Ford novelty races, running races and open races for local speedsters. Drivers from Fargo, Crookston, Bemidji, Hallock, Hickson, N. D., and Winnipeg will be here to provide thrills for the spectators.

As an added attraction the Warren band has been secured and will furnish snappy music throughout the day. Accompanying the Warren band undoubtedly will be a large delegation of Warren Legionnaires and other folks, who are doing everything possible to help Thief River Falls put over the 1925 Legion convention successfully.

It will without question be the greatest speed event ever staged in Northwestern Minnesota and if the weather is at all favorable a record crowd should be in attendance.

Lawrence Letnes Wins in Class at State Fair With Entry of Ayrshire Calf

Lawrence Letnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jens Letnes of Silverton township, now believes more firmly than ever that it pays to belong to a dairy calf club. At the state fair last week he won first prize in his class with his Ayrshire, receiving $53 in cash besides a $100 scholarship good at any agricultural school in the country.

Lawrence has taken an active part in club work for several years and he is known as a hard worker. Last year he attended the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston, and this no doubt helped him in attaining the enviable record made at the state fair. The Tribune extends hearty congratulations to the youthful prize winner.

POULTRY CO-OP. STARTS BUYING PRODUCTS SOON

Temporary Quarters to Be Established in the Hall Hardware Building.

Poultry Marketing Association to Be Financed By Local Bankers.

A meeting of the directors of the Thief River Co-operative Poultry Marketing association was held last evening at the Commercial club quarters. The association is now ready for business and in some localities will begin buying eggs September 15 and poultry September 22. The building in this city formerly occupied by the Hall Brothers hardware store has been rented and will be used as temporary quarters until the old creamery building is vacated. Each district comprised in the association will be notified when buying in that district is to begin.

Stuart McLeod and Waldie Christensen were elected new directors of the association last evening, and President Olaf Neset was elected a director of the state organization, which it was unanimously decided to join. Financing the business of the association will be accomplished with the assistance of local banks.

Ira Burhart has been employed as grader of eggs. Mr. Burhart, who comes here from Grygla, has had a great many years of experience in the produce line, having been employed by some of the largest produce concerns in the Northwest before going to Grygla. He expects to be here on October 1.

An ample supply of egg crates and poultry coops has been ordered and these will be distributed as soon as they can be set up and stenciled. The membership of the association has now passed the required quota and there is still considerable territory which has not been solicited because of lack of time. Anyone who wishes to join the organization will kindly notify the president or the county agent.

Herbert Haugen, Jumper of Bonds, Brought Back to Face Serious Charge

Sheriff Ole L. Ihle returned Monday from Minneapolis with Herbert Haugen of this city as his prisoner. Haugen was out on bail following a hearing in municipal court last winter on a charge of carnal knowledge of a female child, but when his case came on for trial at the last term of district court Haugen did not show up and his bonds were declared forfeited. He was located in Minneapolis by the sheriff, brought back as above stated, and it now confined in the Pennington county jail.

It is stated today that Haugen has expressed a desire to plead guilty and he will likely be taken before Judge Grindeland tomorrow to receive sentence.

Poultry Marketing Head to Speak at Club Lunch

B. O. Norby, manager of the Thief River Valley Co-operative Poultry Marketing association, will be the principal speaker at tomorrow's meeting of the Commercial club. Geo. M. Wilson will tell about the county exhibit at the state fair and some of the farmers on the dairy show delegation will be called upon for short talks.

CO-OP. SUCCESS IS BASED UPON LOYALTY FIRST

Wheat Growers' Organization Already Proves Marketing Plan Value.

Ten Thousand Members Enrolled in Minnesota Association Alone.

"The value of co-opeative marketing associations in raising the general level of prices to all farmers, whether members or not, is strikingly evident in the prices for wheat paid by the grain trade in Minnesota during the past year."

These are the words of W. J. Brown, formerly of Thief River Falls, and now president of the American Wheat Growers Associated, of Minneapolis. This organization is the central selling agency for the Minnesota co-operative wheat pool and for other spring wheat pools in the Northwest. Continuing, Mr. Brown says:

"Last year the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-operative Marketing Association was formed, and immediately the old-time elevators at country points began to offer premiums over the station card price for wheat. These premiums ranged from two to eleven cents, averaging five cents over the state. Never before had the elevators offered a premium over the station card price, except where a local mill served to bid up the price. It was started last year because of the existence of the new Wheat Growers association in the field.

"This year the association has ten thousand members enrolled in the ranks, with nearly forty per cent of the entire spring wheat crop of Minnesota signed up in the state pool. Never before have the cash prices for wheat at county points, especially where our association is operating, approached so nearly to the cash price on the same day at the terminal market in Minneapolis. We are constantly in receipt of reports from our

KARLSTAD FOLKS HERE ON SUNDAY

Thirty Cars Filled With Real Boosters Spend Two Hours in This City.

With ideal weather conditions and perfect roads, the Karlstad boosters who made a tour of this section of the state last Sunday, enjoyed the time of their lives. Shortly after 12 o'clock the caravan—30 automobile loads of men, women and children—arrived in Thief River Falls. After traversing the principal streets of the city they went to the tourist park to prepare a picnic dinner, which was embellished with coffee and ice cream furnished by the Thief River Falls Commercial club and Thief River Grocery company.

A delegation of Thief River Falls folks was at the park to welcome the visitors, and the occasion was enjoyed immensely by everyone. The Karlstad tourists were accompanied by the band of that village, which gave several excellent musical selections.

From here the caravan headed north for Greenbush and other points on the return trip to Karlstad, expecting to reach home early in the evening.

Karlstad did herself proud in getting up a tour of this size and the boosters of that village are entitled to a great deal of credit for the complete success of the venture.

Babcock Coming.

Word has been received here that Commissioner Babcock of the Highway department will be in Thief River Falls Sunday evening or Monday morning. He will reach here from Baudette which is on the route of his present tour of state roads. While in the city he will be entertained by a committee from the Commercial club who will escort him to Red Lake and discuss with him the proposed new construction to link Thief River Falls in a direct road to the lake.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

Members of the Warren band are showing a real spirit of cooperation toward the local post of the American Legion. The Warren musicians are coming over for the speed carnival September 21 to furnish all the music wanted, and they are not charging the Legion one cent for their services. This generous donation is greatly appreciated both by members of Eklund post and the citizens of Thief River Falls generally.

Miss Honora Spencer of the McPhail School of Music in Minneapolis, teacher of dancing and dramatic art, is palnning to locate in Crookston and open classes in about two weeks. Miss Spencer has been assistant to Mrs. Josephine Reitz Garnes, wife of John Seaman Garnes, at McPhail school for the past four years and has a wide experience in the direction of dancing, dramatic art and pageantry. If there is a sufficient demand for her instruction in Thief River Falls, she has stated her intention of spending two days a week here. This is an unusual opportunity for a city of this size and it is hoped that the demand will be great enough to warrant her opening classes here. Anyone who is interested in classical, aesthetic or social dancing, or dramatic art should call Mrs. Thelma Erickson this week so that Miss Spencer will have some idea as to the number in this city desiring lessons.

Seniors Choose Officers at Meeting Held Fridav

The first class meeting of the new school year was held Friday afternoon at four o'clock when the Seniors convened for the purpose of electing class officers. The following officers were elected: Emmett Shanahan, president; Hilda Ness, vice president; Ariel Kinghorn, secretary; Katherine Barzen, treasurer; Lylian Barzen, Francis Ohm, sergeants-at-arms; Lawrence Mickelson, class advisor; Monica Bambrick, class chaperone.

The Senior class this year is the largest in the history of Lincoln high, having an enrollment of 92 at present with prospects of many more who have registered but not yet returned to school. A class of this size, containing so much excellent material, at the head of school activities, should do much toward making this year the best Lincoln has yet seen.

Egg Exchange Sells Supplies to Locals

As an accommodation and an additional service to its member associations, the Minnesota Cooperative Egg and Poultry association has established a supply department at its office in St. Paul.

This department will be in charge of R. E. Wolf, formerly assistant manager of the supply department of the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries association. All supplies needed by member associations in the egg and poultry business will be handled on a cost basis. The Exchange buys direct from manufacturers, acting merely as a jobber, and sells to member associations at the jobber's price. Patrons who have purchased supplies will be given credit for any profits made by the Exchange and such profits will be prorated back.

The Exchange has already sold two carloads of supplies. It expects to do an annual supply business of between $300,000 and $500,000.

Gummer, Slayer of Marie Wick Loses Last Battle in Fight for New Trial

William Gummer, hotel clerk, convicted of the murder of Marie Wick of Grygla in a Fargo hotel in June, 1921, lost his final legal battle this week. The state supreme court denied a rehearing in the case, in which it affirmed Gummer's conviction and sentence to life imprisonment for the crime.

Gummer now is serving his sentence in the North Dakota state penitentiary, having been an inmate since shortly after his conviction at Valley City, February 25, 1922.

The high court in an option on the rehearing denies the contentions of the defense counsel that one of its principal contentions, constituting essential elements in a chain of circumstantial evidence on which Gummer was convicted, was not answered by the court in its original opinion.

"We are satisfied on this record that the verdict finds ample support in the evidence in that the circumstances disclosed are such that, in our opinion, reasonable men may be satisfied therefrom to a moral certainty of the defendant's guilt," says the opinion.

The fact that the evidence on which Gummer was convicted was circumstantial "in no way alters the respective functions of the court anl jury," the court held.

Mrs. L. G. Larsen left Monday evening for St. Paul to attend the state conference of Social Workers which is taking place in that city this week. Mrs. Larsen will represent Pennington County Child Welfare Board at the conference.

WORLD DOMINION BEING TRANSFERRED
Millions now living will never die

The rapid changes of government among the nations seem only to check temporarily their steady approach to utter collapse.

Thrones are toppled over to make way for military dictators. Officials of republics serve only the selfish interests of big business; and instead of an improvement of affairs, each new move leaves the nations weaker. Suffering is increased; lawlessness becomes rampant; and hopelessness is followed by despair.

This march of the nations toward destruction and anarchy moves onward relentlessly. Armageddon which nations seek to avert by their union, leagues, associations and federations, looms up threateningly.

Yet man need not entirely despair. This troublous period of earth's history was foretold as immediately proceeding the new order—a righteous world-wide government.

Ezra Meeker, 94 years old, is running the state legislature out in Washington. After a man gets that old he does not care what happens to him.

"Good Cheer Wave Spreads Over Northwest" says a newspaper headline. Folks in that part of the country naturally hope it is a permanent wave.

Three Russians have been sentenced to death for counterfeiting American money. The high cost of paper made it impossible for them to counterfeit Russian money.

Leopold and Loeb may thank their lucky stars they are not the sons of rag pickers, but are the sons of wealthy men. There can be no question about money, in this instance, saving the necks of two youths who richly deserved the extreme penalty if ever such a penalty is deserved.

We apologize to Karlstad for our lack of hospitality. It isn't that we are so stuck up, or lack the disposition to be friendly and neighborly, but the fact is we are, like the people of New York and London, too engrossed in the kaleidescope of life in a great city to take much notice of visiting neighbors.

Protruding ears may now be corrected by a slight painless operation, the trick being done by clipping the cords back of the ears. Human happiness would be increased a whole lot if the facial sergeons would do something about protruding noses which persist in injecting themselves into other people's affairs.

George Wilson proved a real hustler in connection with the gathering of a state fair exhibit. The success of this year's exhibit is pretty equally divided between him and Mrs. Thelma Erickson, who rendered invaluable service in preparing the exhibit and placing same in the booth at the agricultural building.

If united and concerted action could be had at this time between the business men of Thief River Falls and the farmers of the vicinity it is not unlikely that a pea cannery would be established in this city next year. Such institutions have been successful in many northwestern towns and have produced substantial incomes for the acreage which produced the peas.

Pennington county made a great showing at the state fair with its alfalfa exhibit. Not only did the county receive thousands of dollars worth of advertising as a result of the exhibit but hundreds of Twin city business men took notice of the fact that Pennington county is doing something besides talking. It is not enough, in other words, that Pennington county calls itself "the home of alfalfa." It must actually demonstrate that it is the real, blown-in-the-bottle home of alfalfa. And this it is doing to the satisfaction of all unbiased observers.

We take our bats off to the three or four venturesome citizens of Thief River Falls who greeted the Karlstad delegation last Sunday at the tourist park. The Karlstad people came here in thirty cars, accompanied by a uniformed band, as well as an acrobat who performed on the streets. Their mission was one of friendliness—like one neighbor paying a Sunday call—but unfortunately our citizens failed to respond to the neighborly visit. The Commercial club furnished ice cream and the Thief River Grocery company furnished the coffee in abundance. To that extent the Karlstad people appreciate our hospitality. Aside from that we are a poor bunch of sports. What would the business men of Thief River Falls think if the situation were reversed. Suppose we went to Karlstad with thirty cars, took with us a fine band and a circus performer or two—giving them advance notice of our coming—and three or four people struggled into the grounds to extend us greeting? These are questions which involve our very civic well being—no matter what anyone may think or say.

Golf Players Visit Other Cities for Contests and Plan Return Event Here

The local golfers will journey to Grand Forks next Sunday to meet the players from that city on their own course. A number are planning to leave Saturday, play at Crookston Saturday afternoon and go to Grand Forks Sunday morning with the Crookstonites, who likewise meet Grand Forks Sunday.

A week ago Sunday, a delegation from the local club was beaten on the Crookston course but the defeat was somewhat softened by the fine treatment accorded them, including a theater party and banquet at the hotel. The Thief River club has intentions of returning the nice treatment—and also the defeat—on September 21 when Crookston is scheduled to play here. Grand Forks will not be met until later in the season.

Last Sunday the west-siders were badly trimmed by the east side, the latter being victorious in every foursome but one. This means that the west side bunch will be forced to entertain their rivals at a dinner to be given in the near future.

The golf club is now making preparations for a series of dances to be held this winter the same as last, with the exception that this year only present and not prospective, members will be invited.

HAUGEN STRESSES ECONOMIC NEEDS

In an address delivered on Farm Bureau Day at the Minnesota state fair, Congressman Gilbert N. Haugen of Iowa discussed legislation looking toward the elimination of economic depression in agriculture.

The single cause attributed by Congressman Haugen for the depression in agriculture is the disparity in prices between agricultural products and manufactured products. Commenting on this point, he said: "In my opinion the most serious handicap to be overcome is the disparity of prices; the low price of agricultural commodities as compared to the price the farmer has to pay for what he buys. This has resulted in a relatively inadequate return to the farmer for the labor and capital he has invested. "All that is necessary to overcome this condition," he said, "is to adjust the price of high-priced commodities down or bring the price of low-priced commodities up."

The low return received by the farmer is ascribed by Mr. Haugen to the exportable surplus of certain agricultural commodities, the prices upon which fluctuate according to world conditions.

In this connection he laid stress upon the McNary-Haugen bill, which had for its object the equalization of prices. Briefly, this bill calls for the organization of an export corporation to take the surplus of wheat, cotton, livestock and other agricultural crops off the domestic market, sell them abroad and charge against the whole crop any loss that may be sustained in the effort to maintain a fair level in this country.

"There is nothing complicated, unjust, unworkable, paternalistic or bolshevistic about this plan," said Congressman Haugen. "It is intended to mete out justice and a square deal to all concerned, to do away with the disparity in prices, to equalize the price between agricultural commodities and other commodities, and to bring up the purchasing power of agricultural commodities to a level of other commodities."

Commenting on the present grain prices, Mr. Haugen said: "The present grain prices are above the ratio price. This is evidently due to the apparent shortage in crops. The prices of hogs are still below the ratio price. Quite evidently we shall have a short crop of corn. If so I take it that hog prices will advance to the ratio price. So long as prices remain higher than the ratio price, no legislation would be required to equalize prices.

PUBLIC FORUM

Willows, Cal., Sept. 5, 1924.

Editor Tribune:
Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

Dear Sir:

While I am not personally acquainted with you, I am taking the liberty to write to you on the grounds that I am very much acquainted with many of the people, whom you are serving in such an able way as editor, Mr. Arneson.

I have in the past kept the people of Thief River Falls acquainted with my movements and my experiences through the medium of your valuable paper. I wanted to visit you this last summer and renew the acquaintances of the many friends I made during the early and trying times in the history of your city. I was not able to get away, and at the same time take a summer trip through the mountains along the lakes and rivers of picturesque California. So I thought that I would make you a visit in another way—by writing. That is why I am taking the liberty of writing this letter to you. I trust that it may meet with your approval.

The last letter I wrote and had published was written in the southern part of the state—in Los Angeles. Farther from where I now am than it is from where you live to the Iowa boundry line. I am in what is known as Northern California. In the great Sacramento Valley. The people in San Francisco are very jealous of the great advancement made by the city of Los Angeles and by other cities of lesser size in the southern section of the state. This feeling is felt more or less by this section, as well as all of northern California. Southern California is wonderful in many ways, and yet there are many things wonderful in this part of the state. It is true that many people have come out to California and have been very much disappointed in their venture. That is likely true in every country. It is so in Minnesota, I believe you will admit. Others come, and not only make a living, but are very successful in their line of work, and settle down and become good citizens. The one great cause of much of the disappointment is that new comers find conditions so changed from what they were at home, or else they take up some occupation foreign to what they are used to doing that they get discouraged and are sorry that they ever changed the old for the new.

Here it does not rain in the summer time. Today is a stereotyped day of what yesterday was; tomorrow we can go on a picnic or we can go to the fair or we can start out on a journey which will consume a day or a week or a month in time, and we do not need to worry for we are sure to have good weather. If we do not have a tent we can sleep by the road side in our blankets. It is all the same; others are doing it.

We have a floating population, numbering into the thousands, who put all that they have—their children, their household goods, their canary, their all—into a car and hike. They work as they go. In the summer they pick apricots, peaches, plums, pears, apples, olives, figs, grapes—in fact they do anything and everything that they can find to do, until they have a little money laid by, and then they move on. In the latter part of the summer they help the almond crop, the English walnuts, the rice and the corn. Some work in the great alfalfa fields which produce six and seven crops in a season; others help gather the wheat, the barley, the oats, and other grains. You might ask—why this kind of a life? Why do they not settle down and farm? Are there no vacant farms? Are none of these men farmers? Of course they are. Not only have they got a taste of roaming, of living from hand to mouth—but how do many of them know how to farm here? Can they irrigate who have never irrigated? Can they handle this adobe soil and make the alfalfa grow? Can they prune the trees and spray them as they are needed? Can they raise rice and make a success of it? Of course there are vacant farms, but others have been on them and failed—why should they try?

It is a truism that you can not make a western farmer out of an eastern farmer in a day. Many men come from the East and make a success of it, but to be successful they must have enough money to learn their lessons for a year or two, before they are ready to advance. When a man does get out here, where winters are not so severe, he, as a usual thing, does not want to return and face the cold of the winter there. Here he can live on fruit almost all the year 'round. There is so much that the house wives cease to can any. One sees peaches and fruit of various kinds on the ground going to waste. One lady called my wife up on the phone and asked her if she would be glad or mad if she sent her over a bucket of peaches.

We have wonderful meadows and herds of dairy cattle. More and more dairying is being done here now and it is proving very remunerative. It is there that the eastern man is successful, in taking care of his dairy cows. One does not need more than a good forty acres to raise all the feed that is needed for a good sized dairy herd.

I have been very much interested in reading of the advances which dairying has made in your country during the past few years. It surely has done something toward keeping the business on a sound basis in Minnesota. I have been interested in reading of Mr. F. B. Conklin's wonderful cow, Lady Bruce. Cows of that kind are not only wonderful for Mr. Conklin, but they are known and talked about in every state in the union, through their record having been published in the breeders' journal. Your city and country are thereby being advertised. All praise to such efforts in the upbuilding of your community.

Then there is another thing that is deserving of a good bit of credit. It is not known, probably, how much the world knows about your private affairs. I went down stairs to the bank here and the banker said, "I see that the First National has been sold in Thief River Falls." His statement shocked me to a certain extent. Not from the fact that he knew that the First National had been sold, but I knew that the fact was known to him that the Citizens had been suspended. I have always been loyal to Northern Minnesota and especially to Pennington county. I like to hear good reports from there. There are many things that are very dear to me, but nothing that I value more highly than the good will of my friends in Thief River Falls. This brings me again to the statement which I made of the thing that is so commendable—'tis the bringing back again of the Citiens bank! It is the re-establishing of your soundness, in financial affairs. It is to the best interests of business both great and small—from the house wife who buys her coffee to the men who handle larger sums of money. All praise to Mr. Prichard who is opening up a way for this to be done, and praise to you, Mr. Depositor who works in harmony with him.

It is needless for me to say that you could have had no better man at the head of the work than Mr. Prichard has been and will be. For honesty and economy I learned to know him well when I was vice president with him in the old First National. I know that he understands the financial part of the whole affair and has reason to believe that the bank can be made as sound as it was in the past, otherwise he never would have undertaken what he has already done.

While I realize that this is a time of doubting, I know that it is no more so there than it is here or any other place. Just yesterday a poor man's house burned up here and he lost $180 in cash because he would not trust his money to the banks.

I am pleased to know that you are having such wonderful crops. May the horn of plenty be poured out upon you. I'm banking on Thief River Falls yet.

Sincerely your friend,
F. H. Gambell.

NOTED SPEAKER COMING TO CITY

W. J. Thorne of New York to Lecture Here September 12 and 14.

Ever since the World War, thinking people have wondered why such a catastrophe visited the earth. It was thought that war was fast becoming an impossible thing. But the rumbling of cannon and tread of the soldier were clearly heard by those who had their ears to the ground. A few statesmen knew that war was inevitable; for there were great efforts at preparation made by some of the leading governments of the earth. Those who were studying prophecy were confident that there would be at least one more great conflict.

When the trouble broke in 1914 many were surprised, and the surprise grew as the horror of bloodshed increased. The astonishment was even greater when the United States declared war and entered the arena. Clearly the vote of the people had been against it. Gallantly our young men responded to the call to arms. When the death toll mounted into the millions many wondered if the end of the world was at hand; if not, and if there is a God why did He not stop the war? Czar, kaiser, emperor, king dethroned and set at naught! What did it mean?

Another mystery, perplexing to the minds of the leaders, is, 'Why cannot the nations get back to normalcy?" Why are the economic conditions disturbed to such an extent that it seems impossible to stabilize business and steady the nerves of the country? It is said that the answer is found in the bible. The prophecies declare that as Adam lost his dominion of earth, it is to be restored to the "Tower of the flock," a phrase which unquestionably refers to Jesus. God established a kingdom in Israel; but because of the wickedness of her kings it was overthrown "until he comes whose right it is," another reference to Jesus.

The International Bible Students association has arranged for W. J. Thorne to give a free lecture at the auditorium on "World Dominion Being Transferred" in which the prophecies will be presented which describe the orderly transfer of the "kingdoms of this world" from under the selfish domination of Satan to the benign rulership of Christ. The lecture will be given at 8 o'clock and is said to be quite edifying and satisfactory in explaining the causes underlying the present world distress.

EDUCATORS TO MEET IN CITY

Northwestern Division Minnesota Educational Ass'n. to Convene Here.

Thief River Falls this year will play host to the Northwest Division of the Minnesota Educational association, whose annual convention takes place October 8, 9 and 10. This is a very important meeting for educators and hundreds of delegates from this section of the state will be in attendance.

The program has already been arranged except for a few minor details and will be one of the best ever offered at a like meeting. The sessions will open the first day with an address of welcome by Mayor Arneson and a response by G. H. Sanberg, superintendent of the Crookston schools. The principal address at this session will be delivered by Edgar W. Everts, state director of physical and health education.

The morning of the second day will be spent in visiting the Thief River Falls schools, with the general session opening at the auditorium at 10 o'clock. W. J. Osburn of the Wisconsin department of education is to be the principal speaker at this session. The afternoon will be taken up with sectional and district meetings, with the school master's banquet at 6 o'clock. At 8 o'clock another general session will be held at the auditorium. An operetta under the direction of Maude L. Johnson will be staged at this time, and C. G. Schultz, secretary of the Minnesota Educational association is scheduled for an address.

On the morning of the third day the business session will be held, with an address by Prof. Knight of Iowa university. The afternoon meeting will take the form of a round table discussion, and at 4 o'clock a football game with Bemidji and Thief River Falls as principals will furnish amusement and recreation for the visitors.

Further details concerning the convention and the complete program will be published in later issues of The Tribune.

The nine champion dairymen of Pennington county arrived today to spend the rest of the week at the state fair.

They posed for their picture, taken by The Daily News photographer, in front of the courthouse on Cedar street while being escorted to the fair grounds from the Union station by Mayor J. S. Arnseon, Thief River Falls, who is standing by the side of the truck.

All expenses of the champion dairymen are paid by the Thief River Falls Commercial club, which started this innovation last year to improve dairying in the county. Those who were sent to the fair last year were ineligible to compete for honors this year. The winners of this year's dairy contest cannot compete next year.

The club has adopted this rule in order to make the competition as widespread as possible and assure a larger number of farmers free trips to the fair from year to year.

FOOT BALL TEAM COMING STRONG

Coach Thune to Give Warriors Tryout Next Saturday Afternoon.

The 1924 football season has now opened and according to Coach L. A. Thune, prospects are bright for a winning team. The schedule is not yet complete and a few of the dates are definite, but it is certain that Crookston, Bemidji and Warren will be played, the first two on the home field and the last at Warren. Negotiations are being made for games with Grand Forks, East Grand Forks, Stephen, Red Lake Falls, Grafton and Mahnomen, with at least five of the entire schedule to be played here. An announcement will be made later when all games and dates are definitely arranged.

Only four men, Barzen, Gavin, Sether and Lundell, were lost through last year's graduating class which leaves a large number of veterans for this year's squad. Candidates from last year for backfield positions are Capt. Parenteau and Bjorkman, quarter-backs; Wengeler and Larson, full-backs; Zeh, Olson, Kiland and Bennes, helf-backs; last year's candidates for the line are Penney and Holzknecht, ends; Mulry and Froseth, tackles; Ihle, Ellefson and Berg, guards, and Sorenson, center. New candidates for line positions are Will, Doorn, Mathewson, Flatland, Johnson, Anderson and Clontier. A special squad of 20 freshmen is being developed and while many of the men are still young and inexperienced, they are the material that the teams for the next few years will depend upon, so it is well worth while giving them extra attention and insruction now. Altogether about 40 men have reported for practice and now compose the entire school squad.

At the fair grounds this Saturday afternoon at 3:30, the first game of the year will take place when the high school eleven will meet the alumni. Coach Thune and his men will appreciate a large turnout of townspeople, both for the added interest in the game and for the experience they will gain in playing before a crowd. No admission fee will be charged. Likewise, the public is cordially invited to attend all Wednesday afternoon scrimmages at the fair grounds, in order to see what progress the team makes from one week to the next.

Thanks to the Public.

As chairman of the Labor Day picnic and on behalf of the Soo Line and its employees, Elks and Masons, I wish to take this means of thanking each and every one for making this picnic a real success, especially the business men for donating the very fine prizes which were awarded the winners of the 33 different events; the Thief River Grocery company for donating the coffee, Gamble-Robinson company the sugar, Kiewel Products company the ice cream cones and the Thief River Co-operative Creamery company the cream and milk, The Tribune and Times for generous publicity and the band boys for furnishing music. We are looking forward to Labor Day next year when we can get together for another for another real good time.

New Production Said to Carry Many Real Thrills

With a highly-charged story of passionate love, a background of great scenic beauty, played by a cast of starts and made by one of the industry's cleverest directors, "Thy name is Woman," the new Metro picture which comes to the Lyceum for two days, beginning Sunday, promises to be one of the most thrilling productions of the year.

It is the latest film to be turned out by Fred Niblo, the director who has such successes to his credit as "The Mark of Zorro," "The Three Musketeers," and recently, "Strangers of the Night." The cast includes such favorites as Ramon Novarra, Barbara LaMarr, Edith Roberts, William V. Mong, Wallace McDonald, Robert Edeson and Claire MacDowell. The picture is taken from Karl Schoenherr's stage play, the American version of which had a very successful run on Broadway last season, with Mary Nash and Jose Robens in the principal roles.

Gopher Potatoes Bring Premium Everywhere

The first car of potatoes sold by the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange under its new trade-mark. "Gooher Brand," brought a premium of 15 cents a bushel.

The car arrived at Chicago in excellent condition and caused much comment among potato buyers. It was of first class stock, even as to quality and loaded according to accepted rules and regulations.

This car originated at Elk River, having moved shortly after the first car branded potatoes loaded, which started from Anoka.

The first car of unbranded stock brought a premium of 10 cents a bushel.

"An excellent start has been made in establishing "Gopher Brand" as potatoes of unusual quality," says J. B. White, resident sales manager, "and by maintaining the standard we have set, it will not be long before Gopher potatoes will be in demand and, therefore, command even larger premiums. We must aim to sell something more than just potatoes and we certainly must overlook no step which will assure "Gopher Brand" potatoes always being the very best obtainable."

Amendments Are Passed on by Farm Bureau

At a meeting of the county directors of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation held at the state fair grounds Thursday, September 4, resolutions were passed favoring the proposed gasoline tax amendment to the constitution of the state of Minnesota, and opposing the proposed child labor amendment to the federal constitution.

Approval of the proposed amendment to the state constitution was voiced by the Farm Bureau directors in the following resolution: "We favor a state tax on gasoline used in vehicles traveling on public highways, the revenue from such tax to be used exclusively for the maintenance and improvement of the state highway system.'

In opposing the child labor amendment to the federal constitution officials went on record as favoring the action of the Ohio farm bureau directors at their recent meeting. The Ohio federation in its resolution protested the amendment on ten counts, chief among which were: (1) that it would transfer to the federal goverment authority which now rests with the individual states; and (2) that it would be a death blow to agriculture, since two-thirds of the children gainfully employed in the United States are engaged in agricultural pursuits.

A referendum will be taken by the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation to ascertain the attitude of its members on these two amendments.

$250.00 IN CASH PRIZES

for one little IDEA

You can win it! All you need is a sheet of paper, pen and ink—or a typewriter—and an idea! Then sit down and write!

Minnesota is leading the country in motor bus transportation. Last year Minnesota buses carried 8,790,000 passengers. The bus operators paid over $150,000 in cash for insurance to protect passengers. To date this year the bus operators have paid over $150,000 in taxes to the State of Minnesota. The average bus pays a tax of $500 a year as compared to $16.00 paid by the average pleasure car.

The bus owners, fully appreciating that operating a bus line is a distinct public service and absolutely essential to the building up of their respective communities, have formed the Minnesota Motor Bus Association the better to unify their service and develop it for the public good.

This Association wants to pay you for your cooperation to the best of its ability and is offering $250 in cash prizes for the 18 best letters written on this subject:

"How Motor Bus Transportation Serves My Community and How It Could Be Improved"

You know how motor buses have made travel more convenient, safe and comfortable for your community and helped build it up. Tell us about it. That's easy. And you surely can think up an idea to improve it. Tell us that also. That's all you have to do. Now—right NOW is the best time to write that letter. Ten minutes' effort may win $75, $50 or $25 for you. You don't have to be clever or learned. It's your ideas we want, written your own way, in your own words.

Don't delay. Write it today and mail it to

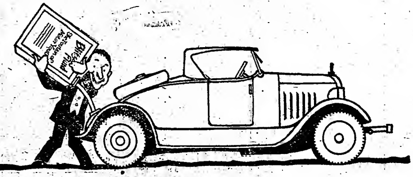
Treat Your Gasoline With-

Blitzen Fluid

"The Fountain of Motor Youth"



Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas-
Increases Mileage of Gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon.

CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor tronhlee. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap in motor engineering, as it softens the fiery coke-like carbon depositc and expele it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forme a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

When carbon is gone grinding of valvee becomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean end perform at their higheet efficiency; carhon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and yon will enjoy that extra power and emoothness of a clean well preserved motor.

Blitzen Fluid is used by men in the Anto Motive industry who know that it will not injure the most seneitive motor. It is prodnced by chemists to pnt and keep your motor in the etate of highest efficiency and saves in gasoline and repair bills sufficiently to entirely or largely rednce the cost.

Please Bring Your Bill

WE SUGGEST that you bring your telephone bill when paying at our office, or inclose it when paying by mail. That will help you and us.

If your bill always accompanies payment, either at our business office or by mail, it saves time and makes sure that proper credit is given.

When you do not bring the bill, you have to wait until a duplicate is made out. This, of course, takes your time and delays others who may be paying their bills.

Our constant effort is to provide the best possible service at the lowest possible cost to our patrons, and every little bit saved helps to this end.

The interests of the public, of our employees and our investors are the same.

CHURCH PEOPLE ENTER PROTEST

Adopt Resolutions of Regret Regarding Legion Speed Carnival.

The following resolution, together with a reply by the American Legion, was this morning handed The Tribune for publication:

Thief River Falls, Minn.,
September 8, 1924.

WHEREAS it has brought to our attention that the American Legion in this city has decided to put on a speed carnival on Sunday, September 21, and whereas we have only the highest regard for the ideals of the American Legion and realize the financial responsibility of the Local Post with respect to the 1925 state convention.

THEREFORE, Be it Resolved, that we as pastors, church members, and fellow citizens, express our regrets of this ill-advised decision to hold such an event on Sunday, the Lord's Day, and thereby preventing many of our people from giving this undertaking of the Legion such moral support and material support as they might otherwise desire, and we respectfully suggest to our Legion Post that a more suitable day be selected, and that in the future we request our boys to avoid any unpleasant controversy of this nature.

Statement of the committee in charge of the American Legion Speed Carnival to be held at the fair grounds Sunday afternoon, September 21, in answer to the resolutions of protest made by the various pastors of Thief River Falls:

The treasury of the Legion was depleted through the activities of the members in landing the 1925 Legion convention; the necessity for raising money suggested the speed carnival and it seemed that Sunday is the only day upon which a crowd could be expected to attend; that has been the experience of others. Then again when the protest was filed the Legion had already incurred a great deal of expense.

In other words, we had engaged the various drivers in the events of the day, had printed thousands of bills and had communicated with more than forty Legion posts in connection with the affair. It must be apparent to all that we shall need funds for carrying on the work of the various committees in connection with the entertainment of the 1925 convention; the success or failure of such entertainment rests with all the people of Thief River Falls and we sincerely trust that in our efforts to act as the responsible intermediary we may have the co-operation of all.—The Committee.

Co-op. Success Is Based Upon Loyalty of Members

membership territory telling of prices paid by elevators that actually leave them not enough margin under the terminal cash price to pay the freight to Minneapolis, with nothing whatever for handling charges or for profit on their operations.

"Every farmer knows the methods adopted by the big centralizer creameries to kill off the farmers' co-operative creameries in Minnesota. Whenever a new co-operative creamery has been started, the centralizers would raise the price for butterfat and attempt to wean the members away. Then, if they succeeded in putting the co-operative out of business, the price would come down with a bang, and the farmers would be no better off, and probably worse off, than before.

"Apparently a similar business pressure is being exerted by the old established grain trade in Minnesota. So long as it serves to keep up the general price level for wheat, the Minnesota Wheat Growers association is entirely satisfied. But the farmer members should bear in mind the lesson of the co-operative creameries. Only by sticking to their association can they hope to correct the long-standing evils of grain marketing in this state."

TRAFFIC CENSUS SHOW INCREASE

Count of Vehicles Conducted on Two Highways for Eight Days.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson last week completed taking traffic census on trunk highways 32 and 33 at the northwest corner of the fair grounds. The count was conducted for eight days, and close tab kept on the traffic for 18 hours each day. The figures obtained this year show a marked increase over those secured a year ago when a similar count was made. Following is a summary of the census taken this year and a year ago, showing the different classification of vehicles and the number on each road:

	No. 32	No. 32	No. 33	No. 33
Vehicles	1924	1923	1924	1923
"A" Autos	2128	1191	1902	984
"B" Autos	1798	739	1632	545
Other States	131	87	151	79
Trucks	131	152	107	124
Teams	156	62	180	96
Totals	4344	2231	3972	1828

The census last year was taken over a period of seven days instead of eight, which accounts in a measure for the large difference in the figures. It is evident, however, that traffic on these two highways is a great deal heavier now than was the case in 1923.

COUNTY EXHIBIT GETS PUBLICITY

Pennington Given Valuable Advertising by State Fair Showing.

Pennington county attracted more than its share of attention this year at the big Minnesota state fair. With a fine county exhibition of its products displayed in the agriculture building the county received many favorable comments upon its showing of grains, grasses and vegetables, fruits, canned goods, etc. The showing of alfalfa was widely commented upon as the most creditable showing of the kind ever made at the big exposition.

In addition to its county exhibit the county was represented during the week by ten of its leading dairymen, all of whom made good use of their visit to the fair by visiting the various exhibits, paying special attention to the showing of good dairy cattle. The delegation, whose names were mentioned in these columns last week, visited many points of interest about the Twin cities and concluded their sight seeing with a tour through the state prison at Stillwater.

Geo. M. Wilson of this city was in charge of the Pennington county booth at the fair, and he was ably assisted by Mrs. Thelma Erickson. The showing made at the fair was remarkably good when it is considered that the exhibit which attracted more publicity than any other on the grounds only arrived at the fair grounds late the evening before the exhibits were to be in place.

There can be no doubt of the value of such exhibits at the state fair as was evidenced by the interest manifested around the Pennington county booth. Twin city newspapers gave the Pennington county exhibit more than passing notice, publishing photographs of the booth as well as the truck which carried the exhibit overland to the state fair.

ALDERMEN HEAR USUAL REPORTS

Special Meeting of Council Called for Thursday Eevning, Sept. 11.

Aldermen Oscar Paulaon and Oscar Rambeck were absent when City Clerk P. G. Pederson called the roll last night and this caused an early adjournment of the council until tomorrow, Thursday evening, at which time various matters will be considered, it being deemed wise to have a full board present.

The various reports of the city officials were presented and ordered filed; bids were opened on the heating plant at the poor house; a building permit was granted to Otto Besseler for a $100 garage; a communication was read from the fire department announcing the appointment of Henry Froseth in place of Ed. Aga, resigned; and the free use of the auditorium was granted to the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association for October 8, 9 and 10 for the annual meeting to be held here.

The report of the city clerk showed a balance on hand September 1 of $12,312.21 which is only about 400 less than a month ago. The electric light department showed earning of $3,385.88 for August.

The aldermen received the report of the dairy inspector, Dr. L. R. Twete, which brought to light that out of 64 cows tested seven were condemned when it came to a T. B. test, the highest number in any one month since the establishment of the dairy inspection. Out of 40 tests for specific gravity only five were found illegal, while out of 40 tests for butterfat in milk samples, three were declared illegal, but only one out of ten cream tests. Of the 40 samples tested for sediment, 30 were clear, nine fair, one poor and none dirty. As in the past Mr. Conklin's milk showed the highest butterfat tests, his percentage being 4.60 with the other eight dairymen showing various readings from that down to 3.50, which is .25 above the requirement.

The report of Chief of Police Ralston showed seven arrests in August, two each for drunkenness and runaways, one each for insanity, disorderly conduct and assault. The fines and fees resulting therefrom, amounting to $38, also appeared in the report of Judge of Municipal Court N. W. Tarrant, the total receipts for him being $60 for August.

Wheat Pool Members Receive Higher Price

Members of the Alberta wheat pool will receive 2⅛ cents a bushel more for their wheat than the average price received by Alberta farmers outside the pool, according to a statement issued by W. H. Wood, chairman of the board of trustees.

The pool price is $1.02 for No. 1 northern on Fort William basis, while the average price at Fort William for the period was 99⅞ cents. From this price the administration expenses of the pool will have to be deducted, and this is another feature which will appeal to the farmers who have joined the pool.

The total expense for selling the pool wheat will be less than ½ cent a bushel. The pool handled nearly one-quarter of the wheat harvested in Alberta last year.

THIRD HOLSTEIN SALE OCTOBER 1 IS BIGGEST YET

Forty Head of Purebreds to Be Disposed of to the Highest Bidders.

Animals Consigned From Herds of Best Breeders Within County.

The third annual consignment sale of the Pennington County Holstein Breeders association will take place at the fair grounds in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, October 1. The sale is scheduled to start promptly at 11 o'clock and will continue until all the animals have been disposed of. Borgie & Eukel will act as auctioneers, while Albert Lonson of the Farmers and Merchants State bank will clerk the sale.

In the sale will be included 20 heavy springers and fresh cows, 12 heifers and eight bulls. These are some of Pennington county's best and many of them are show ring winners, A. R. O. cows and calf club winners.

Among the consigners are the following well known breeders: Waldie Christensen, V. C. Noper, S. E. Hunt, J. H. Hardisty & Son, M. T. McFarland, Dr. J. T. Bowers and Casper Wiener of Thief River Falls. Gus Wilson and Oscar Wilson of Plummer.

A large crowd of buyers is expected, many from long distances having signified their intention of being present. Pennington county is attracting attention all over the Northwest as a dairying center and when a dispersal sale of purebreds is held it is an occurrence of more than passing interest to farmers in other parts of this and surrounding states who are making an effort to improve their stock and to engage more extensively in the dairying industry.

All animals to be sold at this sale are purebreds and perfect in every respect . It is an unusual opportunity to secure high grade cattle at right prices, and farmers who desire to improve their herds cannot afford to let it pass by. The Tribune believes there is plenty of room for all of these Holsteins in Pennington county and urges local farmers to join in preventing too many from going to distant points.

ANNUAL SESSION OCCURS SEPT. 26

Pennington County Agricultural Society to Hold Important Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Pennington County Agricultural Society will be held Friday evening, September 26, at the Commercial club rooms. The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock and a large attendance is anticipated as many matters of importance, including election of officers for the ensuing year, will be taken up at this time.

The matter of building a new fence, a new grandstand and possibly a new barn at the fair grounds during the coming year will be taken up at the annual meeting. The need of these improvements has been felt for some time and it is considered likely that action looking toward providing them before next year's fair will be taken by the stockholders.

Secretary J. J. McCann of the association will submit his report to the meeting. Mr. McCann stated to a Tribune representative yesterday that this year's fair was in every respect the most successful in the history of the association. Attendance, exhibits in all departments and financial returns exceeded those of all previous years. This record is very gratifying when it is considered that nearly all fairs in the state, including the state fair, fell short in attendance and in other respects, due in some instance to unfavorable weather but in most cases to general depressed conditions.

A large attendance is anticipated at the meeting. Coffee, doughnuts and cigars will be served during the evening.

New Doctor at Gatzke.

Dr. J. V. Lance, a graduate of the University of Indiana and several other schools, has located at Gatzke to practice medicine. Gatzke is the center of a large section which heretofore has not been served by a resident physician and the folks are naturally very much pleased because of Dr. Lance's decision to locate there.

Want Pennington Alfalfa After Seeing Samples at County State Fair Booth

Once more the value of advertising has been demonstrated. Geo. M. Wilson, in charge of the Pennington county booth at the state fair, this week received a letter from C. W. Van Stone & Co., Minneapolis, requesting information concerning the supply of alfalfa hay available in this county at the present time. The letter states that a representative of the concern had examined the alfalfa shown in the recent Pennington county exhibit at the Minnesota state fair and was very much impressed with its quality. The Van Stone company is a dealer in hay and other farm products and desires to locate a section where a considerable amount of high grade alfalfa hay can be secured.

Erwin Johnston of Bisbee, N. D., was a guest over Sunday at the home of his brother, L. R. Johnston, in this city. He left Sunday evening for Chicago, where he will enter McCormick seminary to study for the ministry.

COUNCIL HOLDS EXTRA SESSION

Vacation of Part of Duluth Avenue Disapproved by Aldermen.

The city council was in session for an hour and a half last Thursday night, considering various matters laid over from the Tuesday night meeting, taking definite action on only three things.

An application from the Eklund Post of the American Legion for a dance permit was agreeably acted upon, the dance being held Friday evening, September 12, in the Legion rooms.

The bids of the Union Plumbing & Heating company, and the Christianson Hardware company for installation of heating plants in the poor house were rejected and the matter was placed in the hands of Chairman Martin Evenson, who was authorized to appoint a committee of three to carry out the work. Steps were taken the following day to provide a satisfactory heating system at a nominal cost and the inmates will be amply provided for before cold weather arrives.

The petition calling for the vacation of Duluth avenue south beyond the new Babcock cut-off was inspected by the council Wednesday and the aldermen were unanimously opposed to the granting thereof, and on motion it was duly disapproved.

Jessie Jackson Here to Organize Local Chapter of Delphian Sorority

Miss Jessie A. Jackson of Sioux City, Ia., field secretary of the Delphian Society, was in the city today making preliminary preparations for organizing a Delphian chapter in this city. She returned to Crookston this afternoon but will be here again on Friday and will attend the meeting of the Girls Community Club on Monday.

Delphian is to the women what the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs are to the men. It is a national sorority for the purpose of promoting higher education, personal improvement, and social progress. It enables all members, whether in the home, society, or business, to keep abreast of the times and to gain a deeper appreciation of the finest in history, music, literature, drama and art.

Being of national significance, it will mean a great deal to the young women of this city if a chapter is organized here. Full particulars of the requirements for organization will be published after Miss Jackson returns and makes a statement concerning them.

Parent-Teachers Reception Highschool Gym October 3

The Parent-Teachers association will hold their first regular meeting of the year in the form of a reception for the teachers on Friday, October 3. The affair will be held in the high school gymnasium, which is now being remodeled but will be finished at that time. This will afford an excellent opportunity for citizens of the city to look over the improved gymnasium as well as to become acquainted with the various school faculties. Plans are now being made for the reception but as the detailed arrangements are not yet known, an announcement of these will be made later.

HIGHWAY TO FINEST LAKE RESORT IN NORTHWEST TO BE CONSTRUCTED AND GREAT PLAYGROUND OPENED

A direct road to the great Red Lakes is as near an assured fact as can possibly be imagined as a result of the visit here on Sunday and Monday of Commissioner Babcock and his assistant, John Mullen. The gentlemen made the trip to the lake Monday morning after resting here over night following a strenuous trip to Winnipeg. On the trip to the lake they were accompanied by a large delegation of Thief River Falls business men.

This was the first visit of Mr. Babcock and Mr. Mullen to the lake and both gentlemen were very much pleased with what they saw. Mr. Babcock took off his shoes and stockings and waded long distances along the shore. "This is the greatest place I have ever seen," said the commissioner, "and it is a wonder to me that efforts to reach the lake have not been made sooner."

It was the expressed opinion of both Babcock and Mullen that the people of the valley have too long been deprived of the chance to reach Red Lake by direct road and the high moguls of the highway department pledged themselves to assist in the construction of the road which now forms the gap between the Pennington county road and the ten miles from the ridge to the lake.

Indian Agent Dooley of the Red Lake Agency, accompanied by Chief Forester McKinney, met Mr. Babcock and his party at the lake, and these gentlemen also pledged themselves to the construction of a direct road to Thief River Falls. It is the intention of Mr. Dooley to work in harmony with Mr. Babcock and he stated that in the near future he will ask the federal authorities to give their assistance to the building of the road.

As the matter now stands Mr. Babcock will make a complete survey of the road and make an estimate of its cost as a first preliminary. Then he will go to Washington if necessary to present the matter of the road to the Indian Bureau. As soon as the Indian Department determines what it will do then Mr. Babcock will include in his own budget a sufficient sum to complete the road. He is determined that the road shall be built. He wants the road from the ridge in improved by widening it to such an extent as to permit the sun and wind to get at the wet spots.

Mr. Mullen was completely entranced by the view he obtained of the lake. Someone had told him Red Lake was a huge marsh full of floating bogs, the whole having a muddy and grassy shore. Instead he saw the finest lake shore in America, and he joined Mr. Babcock in expressing not only his delight with the lake, but his determination that the road should be built for the benefit of the people of the Red River valley.

It was the opinion of the highway officials that the lake will be the mecca of thousands of tourists when the road is completed. That people will come here from all parts of the valley, from the Dakotas, from Montana and from Manitoba.

Mr. Babcock was accompanied here by his assistant, Mr. Mullen, Mr. Ted Richter of the publicity department, R. A. Biller of Bemidji, and Gust Flygare of Fergus Falls, division engineers. These gentlemen also made the trip to the lake Monday morning and each of them gave expression to his delight with the beauties of Red Lake.

A delegation of Thief River Falls business men accompanied the Babcock party to the lake. Among them were Math Barzen, Dan Shaw, F. J. Stebbins, T. P. Anderson and son, Glen, Fred Herrick, Lorne Johnston, E. O. Mogensen, Bert Umland, Olaf Neset and J. S. Arneson. There may have been others but these were the only names obtainable by The Tribune.

Mr. Babcock and his party came here from Winnipeg, where on Saturday they were the guests of Dominion officials and Winnipeg business men. In an address delivered that day Mr. Babcock urged completion of the road to Emerson, stating that this road would bring thousands of tourists to the Canadian city. Brief addresses were made by the ministers of public and finance. Col. Webb of the Marlborough Hotel presided at the dinner. Dr. Watson of Red Lake Falls, L. R. Johnston and Mayor Arneson of Thief River Falls were among the guests at the dinner.

The highway officials made quite an extensive inspection of local roads while here. They were well pleased with the Warren road. The east road to the county line appealed to them as being well constructed and with a little surfacing would make a fine road to Red Lake.

From this city the party proceeded to Red Lake Falls and Crookston. They were due in St. Paul last evening.

While here Mr. Babcock had this to say about the proposed gasoline tax amendment which will be voted upon this fall, being No. 1 on the ballot:

"If Minnesota, following the lead of three-fourths of the states, is to collect a gallon tax of two cents on gasoline, certainly the proceeds ought to be used for roads and nothing else. Under the gasoline tax motorists would pay with nickles and dimes for the use of the roads. The driver who travels most will pay most. The vehicle that weighs most and wears the road most will pay most, and the out-of-state tourists who use the roads now without any toll collection, will also pay their share every time they stop at a filling station."

Thief River Falls Folks Take Part in Defense Day Program; Many Turn Out

Defense Day was appropriately observed last Friday evening with a program at the Princess theatre before a large audience. In the absence of Mayor Arneson, Daniel Shaw acted as chairman of the evening. The program consisted of a prayer and a recitation of the American's Creed by Rev. Charles Gerlinger, community singing and music under the direction of Miss Maude L. Johnson, musical director of the Thief River Falls public schools, and on excellent address by H. O. Chommie.

Mr. Chommie pointed out the purposes of Defense Day, stating that under our form of government it is up to the people themselves to provide and maintain the nation's military forces, as the people under a democratic form of government are the supreme power. Mr. Chommie also explained the nation's military equipment at the present time and the part played in it by the civilian population.

After more community singing and a pledge to the flag, the meeting closed.

Depositors Should Return Reduction Agreements Now

The Tribune has been informed that a number of depositors of the Citizens State bank who failed to return their reduction agreements to the committee prior to September 10, the time specified in the circular letter sent out by the committee, now feel that it is useless to sign and return them because they fear it is too late to be of any value in reorganizing the bank. This, according to W. W. Prichard, Sr., in charge of the reorganization work, is a serious mistake. While it was desirable to get the agreements prior to September 10 in order to facilitate the work of the committee, those who failed to return the papers before that time should not hesitate now because they did not come within the time limit. It is important that as many as possible of these agreements be returned without delay and depositors are urged to attend to the matter immediately. This includes the small depositors as well as those who had larger amounts in the bank. All are urged to return the agreements promptly in order that the committee may proceed in the reorganization work without delay.

Sugar Beet Harvest Will Start Next Week: Content of Sugar Extremely High

The sugar beet harvest in Pennington county will start next week in earnest, according to County Agent J. J. McCann. While the acreage this year is considerably below that of last year, the quality is excellent and some unusually large yields are expected. Experience gained in previous years is beginning to tell in the general excellence of Pennington county beet fields.

According to Mr. McCann, a large number of samples from different fields have been tested during the past week, the tests in all instances revealing a sugar content of 15 to 17 per cent. This is a remarkable showing and goes to prove indisputably that Pennington county is particularly blessed in soil qualities for the successful culture of sugar beets.

Jordan Penney and Dennis McGinn left Monday for Minneapolis to attend to business matters. They expect to return tomorrow morning.

Boys Must Stop Breaking Street Lights or Suffer Penalty, Assert Officers

The practice of breaking street lights at various corners about town must be stopped, said Ole Legvold, superintendent of the Water and light department in conversation today with a reporter. Residents call up the city clerk's office and report that the light on their corner is out of commission and the men are sent to rectify the trouble.

Investigation generally discloses the fact that the bulbs of the lights have been shot away by the boys either with sling shots or with rifles. Some weeks as many as a dozen lights are destroyed and the city is put to too great an expense for replacement and intends to stop the wilful destruction .

Private detectives will be secured if necessary unless the people themselves try to apprehend the boys. The boys when caught will be brought into court and a $10 fine will probably result if it is the first offense, with double that amount for the second time.

The Thief River Valley Cooperative Marketing association will ship a carload of poultry this week. All members are urged to bring in their poultry on Thursday or not later than Friday noon. As much as possible should be brought in as prices may be better now before the rush than later on.

The stations now operating are: Thief River Falls, Goodridge, Grygla, Rosewood, Viking, Newfolden, Holt, Middle River, Strathcona, Greenbush, Hazel, St. Hilaire, Oklee, Erskine and Winger.

The Association has been taking in eggs since last Monday and urges members to bring these in also. A large number are expected this week from outlying districts.

GAS PRICES LOWER.

A reduction of approximately three cents a gallon in the price of gasoline, announced last Friday by the Standard Oil company and effective in several north central states had the effect of reducing the price of gasoline in Thief River Falls from 21.8 to 18.1 cents per gallon. All other oil companies operating in the city immediately followed the price cut of the Standard and local motorists are now able to purchase the essential liquid anywhere at the price above stated. The local dealers who previously had cut the price to 18 cents now have established the same price as others.

DAIRYMEN WILL HOLD BIG MEET HERE THIS YEAR

Red River Valley Association Chooses City for Convention.

Directors of Body to Meet Here Saturday to Make Arrangements.

The annual meeting of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association will be held in Thief River Falls this year, presumably some time during the latter part of November. The decision to hold this year's convention in Thief River Falls was reached by the directors after considering applications from several cities in the valley which desired to act as hosts to the dairymen. The convention last year was held at Crookston. While the actual dates of the convention have not yet been decided upon, it is considered likely that the sessions will be held during the latter part of November, probably the week before Thanksgiving.

A meeting of the directors of the association will be held at the Commercial club rooms in this city next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Plans of awarding premiums and what will be entered in the way of exhibits will be discussed and the dates of the annual convention decided upon.

An effort is under way to induce the dairymen to hold their annual convention in conjunction with the annual crops and poultry show sponsored by the Pennington County Poultry association and the Thief River Falls Commercial club. The meeting next Saturday will be attended by committees representing these bodies and it is considered probable that some plan can be worked out whereby the two events can be joined. If this can be done it will insure one of the biggest agricultural events in the history of the Red River valley. With the fine showing made last year by the crops and poultry show and the improvements planned for this year, it is obvious that if it can be operated in conjunction with the dairymen's convention, the entire affair cannot fail to attract a large number of exhibitors and a record breaking attendance.

GRAVELING JOBS TO BE LET SOON

No. 32 South of City Will Be Improved During the Coming Winter.

Needed highway betterments speeded up, costs spread more fairly under a pay-as-you-use policy with county reimbursement bonds, and motor vehicle taxes covering all outlays, plans for more early improvements on Minnesota's 7,000-mile trunk route system were announced this week by Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner. Bids were called for October 7 on 54 miles of new grading, 92 miles of graveling, 10 bridges and 15 big monolithic culverts on trunk highways in different parts of the state. The seventeen projects total more than $600,000 on preliminery round-figure estimates. Two of the projects are on No. 32, as follows: Thief River Falls south, 7.4 miles graveling at $12,000; Red Lake Falls north, 6.8 miles graveling, at $15,000.

Proposals on the foregoing work will be publicly opened October 7, beginning at 10 a.m. at the leased offices of the highway department in St. Paul. Farm entrance and other culverts are included in all grading projects. Much of the graveling is to be done this winter, it was announced but all the work will be pushed that the public may enjoy the earlier use of the improvements. Contractors located near projects are especially requested to submit proposals, it was stated.

TUNE YOUR PIANO!

Classes in piano have now begun. Do not, for pity's sake, spoil the child's ear by allowing practice on a piano which is out of tune!

I guarantee to tune your piano CORRECTLY or it won't cost you a cent for the job. No one can tune a piano by ear alone, no matter how "good" he may think his ear is. He must know HOW, and that comes with study and years of practice. Last month I tuned 25 pianos in Argyle, Minn., alone, and in every instance the customer was thoroughly satisfied, many of them stating their instrument had never had that clear, ringing tone quality before. That is because I do the job scientifically.

I will be glad to call and inspect your instrument at any time. I also do any kind of repairing.

ROSEWOOD

Sunday School Conference Success.

The general get-to-gether day of the Rosewood, Happy Band, Erickson District, Mavia and Holt Union Sunday schools at Rosewood last Sunday was very successful in every respect and it is estimated that between 200 and 300 friends of the Sunday schools attended. Owing to lack of room the afternoon session was held outdoors. The forenoon session was opened at 10 o'clock by Dist. Supt. E. G. McKnight, who acted as chairman during the day and a splendid program carried out included among other themes a general get-to-gether of the Sunday schools, a song by the Happy Band school; the church in the Wildwood sung by Byron and Borden Sagmoen; Tell me the story of Jesus by five Rosewood girls and Anywhere with Jesus, by four girls; Verses from St. Matt. 5 by Edna Rye; Verses from St. John 1, by Geneva Swenson; Verses from St. Luke 11, by Alice Blomberg and a dialogue by five pupils entitled "Little Folks." At noon a Union dinner was served on the church grounds. The afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock in much the same order as in the forenoon but incuded speeches by Thos. J. Smith, cashier of the Mavie State bank, Rev. Chas. Gerlinger, pastor of the Thief River Falls Presbyterian church, and Rev. E. G. McKnight. Two splendid duets were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Brodine from Thief River Falls and were much appreciated. A sacred drama, "The challenge of the Cross," was presented by seven girls accompanied by their teacher from the Holt Sunday school and was very educational. Rev. McKnight gave a brief outline of the work of the Union Sunday schools during the year and was very interesting. A regret was expressed that Rev. Ferris could not be with us this year, but for those who had the opportunity it was announced that he would speak at the Happy Band school Friday evening, September 19 and it is believed many will take the opportunity of hearing him then.

Shock threshing of all the earlier varieties of small grain will be about completed by the end of this week, and a general satisfaction is prevailing among farmers as well as threshers this season. Some excellent yields are reported., oats on several places yielding up to 60 bushels and succotash 50 bushels. Barley and oats mixed do not seem to yield as well but the quality is improved in doing the mixture. Barley alone is well up in the forties and wheat and rye up to 30. Buckwheat on most farms is a failure, owing to the early frost, and so is practically all seed corn, although some garden spots as that of E. P. Johnson has a fine yield of ripe flint corn. Fodder corn is damaged by frost and several silos are being filled this week. Potatoes and flax promise good yields if this nice fall weather keeps up. Garden truck has been harvested and has given very nice results.

O. S. Hellerud, former cashier of the Farmers State bank of this place, has accepted a position as assistant cashier at the reopened bank of Alvarado and left to take up his duties there on Sept. 15. Mr. and Mrs. Nels Holm from Twin Valley are in town this week as the guests of their daughter, Mrs. O. S. Hellerud and family. Mr. Holm owns a farm east of this place which will be somewhat remodeled thisweek with the building and will be occupied by the John Hanson family in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Warner and daughter Elizabeth from Sedan, and Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Holm of Flom, arirved by car on Sunday and will visit for a few days at the O. S. Hellerud home. Mr. Holm is a brother to Mrs. Hellerud and Mrs. Warner is her sister.

Hans Hanson from Hendrum and Chas. Evenson from Thief River Falls were here in car Monday attending to business matters.

Do not forget to tell your friends and neighbors who are asleep on the job that Pennington county is "the home of alfalfa." It really is and there is much to be proud of in that fact.

Tommy Schall will have to apoligize to the friends of Ole Sageng for the abuse he heaped upon that gentleman during the primary campaign before he can expect to get a single Republican vote in this district.

Thief River Falls is mighty glad to know it is to have the honor of entertaining the Ninth District Dairymen in November. The dairymen are the best boosters to be found in the state and it is a distinct pleasure to act as their hosts.

The old convention system, rotten as it may have been, never would have nominated Tommy Schall for United States senator. Never, never, in the wide world could such a calamity have happened except under the present fool primary law. And to their shame may it be said that this iniquitous law was passed and sanctioned by Republicans.

In Theodore Christianson the Republican party has a candidate of whom it may be proud. It is probably true that never has the party come before the voters with a man better qualified to uphold all good standards of citizenship. He knows our system of government better than any living man. He is not a demagogue, but a sincere and courageous man of whom much may be expected as the governor of Minnesota.

The best thing which has happened to Thief River Falls in a long time is the visit of Commissioner Babcock and his assistant, Mr. Mullen. These gentlemen have travelled about enough to know that a lake such as Red Lake is not to be found in every community. As both of them stated in unison, the people of the valley are entitled to a road to this beautiful body of water, and now by thunder they are going to get it. Hooray for Babcock. Hooray for John Mullen. Thief River Falls is for both of them 100 per cent.

ROADS OF 1904 AND 1924.

Twenty years ago, in going to Ortonville from Minneota, we drove by team to Marshall. From there we took the Great Northern noon train to Granite Falls and there changed to the Milwaukee, arriving in Ortonville late in the afternoon.

When we made the trip in July this summer we drove by automobile along graveled roads of the Babcock system and made it by easy stages in about three hours.

What a difference!

Think of the mud roads of twenty years ago and then look at the graveled roads of today!

Who wants to go back to the old system of roads!

Look at the fine farm homes along the road today. See the herds of blooded cattle. See the barns and silos. Contrast the farmers' conveyances with those of twenty years ago—the automobile on the graveled road today, the old team trudging through the mud twenty years ago! Contrast the heavy drudgery and the hand labor of twenty years ago with the same work done by machinery today. Not that there is not enough hard work, enough drugery today, but surely there is a difference when we look at what the machines today are doing which twenty years ago had to be done by the power of the human arm.

There were few telephones in use through this territory twenty years ago. Only some villages had telephone systems—hardly a rural telephone line anywhere.

Twenty years ago there were mighty few rural mail routes anywhere. There were far fewer and much poorer school houses than today. There was no system of drainage of farm lands. There were few creameries and little in the line of co-operative enterprises.

The phonograph, now a common thing and to be found in almost every home, was then quite rare. The wireless and the radio were unknown.

There was no bus transportation and out in this section of the country we had never seen a flying machine of any kind.

These are but a few of the differences of now and then.

We will not enter into an argument as to whether people are any happier today than they were twenty years ago. Happiness is a relative term and means one thing to one man and quite another to someone else.

The thing that makes one man happy may have no power to move another along the line of the same emotion.

But surely it cannot be denied that there has been progress—progress to the end that men and women may live more in less time.—Minneota Mascot.

THIS WEEK

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

The Real New Year.

What Is "Well Born?"

The Tactful Prince.

Labor Must Save Itself.

Men and women, young or old, with ambition left, should remember that a new year has begun. The new year of SUCCESS does not begin on January 1, in the middle of the winter. It begins now, with summer ended, vacations over, schools open, everything under way.

He who begins carrying out his good resolutions and working hard now instead of waiting until next January 1, will have a start of four months on the others, and that's a good start.

Flying from Greenland to Labrador, the American fliers got back to the American mainland in five months and fourteen days after their start around the world.

Children of the future will be amazed at this slow trip around the world. A feature of public school education in future ages will be a flying trip around the world during summer vacation. The child of twelve will know the principal mountain ranges, rivers and capitals of the world by having actually seen them.

Statistics show that a month of marriage is changing from June to August, and that's a good thing. June is a month from the romantic point of view, August from the practical point of view.

The first baby of an August wedding comes along in the spring with the flowers of May and can be put outdoors at once to get fresh air. In addition, the mother can nurse the baby all through the hot months of the first summer, when the right artificial food is hardest to find.

Scientists, students of eugenics, welfare workers and others, including the brilliant author of the "New Decalogue of Science" are much worried about human breeding, and in the future of the race. "The well born refuse to breed, and the ill born insist on breeding too much," say these anxious worriers.

It all depends on what you call well born. The fortunate child is born of a mother that wants children, and the ill born comes from a mother that does NOT want children.

Time, evolution, gradual lifting up of the frontal angle, and public schools will take care of the human race, if the babies get the right start. The right start begins in a mother's affection for the father of her child. Without that, pity the child. With that, everything else can be straightened out. What heat is in the making of steel, affection is in the creation of children.

Farmers will be interested to know that the Argentine Republic spends $5,000,000 for 89,000 tons of galvanized iron sheets to keep back devouring locusts. The sheets will be given to the farmers free and they will be compelled to put them up, digging a ditch where the locusts will accumulate and be destroyed.

The United States Steel Products company supplies the steel. Here we'd call free steel for farmers socialism.

The young Prince of Wales might have made a successful career on his own hook. He has tact, the keystone in the arch of success.

Reporters wired from the ship that he had danced with a young St. Louis girl whom he had never met. When the news was sent back to the ship by wireless, the Prince requested an introduction to the young woman and danced with her twice.

That reminds you of Abraham Lincoln's tactful treatment of a reporter who had written about Lincoln's life and the books he had read, few enough in number. Lincoln told him that one of the books he had never read, but, to make everything all right, he would read it, and he did.

Labor is one cog in the machine of modern industry, the most important cog, although the machine doesn't admit it. Labor's destiny depends on labor, not benevolent speeches in political campaigns. When men know more they will have more. When they stick together as capitalists stick together, free of religious and race hatreds and prejudices, they will have power.

Prosperity and power they must get for themselves; they will not be handed to them.

Makers of Picture Give New Impetus to Sleepy Hamlet in New England

Yorktown, historic Virginia hamlet of Revolutionary fame, nestling on the James river is aroused. For its few hundred inhabitants, who hitherto have counted the passage of time by the two great events of its career—its place in Revolutionary history and the establishment of a submarine mine base nearby during the World War—what they consider the third outstanding event of history—the filming there by D. W. Griffith of scenes for "America" which comes to the Lyceum soon.

And now Yorktown wants to become a second Hollywood.

Historic houses, standing since 1770, formerly pointed out to visitors as the places where Washington slept, ate, or visited, are now proudly exhibited as the mansions where Griffith took such and such a scene, with various local dignitaries—Revolutionary descendants—as actors.

The quaint old church, practically unchanged since the first service was held there in the early '70s, is today locally more famous as the place where Griffith and his staff attended a Sunday service than as the meeting house where Washington's staff once knelt in prayer.

There is no newspaper in Yorktown, but the intimate details of the scenes Griffith made, of how he and every member of his large company looked, acted, and what they said and ate is known to every inhabitant.

Motion pictures are the sole topic of conversation, and their participation in the film which D. W. Griffith made is the proudest boast of the oldest families.

Even the departure of Griffith and his cohorts failed to bring normalcy back to this once slumbering, now ambitious hamlet. For its people, gone movie mad, are convinced it is to become a motion picture center of vast importance.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Food Sale Next Saturday

The American Legion Auxiliary and the Legion held their regular joint monthly meeting last Thursday evening in the club rooms. There was an unusually large attendance and much spirit and enthusiasm were displayed.

The first part of the evening was devoted to business matters and the remainder to having a social time. Dancing formed the main diversion and refreshments were served at a late hour.

At the business meeting, Mrs. J. M. Bishop was nominated as general chairman of the Women's Auxiliary for the 1925 convention and two committees were appointed. The first, composed of Meadames D. W. Robinson, Leonard Hanson and Harold Provencher, was for the purpose of supervising the food sale to be held at Thompson's Cafe this week Saturday. All the food sold will be made from receipts in the Legion cook book to give the women a chance to make a practical test of these receipts. The second committee is composed of Mesdames Herbert Hanson, Lester Hendry, and Roy Erickson, who will make all arrangements for an invitation dance to be given Friday, September 26, in the Legion club rooms.

Northwest Aggie School to Open on October 1st

Pennington county will be well represented at the Northwest School of Agriculture when it opens its nineteenth year on Wednesday, October first. A greatly increased enrollment will be in attendance. Information received from the Northwest school states that on the average five students are being registered each day. The good returns from this year's crop and the better financial condition among farmers generally is reflected in this increased registration.

Four new faculty members will begin their work at the school. They are Miss Bernice Nolan, who will return after one year's absence to take up the work in domestic art: Miss Norma Helen Rupert, assistant in English; Miss Reefa G. Tordoff, instructor in piano, and Miss Alva Sherwood who will teach the business training subjects. All the other members of the faculty will be the same as last and preceding years.

Potato Co-op. Calls Warehouse Meetings

Exchange to Form Three Subsidaries to Assure Orderly Marketing of Crop.

Members of county potato association boards and state trustees will attend one of three general conferences to be held early next week to complete the warehouse program of the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange.

The first meeting will be held at Crookston September 22, the second at Brainard, September 23, and the third at St. Paul, September 24.

At these meetings, first steps to form three warehouse corporations will be taken. One will serve the Red River section, one the central section, and one the sand land section. County board members will be given complete information as to the number of warehouses taken and leased, together with the financial program involved. Exchange officials will ask for approval of their plans so that actual incorporation of three separate corporations can be stated at once.

Separate warehouse corporations are necessary because if the Exchange owned the houses itself, financing the orderly movement of the crop would be practically impossible because the Exchange can not legally issue warehouse receipts to itself.

President Frank Kiene urges every member of every county board to attend the meeting in his section. Official notices to all county board members were sent out from the St. Paul office late last week.

Present at the three meetings as representatives of the state office will be Frank Kiene of Kennedy, president; Walter Ohy of Detroit, secretary-treasurer; S. G. Rnhinow, general manager; L. H. Wright, director of warehouses; and W. E. Rumble, general counsel.

MUSICAL CLUBS COME TO FRONT

Much Interest Shown in Musical Work by Pupils of Local Schools.

The growth in all the musical organizations of Lincoln high this year is indicative of a greatly increased interest in music.

For instance, the Girls' Glee club had 57 applications for membership and was forced to cut this number down to 35. The Boys' Glee club has 25 members and the orchestra 25, as against 12 last year, showing an increase of over 100 per cent. The History of Music class now has an enrollment of 26. All these organizations are under the supervision of Miss Maude L. Johnson, who is very much pleased with the interest being taken in them this year.

The Girls' Glee club was organized a week ago Monday, when the election of officers took place. The following were chosen: President, Ariel Kinghorn; vice president, Lilian Arnold; secretary-treasurer, Mildred Engen; and custodians, Dorothy Shirley, Bertha Gullingrud, Margaret Brown and Mary Alexander.

The Boys' Glee club held its election Monday evening with the following results: President, Richard Zeh; vice president, Thomas Scanlan; secretary-treasurer, Robert Halvorson; custodians, Harold Will and Eugene Richter.

The orchestra and the two Glee clubs are working hard at present in preparation for their first appearance at the teachers' convention to be held here in October. Besides the direction of these, Miss Johnson, together with Miss Clara Baumann, physical training instructor, will put on a folk song and dance program at the convention in place of the operetta that was formerly announced. Each school in the city will be represented in this program and all participants will be arrayed in appropriate costume dress.

Too much credit cannot be given Miss Johnson for the increased musical interest in the high school and her untiring efforts towards making them successful.

Alumni Downs Lincoln Team in Football Battle

The alumni were victorious over the high school eleven when they defeated them 18 to 6 at the fair grounds last Saturday afternoon. The touchdowns for the alumni were made by the veterans, Jordan Penney, "Rusty" Anderson and Coach L. A. Thune and for the high school by Sylvester Wingeler.

The Lincoln men were in fine condition and had they been able to compare in size and weight with their opponents, the result undoubtedly would have been in their favor. The team already has been whipped into excellent shape and seemed to be practically in mid-season form. All the players showed a knowledge of the game and the various plays which indicated hard practice and good training on the part of Coach Thune.

The game was not lacking in thrills for the large crowd that turned out to see the first game of the season. Lawrence Mickelson, Lincoln high faculty member and player on the alumni, suffered a broken nose when tackled by "Mike' Paranteau, who received a bad cut over the eye at the same time. Roy Brown, another member of the alumni team, sprained his ankle severely and is still unable to be around.

1924 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

The 1924 football schedule is now complete with four of the six games to be played on the home field. The following teams are to be met:

Oct. 4, Warren—there.
Oct. 10, Crookston—here.
Oct. 18, Bemidji—here.
Oct. 25, Mahnomen—here.
Nov. 1, Crookston A. C.—there.
Nov. 11, E. Grand Forks—here.

An attempt was made to schedule games with Red Lake Falls for September 20 and either Stephen or Grafton for September 27, but these were cancelled because Red Lake and Stephen have not yet organized teams and Grafton had that date already filled.

H. O. Chommie Speaks to Students on Defense Dav

H. O. Chommie, local attorney and lieutenant in the Reserve Officers Training Corps, spoke to the students of Lincoln high school last Friday during Defense Day chapel period.

In his address, he explained Defense Day and the reason for the government having such a day to test their defense program. His speech was entertaining as well as instructive, holding the undivided attention of his hearers throughout. Mr. Chommie was exceptionally well qualified to speak on a subject of this kind and his appearance in uniform added to its effectiveness.

The remainder of the program consisted of patriotic songs sung by the student body under the direction of Miss Maude L. Johnson.

Increase in Enrollment.

The enrollment of the local high school is still on the increase, fourteen more having registered since last Monday. The latest figures published showed an attendance of 410, which now has grown to 424. This is divided between the various classes as follows: Seniors 97; Juniors 73; Sophomores 84; Freshmen; 188; and Normal Training 32.

Maccabee Dance.

The Maccabee lodge will give an old-time dance next Tuesday evening, September 23, at 9:00 o'clock at the Sons of Norway hall. Music will be furnished by a two-piece orchestra. All members of the lodge are privileged to invite five guests who are not members.

***

Community Club Meeting.

The Girls' Community club will meet next Monday evening at eight o'clock in the Legion club rooms. The membership campaign, which was prolonged two weeks at the last meeting, will end and the winning side will be disclosed. There has been very keen competition between the red and the blue sides and from all indications, the enrollment of the club has increased almost double. Refreshments will be served at the meeting by the Misses Ruth Wold, chairman; Carrie Trogen, Nora Steen, Mildred Thompson, Alice Stapleton, Sarah Vaughan, Evelyn Thoreson, Anne Tharaldson, Esther Tandberg, and Emma Tandberg.

$250.00 IN CASH PRIZES
for one little IDEA
You can win it! All you need is a sheet of paper, pen and ink—or a typewriter—and an idea! Then sit down and write!
Minnesota is leading the country in motor bus transportation. Last year Minnesota buses carried 8,790,000 passengers. The bus operators paid over $150,000 in cash for insurance to protect passengers. To date this year the bus operators have paid over $150,000 in taxes to the State of Minnesota. The average bus pays a tax of $500 a year as compared to $16.00 paid by the average pleasure car.
The bus owners, fully appreciating that operating a bus line is a distinct public service and absolutely essential to the building up of their respective communities, have formed the Minnesota Motor Bus Association the better to unify their service and develop it for the public good.
This Association wants to pay you for your cooperation to the best of its ability and is offering $250 in cash prizes for the 18 best letters written on this subject:
"How Motor Bus Transportation Serves My Community and How It Could Be Improved"
You know how motor buses have made travel more convenient, safe and comfortable for your community and helped build it up. Tell us about it. That's easy. And you surely can think up an idea to improve it. Tell us that also. That's all you have to do. Now—right NOW is the best time to write that letter. Ten minutes' effort may win $75, $50 or $25 for you. You don't have to be clever or learned. It's your ideas we want, written your own way, in your own words.

Minnesota Plum Day

Looking over the orchards on Plum Day at the Minnesota Fruit Breeding Farm. Left: Fred Haralson, superintendent, holding a box of new variety, Minnesota No. 157. Above: Prof. Alderman telling Mrs. Edward Norquist and Mrs. Joe Holmes of Pennington county, about another new plum, No. 5.

Under the caption "Little Visits in the Field", The Farmer of St. Paul has an interesting article this week which The Tribune is reprinting below:

Plums are probably the most popular of all the tree fruits in Minnesota. This fact probably acounts for the large attendance at the annual Plum Day at the state fruit breeding farm, university of Minnesota. Zumbra Heights, Hennepin County, on August 22, and the great interest shown in the progress of recommended and trial varieties being grown there.

Prof. W. H. Alderman, president of the Minnesota State Horticultural society, and Fred S. Haraldson, superintendent of the farm, led the 400 visitors on their tour through the plum orchards. They were assisted by R. S. Mackintosh, secretary of the society, and horticultural editor of The Farmer. The weather was ideal for such an outing, and visitors came from near and far. Mrs. Joe Holmes and Mrs. Elward Norquist, of Pennington county, probably hold the record coming the greatest distance.

Unfortunately, few of the plums had ripened, owing to the lateness of the season. Mr. Haraldson, however, had a few of a new unnamed variety which he permitted only a few to taste. It is No. 157 of the varieties developed at the breeding farm, is red in color, and as large as the California plums. It ripens early, bears the third year, and is of fine quality. It probably will be named this year, and possibly may get a place on the recommended list.

After visiting the orchards, someone asked Prof. Aldermen which were the best commercial varieties for Minnesota. He hesitated to choose the "best" varieties, since opinions differ, but named these six red plums in the order that they ripen as his personal selection: Underwood (No. 91), Tonka (No. 21), Red Wing (No. 12), Monitor (No. 70), Elliot (No. 8), and the Mendota (No. 5), which is the last plum to be given a name. Among the yellow plums he favors the La-Cresent (No. 109) for the home orchard, and the Golden Red (No. 120) for commercial orchards.

He would plant, he said, at least 25 per cent Tonkas, and divide his plantings about equally among the other five varieties of red plums which he named as his favorites. He urged the growing of at least three varieties together to be certain of successful pollination. Varieties grown singly do not pollinate well.

The visitors also showed much interest in the new Zumbra plum which is a very good substitute for the cherry, and those growing apples took occasion to look over the new Haralson apple which is giving a good account of itself.

All in all it was a day well spent by those interested in fruits, and a splendid opportunity to learn what the University of Minnesota and the Minnesota State Horticultural Society are doing in an experimental way for the fruit-growing industry in this state.

GRAVE CONCERN OVER SEED CORN

C. G. Selvig Fears Southern Seed Will Be Much Used in 1925.

The weather the last week in the Red River valley has caused much concern regarding the corn crop, especially with reference to securing mature seed corn for next year's planting, according to Prof. C. G. Selvig of Crookston. "As it stands, the bulk of next year's crop will be grown from southern seed. Even this undoubtedly will be scarce and difficult to obtain," Mr. Selvig said. "A severe blow to the corn industry of the Northwest may result from the extinction of many excellent strains of adapted varieties unless an extraordinary effort is made to preserve enough home grown seed to continue these lines, and years of work may be lost. A few fortunate seed corn growers have reserved sufficient seed of the 1923 crop to plant at least a portion of their own acreage next spring. A few others may be able to select some viable seed from corn carried over for feeding purposes. Some may be fortunate enough to secure home grown seed from reserve stock of their neighbors or local dealers.

"All who have well adapted strains of northern varieties should select and cure enough seed from their own fields, even if immature, to plant a seed plot next season. Numerous tests have proved that well adapted kernels which have reached the roasting ear stage when their natural ripening process is prevented by early frost will germinate and produce healthy plants if the seed has been properly cured. Hence the grower whose field has been injured by frost should be able, by selecting the earliest ears available, to get enough seed of his own raising to plant at least a seed plot next spring. Thus his well-adapted strain may be preserved.

"The earliest ears may be selected either in the field before cutting the stalks or from the shocks before hard freezing weather sets in. The earlier date is preferable as it gives more time for thorough curing of the seed before extreme cold weather comes. These ears should be hung up in a warm, well ventilated room. Some means of artificial heat is recommended to hasten the drying process. Considerable shrinkage will result, with shriveling of the kernel, but seed corn cured in this way may be expected to show a fair percentage of germination even though it has been picked when very immature.

"One hundred ears selected in this way will be sufficient to plant a seed plot of several acres next year. By this means the work of years or selection for earliness will not be lost through the necessary introduction of seed of poorly adapted strains.

"It should be understood that this recommendation applies only to growers who have improved their corn by several years of selection for earliness. If purchasing new seed year has been the practice it may be more economical to purchase next year's seed if it can be obtained."

If Uncle Sam Owned the Railroads ?

The LaFollette platform calls for government ownership of railroads. The LaFollette campaign is to be conducted with special appeal to the farmer vote, especially the farmer vote of the Northwest states.

There arises the question: Do the farmers wish the government to own and operate the railroads?

A very illuminating editorial on the subject of government ownership of railroads in its bearing on taxes appears in the August 30 number of "The Country Gentleman."

Government-owned railroads and railroad property, like federal buildings, would be exempt from taxation by states, counties or municipalities. On this phase of the subject the editorial referred to comments in parts as follows:

That would mean a loss of $8,425,892 tax revenue for Minnesota; $7,321,976 for Wisconsin; $6,849,703 for Iowa; $8,739,348 for Kansas; $5,365,980 for Nebraska; $4,679,693 for Montana, and $4,072 282 for North Dakota.

These losses, which would have to be made up by increased taxes on other forms of property, are equivalent to $32 for every farm, or $2.80 for every man, women and child in Iowa.

To $40 for every farm or $3.90 for every person in Minnesota.

To $52.40 for every farm or $6.30 for every person in North Dakota.

And to $81.25 for every farm or $8.50 for every person living in Montana.

These figures in every case are based on official records.

The bulk of more than $300,000,000 annually distributed by the railroads in taxes goes to the states and counties—$248,605,094 out of $300,452,723 in 1922, and a still larger amount last year.

It is pointed out that drying up railroad taxes would have a particularly adverse affect on the agricultural states, notably those of the Northwest.

"On the basis of the 1923 collection," says the treasurer of Rosebud county, Montana, "the loss of railroad taxes would increase the levy on remaining property 56 per cent, thereby becoming an unbearable burden on the taxpayer."

For a dozen North Dakota counties, chosen at random, abolition of railroad taxes would increase general tax levies from 8.86 per cent to 23.47 per cent.

Says the editor of "The Country Gentleman":

"Railroad taxes, in effect, have acted as a medium for equalizing the social balance between the newer localities and the older and richer industrial regions. It is in these older and richer regions that most of the stockholders of the railroads reside. So railroad taxes act as a means of siphoning funds from these regions to pay for improvements in localities that could not otherwise afford them at this time."

Some may contend that there would be for the farmers a compensation for the loss of railroad taxes in the fact of lowered freight rates under government ownership and operation. The credulity that underlies this argument is of a part with the credulity of the child that goes in quest of the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. What is there in the transportation experience of the country to bolster this placid faith? What has there been in the spirit and workings of American political affairs to give it substance?

Not only would hundreds of millions of state and local revenue in taxes cease with government ownership of the railroads, but federal taxes would go up to take care of interest and principal on the purchase price of the properties. As between the West and the East, as between the farm community and the industrial community, the former has the greater reason for backing away from the LaFollette platform proposal regarding the railroads.

GREAT NORTHERN IS PREPARED

The territory served by the Great Northern Railway harvests its crops and ships to market its heaviest load in the fall season.

This year the Great Northern is prepared to handle a larger traffic than ever before. It has purchased many large, new locomotives of the most modern type; it has purchased and rebuilt thousands of new freight cars; it has built new track and improved old; it is equipped to do the people's work well.

Its Oriental Limited Train and other passenger trains are the acme of perfection in passenger service. The extensive use of oil burning locomotives make the route of the Oriental Limited the longest cinderless mileage of any railroad in the Northwest.

A supply of cars is one of the important elements in the preparation for the heavy freight business. The Great Northern not only owns ample equipment for the crop moving season, but it has these cars on its own lines ready for business and in excellent condition. So prepared the Great Northern is confident that it can give adequate service to the Northwest throughout the busiest season of the year. It appreciates your patronage and asks, in your own and its interest, that you help it to

Load cars to capacity
Load and unload promptly
Load cars properly to avoid loss and damage
Avoid diversion wherever possible.

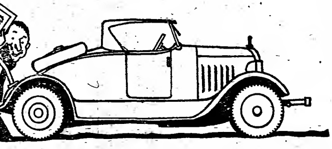
Treat Your Gasoline With

Blitzen Fluid

"The Fountain of Motor Youth"



Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas

Increases Mileage of Gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon.

CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor troubles. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap in motor engineering, as it softens the fiery coke-like carbon deposits and expels it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forms a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

When carbon is gone grinding of valves becomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean and perform at their highest efficiency; carbon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and you will enjoy that extra power and smoothness of a clean well preserved motor.

Blitzen Fluid is used by men in the Auto Motive industry who know that it will not injure the most sensitive motor. It is produced by chemists to put and keep your motor in the state of highest efficiency and saves in gasoline and repair bills sufficiently to entirely or largely reduce the cost.

ADD 2 OUNCES OF Blitzen Fluid TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS and give Blitzen Fluid a fair test in accordance with the condition of your motor. Notice the difference.

In your community Blitzen Fluid "The Fountain of Motor Youth" is sold at Pyramid pumps and service stations.

GRAIN GROWERS ARE LOSERS BY LATEST RULING

Change Made in Routing Privilege Said to Work Real Hardship.

Cars Billed Through to Terminal Markets Without Hold-over.

Grain growers and shippers in the Northwest are condemned to lose several cents per bushel on a large part of the grain shipped to terminal markets in Minnesota, because of a ruling just adopted by a committee of the Northwest Regional Advisory Board of the American Railway association.

For many years it has been the custom of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Soo Line railroads to hold cars of grain at interior division points for the drawing of samples for official inspection, and thus avoid congestion and delay at their terminals in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth. At the request of these railroads, sampling stations have been established by federal and state authorities at Willmar, Glenwood, St. Cloud, Staples, Cass Lake, Sandstone and Thief River Falls.

When the establishment of these points as official sampling stations, it has also become the custom for many shippers of grain to take a rightful advantage of this hold-over rule in the shipment of their grain to terminal markets. In some cases they have consigned cars directly to these points for inspection, and then reconsigned to Minneapolis or Duluth by short haul, according to the condition of the market. In other cases they have consigned through to Minneapolis or Duluth, with instructions to hold at one of these intermediate points for inspection, and with the privilege of diverting to the other terminal market by short haul, should the price be more favorable.

Now, by action of the Joint Terminal Grain Committee of the Northwest Regional Advisory Board, these intermediate consignment privileges are withdrawn. It is the intention of the committee that the use of these stations by shippers as intermediate consignment points is the cause of much more congestion and delay than is caused by the mere sampling of grain at these points, and that all such causes of congestion and delay must be remedied if the present crop is to be moved. Cars will still be held for sampling at these points, but shippers must bill through to the terminal markets of Minneapolis, St. Paul or Duluth.

Wm. J. Brown, president of the American Wheat Growers Associated, which is the central selling agency for the Minnesota wheat pool and other state pools in the Northwest, has uttered a vigorous protest against this action by the committee and by the railroads concerned. "I consider it an outrage against the grain growers of the Northwest," said Mr. Brown, "that this ruling was made without giving the representatives of the grain growers any chance to be heard.

"The ruling of the committee was made on September 11. Learning from other sources that some such action was contemplated, I endeavored to present the arguments of the grain growers to the committee and requested opportunity to present evidence to substantiate our position; but was denied admittance to the committee room. I was promised by two members of the committee, however, that no final action would be taken that day. Then the committee did take final action, with no other advice than that of five railroad representatives present and a representative of the State Railroad and Warehouse commission.

"It is perfectly apparent that the arguments presented to the committee were entirely one-sided in favor of the railroads, when the representativs of the growers were denied even admittance to the meeting. It is also perfectly apparent that the ones to gain the most material advantage from the new ruling are the railroads, which will have the extra freight charge when shipments are consigned by long haul from one terminal to another instead of [illegible] at intermediate points by short haul. They will say, of course, that they were instructed to make the change by the Regional Advisory board and the State Railroad and Warehouse commission, to facilitate the movement of the crop, but that will not explain why the committee was so thoroughly picked in their interest.

"I contend that any congestion and delay removed by this ruling from the intermediate sampling points will merely be added to the congestion and delay at the terminal markets. I contend also that car conditions at intermediate points could have been improved by other means than the taking away of the only discretionary privilege the farmer had in the marketing of his grain. The voice of the farmers of the Northwest undoubtedly will be heard in regard to this arbitrary and discriminatory action."

Member of Local Welfare Board Attends Meeting of State Body at "U" Farm

Mrs. L. G. Larsen returned Sunday morning from the state conference of Social Workers which was held from September 6 to 12 at the university farm school in St. Paul. Mrs. Larsen acted as representative of the local Social Welfare board.

Among the many questions discussed at the meeting were "The health of the child", "Supervised play", "Mother's allowances", "The problem of the child in schools for the delinquent", and "Family life in connection with delinquents". Dr. Parker of New who is connected with the penal institutions of that state, addressed the conference several times on the subject of delinquents and state institutions, about which he is exceptionally well qualified to speak. There were many other interesting addresses and very good speakers, among whom were Father Daugherty of St. Paul and Miss Cascen Dyck, also of St. Paul.

Mrs. Larsen states that it was a very fine conference in every particular and most beneficial to the large number of social workers who attended. Lars Backe, judge of probate, was also present at several of the meetings to hear about the commitment of individuals to various state institutions.

SPEAKER GIVES POWERFUL TALK

W. J. Thorne Delivers Two Strong Lectures Here During Week.

The lectures given last Friday and Sunday at the auditorium by W. J. Thorne on "World Dominion Being Transferred," were well attended, and the speaker was given good attention as he unfolded a brief history of the world, showing the causes of the present distress upon the nations. Following are a few brief excerpts from the addresses:

The World war came as a shock because it was thought humanity was so far advanced that war was practically outlawed through the preaching of the Gospel. But that the world was far from that heart condition which is conductive to peace may be readily seen by the selfishness manifested during and since the war in the graft and profiteering which has stirred the world and caused it to quake.

The Scriptures describe our day, saying, "Upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken." (Luke 21:25,26). The powers of heaven mean the spiritual ruling powers of ecclesiasticism. Thus it forecasts a commotion in the religious world. This we see has already developed among those called Modernists and Fundamentalists. This controversy is only getting started and all will do well to acquaint themselves with the facts on both sides.

The prophet Isaiah (24:20,21) says, "The earth shall reel to and fro like a drunkard, and shall be removed like a cottage; and the transgression thereof shall be heavy upon it; and it shall fall, and not rise again. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall punish the host of the high ones that are on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth." The earth here means the people of the present social order and they are bewildered and confused, because no one seems to know how to lead the way out. The punishment coming to the high ones and to the kings means that they shall be rendered powerless, and when this is recognized they will be "as prisoners", as the contex suggests.

The Psalmist (10726,27) gives his verdict: "Their soul is melted because of trouble. They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and are at their wits' end." And verses 28-30 show that God will bring the world out of its trouble, and bring peace and quietness, and make the world of mankind glad.

Why is this great change taking place? Satan has long had a heavy hand over mankind, causing slavery, ignorance, superstition and selfishness to hold it, in order that humanity should not have the freedom, intelligence, wisdom and love that God predetermined that it should have. Satan's rulership has been a usurped one, out of harmony with the character of God, but permitted by Him until another feature of His plan should mature. The time of liberation has come, and therefore the trouble in the world is the natural consequence.

The first dominion of earth was given to Adam over 6000 years ago. (Hebrews 3:6,7). He disobeyed and lost all. Misery and woe, war and bloodshed, sickness and death, have pursued the race with a relentless vengeance from that day to this—so long in fact that many erroneously conclude that these must follow mankind until all go into the tomb.

God chose the children of Abraham to be His representative people in the earth until the "seed of promise" should come. The seed, Paul explains, is Christ and His church glorified. Kings were chosen in Israel from the tribe of Judah. Most of the kings were bad kings; and when the nation of Israel got apparently beyond reformation, God removed their king and declared that the kingdom should remain overturned until he comes whose right it is and it would then be given to him. The one referred to is unquestionably Jesus and His church; for Daniel (7:27) says: "The kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High."

The prophetic, or God-given blessing, which Jacob pronounced over Judah was: "The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall be the gathering of the people be." (Genesis 49:10). Sceptre means right to rule; and though Zedekiah had been dethroned in 606 B. C., the right of rulership was not lost to the tribe of Judah, and Jesus was declared to be the "Lion of the tribe of Judah." Shiloh has reference to the Prince of Peace, which title belongs to Jesus at his second advent rather than at the first advent.—Isaiah 9:6.

When the dominion was lost in 606 B. C., there began to count the "times of the Gentiles," a clearly defined, marked-off period of 2,520 years, which reached to 1914 A. D., the very time when the World war began its devastation and the kingdoms of earth began to be overthrown. When we understand that Jesus and those who reign with Him in glory are spirit beings, unseen by natural eyesight, it is not hard to comprehend how Jesus at that time could have assumed control over nations and is now dashing them to pieces as a potter's vessel.

The expressions, "Lion of the tribe of Judah," and "Tower of the flock" (Micah 4:8) imply that there are others with Jesus in the heavenly realm and signify that the first resurrection is in process of consumation. See Luke 12:32 and Revelation 20:6. May it not be, then, that the world unknowingly is passing over the threshold of the Messianic kingdom into that wonderful time when the world shall yield her increase and become like Eden, and when the human family will get well of all sickness, grow into the virility of youth, and thence into mental, moral and physical perfection and live forever!—Jeremiah 33:6; Isaiah 33:24; Job 33:24-26.

The kingdom for which Christians have so long prayed is at the door. This means a kingdom of peace and happiness and life upon the earth. Then the Lord shall make "wars to cease unto the end of the earth." Nation shall not lift up sword against nation; neither shall they learn war any more. The race shall then enter into its inheritance.—Psalm 37:29, John 8:51.

Many Daily Papers Sold at Laird Specialty Shop

Five years ago this month the Laird Specialty Shop started selling newspapers and magazines in connection with its other business and last week saw the regular sales of daily papers pass the one hundred mark. Minneapolis, St. Paul, Grand Forks, Duluth, Chicago and New York daily papers are carried at all times, as well as all of the leading magazines.

With increased tourist travel next year Mr. Laird intends to add daily papers from other leading cities of the country as he had several inquiries regarding them this past season. The fact that the road to the Red lakes will be in better condition for travel will induce many new tourists to come to this city.

Leave for West.

Oscar Anderson and his mother Mrs. Ella Larson, left Monday for Tacoma, Wash., where they expect to make their home in the future if they find conditions to suit them. They have been residents of Thief River Falls for 11 years, nine years of which time Mr. Anderson has been employed as baker by the Northern Baking company. Mrs. Larson's health has been poorly for some time and the change of location is made in the hope that a milder climate may prove beneficial to her.

DEPOSITORS ARE ASKED TO HURRY

Promptness Necessary in Returning "Reduction Agreements."

While the plan of reorganization for the Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls is meeting with much favor among depositors and others interested, the committee in charge desires to stress the importance of getting the reduction agreements signed and returned to the committee at the earliest possible moment. In this connection a statement prepared by W. W. Prichard, Sr., head of the committee, is of interest. The statement follows:

"To the depositors of the Citizens State bank:

"Your committee desires to inform you of the progress made towards reopening of the Citizens State bank and also call your attention to some of the difficulties it has to contend with.

"The depositors reduction agreements have been coming in freely. A large per cent of the largest depositors have cheerfully signed the agreement and subscribed for stock. There are, however, those that hesitate to sign, not because they do not believe in the plan of reopening the bank, but from lack of understanding of the plan. To those the committee would say that it is ready and willing to furnish any information the depositors may desire that they may be absolutely satisfied that it is the proper thing to do.

"The committee calls to your attention the law or the lack of law governing the reopening of a closed bank.

"Though a very large per cent of the depositors of a closed bank sign the reduction agreement, it is possible, as the law now reads, for a few men governed by selfish interests to block it.

"It is to be hoped that such a condition will not continue indefinitely as there are nearly 100 banks in the state now closed with millions of dollars tied up that the banking department desires to see reopened for business.

"There are many who have stated to members of the committee that they intended to sign the agreement but are slow in returning the blanks. To such the committee again appeals to send in the agreement promptly, that those in charge of the work may be free to give of their time to many other details that must be looked after other than securing the reduction agreement.

"The banking department is of record that it desires to see the Citizens State bank reopened for business, as the community will thus be served and the assets conserved rather than sacrificed."

Hanson-Barzen Mill Co. to Install Power Plant

The Hanson-Barzen Milling company is making arrangements to operate its mill and elevator with power generated outside of the water wheel which has furnished a major portion of the power required by the concern for many years past. Due to the fact that the water lease expired September 1 and because the city will require all the power available from water flowing over the dam, the milling company will install a 100 horsepower Fairbanks & Morse oil engine to furnish the necessary power for the operation of the mill. The elevator, feed and rye mill will be run with electric motors.

This new engine is expected to arrive about October 15 and will be installed immediately. The mill has not been grinding during the past week on account of necessary repairs to the machinery but expects to resume operations within a few days.

Great Northern Performs Feat in Moving Shipment

The Great Northern railroad played an important part in breaking the world's record for the speedy handling of silk shipments when two trains of ten and nine cars each recently traveled from Seattle to St. Paul, a distance of 1,784 miles, in 39 hours and 28 minutes and 38 hours and 50 minutes, respectively. This means that the first train made an average speed of 45.2 miles per hour and the second an average of 45.9 miles per hour.

This is an unusual record and broke all previous achievements of the same kind.

Legion Races to Take Place Next Sunday

SPEED CARNIVAL BILLED FOR LAST SUNDAY AND PREVENTED BY RAIN TO BE STAGED SUNDAY, SEPT. 28

Thrilling Events Prepared for Entertainment of Visitors at Fair Grounds Track—Warren and Karlstad Bands to Furnish Snappy Music All Day.

It rained to beat the band last Sunday, which naturally put the kibosh on the speed carnival planned that day at the Pennington county fair grounds by Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion. But the Legionaires haven't abandoned the idea by any means. They are going to try it again next Sunday just as though nothing had happened. Not only that but they are planning on several additions to the program in order to make it more enjoyable for everyone attending.

Chief among the added attractions is the Karlstad Concert band, which played several selections on the streets of Thief River Falls a few Sundays ago and is therefore known to be a first class musical organization. The Warren band, one of the best in this section, has agreed to dispense of its best tunes all day.

The racing program, a detailed account of which appears in a display advertisement on another page of The Tribune today, is exceptionally strong. Some of the best drivers in the Northwest will be present and if the spectators don't get plenty of thrills it won't be their fault. A number of events for home drivers also have been arranged so that those who think they have speedy cars will be given plenty of opportunity to demonstrate.

The races begin promptly at two o'clock and are expected to continue until the supply of gasoline gives out. The track has been under the care of an experienced man for some time and will be in first class shape for next Sunday.

Proceeds from the race meet will be used to help defray expenses connected with the state convention of the Legion here next year. It is a worthy object and the local post is entitled to liberal support.

NOTED SPEAKER COMES TO CITY

W. I. Nolan Scheduled For Address Soon in Thief River Falls.

In the person of W. I. Nolan, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, who speaks in Thief River Falls Monday evening, September 29, and at St. Hilaire the next morning at 9:30, the voters of this county are to be hosts to one of the best speakers and one of the best informed officials in the state.

Advance reports of Mr. Nolan's address are to the effect that Mr. Nolan is subordinating his own candidacy in the interests of his associates on the Republican ticket, and is presenting concrete reasons why the electorate of Minnesota should support President Coolidge and General Dawes; why their interests will be best served in Washington by Congressman Thomas D. Schall, candidate for United States senator, and why the state will derive the greatest amount of good from a Republican administration, headed by Theodore Christianson, candidate for governor.

Mr. Nolan is one of the leading orators in the Northwest. He knows his subject and is fearless in his attack. He is thoroughly familiar with the workings of the state government, having served through a number of sessions of the legislature, where his faithfulness and ability was capped by a three-time election to the speakership.

The voters of this district will do well to listen to Mr. Nolan. They are assured of first-hand information that will serve them as a guide when they go to the polls in November. Mr. Nolan's own election is virtually conceded by the opposition.

Sold Fish Illegally.

On complaint of Game Warden Wm. Munch, Sheriff Ihle yesterday brought Baptise Maxwell, Red Lake Indian, before Judge Tarrant on a charge of selling fish illegally in this city. After hearing the testimony of the game warden, the judge imposed a fine of $20 which was paid. The fish alleged to have been sold here were caught in Red Lake according to the statement of Mr. Munch.

GOOD ALFALFA YIELD

P. H. Lian, farmer residing near Gatzke, reported to The Tribune the other day that he had threshed eleven sacks of Grimm alfalfa seed from a tract of seven acres, or about 235 pounds to the acre. This is a very good yield and at prevailing prices for the seed will make a gross return of nearly $100 per acre.

Mr. Peterson is known to be an able speaker and a large number of LaFollette and Wheeler backers will no doubt be present at the meeting.

D. W. Griffith Introduces Many Distinct Novelties in "America."

D. W. Griffith, responsible to a greater degree than anyone for innovations in the making of photoplays, and father of the motion picture as a vehicle for art, has again made a radical departure from established custom in the filming of "America," the titanic epic of Revolutionary days, which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 2, 3, and 4.

In fact, it may be rightly stated that "America" embodies more distinct novelties in motion picture production than even the masterpieces with which Griffith hitherto has revolutionized the theatre world.

Because of the fact that the production was undertaken at the instigation of our most prominent patriotic organizations, representatives of which were present at the filming of the various scenes, and that through Secretary of War Weeks the United States Army co-operated, Mr. Griffith first sought to achieve the most meticulous accuracy from a romantic and historical point of view.

To this end he established a research bureau of experts to delve into the historical documents housed in public and private museums and collections throughout the country. This staff of experts, among whom are numbered the leading authorities on the Revolutionary period have been required to settle every mooted question in regard to the most minute details of the War of Independence. Such an apparently trivial, yet historically important problem as the color of Paul Revere's horse occupied the individual attention of a corps of research workers for nearly a month.

Aroused to a high pitch of enthusiasm over Mr. Griffith's aims in producing "America," patriotic organizations throughout the country not only volunteered their services to aid in the research work, but, defying custom and tradition, took from the museum cases and private vaults which housed them for years invaluable relics of the Revolution and offered them to the famous director for use in his picture.

Concord and Lexington, Mass., led in this wholesale temporary turning over of the most sacred relics of our battle for freedom, and Mr. Griffith has been able to use as properties for his scenes antiques from the shrines of the Revolution which have never before been photographed, let alone by a movie camera.

Poultry Co-op. Reported Doing Big Business; Egg Shipments Start Sept. 25

The Thief River Falls Co-operative Poultry Marketing association, which began operations a short time ago, reports a rapidly increasing business. On Tuesday 421 dozen eggs were received from Newfolden alone. The first shipment of poultry went out last Saturday. October 6 will be the next poultry day. New stations have been opened at Rosean, Warroad, Plummer and Brooks.

At the present time eggs are divided into three grades, and the shipper is urged to get his eggs in fresh. Extra firsts, 23 ounces and up, fresh, clean and free from heat. Firsts, 22 to 23 ounces, reasonably clean, fresh, but may be slightly heated. Second, badly heated, evaporated, small, dirty and cracked.

The fact that the local association is far-reaching is evident to judge from a letter received this week from G. E. Ellingson of Rollette, N. D., asking for a membership in the local body.

A great deal of breakage will be eliminated if all members will get the standard cases and the grade of eggs will be increased by so doing.

DAIRYMEN NAME MEETING DATES

Red River Valley Association to Gather Here November 19-20.

At a meeting of the directors of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association, held last Saturday in this city, it was decided to hold the annual convention of that body in this city on Wednesday and Thursday, November 19 and 20, these being the dates of the Pennington county poultry show. The directors deemed it advisable to join with the poultrymen in order to attract a larger crowd and to make a better exhibition possible. Whether or not a crops show will be added at the same time is uncertain, but the matter is now under consideration by the proper committees and a decision will be announced in the near future.

The program for the dairymen's convention is now in course of preparation and will be ready for publication in a short time. In addition to a large number of good speakers it is planned to arrange for a fine line of exhibits covering the various phases of dairying, the purpose of the directors being to make it in every way the most successful convention held by the association.

The Pennington County Poultry association expects to put on the greatest show in its history, which means that it will be one of the very best in the state.

MANY HOLSTEIN CATTLE PUT UP FOR NEXT SALE

Event Here Wednesday Attracts More Than Usual Interest.

Forty Head of Purebreds to Be Placed on Auction Block Oct. 1.

With the event only one week away, those in charge of the annual consignment sale of the Pennington County Holstein association, which will take place at the fair grounds pavilion in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, October 1, are busy making final preparations. Many inquiries regarding the sale have come from long distances and it is evident that it is creating a great deal of interest among dairymen in all parts of this section. If the weather is favorable a record crowd should be in attendance.

Twenty cows, twelve heifers and eight sires have been consigned for this sale from the herds of the best Holstein breeders in Pennington county. Every animal is a purebred of the highest type which would make a splendid addition to the herd of any farmer who desires to improve the quality of his dairy stock. Among the consignors are the following: Waldie Christensen, V. C. Noper, S. E. Hunt, J. H. Hardisty & Son, M. T. McFarland and Casper Wiener, Thief River Falls; Gus and Oscar Wilson of Plummer. Many of the animals offered are show ring winners, A. R. O. cows and calf club winners.

To show its interest in the event, the Thief River Falls Commercial club has decided to hold its weekly noonday luncheon and meeting at the fair grounds pavilion on the day of the sale. Lunch will be served by the Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church. The business men are keenly interested in the dairying industry and there is no doubt that a large number of them will be present at the club meeting and sale to help boost things along.

Borgie and Eukel have been secured as auctioneers while Albert Lonson of the Farmers and Merchants State bank will act as clerk.

PEA CANNERY TO BE CONSIDERED

Commercial Club to Take Up Matter at Thursday Meeting.

Preliminary steps for the erection of a pea cannery in Thief River Falls are to be taken at the noon meeting of the Commercial club tomorrow (Thursday). President Froehlich of the club and others have had the matter under consideration for some time and believe the plan is in every way feasible. Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture J. H. Hay, formerly superintendent of schools in this city, believes a cannery should be erected here and has taken an active interest in the matter.

The two latter are now financing a cannery at Little Falls. With these men present it will be possible to thresh out the whole subject of expense and finance at the meeting.

Cannery enterprises of the nature proposed in Thief River Falls have been found to be very profitable enterprises in other communities and it is to be hoped that one can be established here. Turn out to the meeting tomorrow and lend a hand in putting it across.

Nationally Prominent Men Billed for Talks Here in Near Future.

Pennington county folks will be given an opportunity next Tuesday evening, September 30, of hearing talks of two men prominent in the political life of the country. According to advices received by The Tribune this week, Congressman Gilbert Haugen of Iowa, author of the McNary-Haugen bill, and J. Adam Bede, formerly congressman from the eighth Minnesota district, will be the principal speakers at a Republican meeting scheduled for the auditorium at 8 o'clock on the evening above stated. The party will come to this city from Greenbush, where an afternoon meeting will be held.

With the election only a few weeks away, interest in politics is on the increase and Pennington county voters should avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing issues discussed by men who are in every way qualified to do so. KIDS TO ENTER SPELLING EVENT

Pennington county rural school pupils will take part in the eleventh annual Red River Valley rural school spelling contest which will be held in connection with the 1925 Red River Valley Winter Shows and the Northwest school Farmers' and Women's week meetings which are scheduled to be held at Crookston during the week of February 9-13, 1925.

Spelling lists have already been sent to the county superintendents in the 11 Northwestern Minnesota counties and will in turn be distributed by them to the rural school teachers within the next few days.

Gladys Siverson, Esplee, Marshall county, won the championship spelling banner at the 1924 Winter Shows in a field of 22 contestants, there being two from each of the eleven counties.

County Superintendent O. R. Sande is very enthusiastic regarding this spelling contest as it interests annually all the rural school pupils of the county. Every effort will be made to place Pennington county in the front ranks in the ensuing contest.

TWO BANKS AT GOODRIDGE ARE CONSOLIDATED

Move Adds Strength and Makes for Economy in Operation.

New Bank to Operate Under Old Charter of Goodridge State.

As a result of a deal which has been under consideration for some time and which was completed last week, Goodridge started out Monday morning with only one banking institution instead of two. The Goodridge State bank and the Farmers State bank have been consolidated, the capital stock and other resources of the two banks being pooled. The new bank will operate under the name of the Goodridge State bank and will retain the charter under which it has operated in the past. The charter of the Farmers State bank has been relinquished.

About 50 prominent farmers and business men of Pennington county are included among the stockholders, and the new institution has resources of nearly $300,000. A special meeting of the stockholders of the consolidated bank will be held on October 1, at which time officers and directors will be chosen for the merged institution. The bank is now in charge of J. P. Jensen, Nick Bundhund, Roy Halseth and H. B. Rockne, officials of the former banks, and these men are busy perfecting the details incident to the merger.

While both banks in Goodridge have been kept in sound financial condition ever since their organization and have given splendid service to the people of that section of the country, it is obvious that a consolidated institution, on account of its greater strength due to increased resources, will prove of much more value. Consolidation is a move in the right direction and creates confidence through greater stability.

The Tribune hopes to be able to publish the names of the new officers and directors of the bank in its next issue.

BOYS' BAND TO APPEAR SUNDAY

Juvenile Actors From Omaha, Nebr., to Perform at Auditorium.

Father Flanagan's Boys' Shows from Omaha, Neb., are booked to give a performance at the auditorium on Sunday, September 28.

A special matinee for children will be given at 4:00 p.m. No children will be admitted at the evening performance.

From all reports this is one of the most interesting and entertaining shows to be seen here this season, consisting as it does of a boys' band, an orchestra, boy soloists, orators and comedians.

Father Flanagan's Boys' Home of Omaha was started six years ago to fill the needs of all homeless, abandoned and wayward boys and in its brief existence has already gained a national reputation. In that time it has cared for nearly 2,000 boys of every race, creed and color.

It is non-sectarian and non-proselyting, and is endorsed by prominent people of nearly every state.

There are now living in the home over 280 boys and great rivalry exists in securing a place in the troupe which will show here. Nearly every hour of the day at the home some would-be Caruso or McCormack may be heard trying out his voice on the cows, sheep, or chickens; while in the recreation room one or more boys is sure to be practicing on a band instrument. Some time ago John McCormack, the famous Irish tenor, visited the home and paid high compliments to the voices of several boys with the present troupe.

There being no admission charged—everything being free—it is anticipated an enormous crowd will turn out. In several places where the boys have given their performance, thousands have been turned away and several times it was found necessary to give a second performance at the conclusion of the first.

Community Girls Meeting Featured by Social Time and Business Discussions

The membership drive which has been conducted for the past four weeks by the Girls Community club closed Monday evening at the regular meeting held in the Legion club rooms. The Blue side, under the leadership of Inga Oftedahl, was victorious over the Red side, captained by Beatrice Erickson, having 87 members against 83. This meant that the Reds are obliged to give a party for the winners Monday, October 6, in the club rooms. Plans are already being formed to make this party a huge success.

Among the questions brought up for discussion during the business meeting, was the important one of the admittance to the club of married women. There was much to be said for both sides but the motion was finally made and carried that the old rule be continued. That is, that any girl who has been a paid member and becomes married may continue as a member of the club as long as she desires to pay her dues, and any married woman who has not been a member previously is barred admittance.

Another motion that was made and carried was to the effect that any girl who is not a paid member will not be allowed to attend the parties and to enjoy the privileges of the club. In past years, the practice of allowing non-members to attend functions has proved costly and unfair to those who are regular members, so it was deemed wise to put a stop to it at once. Everyone was given an opportunity to join during the campaign and if not interested enough to pay dues and become a regular member, then should be kept out entirely.

A committee of ten will be appointed every two weeks to have charge of the serving and entertainment at each meeting.

With the above matters disposed of the business meeting was adjourned and Miss Jessie Jackson, field secretary of the Delphian Sorority given the floor. She spoke briefly to the girls about the Sorority, explaining its organization, function and purposes, and expressed her desire to start a branch chapter in this city.

The meeting then became purely social, dancing forming the main diversion. At ten-thirty lunch was served by the following hostesses: the Misses Ruth Wold, Nora Steen, Carrie Trogan, Mildred Thompson, Alice Stapleton, Sarah Vaughan, Evelyn Thoreson, Anne Tharaldson, Esther and Emma Tandberg.

Miss Spencer Brings to City Wide Experience in Dancing and Dramatics

Miss Honora Janet Spencer, who is opening classes in dancing and dramatic art, comes to Thief River Falls with a wide range of experience. She studied with Portia Mansfield at the Rocky Mountain dancing school in Colorado for ten weeks and two summers in Chicago, graduating from the Chicago Normal school of dancing under Margaret A. Coleman. She has had practical experience, playing a three month's engagement at the Rainbow Gardens in Chicago and a two months' engagement on the road in her own act. During this summer, she was fortunate enough to get Theodore Kosloff and Marian Morgan dance work from Claire Contant who was visiting in Minneapolis from California.

Miss Spencer has taught both dramatic art and dance work at the McPhail School of Music for the past four years and has coached plays extensively throughout Wisconsin and Minnesota. A few of the places where she has taught are Melrose, Excelsior, Pillsbury Academy at Owatonna, Eau Claire, Wis., and many others.

With her knowledge and experience she is offering the best material possible to the people of Thief River Falls. Classes are now being formed for children and adults and those desiring further information may call Mrs. Thelma Erickson, phone 498.

PUBLIC FORUM

Creed Idols of Christendom.

"The Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort."—Cor. 1:3.

When in India, China and Japan a few years ago Pastor Russell was forcibly struck with the intelligence of many among these peoples. He said that he visited their idol temples for the purpose of noticing the degree of reverence exhibited and the status of worshipers, and was favorably impressed. Many seemed sincere, absolutely unmindful of any other matter than their own worship. He made inquiry as to the importance attached to the idol. Was it regarded as the God, or merely a reminder of their God? They assured him that the idol itself was known to be of metal, or stone, or wood, and was used merely as a reminder of their God, in much the same way that Catholics use the crucifix—not as worshiping the image or the picture but merely having these before the mind to assist in fixing reverence and the spirit of worship. Pastor Russell continues:

"At first I felt disposed to chide the heathen for the horrible features which they give their images. I said to myself, why do they not make graceful, beautiful idols, instead of horrible ones? But a little reflection brought me shame and confusion. I said to myself, look at the creeds, the idols, the images of God, set up in Christendom. We have not attempted to picture our Deity in wood or stone or mineral, but we have written out a description of His character—our Christian creeds. These creeds stand before our mental eyes with exactly the same hideous features that the tangible idol has before the natural eyes of the heathen. Each different creed shows a slightly different image of God as a most atrocious character, more hideous by far than are any of the idols of heathendom. Eccle. 7:29; Lam. 5:7.

"How could anybody carve, or cast, or model a mute image, or idol, that would speak such horrible things as all of our creeds portray by description? Where is the artist who could picture a God deliberating upon the creation of the human family, and before beginning His work planning and arranging a great place called Hell (and some say another called Purgatory), creating fire-proof devils to man these, laying up fuel for use therein through all eternity, and then starting the human race with procreative powers, with the foreknowledge that billions would spend eternity in those horrible chambers.

"Who could picture or model an image representing such a place, inject new life and vigor into the poor sufferers so as to prevent them from dying—so as to insure that they must live everlastingly under those horrible conditions! No heathen was ever able to picture such a God, either in clay or wood, or with the pen. It remained for the most cultured and civilized peoples of the world, who had enjoyed most of God's favors and blessings and enlightenment, to misunderstand Him most, to misrepresent Him worst, and carry those misrepresentations to the heathen, in the name of the God of Love."

TUNE YOUR PIANO!

Classes in piano have now begun. Do not, for pity's sake, spoil the child's ear by allowing practice on a piano which is out of tune!

I guarantee to tune your piano CORRECTLY or it won't cost you a cent for the job. No one can tune a piano by ear alone, no matter how "good" he may think his ear is. He must know HOW, and that comes with study and years of practice. Last month I tuned 25 pianos in Argyle, Minn., alone, and in every instance the customer was thoroughly satisfied, many of them stating their instrument had never had that clear, ringing tone quality before. That is because I do the job scientifically.

I will be glad to call and inspect your instrument at any time. I also do any kind of repairing.

Every voter who does not make up his mind NOW to get out and vote this fall ought to be disfranchised forever.

We move the governor closes the dear season this fall and instead declare an open season upon road hogs, the wild boars of the universe who constantly whizz along Minnesota highways in every direction.

If every community in the state is as serenely indifferent over the outcome of the November election as is Thief River Falls, it is plainly apparent that nothing but an earthquake can wake the people up.

If the Republican party has succeeded, as Senator Shipstead says, in sending the price of wheat upwards, we beseech the leaders of that organization to use a little of their price soaring stimulus in the direction of the potato market.

Much good to this territory will come from the present efforts of various organizations to place sheep in this section. Not only are sheep immensely profitable, as evidenced by the handsome returns obtained by sheep owners in Pennington county, but it also hastens the day when Thief River Falls will have a woolen mill.

If LaFollette is as bad as the Republicans and Democrats say he is; and if Coolidge is as bad as he is painted by LaFollette and Davis; and if Davis is the child of big business as charged by the followers of Coolidge and LaFollette, then we say the only thing left for the bewildered voter is to vote for Andy Gump, who is 100 per cent for the people.

The Farmer, one of the biggest, if not THE biggest farm paper in the entire Northwest, gave Pennington county a lot of free advertising on its state fair exhibit. The paper also printed a photograph of the decorated truck which hauled our exhibit to the fair. This advertising alone is worth all the exhibit cost the business men of the city—and then some.

Frequent inquiries come to Pennington county for alfalfa seed as a result of our state fair exhibit. The greatest value of our fair advertising will come, however, when intending settlers, carefully weighing the matter of location in their minds, come to select Pennington county as a permanent home. Remember, good folks, there are few places in the country where alfalfa can be grown under such ideal conditions as those which prevail in this section.

Theodore Christianson's keynote speech delivered Friday at Madison is a statesmanlike document which rings true and sincere in every sentence. His address is one which every Minnesota voter ought to read and digest. It is a thoughtful presentation of the real issues before the people in the state contest. His program for lowering taxes is plain enough to be understood by anyone who can read the English language, and his determination to reduce state expenses by combining boards and commissions ought to commend itself to all thinking people. "Ted" Christianson looks and acts like a man who would make a real governor of Minnesota—and we believe he will.

The Tribune is in receipt of a copy of "Way Back Yonder" by Congressman Eddy, a review of the early political struggles which took place in this district. The little book is both instructive and entertaining. In its pages are stirring tales of the Populist invasion in 1894, and the battle which the Republicans put up to arrest the radicals of that day. Amusing to the point of being side-splitting are the stories of Eddy's campaign in the district. He tells how he routed the hecklers and relates how in one place the platform upon which he was speaking gave way under the weight of his song leader, the late Albert Berg, who later became secretary of state. A copy of the book may be had at the nominal price of 25 cents, and the first paragraph is worth more than that. Write Mr. Eddy at the Boardman Hotel, St. Paul, for a copy of his book.

VALUE OF ALFALFA LAND.

A farmer near Gstzke, Lian, who resides just two miles south of that village, last week threshed the alfalfa from seven acres. He received therefrom exactly 1650 pounds of fine seed which is entitled to be certified. Since there is a scarcity of seed this year owing to the bsckward season it is not unlikely that seed will be fully as high as last year when the price in this section averaged 50 cents per pound. At this rate Mr. Lian will receive from his seven scres well over $800 in cash. Besides he has the feed which is not without a considerable value.

The yield here recorded is just an average one. Last year Mr. Lian's neighbor, Mr. Loven, threshed 550 pounds per acre from his alfalfa. The result is that these gentlemen hsve found the way out of the slough of farming despondency. They are doing something different, something profitable. What they are doing can be done by others.

No doubt the time will come when the profit from seed will be greatly lessened, but we doubt very much if the time will ever come when raising alfalfa hay will not be immensely profitable. Alfalfa can't be raised in many places under such ideal conditions as obtain here as regards both soil and climatic considerations. The conclusion one must come to is that all agricultural land which will grow alfalfa is worth at least $100 per acre. We do not mean by this that uncultivated land will bring this figure but we do maintain that land producing alfalfa is worth that figure today.

If we continue to increase our alfalfa acreage as we should, just watch land prices keep perfect step with our advance. No one should expect from this line of argument that a rush for Pennington county land will begin this fall as a result of our success with alfalfa, but our prophecy is that a steady demand will soon set in and continue until every acre of available land is taken up.

COME TO MINNESOTA.

A man passed through Kansas recently with this inscription—"Colorado and elevation, Kansas stagnation, populistic administration and damnation; I'm going to my wife's relations and make no further demonstrations." An exchange suggests: "Come to Minnesota, correct in elevation, where a man with education can engage in spemulation, bring along your wife's relation, have good times and free salvation, with no danger of starvation. This is worth consideration and no prevarication."—Exchange.

Consumers of moonshine have no idea of the contents of some of the concoctions they have been drinking. This was demonstrated in the finding at the Hillstrom place just east of the Leaf River station which Sheriff Bengston and his deputies raided Wednesday. A barrel of mash with a nice coating of green scum over the top in which nested green worms, black bugs and the remains of a venturesome mouse, tell the mute tale of the "kick" injected into the stuff. A complete still and outfit was found and Hillstrom was brought in to answer to the various charges which such findings usually bring about.—Wadena Pioneer Journal.

The people of this vicinity are pleased beyond expression to know that East Grand Forks will obtain the first beet sugar factory in the valley. They have cinched the big project by successfully putting over a $400,000 stock subscription campaign, the U. S. Credit corporation having taken $100,000 worth of stock to make up the grand total. Of course, we feel the factory should have been located at Thief River Falls, but we take solace from the knowledge that at least five or six more factories will be located in this section when the success of this one is fully determined, and we have faith in the good judgement of the promoters to locate the next one in the right spot which is the metropolis of northwestern Minnesota.

Routine Matters Occupy Attention of City Dads at Tuesday Night Meet

The city council was in session for nearly two hours last night hut actually accomplished only five things, although the greater portion of the time was spent in considering matters of importance the discussions being of an informal nature. Aldermen Oscar Paulson and Oscar Ramheck were the only ahsentees.

A request from the American Legion Auxiliary for free use of the auditorium for a dance Friday evening of this week was favorahly acted upon.

Street Commissioner H. O. Hoff applied for a permit to huild a harn on his residence in Red Lake Rapids addition at an estimated expense of $200, the same being duly granted.

The usual grist of city hills was allowed on motion.

The city clerk was anthorized to advertise for hids on the supply of the city for winter for hoth coal and wood, the bids to be opened at the next regular meeting of the council, October 14.

Property owners on the east side of Tindolph avenue north, in hlock 18 of Red Lake Rapids addition, between Mussey and Johnson streets having failed to lay the sidewalks ordered constructed some time ago the council last night directed the street commissioner to lay them and the cost will later be assessed against the property.

Residents in the last block on South Kendall avenue appeared before the council, asking for a street light at the Annie street intersection, and the extension of the wires along the last hlock so they may connect up their residences. Chairman Martin Evenson informed the petitioners that the city was not putting in any more extensions unless it was found that the people along the line would use sufficient juice to pay the cost of the city's work of huilding the required line. The electric light committee and the superintendent of water and light will inspect the district named and report the advisability thereof to the council at the next meeting.

Red Lake Falls Downed By Lincoln Eleven 20-6

The Lincoln football eleven were victorious in a practice game last Saturday afternoon when they defeated Red Lake Falls 20 to 6 on the latters' field. As it was merely a practice game, the result will have no bearing upon the standings of the two teams in the conference.

The contest was helpful in bringing out the weakness and strength of the local team and indicated what might be expected of it in a real game. While the plays lacked the smoothness of experience and practice, they worked well as a whole and showed the results of training. Much is expected of Coach Thune's men this year and the outlook is fine for a season of victories.

On October 1. a return practice game will be held between Red Lake Falls and Lincoln high at the fair grounds. An admission fee of 25 and 10 cents will be charged.

GAY FLAPPER IS ABLY DEFENDED

Said to Be Symbol of Age But Not a Brainless Vixen.

The flapper has found a defender in John Francis Dillon, the well-known actor and director of "Flaming Youth."

She is not, according to Dillon, the brainless, overdressed vixen that she has been pictured to be, but she is a symbol of the times.

"The youth of our land is not standing on the brink of a moral breakdown, as our reformers try to point out," Dillon declares. "This so-called 'moral breakdown' is nothing more than a repetition of history. Similar charges have been made against other generations growing up."

"I believe that there is in the youth of today a sincerity of purpose and a will and determination to do good that has not been surpassed in any period of the world's history. Yes, even the flapper today, wants to be good.

"Few writers of our modern stories and plays, dealing with the flapper, seem to see the modern woman in her true light. They endeavor to make her out a danger of the age, which is absolutely erroneous."

In "Flaming Youth," Warner Fabian wrote a story about flappers of today. This novel has been adapted to the screen by First National and will be shown at the Lyceum theatre next Sunday and Monday.

"Flaming Youth" is considered one of the most startling photoplays of the year, dealing as it does with the so-called flapper problem. It tells a vivid story of a modern girl's many loves and shows the dangers and pitfalls that beset the girl eager to learn the truths of life.

Watch The Corn Crop

(By J. G. Haney, Agricultural Extension Department, International Harvester Co., Grand Forks, N. D.)

A good grain year is usually a poor corn year, and a poor grain year may be a good corn year. The slow growth made by corn to date should not be discouraging. The corn land, if it has been kept clean, is ready for grain, and acclimated early planted corn will make a lot of good feed. Down in central Minnesota some silos were filled the middle of August because the corn frosted badly. Have the silo ready, if it only a trench scraped in the ground. (Ask for information about trench, pit and other silos.)

Let the corn grow as long as possible; have the cutter ready, but do not cut green corn before a frost that does a lot of damage.

The food value and dry matter of all crop increases with the maturity. Corn, to make the best silage or fodder, should be practically mature—the ears should be developed and near the glazed stage—past hard roasting ear. The more nearly the corn reaches this stage the better feed it will make.

Light frosts that only nip the leaves may not greatly damage the corn, and it will continue maturing. It is a question as to just how much frosting would make it advisable to cut the corn. This would depend on when the frost occurred. If the corn was practically mature and the frost killed the leaves, it would probably be advisable to cut at once. If the corn was green, and an early frost only nipped the leaves, and there was a probability of there being no more frost for some time, the further maturing of the corn might more than offset the damage by frost.

When the corn is killed down to the ear so that the leaves and top would soon dry up and blow away, the corn should be cut. While it would be desirable to have the corn mature and cut before frost, we do not think it advisable to cut corn before it is mature, unless it was positively known that there would be a killing frost in a very short time. After a killing frost does come, it is very important that the corn be harvested as soon as possible. We have run our corn harvester night and day, after a heavy frost, to get the corn cut before the leaves were lost. Heavy freezing of green corn undoubtedly damages the quality of feed, but this can be greatly lessened by prompt harvesting, to save the leaves. A light growth of corn may be cut with a grain harvester, but it is hard on canvases.

Green corn will mature to a certain extent after harvesting and unless the ground is wet, or there is a probability of heavy rain, it would be advisable to let the corn lie on the ground for a day or so until partly dry, particularly if the corn was very green. Partly dry corn makes sweeter silage than when siloed to green. Green corn shocked immediately after cutting may mould, and there is a loss of juice or sap from the bottom of the freshly cut stalks. Corn should unquestionably be siloed, or shocked, before it is rained on. Rain on partly dry fodder is of great damage to it.

There is perhaps no way of feeding the corn crop to better advantage than as fodder, where a silo is not available. (The silo will undoubtedly more than double the feeding value of the corn crop.) Corn fodder, with some fairly matured ears in it, cut and handled as previously indicated, makes excellent feed.

It is not necessary to have a corn harvester, but cutting large fields by hand, as we did forty years ago, is a big job. The corn dries out more rapidly in rather small shocks, and it is desirable to have the fodder dry as soon as possible, so that it may be hauled and stacked before the heavy snow comes. Corn may be shocked the same as small grain. Two men can start the shock without a "fodder horse." A fodder horse is made by putting two legs on one end of a light pole or 2x4, 12 to 16 feet long. Back about three feet from the legs a half inch hole is bored horizontally through the pole or 2x4, so that a wagon rod can be stuck through.

The wagon rod is put through only half way, and the bundles of corn set against the horse, on each side of the rod. The height of legs on the horse depends on the height of the corn—tall corn requires a higher horse than short corn. After several bundles or armfuls of corn are set about the horse, the rod is removed and the horse pulled out from under the shock and the shock completed.

Corn will usually be dry enough to haul and stack before snow, but precautions should be taken or the corn may spoil in the stack. The corn should be left out as late as possible. If poles are available the stacks should be built so as to allow ventition. Laying long poles on chunks or stones, about a foot from the ground, and starting the stack by laying the top of the bundles on these poles and building the stack long and only two bundles wide, is a good plan. Fodder so stacked will seldom damage. A foot or so of dry straw makes a good stack bottom if poles are not available. Large round or wide stacks are liable to spoil.

Corn fodder alone is good feed but gives better results if fed with clover or alfalfa hay. Fodder contains too much starch and fat in proportion to the protein for young stock or milk cows.

Fodder may be utilized to a much greater advantage if put through a cutting box and mixed with a small amount of chopped grain. In warm barns, where a day's feed ahead can be cut and moistened, the fodder can be used to nearly as good advantage as if siloed.

The corn shredder puts the fodder in splendid shape to use as the stalks are torn into shreds and more readily eaten. In parts of the West, the fodder is run through grain threshers and blown into the barn. The fodder must be thoroughly dry or shredded fodder will mould. The shredder or thresher removes the grain so that it may be fed separately.

About the most forlorn looking sight on a farm is a lot of shocks out in the snow drifts in January and February. The job of getting this fodder out of the shocks is usually no church service.

Corn will continue to be grown in greater acreage in this region and as it is a new crop to many there is much to be learned of the proper varieties, methods and time of planting, cultivating, harvesting and feeding. This paper will welcome any questions or stories of experiences by its readers, as it realizes that corn is an interesting and important subject.

BANKERS APPROVE POTATO EXCHANGE

Scores O. K. Orderly Marketing Plan and Agree to Assist Membership.

County bankers in the potato growing sections of Minnesota, particularly the Red River Valley, are practically solidly behind the orderly marketing plan of the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange. This became evident before the series of ten meetings held under Exchange auspices from September 10 to 20 was well under way.

At the first meeting, held at Detroit, every banker of that city assigned a resolution pledging their support in making the association a success. The resolution promised that all potatoes upon which the banks held mortgages would be sold through the Exchange with the understanding, of course, that the Exchange would give proper assurance that the claims of the banks would be protected. The resolution recognized that the success of the movement depends upon the Exchange retaining control of sales to promote orderly marketing and better grading. It pledged the bankers to assist deserving members who will be in need of advances before the Exchange begins distribution of funds obtained from its sales during the season of consumption. This was adopted because the bankers agreed that the seasonal dumping of the crop has meant flooded markets and low prices.

A similar resolution was adopted by the bankers association in Kittson, Polk and Pennington counties. Bankers of Red Lake and Marshall counties were reported to be in favor of the plan. Other meetings were to be held at Bemidji, Park Rapids and Akley.

The Exchange is pledged to make payments to growers as fast as sales will permit. Payments will be made to all members on the basis of their actual deliveries, whether such deliveries be to Exchange warehouses or a constructed delivery in farm store houses.

Road Marking Values.

A person who does not steer his automobile along strange paths may not much appreciate the value of the markings along Minnesota's trunk highways, but one who does knows the added comfort and pleasure these little road signs give to motoring. So thoroughly are our highways marked that one needs not to travel along wondering whether he is on the right road or approaching a dangerous turn or crossing. He knows that Babcock's little signs will give him guidance and warning whether in the daytime or in the dark hours of the night.—Luverne Herald.

Dodge Brothers Announce Lower Prices on Special Type Cars; Great Values

In view of the upward trend in automobile prices, considerable surprise was occasioned by Dodge Brothers' recent announcement of a reduction in prices of their special type cars.

Dodge Brothers were able to do the unexpected, according to the factory announcement, on account of the increased volume of their purchases of special equipment for the special type cars.

Dodge Brothers special types consist of the standard cars equipped with accessories which produce the utmost in comfort and convenience and appearance of the car. Among these are steel disc wheels, five balloon tires, nickel-trimmed radiator, nickel plated bumpers, automatic windshield wiper, rear view mirror, scuff plates, cowl lights and motometer with lock. A special body stripe is also provided.

Manufacturing and buying these accessories in quantity, Dodge Brothers are naturally able to install them at prices considerably below what the owner would have to pay at retail. The public was quick to sense this and the demand for the special types grew steadily from the moment they were made available. Their convenience and appearance has elicited the greatest admiration everywhere and those who know the volume that has been attained can readily understand how Dodge Brothers were able to make a reduction when others were announcing advances.

Four Dodge Brothers cars are affected by the reduction—the special Touring car, special Roadster, special "A" Sedan, and special 4-passenger Coupe. The "B" Sedan and the Business Coupe have also been added to the line of special types.

As the reduction was made possible by economies effected in the purchase of equipment used exclusively on the special type cars, the standard types are in no way effected, according to Gilbertson & Rogers, local dealers. The prices of all standard types remain unchanged.

The Minot Chamber of Commerce this week sent out an appeal for 400 additional laborers to assist in harvesting and threshing in northwestern North Dakota. Treat Your Gasoline With-

Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas

Increases Mileage of Gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon.

CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor troubles. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap to motor engineering, as it softens the fiery coke-like carbon deposits and expels it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forms a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

When carbon is gone grinding of valves becomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean and perform at their highest efficiency; carbon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and you will enjoy that extra power and smoothness of a clean well prepared motor.

Blitzen Fluid is used by men in the Auto Motive industry who know that it will not injure the most sensitive motor. It is produced by chemists to put and keep your motor in the state of highest efficiency and saves in gasoline and repair bills sufficiently to entirely or largely reduce the cost.

ADD 2 OUNCES OF Blitzen Fluid TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS and give Blitzen Fluid a fair test in accordance with the condition of your motor. Notice the difference.

In your community Blitzen Fluid "The Fountain of Motor Youth" is sold at Pyramid pumps and service stations.

REPUBLICANS OPEN STATE CAMPAIGN

Candidate for Governor Outlines Party Platform In Keynote Speech.

Madison, Minn., Sept. 19—Theodore Christianson, Republican candidate for governor, formally opened his campaign here tonight before an enthusiastic crowd that packed the Armory.

After discussing war and post-war conditions which resulted in a drop in the price of agricultural products while taxes remained high, Mr. Christianson said:

Is it any wonder that the farmers of Minnesota were confronted with one of the gravest crises in the history of agriculture?

Relief for Agriculture.

What steps did the government take to relieve the farmers' situation? What steps could it take?

I. It took action to reduce the interest burden of the farmers. Through a decision of the United States Supreme Court the validity of the Federal Land Bank Act was sustained, and the banks resumed operation. In Minnesota, a constitutional amendment which I sponsored, was adopted, authorizing the creation of a state credits system to supplement the activities of the Federal Land banks. The object of creating these governmental functions was not to give the farmer more credit, for much of the farmer's trouble arose from the fact that he had already used too much credit. The object was to reduce interest rates in order to lighten the burden of the farmer's indebtedness. And that object was accomplished, for immediately the interest rates on first term mortgages dropped 1½ to 2 per cent. The saving from reduced interest rates alone, if applied every year on the principal, would in the course of twenty years discharge every farm mortgage in Minnesota.

Expenditures Reduced.

II. The government set itself to the task of relieving the people of the burden of excessive taxation. Much of that burden, to be sure, was fixed and could not be removed. Obligations had been created upon which interest must be paid. Salaries had been raised to meet increased living costs, and official salaries are rarely reduced. New instrumentalities of government had been created, often at the demand of the very groups that now criticize the government for increased expenditures. Public institutions had to be created or enlarged to repair the physical and moral wreckage of the war; and public improvements were made on a more lavish and expensive scale than before in response to an extravagant—and irresistible—public opinion.

But despite these handicaps, which were almost insurmountable, progress has been made toward normalcy. In Minnesota, the legislature by refusing approximately $15,000,000 in requested appropriations, held the 1923 budget down to $40,000,000, at the same time appropriating nearly $5,000,000 more for state aid to schools than had ever been appropriated before. If this additional state aid had not been given, the 1923 appropriations would have been almost $2,000,000 below those of 1921. Thus it may be seen that there has been a reduction in the cost of conducting all of the state's activities during the present biennium of about $1,000,000 per year below that of the previous two-year period.

Favored Budget Plan.

The financial achievements of the national administration, during the same period, have been phenomenal. A budget system has been established and the judgment of an impartial and disinterested agency, not the importunities of the recipients of congressional appropriations, determines the amounts to be made available for departmental expenditures. The result has been a reduction of such expenditures from more than $5,500,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, to less than $3,500,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, and a reduction of the national indebtedness during the same period by $2,750,000,000. This record demonstrates the efficiency of the budget system as an agency of tax reduction. I have long advocated the establishment of a budget system in Minnesota. At three different sessions of the legislature I have, in collaboration with the present Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, presented and secured the passage of a budget bill through the House of Representatives. If elected governor of Minnesota, I shall use the influence of the executive office to secure enactment by the legislature of an effective budget law.

Co-operative Marketing.

III. The Republican party has helped agriculture in Minnesota by enacting legislation to promote co-operative marketing. The first effective step in this direction was taken in 1919, when a co-operative marketing law was passed which not only recognized but specifically guaranteed to the farmers of this state the right to bargain collectively for the sale of their products. It is a source of satisfaction to have been a member of a legislative group that drafted and introduced this measure. No longer can farmers be put in jail for doing what men in the organized labor movement have been permitted to do for a generation. The Minnesota co-operative marketing law led to the enactment of similar legislation by the Federal Congress.

Not only has our legislature enacted laws that make it possible for farmers to co-operate, but it has created a Department of Agriculture, charged specifically with the duty of assisting them to avail themselves of these laws.

Education.

The greatest safeguard of a state is an enlightened citizenship. Minnesota has recognized the obligation of education by making liberal contribution to the support of schools. Of the $40,000,000 appropriated by the 1923 legislature, $21,500,000 was for education. Appropriations for state aid to high, graded and rural schools increased from $3,500,000 in 1913 to $12,000,000 in 1923.

THEODORE CHRISTIANSON
Republican Candidate for Governor

If the increase in state aid were deducted from the 1923 totals, the increase of appropriations for 1923 would be 66 per cent over the appropriations for 1913, an average increase of 6 per cent per year. The increase in school aid for the same period has been 243 per cent—more than 24 per cent per year.

Highways.

Minnesota's record in the building of roads is one of achievement. The 7,000 miles of Trunk highways have been improved and maintained with great efficiency, without the appropriation of a dollar from funds provided by the general taxpayer. Owners of motor vehicles have furnished the funds.

It is a source of gratification to the people of Minnesota that the administration of its great road fund has been at all times above suspicion. A great responsibility was placed in the hands of one man, and that responsibility was not misplaced. It is the hope of every good citizen that the highway department be kept out of politics in the future as it has been in the past, and that capacity for service and integrity of purpose be the sole consideration in the appointment of men to administer its functions. There can be differences of opinion as to policy. There can be no differences of opinion as to the need of character and capacity in those who are chosen to do the work of the state.

Conservation.

Minnesota is rich in her inheritance of natural resources. In fertile fields and iron mines she leads the civilized world. Large stands of virgin timber yet remain in the northeast section of the state, and our responsibility at the present time is for their future. If elected governor, I shall use every power of the office to conserve our public domain, and our wealth in minerals, timber, land and power. The state's iron must be made to yield its greatest revenue through the beneficiation of low-grade ore. Our timber must be conserved by solving our pressing problems of fire prevention, conservation of immature timber and reforestation.

Relief From Tax Burden.

Relief from the burden of excessive taxation presents the predominant issue of the campaign and the subject of most vital interest to the people of Minnesota. It is true that less than 10 per cent of the tax burden is imposed by the state government, but the state government owes the duty of setting an example to counties, cities, villages, townships and school districts. Wherever excessive and unnecessary local expenditures are made necessary by state laws, such laws should be replaced or amended.

One of the largest items of governmental expenditure is interest on bonded indebtedness. In Minnesota public indebtedness has increased 288 per cent in ten years and now aggregates $300,000,000. Practically all of this is indebtedness of counties, cities, villages, townships and school districts. In fact, the indebtedness of the state government, exclusive of rural credits bonds, is only about $15,000,000—of which twelve millions are soldier bonus certificates. Communities have voted bonds, often in utter disregard of the inevitable day of reckoning. Bond issue has been pyramided on bond issue, until the interest alone necessitates a large tax levy. Other states have had the same experience. In Iowa the percentage of increase in ten years has been 329, in Michigan 503. If the tendency of the last decade continues during the life of the present generation our posterity will face a burden that will present the alternative of confiscation or repudiation.

The remedy is to compel the generation that creates indebtedness to discharge it. Enact legislation that will make null and void bonds, issued for any purpose except refundment of existing obligations, which do not carry with them a definite tax levy running over the period of the bonds sufficient at the expiration of that period to discharge those bonds.

It is said that the total public indebtedness of the American people at the present time is $40,000,000,000, and the wealth of America has been estimated at $250,000,000,000. It appears, therefore, that our public indebtedness is 16 per cent of the national wealth.

We must set our faces resolutely against proposals that will necessitate large increases of bonded indebtedness. The so-called Farmer-Labor party and its candidates are committed to "public ownership of transportation, including stockyards, large abattoirs, grain elevators, terminal warehouses, of principal natural resources, such as coal, oil, natural gas, mineral deposits, large water powers and large commercial timber tracts." It is impossible even to estimate the result on public indebtedness of the adoption of this program in its entirety, for there are no satisfactory statistics available as to the physical value of the property used in all these industries. We can, however, estimate the result of the adoption of a relatively small part of the program—that part which contemplates government ownership of railroads.

If the government were to acquire the railroads, it would have to buy and pay for them, for we have a constitutional provision that private property cannot be taken over for public use without just compensation. That provision we dare not abrogate, because if the government could confiscate a railroad it could likewise confiscate farms, shops and homes.

What would it have to pay for the railroads? Admittedly it would not have to pay for "watered stock" or good will, but it would have to pay the actual value of all physical property used in transportation. What is that value? One valuation has been made. As a result of that valuation it was ascertained that the physical value of the railroad properties of this country in 1915 was $18,900,000,000. Since that time several billions of dollars have been added, and it has been estimated that the value today is $22,000,000,000. To be safe, let us put it at $20,000,000,000. That is 8 per cent of $250,000,000,000, the estimated national wealth. Bonds would have to be issued to provide the money, and these bonds would constitute a first lien on all the property in America, for the interest thereon would be collectible as taxes, and taxes take precedence over any mortgage or other lien. Your share, Minnesota farmer, if you own a $50,000 farm, would be $4,000. Would you willingly appear before a notary public to sign and acknowledge a $4,000 mortgage on your farm in order to furnish the money with which to make a doubtful experiment in public ownership of railroads? Would you give anybody a power of attorney to execute such a mortgage for you? You would not. But that is just what the candidates of the so-called Farmer-Labor party ask you to do when they ask you to vote for them.

And they are asking you, not only to give them such a power of attorney, but to consent to a doubling of the state tax on your farm. At the present time the state of Minnesota derives $8,500,000 a year from a tax on the gross earnings of railroad companies. If the railroads became government property, the state would lose that revenue, for it would be futile for the government to tax its own instrumentality. The revenue thus lost would have to be made up by an additional levy on all other property in the state. An additional one-mill levy would raise less than $2,000,000. In order to make up the $8,500,000 of lost revenue, there would have to be imposed on every farm and every other piece of property in Minnesota practically four mills in additional taxes. The average state tax rate during the past decade has been only a little over four mills. Therefore, Minnesota farmer, when the candidates of the so-called Farmer-Labor party ask you to vote for them, they not only ask you to put a $4,000 mortgage on your farm but to consent to a doubling of the state tax-rate thereon, not only for the next year, or the next decade, but for all time to come.

And let it be noted, that however disastrous government ownership of railroads would be, it would be relatively harmless compared with the adoption of the entire public ownership program of the so-called Farmer-Labor party.

It will undoubtedly be contended by advocates of the public ownership idea that the publicly-owned enterprises would return to the government sums adequate to compensate for loss of taxes and to pay the interest on bonds. There is no basis for such a contention if we may judge from the experience of the neighboring state of North Dakota in the operation of its flour mill. Not only has the mill failed to return its operating expenses; not only does it not pay any taxes on its property, but the taxpayers of the state are required to meet an interest charge of $1,000 per day on the bonds issued to build and equip it and to finance its business. Surely he would be an optimist who, with knowledge of the record of public ownership elsewhere, would expect publicly operated industrial enterprises to bring to the people anything but higher taxes, increased public indebtedness, impaired credit and industrial stagnation.

Instead of adopting policies which would increase the burdens of the people of our commonwealth, let us take steps to reduce those burdens. Let us make government simpler, not more complex.

Born and raised on a farm I share the aspirations of those who labor. My sympathies are not with the drones of society but with its workers, for I have always had to work myself. When I am in the executive chair, the farmers and workers of Minnesota will know they have a governor who understands them because he is one of them.

The Republican party enters this campaign with confidence, knowing that its record of achievement justifies faith in the sincerity of its present promises. It presents in Calvin Coolidge, its candidate for President, one who, entering the office of Chief Executive under conditions as trying as those that ever confronted any man, has won the confidence of his fellow citizens everywhere. For Vice-President it offers in Charles G. Dawes, not a second-rate figure, but a statesman who has achieved eminence, first, as director of the budget, and, then, as chairman of the commission which formulated the plan for the establishment of economic peace in Europe of which Chancellor Marx of Germany has said: "I like to compare the Dawes scheme with a great architectural blue-print for which the world owes the draughtsman its gratitude."

It would be immodest to appraise myself,—I leave that to the electorate of Minnesota. But of the rest of the ticket I can say that it is composed of men who are deserving of every confidence that the people of Minnesota can bestow. It is a ticket with merits and should insure a complete victory for the Republican party in November.

Local Delphian Chapter Being Organized in City

Miss Jessie Jackson of Sioux City, Ia., field secretary for the Delphian Sorority, spoke to the Girls Community club Monday evening to create interest in organizing a local chapter in this city.

Delphian is a national society, having 3,500 chapters scattered throughout all portions of the United States. Organization is just being started in the northwestern states but already there are 35 chapters in Minnesota. The movement was created to promote higher education, self-improvement and social progress, and the activities of the society are governed by this three-fold purpose. A regular prescribed course of study is made out by 17 leading university professors and is accompanied by all reference books and works necessary for outside reading so that the material needed for study is the property of the local chapter.

This course covers a period of six years, each year one of the following groups being studied: epochs of progress, the drama, history of art, modern nations, poetry and music, medieval stories and modern fiction. Besides the regular work, current topics are brought up and thoroughly discussed.

The dues are $3.50 a month for 18 consecutive months and at the end of that time one is a life member and entitled to the privileges of a Delphian in any chapter in the country. For this sum one also receives the sorority pin and the benefits of the six-year course of study.

There is a very great need for an educational organization of this type in this community and every effort should be made to help it gain a foothold here. There are many other societies here, some national and others local, but none are for the sole purpose of education and self-improvement. Fifteen members are necessary before a chapter may be organized and if Miss Jackson can secure this number a meeting will be held early next week for election of officers and incorporation of the chapter.

Legion Auxiliary Will Present Musical Revue

At a meeting of the Legion Auxiliary Tuesday evening, it was decided to put on a Musical Revue October 17. About one hundred people will be required to take part and will be under the direction of Mrs. Hodgson of Crookston, who directed the Mock Wedding given by the Legion. The proceeds of the revue will go towards the 1925 convention fund.

A Legion Auxiliary Dance will be given this Friday evening at eight o'clock in the club rooms. A committee composed of Mesdames Herbert Hanson, Lester Hendry and Roy Erickson will have charge of all arrangements.

The Auxiliary is contemplating putting on a food sale, similar to the one held at Thompsons Cafe last Saturday, once a month during the winter. The last one was a splendid success and the women feel that it is necessary to use every possible means to make money before the convention.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop has accepted the nomination as general chairman of the 1925 Legion Auxiliary convention and has already started to make appointments of committee chairmen. She has stated her intention of appointing past presidents as heads and has made Mrs. Dave Robinson chairman of the finance committee and Mrs. A. W. Swedenburg chairman of the rooming committee.

R. McGinn left last evening for a short business trip to Minneapolis.

PRICHARD ASKS DEPOSITORS TO GIVE HIM HELP

In This Way Only Can Reopening of Bank Be Brought About.

Interested People Should Pay No Attention to Street Rumors.

When interviewed by a Tribune reporter this morning, W. W. Prichard, Sr., head of the committee in charge of reorganizing the Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls, made the following statement:

"Your committee has information which indicates that some of the depositors have been led to believe it will be better to liquidate the bank, rather than to reopen it.

"The committee was appointed by the depositors to investigate the bank's condition and authorized to work out some plan of reorganization, if it was thought better to do so than to liquidate.

"The committee has made careful and exhaustive study of the situation and has voted to adopt the plan it is working on, to reopen the bank. Any depositor who is in doubt as to what is best, get such information as the committee has, by calling upon different members of it, or upon W. W. Prichard. Sr., at his residence. Surely the committee should be in better position to advise than the man on the street, who knows little or nothing regarding the plan of reopening, or of the work of the committee.

"In signing the 'Reduction Agreement,' the depositor does not waive any right he now has in the assets. He simply consents to the reopening of the bank on a reduced scale, without which consent the banking department is powerless, and can not take steps to reopen it.

"Should the bank be reopened, the depositor will be in a position where he can have something to say as to the disposal of the assets."

PIG CLUB SALE OCCURS OCT. 10

Fuller & Mayhew to Offer Choice Poland Chinas Publicly.

Fuller & Mahew, who during recent years have built up a reputation as the leading hog breeders of Pennington county, announce that their annual pig club sale will take place at the fair grounds in Thief River Falls on Friday, October 10. These men have conducted a pig club during the year and have a large number of boys and girls in the county enrolled as members.

At the sale on October 10 the pigs used in club work will be put up for sale and it affords an excellent opportunity for local breeders to add some high class stock to their holdings. Fuller & Mayhew are breeders of purebred Poland Chinas and their line of breeding is one of the best in the United States.

Hogs are high in the market at the present time and indications are that before another crop of pigs comes onto the market they will be still higher. Pennington county farms have room for many more hogs and the efforts of Fuller & Mayhew to introduce more high class stock should be appreciated.

Parent-Teachers to Give Reception to Instructors Friday Evening, Oct. 8th

A reception for the teachers will be given by the parents of the Parent-Teachers association in the high school gymnasium on Friday evening, October 3, at 8 o'clock.

This is the first meeting of the association for the present school year and it is desired that all members attend and become acquainted with the faculty of the city schools. A cordial invitation is also extended to all parents who have children attending school in order that they too may meet the teachers and become interested in the Parent-Teachrs association.

An excellent short rogram has been arranged and refreshments will be served by the committe in charge.

The officers of the Association this year are: Mrs. R. Arnold, president; Morris Bye, first vice-president; Ole R. Sande, second vice-president; Edna Larson, secretary; and Mrs. J. H. Hermanson, treasurer.

Plowing Demonstration to Be Given Next Friday on Matt Barzen Farm

An event which should prove of more than ordinary interest to farmers is scheduled to take place on the Barzen farm just west of Thief River Falls next Friday, October 3. At that time C. Gustafson & Son, local agents for the Deering-McCormick line of farm machinery, have arranged to give a demonstration of tractor plowing.

Two sizes of Deering-McCormick tractors are to be used in the demonstrations, both the 15-30 and the 10-20 sizes being utilized. The well known P. & O. plows will be used in the demonstration.

Tractor power has come to be generally used on the farms of the Northwest and every farmer, whether he farms on a large or a small scale, is vitally interested in it. The demonstration next Friday will therefore prove of interest to a great many and indications are that a large crowd will attend.

Don't forget the place and date—the Barzen farm west of Thief River Falls on Friday, October 3.

SCHALL SPEAKS IN CITY OCT. 10

Republican Candidate for Senator to Be Here on October 10.

Thomas D. Schall, for ten years congressman from the tenth district and this year candidate for the United States senate, is scheduled to deliver an address in the auditorium at Thief River Falls on Friday evening, October 10.

Congressman Schall is campaigning thorugh the state and staging one of the most constructive fights in its history. Voters of the district who enjoy brilliant oratory and logical argument should not fail to hear him.

Mr. Schall is opposing Magnus Johnson for the senate and it should be of interest to every voter to hear the issues of the day discussed. The blind congressman is a national figure and has represented his district in congress for ten years.

The Misses Helga, Stella, and Cora Sorenson of Plummer arrived last evening and spent the night with Mrs. L. C. Haaven, leaving this morning for Crookston to attend the Agricultural college.

Blind Evangelist and Singer Here This Week

Envoy Jeffries of the Salvation Army, blind evangelist, singer and pianist, arrived in the city last evening and will be here until October 5. Street meetings are being held at 7:30 and regular meetings at the Salvation Army headquarters, 317 Main avenue, at 8:00 every evening during his stay here. A special service will be held Sunday morning at eleven o'clock.

Mr. Jefferies, who is an accomplished singer and pianist as well as noted evangelist, was in this city two years ago and is very well known in many places throughout the country.

All the meetings are open to the public and everyone is most cordially invited to take advantage of this opportunity of hearing Mr. Jeffries.

On Hunting Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. King and son, Ernest, of Winona, left last week on a hunting trip which will take them around the world, on which they expect to travel 12,000 miles and spend eight months. Mr. and Mrs. King are well known in Thief River Falls, having on several occasions made this city their headquarters while hunting big game in this vicinity. Mrs. King was the 1923 national women's trap shooting champion.

Gas Treatments Successful.

Numerous patients are now taking advantage of the chlorine gas equipment which was recently installed at the Clinic. Treatments for colds, coughs, and whooping cough have proved entirely successful in practically every instance, the doctors being highly gratified with the results obtained. In most cases one treatment is sufficient to break the average cold.

Stromberg Carbureter Is Successful in Tests to Establish Mileage Record

John P. Chambers of Fargo, N. D., was in the city last Wednesday and while here conducted a test of the Stromberg carbureter, for which he is district agent. A representative of The Tribune was present when the test was made, and without question it showed the efficiency of the Stromberg carbureter. With an ordinary Ford touring car, on a measured two quarts of gasoline, the driver succeeded in covering a distance of 16 miles, a good share of it against a hard wind on a road covered with a thick layer of new gravel.

Rude & Tommerdahl are local agents for this carbureter and it can be furnished for any make of car. Anyone interested should see them for a demonstration.

Ernest Erickson Improving.

Ernest Erickson, 14, residing near Hazel, who suffered a compound fracture of one leg when he fell from the top of a silo, is now on the road to recovery. Blood poisoning set in and for a time his recovery was doubtful, but he now seems to have passed the danger point.

WARREN TO PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Lincoln to Meet Warren in First Real Conference Game of Season.

The Lincoln High football eleven will play its first real conference game of the season when it meets the Warren aggregation on the local field Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

In the practice games with Red Lake Falls and the alumni the Lincoln men made excellent showings and should have every reason to feel confident of a favorable outcome of Saturday's game. Warren has seven of its last year's eleven and is coached by Adolph Bachman of the South Dakota State university, who is a former team mate of Coach L. A. Thune.

It is to be hoped that a large number of townspeople and students will turn out for this game and give the boys the strong moral support that is always needed in the first few contests of the season. Tickets will be sold for 35 cents and 15 cents.

AN EPIC OF WEST IS JAMES CRUZE'S FINE PRODUCTION

"The Covered Wagon" Full of Dramatic Scenes That Thrill.

A magnificent epic of the early West is James Cruze's latest Paramount production, "The Covered Wagon," which will be the feature at the Lyceum theatre Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 6, 7, 8 and 9. This is a picturization of Emerson Hough's new novel of the same name, and it is said to be one of the greatest photoplays ever seen on the screen.

The features embraced in this story are many and varied and include among others, the start of 350 covered wagons from Westport Landing (now Kansas City), in 1848. The terrors of fording freshet rivers, prairie fires and the like are depicted with great realism. A buffalo hunt is one of the most exciting scenes. Old Fort Bridger with a night attack and fight by day with Indians, are shown. The dividing of the trails to Oregon and California at old Fort Hall, magnificent mountain shots with the establishment of one of the first homesteads in Oregon—these are all incidents in a picture that bristles with big scenes.

Such historical characters as Kit Carson, Jim Bridger and Bill Jackson, scouts and typical western characters, are portrayed in the Paramount screen version of the novel, which is conceded to be one of the most notable literary achievements of the present decade.

The various roles are in the hands of well known screen players. The leading man is J. Warren Kerrigan, and the leading woman is Lois Wilson. Alan Hale is the villain. Others in the cast include Tully Marshall, Ethel Wales, Charles Ogle and John Fox. Jack Cunningham adapted the novel to the screen.

Mrs. O. F. Eide of Holt arrived here last evening from Park Rapids, where she spent a week as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Oscar Erickson. She returned to Holt by car the same evening accompanied by Miss Betsy Flann.

PROMINENT MEN ADDRESS VOTERS HERE THIS WEEK

Two Successful Political Meetings Conducted in Thief River Falls.

W. I. Nolan, J. Adam Bede, F. H. Peterson and Haugen Give Talks.

The doctrine of Republicanism was proclaimed in the city this week at two meetings, both held at the Princess theatre. Monday evening, W. I. Nolan, candidate for lieutenant governor, delivered a strong address to a large audience, making a sensible plea for the Republican ticket from top to bottom. Mr. Nolan is an able speaker who is capable of putting his message across.

The gathering held last night was a splendid meeting. The attendance was good and the speakers made very interesting and instructive talks. J. Adam Bede, who is an orator and humorist of national reputation, emphasized the fact that our greatest difficulty in this country at the present time is hatred; hatred between political parties, between other organizations and between individuals. Mr. Bede counsels the American people to get hatred and selfishness out of their hearts and let kindness and brotherly love come in. He further pointed out that many of our troubles, problems and difficulties, grew out of our blessings. As civilization gets more complex and our blessings increase, so do our burdens and problems increase. He pointed out that we complain of the high cost of living, but if we were willing to live as our fathers and grandfathers lived, without electric lights, without automobiles, without the radio, without our highly efficient and well developed public school system, the cost of living would not be so high. We are inclined to demand all the blessings of civilization, but we shrink from carrying the burdens that accompany these blessings.

Mr. Bede further stated that he believed in two great political parties about equally balanced—one in power and the other out, watching. He said that he was a Republican because he thought the Democrats were the best watchers; that they had had a great deal of experience watching the Republican party and that they would continue this experience during the next four years.

F. H. Peterson of Moorhead, Minnesota, Republican candidate for congress from the Ninth district, followed Mr. Bede with a very sensible understandable talk about agricultural conditions. Mr. Peterson pointed out that the happy combination throughout the Northwest this year of a good crop and good prices because of a foreign demand, might not occur again for a number of years; that the agricultural problems were just as acute today as they have been during the past three or four years.

Mr. Peterson is strongly in favor of legislation along the lines of the McNary-Haugen bill, that will guarantee to agriculture a price for their products that is in keeping and in proper relation to the prices that we have to pay for manufactured articles. Mr. Peterson promises that if he is fortunate enough to be elected to congress, he will actively and agressively support farm legislation that has as its object the stabilization of adequate prices for farm products.

Honorable Gilbert N. Haugen, from Northwood, Iowa, closed the program with a very clear statement of the working of the McNary-Haugen bill, should it be passed into a law. Mr. Haugen has served 26 consecutive years as congressman from his district. In point of service he is the oldest congressman in the House of Representatives in Washington. He is chairman of the agricultural committee. Mr. Haugen was born and raised on a farm and is actively engaged in farming now. He knows the problems of the farmer and sees them from the same view point as the farmer who is actually living on his farm from day to day. Mr. Haugen has had many years of experience and has a broad grasp of the agricultural situation from a national view point. He states beyond a question of doubt, passage of the McNary-Haugen bill would cure the agricultural difficulties. After listening to his explanation of conditions and the working of the bill, it was very clear to his audience that this kind of legislation would be effective and accomplish the desired results.

There is no question but what this bill should have been passed and would have been had it not been for the political ambitions of those who held the balance of power in the house and senate.

TUNE YOUR PIANO!

Classes in piano have now begun. Do not, for pity's sake, spoil the child's ear by allowing practice on a piano which is out of tune!

I guarantee to tune your piano CORRECTLY or it won't cost you a cent for the job. No one can tune a piano by ear alone, no matter how "good" he may think his ear is. He must know HOW, and that comes with study and years of practice. Last month I tuned 25 pianos in Argyle, Minn., alone, and in every instance the customer was thoroughly satisfied, many of them stating their instrument had never had that clear, ringing tone quality before. That is because I do the job scientifically.

I will be glad to call and inspect your instrument at any time. I also do any kind of repairing.

The Peterson-Biddick company are to be congratulated upon the completion of their new wareohuse which is a creditable addition to the business institutions of the city.

The Legion boys have about decided that the Lord aligned himself with the pastors when they filed their resolutions protesting against the Sunday speed carnival.

A visitor from southern Minnesota informed The Tribune the other day that Pennington county is known today far and wide as the leading alfalfa county of Minnesota. That is what we call "music to our ears."

When completed the Farmers Cooperative creamery in Thief River Falls will be one of the finest institutions of the kind in Minnesota. The farmers, who by their loyalty have made the building possible, are to be congratulated upon their enterprise. We suggest they hold a big house warming before the biulding is occupied in order that business men of the city may have an opportunity of viewing the new creamery.

Governor Preus has declared a closed season upon ringnecked pheasants, and there is much talk of his closing the partridge season. It is alleged by Game Warden Munch that partridges this year are wormy, that they are undersized owing to the late season and they have been decimated in numbers by hawks, crows, and other vandal birds. In view of this condition the governor has been asked to close the season in order to prevent the birds from becoming extinct.

Frank Day wants to know where there is a prettier town in Minnesota than Fairmont. Come up here, Frank, and take a slant at Thief River. Not only can we beat you forty ways from Sunday for looks but this is also a safer town to live in. While ugly storms have driven the people of southern Minnesota to their storm cellars Thief River Falls has been sitting pretty, with not a cloud to mar the serenity of her atmasphere.

Marius Waldal served this district well in the last legislature and deserves to be sent back for another term. Perhaps he did not please all the voters but he voted right upon all important measures. He was active in behalf of the Rural Credit loan act and will vote to extend the measure for the benefit of the farmers who will need assistance during the coming two years, and that fact alone should commend him to the voters. Mr. Waldal commands respect in the legislature because he uses good common sense in the consideration of legislative matters, and to swap horses at this time would be a fatal mistake for this district to make.

After listening to the gentlemen who explained to the members of the Commercial club last Thursday the advantages to be gained from the planting and cultivation of peas, we are 100 per cent for the establishment of a pea cannery. But the profits, be they little or great, should be distributed among the growers. We believe Thief River Falls business men and farmers of the vicinity are equal to the task of building a cannery and the matter should not be dropped without a thorough and searching investigation into the facts.

It is claimed that the cultivation of peas requires no more labot than the raising of wheat, while the profits according to competent testimony, ranges from $65 to $110 per acre. If that be true, it is worth looking into.

Howard Folsom of the Taylor Falls Journal pays his respects to Andy Rahn and Ed Smith in the following rather plain language:

> "Andy Rahn threatened to quit the Republican state committee, to which he was appointed by Congressman Schall, because he couldn't dictate its policies. First thing we know, Ed Smith, who was also appointed on the state committee by Congressman Schall, will be threatening to quit. Rahn is chief political fixer for the Shevlin-Carpenter Lbr. Co., which is "dear to the hearts" of Chisago county voters—we guess not. Smith is the old chief of the Republican state central committee who was ousted some years ago and whom the voters of Chisago county were opposed to. If the voters of Chisago county would read between the lines and see that the row in the committee is all being kicked up by the reactionaries who are anxious to regain control, they would realize that Theodore Christianson is not so popular with the reactionaries. Christianson is a true progressive."

It is freely predicted by newspapers and political leaders all over the state that Rahn and Smith's resignation would be the best thing that could possibly happen to the Republican party in this state.—St. Paul Herald.

The following letter from a business man to his banker, may be a little overdrawn, but it speaks volumes of truth in every line.

"Dear Sir: For the following reasons I regret being able to reduce my overdraft: I have been held up, held down, sandbagged, walked on, sat upon, flattened out and squeezed by our income tax, the supertax, the excess-profits tax, war loans, war bond, war-savings certificates, the automobile tax and every society and organization that the inventive mind of man can invent to extract what I may or may not have in my possession—by the Red Cross, Blue Cross Saint Dumstan's the Children's Home the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Salvation Army, the Belgian Relief, the Austrian Relief, the Black Cross, the Double Cross and every hospital in the town or country.

"The Government has governed my business so that I do not know who owns it. I am inspected, suspected, examined and reexamined, informed and commanded, so that I don't know who I am or why I am here at all. All that I know is that I am supposed to be an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race; and because I will not sell all I have and go out and beg, borrow or steal money to give away, I am cussed discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied about and held up, robbed and damn near ruined, and the only reason why I am clinging to life now is to see what will happen next."—St. Paul Herald.

Ten Men and a Thousand.

One Oak, $4,000.

W. L. Donglas, Builder.

Dempsey and Defense Day.

Very good news for the United States is this:

The President is considering the relative value of battleships and airplanes.

Those that sell battleships at forty million dollars apiece will tell the President that the country can't survive without plenty of hattleships.

Manufacturers of handsome cabs would also have said a little while ago that tha taxicab couldn't be a real success.

Before the President builds another hattleship let him ask the builder this question:

"Are you willing to build that ship for forty million dollars and guarantee that it will be afloat ten hours after being attacked by one hundred thousand dollars' worth of fighting airships?"

If ths President discovers, as he will, that a hundred thousand dollars' worth of airships, manned by ten men can destroy any forty million dollar bsttleship with more than a thousand men on board, he will decide not to build battleships.

Governor Pinchot has signed the death warrant of a young colored woman who killed a colored policeman and pleaded self defense. She will he the first woman executed in the state of Pennsylvania in 35 years. Governor Pinchot signed the death wsrrant when he was in the hospital. When he comes out, entirely recovered, it may occur to him that putting a negress to death instead of locking her up is small business for a great state.

The question is not "Does she deserve death?" It is "Does Pennsylvania deserve disgrace?"

There are now regular quotations for counterfeit notes. The average price is $25 for $100 worth of hogus hills. The market is stabilized hy the demand for such money, used hy hootleggers in buying liquor from the rum fleet, sent by our British brothers.

The managers of ths boats are good hootleggers, but not familiar with American money, bave been taking bad money for worse whiskey—which seems fair enough.

A Presbyterian church in New Jersey spent $4,000 in one year, taking csre of a huge oak 400 years old. The oak may he worth it. But that sum would have planted several thousand new trees along New Jersey roads. Or, if you don't resent dragging in religion, it would have done a good deal to help some of those "little ones" that are supposed to he more important than many oaks.

Above the hase at Quantico, Va., flying machines are practicing, and on the ground our honest U. S. Marines, in deep amazement, "observed that a flock of buzzards, after watching tha aviators, imitated ali their flying tricks in the air."

You remember the gentleman with his house on fire who gathered in his arms all the furniture he could carry, finally picking up the hahy with his teeth fastened in the little dress.

As he lifted ths baby he saw a cat walking across the floor holding a kitten in her mouth, and said, "Look at the wonderful imitstion of that cat."

W. L. Douglas died in Boston last week. His name will be remembered among the builders of great industry, among those that helped to free humanity from slavery, by making machines do the work of human hands.

He began life driving pegs in shoes for his uncle. He lived to make machines do the work of thousands of human beings and distributed American-made shoes throughout the world.

Those that consider Preparedness and Defense Day a menace to peace please notics this:

Jack Dempsey is prepared. If you doubt it, pull his nose. As he goes through thick crowds everybody knows him, everybody is POLITE. Nobody claps him or insults him, and he does not hit or insult anybody. HE'S PREPARED and people let him alone. He lets them alone unless they get in the ring with him.

As it is with individnals, so with nations. When they are prepared, they have peace.

The Gasoline Tax.

(Duluth Herald)

The people of Minnesota next November will pass upon a number of proposed amendments to the constitution, among which is one anthorizing the legislature to impose a gasoline tax, the proceeds to go into the state highway fund.

Not ouly should this amendment be adopted, but the state pretty nearly HAS to adopt it.

It should be adopted because it is a logical and just way of taxing motor vehicles in proportion to their use of the roads.

It must he adopted becauss it is the only way by which cars from other states, which use Minnesota roads with increasing frequency, can he made to pay any part of the cost of building and keeping up those roads. Also hecanse Minnesota cars, when they go to other states, are made to pay through the gasoline tax for the upkeep of the roads there, and it is only fair, then, that cars from those states should pay here.

As to the equity of the tax, it is obvious.

Assuming that the legislature fixes it st two cents a gallon, which most states use, though some use more and some less, it would work out this way:

A light csr that gets 20 miles to the gallon would pay a tax of ten cents for every hundred miles it travels.

A heavier car that gets only 10 miles to the gallon will pay 20 cents a hundred miles.

And a heavy hus or truck that gets only five miles to the gallon will pay 40 cents a hundred miles.

This, manifestly, is pretty close to fixing the tax in proportion to wear and tear on the roads.

To illustrate it still more clearly, take two cars that get ten miles to the gallon, one of them traveling three thousand miles in a season and the other 20 thousand miles. Under the two-cent gasoline tax plan the car that travels threa thousand miles will pay a tax of six dollars, and the car that travels 20 thousand miles will pay $40.

Which, of course, is as it should be.

Visiting cars which come in increasing hordes and are most welcome, under tha present system pay nothing whatever for their use of the roads, though Minnesota cars must pay, through the gasoline tax, pretty nearly wherever they go.

Of course visiting cars should pay something for the use of the roads, and the gasoline tax is a sure way, and the only imagineahle way to make them pay.

Thirty-six states out of 48 now have the gasoline tax. It won't be long hefore all of them have it. Minnesota should not miss the chance the November election offers of escaping the possibility that it will soon be the only state that does not make visiting cars pay a part of its road hill through the gasoline tax.

Son Arrives.

Word has been received in Thief River Falls that a son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Arneson on Septemher 29 at their home in Berkley, Calif. Their many friends in this city will extend congratulations.

Nygaard-Hagen.

Miss Esther Alfreda Nygaard, dsughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angust Augman of Hallock, was united in marriage to Thorval Hagen of Erskine today at 12:00 noon. The ceremony took place at the Zion Lutheran parsonage with Rev. George Larson officiating and Miss Clara Comstock and Nohle Larson acting as witnessea.

The young couple will reside at Erskine where the groom is engaged in the harness business. A wedding reception is being held this evening at Erskine.

Greater Fairness to All.

If public sentiment can he correctly judged this far in advance of a state election the gas tax amendment will pass by a sizeable msiority. The amendment is not to authorize a gssoline tax. The legislsture slready has that power. It is authorizing the use of the money, so secured, on the roads of the state. The hurden of road costs can in this way be distrihuted more equitahly than in any other manner.—Bemidji Pioneer.

The many friends of Miss Tomine Hanson of St. Hilaire will be pleased to learn that sha is rapidly improving and after spending two weeks resting at home, will he able to return here for an operation. She suffered a severe attack of appendicitis with lung complications which before hsr improvement made an operation impossible.

Seniors Prove Fine Hosts at Reception for Faculty

The Seniors were excellent hosts last Friday evening when they entertained the high school faculty and members of the school board at a reception in the high school gymnasium. The first part of the evening's entertainment consisted of the following program, which was very well rendered:

Welcome	Emmett Shanahan
Response	Morris Bye
Reading	Lucille Roark
Piano Solo	Mildred Engen

Orchestra Selections, Maxine Johnson, Kermit Anderson, Lloyd Bennes and Henry Arneson.

An autograph contest was conducted next in which Lylian Arnold won first prize and Ersyle Anderson the booby prize. This was succeeded by a spelling game and an observation contest which was won by Roy Langseth, first, and Robert Halvorson, the booby prize. Everyone then took part in the grand march, which was immediately followed by the serving of refreshments.

The gymnasium, which has just been completely renovated, was furnished to resemble a hotel lobby or large reception room and made an exceptionally pleasant scene for the party, which was thoroughly enjoyed by teachers and students alike.

J. W. Deputy of Bemidji Speaks to Student Body

J. W. Deputy, president of the State Teachers' College at Bemidji, delivered a forty-minute talk to the students of the high school at a special chapel period Tuesday morning.

He based his speech on the three things in life, "good health, a positive character, and well directed energy," and made his points so clear that he could not have failed to make an impression on the mind of every student. Besides being interesting and instructive, his talk was exceptionally well delivered and held the attention of his audience in a most flattering manner.

All previous Lincoln high school attendance records have been shattered, according to Principal Morris Bye, who stated that there are now 431 students enrolled. This is 35 more than were registered at the end of the first semester last year and two more than last spring at the end of the school term.

ROSEWOOD

D. N. Peterson and Chester Dols returned Sunday evening from their trip to the southern part of the state and were accompanied by Mr. Peterson's daughter, Ruth. They were unfortunate in striking very rainy weather with slippery roads during a large part of their trip and on returning between the twin cities and here had a tip-over with their Ford. Nobody was hurt but the car received the usual damage, the occupants a severe shaking up and they were pretty well soaked up with mud and water. Rudolph Sagmoen, who was in the party down south, will return by rail in a short time.

The Rindal Ladies Aid will be entertained by Mrs. Selmer Haugen at her home next Tuesday, Oct. 7, at 2 p. m.

John Remmem and E. H. Carlson motored here from Stephen last Sunday to look around for more threshing hands at that place.

L. L. Furan and Severt Benson of Thief River Falls were here Sunday evening calling on old friends and also visiting at the B. P. Sagmoen home.

Julia Axelson, who has been employed at the Bishop restaurant this summer, was called home Monday on account of her mother's illness. She will remain at home this week.

Judge A. Grindeland of Warren was a business visitor here on Monday to look after his farming interests.

Melvin Pederson, who operated the Gust Nakken farm north of here, had a tip-over with his Ford last Friday just south of the Rindal church which might have brought about very serious consequences. It appears that the steering apparatus had stuck in some manner and the car was hurled to one side, throwing Mr. Pederson forward and through the windshield, causing some nasty cuts about the face and head. One of the rear wheels was broken and the wind shield smashed and some other damage sustained by the car.

R. R. George and Roscoe Batten are sheduled to appear before the New Solum town justices today in a hearing brought about by two summons which they have served on each other. It appears that Mr. Batten is a renter of the John Melacheck farm since the latter left last winter for New Prague, and that later Mr. George has arrived and taken up his residence in the buildings claiming to have an agreement with Mr. Melacheck that he could occupy the buildings while Mr. Batten only occupies the farm. This Mr. Batten disclaims, and together with a few other financial matters between the two the whole thing will be ground out before the local officers.

Gust Nakken returned Saturday to his home at Duluth after spending a week here while the crop was being threshed on his farm. Mr. Nakken has been employed at boulevard work in the suburbs of Duluth this summer together with his sons and is evidently doing very nicely. At least he told the writer that he had not felt as good for many years as this summer. Mrs. Nakken is operating a small rooming house at Duluth.

Haugen & Pederson completed their threshing run here on Thursday and left for the Christ Evenson farm near Anita, in which neighborhood they will thresh for some time.

A few days of the usual rainy and dreary fall weather set in on Friday morning, putting a stop to all threshing work and bringing all the men from this place who are threshing near Argyle and Stephen, Angus and other points further west. Fall work is considerably delayed already and the seeding of winter rye is carried on about two weeks behind time.

School is suspended at Rosebank this week to allow all pupils to assist with potato picking. The potato harvest is bountiful but the market is unsteady. At Thief River Falls this week the association accepts potatoes for their members and a California representative is buying the flat Burbank type at the produce building at a fair price. Otherwise no local concern buys as the market is too unsteady.

The co-operative egg an poultry association, with the central office at Thief River Falls, has opened their station at this place on Sept. 19, being in charge of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Peterson. Poultry was shipped the first day and also on Oct. 6 and 7. Eggs are brought in with truck every Tuesday and Friday. The association has a large number of members at this place.

A number of farmers brought stock to Viking on Saturday to be shipped with the Viking shipping association.

Lewie Meyers was down from Steiner on Saturday on a business trip.

Frances Marchton spent Saturday on business matters.

Miss Ethel Styrlund, who has been employed at the J. E. Hellpist farm this summer, is employed at the John Bloom farm since the beginning of this week.

A 16x26 barn is being constructer in the Nels Holm farm east of town this week. A well will also be dug at that place this fall.

Attorney General

St. Paul, Minn., June 14, 1924.

HONORABLE MIKE HOLM,
Secretary of State, Capitol.

SIR: As required by section 46, General Statutes 1913, I have the honor to furnish you herewith, a statement of the purposes and effects of all amendments proposed to the constitution of the state of Minnesota by the legislature of 1923 and which are to be submitted to the electors of the state at the general election in 1924.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 1.

Chapter 447, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment to section 5 of article 9 of the constitution of the state. The section now reads as follows:

"Section 5. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the state may contract public debts, but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single object, to be distinctly specified therein; and no such law shall take effect until it shall have been passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature, to be recorded by yeas and nays on the journals of each house respectively; and every such law shall levy a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest of such debt, and also a tax sufficient to pay the principal of such debt within ten years from the final passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation and taxes shall not be repealed, postponed, or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid. The state shall never contract any debts for works of internal improvements, or be a party in carrying on such works, except in cases where grants of land or other property shall have been made to the state, especially dedicated by the grant to specific purposes, and in such cases the state shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion."

If amended this section will read as follows:

"Section 5. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the state may contract public debts, but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single object, to be distinctly specified therein; and no such law shall take effect until it shall have been passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature, to be recorded by yeas and nays on the journals of each house respectively; and every such law shall levy a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest of such debt, and also a tax sufficient to pay the principal of such debt within ten years from the final passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation and taxes shall not be repealed, postponed, or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid. The state shall never contract any debts for works of internal improvement, or be a party in carrying on such works, except as authorized by section 16 of article 9, and by article 16 of this constitution; but it may levy an excise tax upon any substance, material, fluid, force or other means or instrumentality, or the business of dealing in, selling or producing any or all thereof, used or useful, in producing or generating power for propelling motor or other vehicles used on the public highways of this state, and shall place the proceeds of such tax in the trunk highway fund provided for in section 2 of said article 16 and further except in cases where grants of land or other property shall have been made to the state, especially dedicated by the grant to specific purposes, and in such cases the state shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion."

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to confer express authority upon the legislature to provide a special tax on gasoline or other substances used, or useful, for the propulsion of motor vehicles on the public highways of the state or on the business of dealing in, selling or producing such substances. The money so raised by such tax to be used for the construction and maintenance of trunk highways.

The effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be that the cost of the construction and maintenance of trunk highways, the whole of which is now paid by a direct tax on motor vehicles, supplemented by federal aid, will be borne in part by the revenue derived from such gasoline tax, so-called, as the legislature may impose.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2.

Chapter 448, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment of section 36 of article 4 of the constitution of the state. This section now reads as follows:

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof; Provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits now established. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least thirty days in three newspapers of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent, and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses; if of two houses, at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto to the qualified voters of such city or village any alternate section or article may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other articles or sections of the charter or any amendments thereto. The legislature may provide general laws relating to affairs of cities, the application of which may be limited to cities of over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty and not less than ten thousand inhabitants, or to cities of ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all such cities of either class, and which shall be paramount while in force to the provisions relating to the same matter included in the local charter herein provided for. But no local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the state defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors."

If amended this section will read as follows:

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof; Provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits now established. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least ten days in any daily newspaper of general circulation in such city or village, or if there be no daily newspaper of general circulation in such city or village then for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses; if of two houses, at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto to the qualified voters of such city or village any alternate section or article may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other articles or sections of the charter or any amendments thereto. The legislature may provide general laws relating to affairs of cities, the applications of which may be limited to cities over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty and not less than ten thousand inhabitants, or to cities of ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all such cities of either class, and which shall be paramount while in force to the provisions relating to the same matter included in the local charter herein provided for. But no local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the state defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors."

The purpose of said amendment is to change the number of newspapers in which proposed amendments of home rule charters of cities and villages must be published and the duration of such publications.

The effect of said amendments, if adopted, will be to authorize the publication of proposed amendments to the home rule charter of a city or village for ten days in one daily newspaper of general circulation therein, if there be such a newspaper, or once each week for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper of general circulation therein, if there be no such daily newspaper, instead of publishing the same for thirty days in three newspapers of general circulation therein as now required.

The price of eggs is steadily advancing. The weather is getting colder and the days shorter, so you will have to make your hens eat more if you are to continue to get plenty of these high priced eggs.

Be particular about the quality of your eggs.

The first case of eggs to be purchased by a local merchant from the Association was sold last week to O. O. Nelson, who operates a grocery in the outlying district of the city.

Our new Ford truck made its first trip Monday, going to Roseau. The truck was purchased from the McFarland Auto company and the body was built by Northern Woodwork company. It is a very creditable-looking layout.

The Association shipped its first batch of eggs last week, and from indications, it is going to get a good price for them.

Help your Association succeed by getting more members.

STATE EGG CO-OP. PAYS TOP PRICES

A. A. McPheeters, manager of the Minnesota Egg and Poultry Exchange, states that this organization paid on an average from three to eight cents above the prices of local buyers for case run eggs, during the period August 15 to August 30.

Over 60 per cent of the eggs handled by the Exchange during August graded extras; over 30 per cent graded seconds; and less than 10 per cent were in the last grade.

While the cash market in the period referred to averaged 25.4 cents for case run eggs, the local associations affiliated with the Exchange were paying the farmer from 30 to 32 cents. For eggs grading extras the local associations paid during this period approximately 35 cents; for eggs grading firsts, 28 cents; and for no grades, 20 cents.

"Make" Money
by saving part of what you earn.

Isn't there a good deal of common sense in that?

For instance, you earn so much each month. A year or ten years from now don't you think you would be better off if you made up your mind to save, one, two, five or ten dollars regularly each month?

If there is no argument against it why not do it?

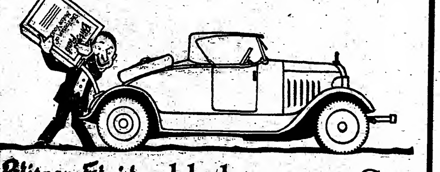
Treat Your Gasoline With-
Blitzen Fluid
"The Fountain of Motor Youth"



Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas-
Increases Mileage of Gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon.

CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor troubles. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap in motor engineering, as it softens the fiery coke-like carbon deposits and expels it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forms a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

When carbon is gone grinding of valves becomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean and perform at their highest efficiency; carbon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and you will enjoy that extra power and smoothness of a clean well preserved motor.

Blitzen Fluid is used by men in the Auto Motive industry who know that it will not injure the most sensitive motor. It is produced by chemists to put and keep your motor in the state of highest efficiency and saves in gasoline and repair bills sufficiently to entirely or largely reduce the cost.

ADD 2 OUNCES OF Blitzen Fluid TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS and give Blitzen Fluid a fair test in accordance with the condition of your motor. Notice the difference.

In your community Blitzen Fluid "The Fountain of Motor Youth" is sold at Pyramid pumps and service stations.

ANNUAL MEETING OF FAIR BOARD

This Year Proves to Be Most Prosperous in History of Society.

The annual meeting of the fair association was held last week Friday in the Commercial club rooms and the attendance was the largest seen at an annual meeting for several years, interest in the fair being at its height following the success this year.

Herbert Fuller was the unanimous choice of those present for president although several others were placed in nomination but declining to run, including Math Barzen, Emil Griebstein, V. C. Noper, N. W. Tarrant and Fred Bierbower.

Emil Griebstein and M. T. McFarland were chosen first and second vice presidents respectively, while Albert Lonson was re-elected treasurer, there being no others placed in nomination for these positions.

Five directors were also named to complete the board, these being S. E. Hunt, Dr. G. A. Penney, Roy Lambert, Fred Bierbower and V. C. Noper, six others having been nominated but declining the office previous to the voting thereon. They were Charles Shirley, Dr. O. F. Mellby, Albert Johnson, Jorgen Eide, Olaf Neset and T. M. Thronson.

The exact dates for the fair in 1925 were not decided upon although those present decided that the first week in August was the best time, the directors being given discretion in the choice of days. In the past it has been found that this week was generally free from stormy weather and a larger attendance was secured thereby.

One thing that the stockholders did desire to see next year was a reinstatement of horse racing, and a vote was taken thereon, the proposition meeting with unanimous approval.

The annual report of the secretary showed the largest attendance during the past fair of any since the fair association was organized in Pennington, over 17,000 having entered the grounds during the three days, the gate receipts having totaled $4,233. State, county and city aid, with other miscellaneous receipts, brought the total up to $6,366.91, and with expenditures of $6,043.99 there remained a balance of $322.92, which will be just about used up when a few bills not yet presented have been taken care of. However, the state will soon send a remittance of about $1,700 which will prove a nice nest egg for the coming season. Considering the fact that the only outstanding indebtedness of the fair association now is a $4,550 mortgage and that the value of the property including the buildings is about $35,000 it is felt that remarkable success has been enjoyed.

Jackie Coogan in Latest Is Coming to City Soon

"Circus Days" is a free adaptation of James Otis' world famous story, "Toby Tyler, or Ten Days With a Circus." In it Jackie takes the role of Toby Tyler, who runs away from the farm to join a big tent show. His accidental rise from a vendor of peanuts and lemonade to the hit of the circus makes one of the best screen stories that has yet been given to the popular young star.

Several of the country's leading circuses, wintering in California, were used in the making of many of the scenes and the "big top" atmosphere, it is said, was never more faithfully registered on the screen.

A strong cast appears in support of Jackie. Peachie Jackson, a diminutive child actress, who portrays the role of Jeanette, tiny equestrienne, is to be seen as his leading lady.

Barbara Tennant plays the role of Toby Tyler's widowed mother. Cesare Gavini, who was the old musician with Jackie Coogan in "Daddy," is again to be seen with the little star, this time as Luigi, an old clown, who befriends the runaway lad.

In addition to "the world's fattest woman" and "the world's skinniest man," namely Nellie Lane and William Barlow, the cast boasts such celebrities as Russell Simpson, Claire McDowell, Sam De Grasse and De Witte Jennings.

The production, which is hailed as the most lavish in which Jackie has yet appeared, was made under the direction of Eddie Cline.

Thief River Entertains Large Number of Church Workers at Conference

Presbyterians and laymen of Northwestern Minnesota gathered in Thief River Falls last Wednesday and Thursday for the fall meeting of Adams Presbytery, at which matters of church interest were discussed and acted upon. The towns represented were Crookston, East Grand Forks, Bemidji, Blackduck, Kelliher, Tenstrike, Red Lake Falls, Plummer Brooks, Euclid, Lancaster, Orleans, Middle River, Warroad and Hallock.

The Presbytery opened with a banquet by the Men's club of the Presbyterian church of this city. The program of the banquet centered around Bible study for men. After a violin solo by Henry Arneson, accompanied by Eileen Arneson, and a reading by Dorothy Swedenburg, several speakers were given the floor. Ole R. Sande, president of the Men's club, presided and an interesting series of talks was given. Dr. Hibbard of Crookston spoke on "The Bible For Understanding Men and Their Problems." Rev. L. P. Warford of Bemidji on "The Bible For Inspiration In Our Work." Dr. W. H. Evans of Red Lake Falls on "The Bible For Moral Instruction." Rev. M. J. Gray of Fisher on "The Bible For Spiritual Upbuilding." Several local men also gave talks on men's Bible study: F. F. Haynes, J. S. Arneson and Bert Umland, who are members of the Presbyterian class.

At the close of the banquet a public meeting was held in the audtitorium of the church, at which time the retiring moderator, Rev. Chas. Wilcix of Euclid, preached the sermon. The Presbytery reconvened on Thursday morning and spent the whole day receiving reports and conducting church business. Rev. G. A. P. Austin of Warroad was elected moderator for the new term of six months.

Musical Revue Scheduled by Legion Auxiliary for Friday, Evening, Oct. 17

Rehearsals have now commenced for the Legion Auxiliary Musical revue which is to be given at the auditorium Friday, October 17. Mrs. A. E. Hodgson of Crookston has been chosen to direct the production.

Mrs. Dave Robinson, chairman of the finance committee, appointed Mrs. M. W. Brink to head the talent committee and practically the entire cast of one hundred has been selected. These will meet for the first rehearsal at 7:30 this evening in the Legion club rooms and be assigned their parts.

The Legion Auxiliary is very anxious to make the Musical Revue a complete success in every way and asks for the cooperation of the entire community. A great deal of money will be needed to entertain the visiting Legionaires at the convention next year and this is one of the ways by which they hope to secure part of the necessary funds.

Wedding of Oscar Smith and Ruth Johnson Occurs in St. Paul September 13

A large circle of friends were surprised to hear of the marriage of Miss Ruth Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson of Washburn, Wis., to Oscar Smith of this city, on Saturday, September 13, at St. Paul. Rev. Rogan of the St. Paul Cathedral performed the ceremony in the presence of Miss Scanlnn and Charles McDonald, both of St. Paul and friends of Mr. Smith.

The newly wedded couple remained in the Twin Cities during the week of the national convention and then drove to various points in the southern part of the state, visiting with relatives at LeSeuer, Heron Lake, and New Ulm They returned to this city yesterday but as yet are undecided as to where they will make their future home.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith are well known in this community and have a host of friends who wish them much happiness in their venture.

Mrs. Jonas Vicklund and child of Strathcona returned this morning after spending a day here receiving medical attention.

Local Farmer Finds Way to Handle Ungainly Crop of Tallest Sweet Clover

Anton Jensen, a progressive dairy farmer living northwest of Thief River Falls, has invented a method by which sweet clover in Pennington county may successfully be harvested. Mr. Jensen had a field of the clover this year which averaged well over 12 feet in heighth and the problem of getting it harvested and in shape for the threshers was no mean one.

Mr. Jensen took his corn binder, which is designed to cut one row of corn, and added two guards to the gathering device, making the machine cut a clean swath of 38 to 40 inches in his sweet clover field. It is the cleverest device coming to the attention of The Tribune for some time and this newspaper believes he has solved the problem of harvesting a crop which is in the habit of getting entirely out of control in this section of the country. According to spectators, the plan works like a charm and Mr. Jensen has his crop in fine shape for the threshing machine with very little of the seed shaken out due to handling. Farmers who are interested should investigate Mr. Jensen's method of garnering his sweet clover crop this year. He has a practical idea and it could profitably be used by others.

POTATO MEN OKEY WAREHOUSE PLANS

State Exchange to Form Three Corporations to Handle Storage Properties.

The warehouse plan of the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange is complete and has been approved by the directors of the 33 county Potato Growers associations which make up the state exchange. This approval was obtained at three meetings held 10 days ago at Crookston, Brainard, and St. Paul.

It is planned to form three holding corporations. One will be known as the Eastern Warehousing corporation to serve the eastern section of the state, the second as the Central Warehousing corporation to serve the central section and the third as the Western Warehousing corporation to serve the Red River Valley.

The following were elected as incorporating directors:

Eastern Warehousing corporation, Elmer Erickson of Dalbo, George H. Newbert of Mora, Constant Gernes of Winona, Frank Patchen of Anoka, and J. A. Gillispie of Carlton.

Central Warehousing corporation: H. A. Arnold of Bemidji, Charles Hart of Long Prairie, E. H. Reff of Bagley, Frank Gran of Bovey, and John O'Brien of Nelson.

Western Warehousing corporation: Frank Kiene of Kennedy, Walter Oby of Detroit, S. E. Olson of Ada, H. G. Possehl of Baker, and F. A. Greene of Stephen.

These warehousing corporations will have title to the 235 warehouses the Exchange has taken over to handle the 1924 crop. This plan, when completed and fully developed, will assist the Exchange in financing its work, as with separate warehousing corporations it will be able to obtain warehouse receipts for potatoes in storage. Without such a corporation the Exchange's receipt, issued to itself would be worthless as security for advances.

The next step is for the Exchange to notify each member personally of its plan for creating the warehouse corporation. Unless a majority object, the proposed corporations will be formed by the directors already elected.

STATE BUTTER CO-OP. GETS LONDON ORDERS

Three chain store concerns, one operating 258 stores in Washington, D. C.; one operating 600 stores in Cincinati, St. Louis and other cities; and the third operating a number of stores in Cleveland, Ohio, are negotiating with the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries association, with a view to signing contracts covering the purchase of from one to three cars of butter a week.

The Association also has an order for 500 tubs of sweet cream butter from a London concern. It is expected that this order will eventually develope a more or less extensive foreign trade in Minnesota butter.

The London market is higher than the New York market which would mean a decided profit on butter exported to that city. The fact that in the past only a low scoring butter has been sent to the London market from the United States, will necessitate the reestablishment of the confidence of the London trade in American-made butter. "If this can be done, our Land 'O Lakes brand will do it," said H. F. Meyer, manager of the butter sales department of the Association.

When the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries Association was organized there were those who argued that its main office should be in Chicago—that buyers would not come so far west as St. Paul. In view of this early contention, the negotiations now being carried on with eastern buyers and the large contracts already signed with eastern dealers are of special interest.

CENTRAL GETS BIG MONTANA SHIPMENT

J. S. Montgomery, manager of the Central Cooperative Commission association of South St. Paul, announced last week that J. D. Pyle, field representative of the association, is in Montana looking after the shipment of livestock from Miles City, and surrounding points.

At least two trainloads of livestock of 25 or 30 cars each will be shipped to the Association from Montana during the latter part of Setember. These shipments will be made under the supervision of the Custer County Shipping association, of Miles City.

Mrs. Eva Nelson.

Mrs. Eva Nelson of Warren, Minn., and Momence, Ill., mother to Verner Nelson of this city, died this morning at the Swedenburg hospital after a lingering illness caused by cancer. She had been ill for the past year but became suddenly worse during the last few weeks and a week ago Mr. Nelson went to Momence, Ill., and brought her back with him to this city.

Mrs. Nelson had been a resident of Momence for the past ten years, although she still maintained a home in Warren and considered herself a resident of that city. Besides Verner Nelson, she is survived by another son, Charlie Nelson of Rapid City, S. D.

The date of the funeral has not been decided but the services and interment will take place at Warren.

Mrs. Hsnsina Johnson Dies.

Mrs. Hansina Johnson, wife of Peter Johnson and a resident of River Falls township, died yesterday, September 30, from too high blood pressure. McCormick-Deering Tractors Are Winning

In all sections where McCormick-Deering Tractors have been in operations for the last couple of years and over, we hear the same good reports—no trouble or replacements whatever.

While we have sold only a few of them around Thief River Falls territory, they are winning their way with a reputation to stay, and every day we hear some one make the statement—"One thing sure, the next tractor I buy will be a McCormick-Deering."

Mr. Frank Wendt of Holt, who bought a 10-20 McCormick-Deering from us this year stated, "I never knew what a tractor was before I owned the McCormick-Deering." Mr. S. H. Nohre, who also bought a 10-20 McCormick-Deering from us, stated, "I like the tractor fine, and pulled a 24 inch Racine thresher with it one day threshing rye, when they broke down with the larger threshing engine, and the McCormick-Deering 10-20 handled the thresher without any trouble." Mr. Knute Dahl, of Erie, who bought a 15-30 McCormick-Deering tractor from us, stated, "It's made farming and threshing a real pleasure; I sure can get around with that tractor in a hurry and handle all jobs. All of my neighbors are more than taken up in the McCormick-Deering tractor."

Just think of a tractor with complete Ball and Roller Bearings throughout, including Ball Bearing Crank Shaft, and the Crank Shaft and Crank Shaft Ball Bearings guaranteed for the lift of the tractor againts wearing out, cutting out or breaking. Then a tractor with Removable Cylinder Sleeves. A tractor equipped for power-take-off, where you can couple up your Grain Binder, or any other farm machinery and drive direct from your motor. No added weight to tractor and takes all the driving weight off your binder or other machine you are using.

Do not forget the date of our DEMONSTRATION with the 15-30 and 10-20 McCormick-Deering Tractors hauling P. & O. plows next FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3. It will please you to see these tractors in operation. On the Barzen farm, just west of city limits.

RURAL TEACHERS HOLD INSTITUTE HERE THIS WEEK

More Than One Hundred Instructors Present at Annual Sessions.

Prominent State Educators Assist in Making Programs Helpful.

Teachers' institute for Pennington county opened in the gymnasium of the Lincoln high school Monday morning at 9 o'clock, with an attendance of 65 rural teachers from Pennington county, 12 from Polk county, two from Clay county and one from each of Kittson and Marshall counties, which together with the 32 Normal training students of the local high school makes a total of 113 teachers and cadets.

Under the direction of Miss Swenson from the State Department of Education and Mr. Selke from the University of Minnesota, some valuable studies have been made of the libraries in the rural schools of the county and of the spelling and penmanship abilities of the pupils in those schools that had opened before the meeting of the institute. The library records from the various schools were brought in and the teachers assisted in making a correct classification of the books. The number of books in each library has been determined and this ranges from 13 to 310 with a median number of 169 books per library. The number of books in the various classes of books was also determined and this will be of value to teachers in selecting books to be ordered this year.

A spelling test was given to all pupils from the third to the eighth grades and the papers brought to the meeting where they were corrected and the results tabulated and studied in such a way as to establish the standard for this county in spelling in the various grades. These standards were then compared with those that have been determined for a very large number of schools all over the country, thus revealing to the teacher what is needed in the matter of instruction in spelling in her school.

Samples of the handwriting of a large number of pupils from the fourth to the eighth grades were taken and brought to the institute where they were scored by comparing them with a standard scale. These scores were then tabulated and worked into standards for the various grades in this county. This enabled the teachers under the direction of the instructors to make a comparison of the handwriting ability of their pupils with those for the nation.

Some very practical work has been done to aid the teachers in the rural schools to solve some of the problems that must be solved before the one-room school can do its work and thus give to the folks in the country full value for the money they spend for education.

Parents' Reception For Teachers, Friday, Oct. 8 Proves Very Successful

The reception for the teachers which was given by the parents under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers association last Friday evening in the high school gymnasium proved to be a very successful affair and went a long way toward making the parents and teachers better acquainted.

The program for the evening was as follows:

Song—Woman's Club chorus.

Speech of Welcome—Mrs. R. Arnold, president.

"Our Schools"—Mrs. L. G. Larsen.

"The Mother and the School"—Mrs. E. J. Richards.

"The Father and the School"—W. W. Prichard, Sr.

Piano Solo—Lucille Hermanson.

Response to Welcome—Supt. I. T. Simley.

This was followed immediately by a grand march and the serving of refreshments. The teachers were then arranged in groups according to schools so that the parents had no trouble in finding the instructors of their own children.

Quite a large number were present at the first meeting of the association and present indications are that the Parent-Teacher organization will have a fine year. The next meeting is being planned for Monday evening, November 3, at the high school auditorium.

FARM-LABORITES MAKE SPEECHES

Fair Crowd Listens to Orators at Princess Friday Night.

A good sized crowd was present Friday evening at the Farmer-Labor rally held at the Princess theatre. While James A. Peterson of Minneapolis was the principal speaker of the evening, a number of others also gave short talks. Walter Quist acted as chairman.

The first speaker was Thomas Vollom of Erskine, candidate for governor on the Farmer-Labor ticket in the recent primaries. Mr. Vollom made a strong plea for the support of the progressive ticket from top to bottom. Vollom was followed by R. C. Gordon of Red Lake county, candidate for state representative. Mr. Gordon spoke very briefly, pledging himself to serve his constituents to the best of his ability if elected to the position he seeks.

The last speaker of the evening was Mr. Peterson, who delivered a very pleasing address which drew repeated applause from the audience. The speaker devoted most of his time to a eulogy of Senator LaFollette, progressive candidate for president and to justify his stand on several questions of public policy. He went into detail in speaking of Mr. LaFollete's stand on curtailing the powers of the courts, and classified as ridiculous the attempt of the opposition to make it appear that LaFollete is "undermining the constitution."

LINCOLN MEETS CROOKSTONITES

Local Grids to Play Old Foes at Fair Grounds Friday, Oct. 10.

Headed by Captain "Mike" Parenteau, the Lincoln eleven will battle with Crookston at four o'clock Friday afternoon, October 10, at the fair grounds.

Since the game with Warren last Saturday, several shifts have been made in the local line-up. With these changes and the intensive practices of the past week, a greatly strengthened line will be seen. The caliber of the Crookston team was clearly indicated last Saturday, when they held the strong Grand Forks eleven to a low score, being defeated only 14 to 7.

Bleachers have been erected along the sidelines of the grid-iron at the fair grounds and will be ready to accommodate a gallery of at least 400.

The game, which is being put on partly as an added feature of the Teachers' convention, will cost 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

State School Aid Falls to $4.00 for Each Pupil

With enrollment in the state's public schools jumping 3,482 over last year, apportionment of the school fund to school districts certified Monday by J. M. McConnell, commissioner of education, showed the rate for each pupil dropping from $4.40 to $4. The total amount was $1,992,588, and the distribution of other state aid is now being completed, including aid to high, graded, consolidated, semigraded and rural schools, special aid under the gross earnings tax law, night schools, public school libraries and federal vocational aid.

Auto Hits Vehicle.

An automobile driven by S. M. Poston of this city collided west of the city Saturday evening with a horse and buggy driven by A. C. Lockrem. Due to the bright lights of an approaching car it was impossible for Mr. Poston to see Mr. Lockrem's rig. No one was injured in the accident although the buggy was badly smashed when it was overturned in the ditch.

Northwest Minnesota Teachers Meet in Thief River Falls Today For Educators' Annual Session

Thief River Falls today is getting ready to entertain for three days more than 500 delegates to the annual convention of the Northwest Division of the Minnesota Educational association which opens a three day session with a meeting at the city auditorium this evening at 8 o'clock. After the meeting at the auditorium a reception will be given at the high school gymnasium to the visiting teachers.

Thursday morning will be devoted to visiting the Thief River Falls schools, with another general session at the auditorium at 10 o'clock. At noon the Commercial club of this city will give a luncheon for the visiting school men at the Sons of Norway hall. Another interesting event for Thursday is the schoolmasters' banquet to be held at the Evelyn hotel at 6 o'clock.

Prominent speakers from many sections of the country will address the educators during the convention. Among these may be mentioned Edgar W. Everts, state director of physical and health education; Prof. F. B. Knight of the University of Iowa; Dr. Fred Engelhart of the University of Minnesota; C. G. Schultz, secretary of the Minnesota Educational association, and W. J. Oshurn, state director of edocational measurements, Wisconsin. These men are near the top in educational work and are sure to have messages which will prove of great value to the educators of this section.

Musical numbers will be furnished by the boys' high school glee club, the girls' high school glee club and the high school orchestra, under te direction of Mande L. Jonson, director of music in the Thief River Falls schools. Miss Johnson also will lead the community singing.

Information and registry desks will be found at the city auditorium. An admission fee will be collected at the Thursday evening program from all those who do not present membership blanks.

Thief River Falls has opened her homes to the teachers. Miss Lyda Batten, principal of Central school, is chairman of the committee on accommodations and has a desk in the ladies rest and check room in the basement of the auditorium. Visiting teachers are requested to call on her for their accommodations. The Woman's club of this city has charge of the rest and check room.

An effort is being made to have service cars for the visiting teachers, particularly to be at the buildings on Thursday to bring the teachers to the auditorium for the general session. Cars will be at the buildings Friday to take the teachers to the football game.

The following committees have been named: Resolutions—Supt. G. Holmquist, Warren; Co. Supt. Erba Pouliot, Red Lake Falls; Supt. Elmer Tandberg, Middle River; H. F. Anderson, St. Hilaire; Myrtle McBroom, Warroad. Nominations—Supt. A. C. Pederson, Argyle; Supt. G. H. Sanberg, Crookston; Co. Supt. Ingeborg Espeseth, Crookston; Co. Supt. O. R. Sande, Thief River Falls; Prin. R. R. Werline, Newfolden; Prin. Olaf Homme, Oklee; Olaf Schie, Trail; M. P. Lager, Bronson; A. J. Kittelson, Crookston.

The big event from an athletic standpoint comes Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the fair grounds, when the Crookston and Thief River Falls high school teams meet in a football game. There is an ancient rivalry between these schools in athletics and the game Friday afternoon will without doubt be a real contest. Coach Thune has his men in good shape and it is said that Crookston has a fighting bunch this year, which makes a hard contest certain. The general public as well as the visiting teachers are asked to attend the game.

M. E. MINISTERS ASSIGNED JOBS

Rev. J. T. Dixon to Remain in Thief River Falls Parish.

The annual meeting of the Northern Minnesota Methodist Episcopal Conference was held at Aitkin last week, and at the final session appointments for the ensuing year were announced. Rev. J. Edwards will succeed Rev. J. J. Craig as superintendent of the Fergus Falls district, in which Thief River Falls is located.

Rev. J. T. Dixon, who has been pastor of the Methodist church in this city since the resignation of Rev. J. B. Smith, was appointed to remain at this post for another year. He also will serve the Methodist congregation at Roseau and St. Hilaire. The reappointment of Rev. Dixon will be good news to members of the local church, who almost without exception are highly pleased with the new minister and desired that he be returned to continue his work here.

Other appointments in this vicinity are Rev. C. H. McCrae to Crookston and Rev. A. W. Rosness to Erskine.

Rev. H. A. Mayer to Give Talk at St. John's Church

Rev. H. A. Mayer of International Falls will speak Wednesday evening at St. John's Lutheran church under the auspices of the bible class. The lecture begins at 7:30 and will be given in the English language. As his topic Rev. Mayer has chosen "Hidden Powers of the Mind." The following extract from his letter to Rev. E. H. Kreidt will give the public an idea of the scope of the lecture. "Hidden Powers of the Mind" (underlying principles of hypnotism, spiritism and so-called divine healing). I do not intend to speak the last word on this subject, but the lecture should stimulate thought. I want to bring examples of strange things: dreams, mental telepathy, etc. Many of these seemingly abstruse occurrances can be psychologically explained. Religious enthusiasts and fanatics reap a rich harvest where people are unacquainted with these things. Of course I do not pretend to explain all religious fanaticism." The general public is invited to hear this lecture.

Immediately following the lecture lunch will be served in the church basement at 15 cents a plate. The bible class has adopted this method of helping to defray the expenses of these lectures.

Plenty of Rain.

Another heavy rain last Saturday night and Sunday delayed threshing for several days but is said to have put the ground in excellent condition for fall plowing. This is the third consecutive Sunday of muddy roads, which proved a deep disappointment to motorists and others who had planned trips over the week-end.

PIG CLUB SALE OCCURS FRIDAY

Event to Be Conducted at Pennington County Fair Grounds.

Those desiring to purchase purebred Poland China 1924 pigs with which to improve their herds will be given an opportunity to do so at the sale to be conducted Friday afternoon of this week at the Pennington county fair grounds. All of the animals listed are Poland Chinas of the large type and registration papers will be furnished. Last spring a large number of pigs were allotted to the boys and girls of the county, who are to receive one-half the proceeds of the sale for taking care of the pigs during the summer. The member having the best pig will receive the entire sum realized.

Hog raising is on the increase in Pennington county and a large number of buyers are expected to be present at the sale.

Musical Revue October 17 Said to Be Greatest of Kind Ever Shown Here

The Musical Revue, scheduled for presentation at the auditorium Friday, October 17, at eight o'clock, is rapidly assuming shape under the able direction of Mrs. H. H. Hodgson of Crookston. The cast, which was first announced as consisting of one hundred, has been increased to one hundred fifty and is made up entirely of home talent.

The revue is divided into three parts. The first part interprets dawn and consists of dances and solos by "Mist Maidens", "Wood-Nymphs", "Flowers", "Butterflies", and "Grasshoppers." The second part depicts a toy shop and the following dance numbers are included under this act: "Wooden Soldiers", "Dolls", "Tumblers", "Candy Sticks", "Jumping Jacks", and "Raggedy Annes and Andys". The third and last part is a minstrel show made up of the latest song-hits, snappy dances, and specialty numbers.

A musical revue is different from anything that has been produced before in this city and will delight the audience with its beautiful costumes, clever song and dance numbers and general effectiveness.

Short Partridge Season Proclaimed by Governor

The partridge hunting season in Minnesota was curtailed to 15 days this year by an order issued Monday by Governor J. A. O. Preus, closing the season from October 31 to November 28. The season is open from October 15 to 31.

The governor's order also closed the season on quail in Wright, McLeod and Martin counties and on doves and fawns in Itaska county.

The governor's action was taken after it had been reported to him that such a course was necessary to preserve game.

BANK AT HAZEL OPERATES AGAIN

Resumes Business After Being Closed for About Nine Months.

The Citizens State Bank of Hazel resumed business Tuesday noon of this week after having been closed for about nine months. The Hazel bank closed its doors shortly after the banking department took charge of the Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls last January, the closing of the local bank making it inadvisable to continue operating the branch at Hazel.

The work of reorganizing the Hazel bank has been going on for some time and has been effected without serious loss to depositors, who were required to forfeit only six per cent or one year's interest, with no reduction of principal. The capital stock of the bank, however, was assessed 100 per cent, which has been fully paid in, putting the reorganized bank on a strong and substantial footing. Twenty-eight prominent farmers and business men of Hazel and vicinity own the stock, which makes of it a strictly local institution and adds to its strength.

Officers of the new bank are T. A. Berg, president; Oscar C. Peterson, vice-president; Andrew C. Nyquist, formerly with the First State Bank of East Grand Forks, cashier. The above together with Andrew Nilson and Isaac C. Wilson, prominent farmers near Hazel, constitute the board of directors.

CONFERENCE IN CITY FOR WEEK

Bible Conference in Session From Oct. 12 to 19: Expect Large Number.

The Third Annual Pennington County Bible Conference (Interdenominational) will be held in the Presbyterian church of Thief River Falls beginning Sunday, October 12, and continuing through Sunday, October 19. The first meeting will be held Sunday afternoon, October 12, at three o'clock. There will be two meetings each day at 3:00 and 7:45 except on Monday when there will be no meetings.

Dr. Gordon Watt of Aberdeen, Scotland, is the speaker for this year. Dr. Watt is an excellent bible teacher. He is a graduate of Aberdeen university and has until recently been a pastor in Glasgow, Scotland. He has given up his pastorate to do bible conference work and is now touring Canada and the United States for a year and a half. He will speak in some of the largest cities and in some of the most important pulpits of the country.

This bible conference is one of a series of such conferences held under the direction of Peter McFarlane of the Union Gospel Mission, St. Paul, Minn. Beginning at Hallock three years ago the bible conferences have grown in size and number. They are being held in many towns of northern Minnesota. Conferences have been held this year in Detroit and Stephen and will also be held in Hallock, Warren, Crookston, Bemidji and other places.

It has been planned this year to give special attention to Sunday school and Foreign Mission work, if it is possible to secure the speakers desired.

The churches cooperating in this work in Thief River Falls are: The Methodist, Swedish Mission, Scandinavian Evangelical and Presbyterian. The conference is not denominational in management or in spirit. All pastors and people are cordially invited to attend and to unite with the others in work.

Legion Meeting.

A joint meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary will be held Friday evening of this week at the club rooms of the Legion. After the business meeting a lunch will be served.

BIGGEST RALLY THIS CAMPAIGN OCCURS FRIDAY

Thos. D. Schall, Blind Congressman, Leading Speaker Here Oct. 10.

Large Attendance Expected at Republican Meeting in Auditorium.

Thomas D. Schall, for ten years congressman from the tenth Minnesota district and this year Republican candidate for the United States Senate, will be the leading speaker at a big Republican meeting to be conducted at the auditorium in Thief River Falls on Friday evening, October 10, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Hon. Schall has been a national figure for years and is one of the most powerful speakers in the national body of lawmakers. He is sure to have a message of importance for the voters at this time and every citizen of Pennington county should take advantage of this opportunity to hear him. The fact that he has been returned to congress for five consecutive terms from the tenth district is ample proof that he stands close to the people and that he is a man of much more than ordinary ability.

In addition to the leading speaker of the evening it is likely that a number of lesser lights will give short talks. An urgent invitation is extended to every voter to attend this meeting. It will be an occasion decidedly worth while. National questions will be discussed in an intelligent manner by an able speaker who knows what he is talking about.

UNDERSTANDING GREATEST NEED SAYS PRICHARD

Head of Citizens Depositors Committee Urges Study of Matter.

Many Depositors Formerly Opposed Now Signing Agreement.

When interviewed by a Tribune reporter this morning, W. W. Prichard, head of the committee having in charge the reorganization of the Citizens State bank, made the following statement:

"As the work of the committee for the depositors of the Citizens State bank becomes better understood, sentiment grows more favorable towards the bank's reopening along the plan adopted by the committee.

"It should be apparent to anyone that the bank reopened and acting as the agent of the depositors would tend to restore confidence between borrower and depositor. The fact that the committee planned to open a small bank for the collection of its frozen asstes should be proof that it is not seeking to establish a competitive bank.

"The committee urges those who have not signed the reduction agreements to do so and mail them in. They will be serving their own best interests in so doing."

Mr. Prichard is working hard in an effort to effect a reorganization of the bank at the earliest possible moment and is deserving of a great deal of credit for the active interest he is taking in the matter. The Tribune believes the efforts of Mr. Prichard and his committee will be crowned with success.

Locals Defeated Saturday At Warren by 21-0 Score

The game with Warren last Saturday, which was announced incorrectly in The Tribune as being played on the local field, was played at Warren and resulted in a 21 to 0 defeat for the Lincolnites.

The strong offense of the locals was offset by a weak defense which allowed Warren to go through for three touchdowns. The Lincoln men broke through the defense of their opponents time and again and were many times within a short distance of the goal line but failed to go over for a touchdown. At one time during the game, Parenteau made a dash of approximately fifty yards and crossed the line, only to be called back for being off-side.

The result of the game came as a surprise to the large number of local fans who journeyed to Warren to witness a victory, but the boys hope to make up for it by defeating Crookston on the local field this Friday.

A pretty wedding was solemnized last Saturday at 512 Tindolph avenue south when Miss Salome Wikel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wikel of this city, became the bride of Grant Barnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. A. Perkins of Minneapolis. The ceremony took place at noon in front of an improvised altar, with Rev. J. B. Smith of Bemidji officiating. Miss Florence Swartz of Gladbrook Ia., a cousin of the bride, acted as maid of honor and Cleon Bottelson of this city performed the duties of best man.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a pale pink crepe de chine gown trimmed with pink rosebuds and wore a headdress of rosebuds. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in all the decorations which consisted of flowers, ribbon streamers, and the altar. Mrs. H. R. Pope of this city played the wedding march.

After the ceremony, about one o'clock, a lovely dinner and very elaborate wedding cake, decorated in pink and white, was served to the twenty wedding guests, who included only immediate relatives and Rev. and Mrs. Smith. Out-of-town relatives present were Mrs. Z. A. Perkins of Minneapolis, Mrs. E. L. Inman of Mentor, Everett Chomas of Hibbing, and J. S. Chomas and family of Middle River.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnard will reside in Minneapolis and will be at home at 114 West Thirty-seventh street after October 15.

YOU CITIZENS ARE INTERESTED IN POLITICS THIS YEAR BECAUSE you desire a continuation of the present National Administration's policies of tax reduction.

PUBLIC EXPENDITURES OF THE NATION HAVE BEEN REDUCED FROM 5½ billions of dollars annually to less than 3¼ billions.

THE NATION'S DEBT HAS BEEN REDUCED BY MORE THAN 1¼ BILLIONS.

NATIONAL CREDIT HAS BEEN RESTORED AS EVIDENCED BY THE fact that Liberty Bonds which, during the preceding (Democratic) administration could be cashed for only about 85 per cent of their face value, are now worth from 100 to 104 per cent of their face value.

NO SUCH RECORD OF FINANCIAL ADJUSTMENT WAS EVER BEFORE made in the history of the world. Its continuation means increased prosperity and happiness for all.

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET IN MINNESOTA STANDS FOUR SQUARE with the principles and aims of the National Administration.

THE MASTERLY KEYNOTE SPEECH OF THEODORE CHRISTIANSON, candidate for Governor, definitely promises a state budget system and consequent reduction of expense to the taxpayer.

ALL REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES ARE OF HIGH CHARACTER AND great ability with records of efficient public service. They believe in our present form of government, agreeing with Charles G. Dawes, Republican Candidate for Vice-President, who recently said:

"THIS CAMPAIGN IS A CONTEST BETWEEN PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATISM AND UNTRIED AND DANGEROUS RADICALISM. LaFOLLETTE, LEADING THE ARMY OF EXTREME RADICALS, HAS A PLATFORM DEMANDING PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF THE RAILROADS AND ATTACKING OUR COURTS, WHICH ARE A FUNDAMENTAL AND CONSTITUTIONAL SAFEGUARD OF AMERICAN LIBERTIES."

THE FARMER-LABOR PARTY IN STATE AND NATION IS FOR MORE paternalism in government; paternalism has always meant more state commissions and bureaus, a larger army of state employes, more expense and higher taxes. This effort to socialize the state is well organized and financed. You, right thinking citizens, are against it, opposing, as you do, any tendency toward the Russian system and realizing, as you do, that it has no place in the American scheme of things.

TALK TO YOUR FRIENDS. MAKE SUGGESTIONS TO THE COMMITTEE. This is your fight. Contribute your time or your money—or both. The more money we have the more we can circulate the truths of the situation and about the campaign for progressive, intelligent economy and against any compromise with that Communism and Radicalism which is the worst form of Reaction.

DO IT NOW!

Tear out along the dotted line and mail.

Do You Speak Into the Telephone?

You will obtain the best results when calling a telephone number or talking over the telephone, if you speak directly into the mouthpiece with the lips about one inch away.

The number called should be given to the operator deliberately, clearly and distinctly. Each figure of the number should be pronounced separately. For example; "four-nine—five-eight."

The proper use of the telephone by everyone will make the service of greater value to all.

THE GREATEST ISSUE.

Those who are loudest in defense of our judicial system and who prate of the preservation of our courts, under the constitution, are coming to realize that public resentment at the manner in which the courts so frequently function is fanned into flame principally by the very daring of the courts themselves in violating every sense of fair play in making decisions. This fact is evident in the recent decision of the California supreme court, which by a vote of four to three defies the wishes of American citizens and throws the progressive electors off the official ballot in that state.

Regardless of the merit or demerit of the LaFollette candidacy, this action in forbidding him the right to appear before the electorate, unless he does so under the banner of Socialism, is bound to arouse in the public mind a sense of flagrant injustice.

The American people love fair play. By court ruling LaFollette is driven into the Socialist camp—he must depend on this electoral support in California. Indeed had not this party instructed its electors to vote for him he would stand completely disfranchised despite the petition of his fellow citizens.

Free Americans prohibited from placing a fellow American on the official ballot, dictatorial elimination of public rights by a judicial vote of four to three, form an autocratic domination of our political destinies that presents a pretty spectacle and strikes far deeper than the candidacy of any man or any platform. The American government is supposed to derive its just powers from the consent of the governed, which seems to make the four to three action of the court entirely too dictatorial.

Every day is defense day with some husbands.

Only four more weeks of agony and then we'll know who is who and which is what.

Now, all together for the Legion carnival in Thief River Falls on Armistice Day. The rainy spell should be over by that time.

Thief River Falls is the mecca for educators of Northwestern Minnesota this week. The Tribune, on behalf of Thief River Falls and Pennington county, bids them a hearty welcome.

The teachers of Thief River Falls feel a lot more at home after the reception given in their honor last Friday evening. Folks must get acquainted before they can be friends, and it is absolutely essential to successful school work that parents and teachers be friends, with a mutual understanding of the problems connected with the schools. Therefore it is obvious that the Parent-Teachers association is doing a very valuable work.

The growth of a business today does not depend entirely upon the size of the town in which it is located. It depends more upon the amount of money and the skill used in advertising.

Any time in the future when this section of the state is threatened with a drought it might be well to arrange an American Legion speed carnival in Thief River Falls. As a rainmaker it can't be beat.

Here is the boss "invidious distinction" of the week, picked up in an exchange coming to The Tribune's table: "Charley White, formerly a good citizen of this place, now a traveling salesman, was in town this week."

It doesn't matter what political party you belong to or what candidate you intend to support—if you don't get out and vote on election day you cannot be classed as a good citizen. The Tribune hopes Pennington county will prove on election day that she has a large number of good citizens.

The Fairmont Sentinel last week issued a 28-page 50th anniversary edition which in every respect was a hummer. Frank Day and his sidekickers set the pace for 90 per cent of the newspaper makers in this country—and they grow better as they grow older. Here's wishing the Sentinel many more golden jubilees.

With political rallies of all parties being held in Thief River Falls within a week it should be possible for voters to acquaint themselves with every angle of thought running through the minds of candidates. This is as it should be. A citizen is far more qualified to cast an intelligent vote after he has heard both sides of a political questions discussed.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Woman's Club Luncheon Proves Very Enjoyable

One of the most enjoyable affairs in the history of the local Woman's club was the one-thirty luncheon held at the Evelyn hotel on Monday noon. Covers were laid for sixty-nine guests with Mrs. G. W. Davis of Warren, district president, as guest of honor.

The tables were decorated with glass candlesticks holding white candles and bouquets of red zinnias. At each plate lay a card of green and white, the club colors, containing the program for the coming year. Soft music was played by a four-piece orchestra throughout the entire serving of the three-course luncheon.

At the conclusion, Mrs. G. W. Booren, president of the local club, in a few well-chosen words welcomed the present members of the club and prospective members and in a fitting manner introduced Mrs. G. W. Davis, district president. Mrs. Davis then delivered a stirring address on "Peace and the Prevention of War" which was very well received by her audience. She also stated her pleasure at being present at the luncheon and mentioned a few of the things which she hopes to accomplish during her two years term of office. The community singing was directed by Mrs. O. F. Mellby, who also sang a solo, entitled "Oh Fair, Oh Sweet and Holy" by Cantor.

The luncheon served as a very fine opening for the Woman's club meetings and everyone present is enthusiastic over the coming club year.

Bible Class of St. John's Church Opened Last Week

The bible class of St. John's held its first regular meeting of the year last Wednesday evening. The following officers were elected: Miss Bertha Borgen, president; Miss Stella Borgen, vice-president; Miss Laura Brown, secretary-treasurer. The following plan for the year was adopted: The class meets twice a month, devoting the first Wednesday evening to the study of "The Temple, its Ministry and Service, in the Time of Christ." The third Wednesday evening will be set aside for a lecture by some neighboring pastor, after which refreshments will be served to help towards defraying the expense of the lecture. The bible class feels quite fortunate in securing the services of Rev. H. A. Mayer of International Falls for the first lecture. His topic, "Hidden Powers of the Mind," should prove most interesting and instructive. The class extends a cordial invitation to all, and hopes that a large audience will greet Rev. Mayer Wednesday evening.

Enrolls Record Attendance.

All previous enrollment records at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, were shattered when the fall term opened last week. Nearly 50 additional students who have reserved rooms at the school will come this week which will fill the quota for two of the three dormitories at the school. The girls' hall is aready overcrowded making it necessary to place three students in many of the rooms. As soon as the most pressing fall farm work is done, the third dormitory will be filled. The school authorities state that one factor in the school's increased enrollment is the bounteous crop and good prices prevailing.

Attorney General

St. Paul, Minn., June 14, 1924.

HONORABLE MIKE HOLM,
Secretary of State, Capitol.

SIR: As required by section 46, General Statutes 1913, I have the honor to furnish you herewith, a statement of the purposes and effects of all amendments proposed to the constitution of the state of Minnesota by the legislature of 1923 and which are to be submitted to the electors of the state at the general election in 1924.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 1.

Chapter 447, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment to section 5 of article 9 of the constitution of the state. The section now reads as follows:

"Section 5. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the state may contract public debts, but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single object, to be distinctly specified therein; and no such law shall take effect until it shall have been passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature, to be recorded by yeas and nays on the journals of each house respectively; and every such law shall levy a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest of such debt, and also a tax sufficient to pay the principal of such debt within ten years from the final passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation and taxes shall not be repealed, postponed, or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid. The state shall never contract any debts for works of internal improvements, or be a party in carrying on such works, except in cases where grants of land or other property shall have been made to the state, especially dedicated by the grant to specific purposes, and in such cases the state shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion."

If amended this section will read as follows:

"Section 5. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the state may contract public debts, but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single object, to be distinctly specified therein; and no such law shall take effect until it shall have been passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature, to be recorded by yeas and nays on the journals of each house respectively; and every such law shall levy a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest of such debt, and also a tax sufficient to pay the principal of such debt within ten years from the final passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation and taxes shall not be repealed, postponed, or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid. The state shall never contract any debts for works of internal improvement, or be a party in carrying on such works, except as authorized by section 16 of article 9, and by article 16 of this constitution; but it may levy an excise tax upon any substance, material, fluid, force or other means or instrumentality, or the business of dealing in, selling or producing any or all thereof, used or useful in producing or generating power for propelling motor or other vehicles used on the public highways of this state, and shall place the proceeds of such tax in the trunk highway fund provided for in section 2 of said article 16 and further except in cases where grants of land or other property shall have been made to the state, especially dedicated by the grant to specific purposes, and in such cases the state shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion."

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to confer express authority upon the legislature to provide a special tax on gasoline or other substances used, or useful, for the propulsion of motor vehicles on the public highways of the state or on the business of dealing in, selling or producing such substances. The money so raised by such tax to be used for the construction and maintenance of trunk highways.

The effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be that the cost of the construction and maintenance of trunk highways, the whole of which is now paid by a direct tax on motor vehicles, supplemented by federal aid, will be borne in part by the revenue derived from such gasoline tax, so-called, as the legislature may impose.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2.

Chapter 442, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment of section 36 of article 4 of the constitution of the state. This section now reads as follows:

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof; Provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits now established. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least thirty days in three newspapers of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent, and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses; if of two houses, at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto to the qualified voters of such city or village any alternate section or article may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other articles or sections of the charter or any amendments thereto. The legislature may provide general laws relating to affairs of cities, the application of which may be limited to cities of over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty and not less than ten thousand inhabitants, or to cities of ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all such cities of either class, and which shall be paramount while in force to the provisions relating to the same matter included in the local charter herein provided for. But no local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the state defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors."

If amended this section will read as follows:

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof; Provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits now established. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least ten days in any daily newspaper of general circulation in such city or village, or if there be no daily newspaper of general circulation in such city or village then for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses; if of two houses, at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto to the qualified voters of such city or village any alternate section or article may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other articles or sections of the charter or any amendments thereto. The legislature may provide general laws relating to affairs of cities, the applications of which may be limited to cities over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty and not less than ten thousand inhabitants, or to cities of ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all such cities of either class, and which shall be paramount while in force to the provisions relating to the same matter included in the local charter herein provided for. But no local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the state defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors."

The purpose of said amendment is to change the number of newspapers in which proposed amendments of home rule charters of cities and villages must be published and the duration of such publications.

The effect of said amendments, if adopted, will be to authorize the publication of proposed amendments to the home rule charter of a city or village for ten days in one daily newspaper of general circulation therein, if there be such a newspaper, or once each week for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper of general circulation therein, if there be no such daily newspaper, instead of publishing the same for thirty days in three newspapers of general circulation therein as now required.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3.

Chapter 449 Session Laws Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment to the constitution of Minnesota by adding thereto a new article, to be known as Article 17, to read as follows:

Article 17.

"Section 1. The legislature by law may establish one state owned public terminal grain elevator at Duluth, Minnesota, and one at Minneapolis, Minnesota, acquired by purchase, lease or exercise of the right of eminent domain, sites and facilities therefor, and provide for the construction, maintenance and operation thereof by the state.

Section 2. The legislature by law may provide for the issue and sale of bonds of the state in such amount as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of Section 1 of this article.

Section 3. Any and all provisions of the constitution of the state of Minnesota inconsistent with the provisions of this article are hereby repealed, so far, but only so far, as the same prohibit or limit the power of the legislature to enact laws authorizing or permitting the doing of the things hereinbefore authorized."

The purpose of said amendment is to expressly empower the legislature to establish, construct, operate and maintain two state owned public terminal elevators.

The effect of said amendment, if adopted, will be to empower the legislature to acquire by purchase, lease or the exercise of the right of eminent domain, sites for one state owned public terminal elevator at Duluth, Minnesota, and another at Minneapolis, Minnesota, to establish, construct, operate and maintain said elevators, to issue and sell bonds of the state in such amount as may be necessary to acquire said sites and to establish, construct, operate and maintain said elevators, and to repeal all provisions of the state constitution inconsistent with said amendment.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 4.

Chapter 460, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment to the constitution of the state of Minnesota by adding thereto a new article, to succeed article 16, and to be appropriately numbered, to read as follows:

Article ....

"Section 1. Laws may be enacted for the purpose of encouraging and promoting forestation and reforestation of lands in this state, whether owned by private persons or the public, including irrepealable provisions for definite and limited taxation of such lands during a term of years, and for a yield tax at or after the end of such term, upon the timber and other forest products so grown.

"Section 2. Any and all provisions of the constitution of the state of Minnesota inconsistent with the provisions of this article, are hereby repealed, so far, but only so far, as the same prohibit or limit the power of the legislature to enact laws authorizing or permitting the doing of the things hereinbefore authorized."

The purpose of said amendment is to empower the legislature to enact laws to encourage and promote forestation and reforestation of publicly and privately owned lands.

The effect of said amendment, if adopted, will be to empower the legislature to enact laws to encourage and promote forestation and reforestation of publicly and privately owned lands, and to that end to enact irrepealable laws for a definite and limited taxation for a term of years of lands devoted to forestation or reforestation, and laws for a yield tax, at the end or after such term, upon the timber or other forest products so grown upon said lands, and to repeal provisions of the state constitution inconsistent with said amendment.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 5.

Chapter 461, Session Laws of Minnesota for 1923 proposes an amendment to the constitution of said state by adding thereto a new article, to be known as Article 17 (a), to read as follows:

Article 17 (a).

"Section 1. The state and (or) any of its political subdivisions, if and whenever authorized by the legislature, may contract debts and pledge the public credit for and engage in any work reasonably tending to prevent or abate forest fires, including the compulsory clearing and improvement of wild lands (whether belonging to the public or privately owned) and the assessment against such lands of the value of all benefits so conferred and the payment of damages so sustained in excess of such benefits.

Section 2. Any and all provisions of the constitution of the state of Minnesota inconsistent with the provisions of this article, are hereby repealed, so far, but only so far, as the same prohibit or limit the power of the legislature to enact laws authorizing or permitting the doing of the things hereinbefore authorized."

The purpose of said amendment is to expressly empower the state, and its political subdivisions, to undertake the prevention and abatement of forest fires, and to incur debts and pledge the public credit in so doing.

The effect of said amendment, if adopted, will be to empower the state, and any of its political subdivisions when authorized by the legislature so to do, to engage in any work reasonably tending to prevent or abate forest fires, including the compulsory clearing and improvement of publicly and privately owned wild lands, to assess against said lands the benefits accruing thereto from such work, and to pay the damages to such lands in excess of the benefits, if any, resulting from such work, to contract debts and pledge the public credit in carrying on said work, and to repeal all provisions of the state constitution inconsistent with said amendment.

Yours respectfully,
CLIFFORD L. HILTON,
Attorney General.

POULTRY ASS'N. GIVES WARNING

Quotes Law Governing Violation of Marketing Agreement.

The Thief River Valley Cooperative Egg and Poultry association issued a letter this week to its members and to all grocers and dealers in the territory which it serves. The letter among other important information contains the following excerpts from the state law governing cooperative marketing:

"Sec. 26. Misdemeanor—Breach of marketing contract of co-operative associations. Any person or persons or any corporation whose officers or employees knowingly induce or attempt to induce any member or stockholder of an association organization organized hereunder or organized under similar statutes of other states with similar restrictions and rights and operating in this state under due authority, to break his marketing contract with the association, or who maliciously and knowingly spreads false reports about the finances or management or activity thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor for each such offense; and shall be liable to the association aggrieved in a suit in the penal sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00) for each such offense."

Members are cautioned not to sell there eggs anywhere but to the association.

Forty-two cents per dozen was the price for "firsts" during the first half of September.

The second car of poultry will leave the city Wednesday morning. A "car man" goes through to Chicago with the car and gives the birds the best of care and feed, insuring the best results.

Merchants may get eggs from the association for the same price that members recieve.

Stella Borgan is an addition to the association force—being employed as candler.

"Boom" Brezoay made a trip to Roseau with the Arneson truck on an egg gathering tour.

E. B. Davis, field service man for the Minnesota Co-operative Egg and Poultry Exchange came over from Bemidji Monday. Mr. Davis has been over at Bemidji getting the local association started.

Receipts of eggs in New York January 1, 1924 to Saturday, September 27, 1924, were 5,560,612 cases as against 6,144,754 for the same period last year. The price will undoubtedly advance.

Egg prices advanced three cents during the week on fresh's and closed firm, with light carry over's on track. This will probably insure a better price for next week.

Association eggs are in great demand. Bring them in fresh and often, and get the best price.

Help your association by getting your neighbor to join and living up to the rules of your association.

Let Red Crown
The High-Grade Gasoline
Save Your Car

THE batteries and starting motor of your car are the headquarters of its emotional system. A heavy engine wears out the batteries, just as it would wear out your patience and your strength should you try to turn it over with a crank.

It is not so far-fetched as it may seem, to compare engine mechanism with human mechanism. Every one who drives has remarked the individuality and responsiveness or lack of it, in the car he handles.

Red Crown Gasoline increases engine responsiveness. It vaporizes at a low temperature and burns completely to the end of the piston stroke.

It relieves the strain on your starting motor and batteries. This is one of the many economy features in Red Crown. Red Crown makes batteries last longer and give better service.

The "satisfaction" service of Red Crown lies in your thrill at the ready response when you touch the starting motor—at the flexibility of your engine and the steady flow of sustained pulling power.

Satisfaction Plus Economy—in this unusual combination lies the true reason for Red Crown popularity. And remember this: permanent satisfaction in a gasoline lies in never changing. Use Red Crown all the time. It's easy to do so, for Red Crown distribution is nearly 100% perfect. You can find it everywhere and everywhere the same.

SOLITE
A Perfect Gasoline
is for the motorist who demands a little quicker action from his car and is willing to forego extreme economy.

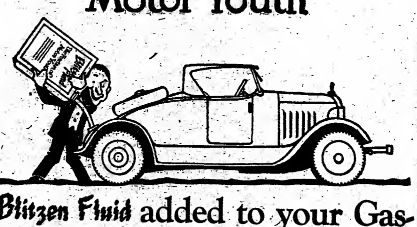
Treat Your Gasoline With-

Blitzen Fluid

"The Fountain of Motor Youth"



Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas-

Increases Mileage of Gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon.

CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor troubles. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap in motor engineering, as it softens the fiery coke-like carbon deposits and expels it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forms a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

When carbon is gone grinding of valves becomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean and perform at their highest efficiency; carbon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and you will enjoy that extra power and smoothness of a clean well preserved motor.

Blitzen Fluid is used by men in the Auto Motive industry who know that it will not injure the most sensitive motor. It is produced by chemists to put and keep your motor in the state of highest efficiency and saves in gasoline and repair bills sufficiently to entirely or largely reduce the cost.

ADD 2 OUNCES OF Blitzen Fluid TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS and give Blitzen Fluid a fair test in accordance with the condition of your motor. Notice the difference.

In your community Blitzen Fluid "The Fountain of Motor Youth" is sold at Pyramid pumps and service stations.

ELEVATOR FIRM IS SERVED WITH CO-OP COMPLAINT

Writ Halts Purchase of Pool Wheat by Private Company.

(Minneapolis Daily Star, Oct. 2, 1924)

An injunction obtained by the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-operative Marketing association has been served on the Commander Elevator company, a private concern at LeSueur, Minn. Under the writ, the LeSueur elevator is forbidden by District Judge C. M. Tift to make further purchases of wheat from members of the co-operative pool.

The complaint filed by William J. Brown, general counsel for the Minnesota Wheat Growers, cites more than 50 instances in which the elevator purchased such wheat and asks for the damages provided under the Minnesota law for $500 for each offense or a total of $25,000.

Date for hearing on the writ has not yet been set.

Writ Granted Under Law

The injunction was granted under the co-operative law passed by the 1923 session aimed to protect farmer co-operation built on membership contracts, from solicitation and other propaganda to promote violation of contract. The law gives the co-operative concern the right to an injunction and damages for proved violations. The co-operative may also collect the costs incurred in defending itself against such violation from the erring contract breaker.

Handle Routine Business

Directors of the Minnesota Wheat Growers met yesterday afternoon to handle routine of the association. They also passed resolutions urging on farmer wheat growers the importance of loyal joint action to better their wheat prices and instructing the officers to proceed legally wherever necessary against grain buyers and others to protect the contracts.

Visit Star Plant

Following the business meeting, the directors inspected the plant of the Minneapolis Daily Star.

The Wheat Growers board consists of Edward Hagen, Milan, president; Dan Surprenant, East Grand Forks, vice-president; J. A. Sorum, Holt; Jorgen Eide, Thief River Falls; W. B. Bosworth, Ada; H. Hasse, Nashua; R. H. Harris, Norcross; and Charles Bruer, Alberta.

DR. VISTAUNET SEES PROGRESS

Meeting of Research Society in Chicago of Much Interest.

Dr. P. L. Vistaunet returned last week from Chicago, where he had spent several days in attendance at a meeting of the American Electronic Research association, and also sessions of the American Medico-Physical Research association. Both conventions were of much interest and delegates were well repaid for making the trip to Chicago.

Among those who addressed the Electronic Research association was Dr. J. Clawson Burnett, who operates a private $250,000 laboratory at Alpine, N. J. Dr. Burnett, with the assistance of J. A. Hallberg, an engineer with a considerable reputation in the electrical world and who also spoke at the meeting, is attempting to show the practicability of the atomic theory as regards the human body. Matter is electronically constituted and he holds it can therefore be controlled to man's advantage.

Dr. Burnett and Mr. Hallberg demonstrated an instrument known as the oscilloclast, around which a medical storm has raged since its invention several years ago by the late Dr. Albert Abrams of California. The oscilloclast is designed to heal diseases by the discharge of electronic force; in other words, instead of healing by medicine, it is intended to heal by radio waves. The first fruits of Dr. Burnett's and Mr. Hallberg's labors, extending over two years at Closter and some months in their private laboratory were announced to physicians in attendance at the Chicago meeting and were hailed as being of tremendous value in emphasizing proof for the advanced theories of Dr. Abrams concerning electronic control. Much has been claimed for the oscilloclast and much has been said against it, according to Dr. Vistaunet, who states that demonstrations made at the conference proved that the instrument gives off electrical energy, a vital question around which much of the heated argument concerning it has centered.

Before long Dr. Burnett expects to make public reports on other scientific questions of importance to the electrical world. One of the first will offer proof that evaporation is an electrical phenomenon, which, if substantiated, would be of inestimable value in the diagnosis of disease, inasmuch as the body fluid could be submitted to valuable tests now meaningless.

Demonstrations were also conducted by Mr. Ellis, the inventor of the Ellis machine, a development of the oscilloclast. Dr. Vistaunet has been using an Ellis machine since last march and claims having met with highly satisfactory results.

Girl Scouts Make Plans For Course in First Aid to Commence October 15

VALENTINO IS HERE AT LAST

Will Appear at Lyceum in "Monsieur Beaucaire" Oct. 12 and 13.

"Monsieur Beaucaire," the new Paramount picture directed by Sidney Olcott, which marks the return of Rudolph Valentino to the screen, will begin a two day's run at the Lyceum theatre next Sunday, October 12. The world and his wife—particularly his wife—will see in this simple announcement visions of a film feast for which their movie appetites have been hungering these many months.

It isn't difficult to understand why this photoplay is awaited with such keen expectations. Aside from the tremendous personal popularity of Valentino to whom millions pay tribute as the greatest lover of the silver sheet, film fans who have read Booth Tarkinton's immortal story, with its romantic, colorful and spectacular background of the court of King Louis XV of France, recognize its remarkable pictoral possibilities. It is a story that thrills the imagination, kindles the emotions, and satisfies that fundamental human desire for love, beauty, laughter and truth.

There is something vital and appealing about the character that Valentino portrays—the brave hearted, impetuous Duke, who defies the King of France and goes to England disguised as a barber. It is a part that brings into play all those robust dramatic qualities that Valentino possesses and which have made him one of the most fascinating and compelling screen stars of to-day.

No effort, no expense was spared to make "Monsieur Beaucaire," from an artistic standpoint, "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." The georgeous and historically correct costumes were designed and made in Paris. The glitter of gold and silver brocade, the sparkle of diamonds and sapphires, the flash of jeweled swords—all the beauty and splendor and brilliancy of the most magnificent court in the world's most romantic period are pictured with amazing fidelity. It's history come to life in all its vividness and grandeur!

We realize the painstaking care that went into the making of this production when we consider the supporting cast with which Director Sidney Olcott has surrounded Mr. Valentino: Bebe Daniels, as the Princess de Bourbon-Conti; Lowell Sherman, as King Louis XV; Lois Wilson, as the queen; Doris Kenyon, as Lady Mary; Paulette Duval, as Mme. Pompadour; John Davidson, as Richelieu; Ian Maclaren, Oswald Yorke, Flora Finch and about fifty others equally well-known.

And here's a parting word of suggestion—come early if you want to avoid the rush.

Marshall Sheriff Ordered to Close Farm Buildings

An order has been filed with A. C. Swanby, clerk of the District Court, by Judge Andrew Grindeland, under which the sheriff of Marshall county must close up for one year the farm home of Alfred LeBlanc, known in this vicinity as White. This order is said to be the first of its kind issued in Minnesota, and indications are it will be taken to the State Supreme Court on appeal.

LeBlanc has been twice convicted of violations of the liquor law, officials say. His home is near Argyle, and the buildings affected by the order include a dwelling house, barn, granary, hog and chicken houses.

Vol. 24. No. 31 THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1924 $2.00 a Year in Advance

ANNUAL MEETING OF NORTHWEST MINNESOTA EDUCATORS IN THIEF RIVER FALLS IS GREAT SUCCESS

Nearly Five Hundred Delegates in Attendance—Supt. I. T. Simley of This City Named President for Ensuing Year—Many Helpful and Inspiring Programs Carried Out—Warren Chosen as Convention City Next Year.

I. T. Simley, superintendent of the Thief River Falls public schools, was elected president of the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association on the closing day of the convention conducted by that organization in this city last week. Other officers elected are as follows: B. C. Kuefler, Greenbush, vice-president; G. Holmquist, Warren, secretary-treasurer. In addition to the officials above noted the following were chosen to serve on the executive committee of the association for the ensuing year: Myrtle Roseland, Newfolden; A. H. Larson, Crookston; and Emery Johnson, Warren. F. B. Andreen of Ada was chosen a member of the resolutions committee of the state association, while O. R. Sande of this city, Erba Pouliot of Red Lake Falls, G. H. Sanberg of Crookston and Myrtle Roseland, Newfolden, were named delegates to the assembly of the Minnesota Educational association. J. W. McNeal of Red Lake Falls was chosen as the delegate to the convention of the National Educational association, with M. C. Hays of East Grand Forks as alternate.

The association at its closing session here last week voted to hold next year's meeting at Warren, upon the invitation of County Superintendent Nels M. Engen of Marshall county.

The convention held in this city last week was in every respect the most successful in the history of the association. The enrollment was the largest in recent years, nearly 500 educators being present. Splendid programs were rendered at each of the general sessions, while the remainder of the time was occupied in visiting the local schools and in a number of round table discussions, sectional meetings, etc.

The outstanding feature of the entire convention was perhaps the program at the evening session on Thursday, when the grade pupils of the Thief River Falls schools, under the direction of Maude L. Johnson, musical director, and Clara Bauman, director of physical training, were presented in a number of folk songs and folk dances. The high school orchestra rendered several very pleasing selections as the opening numbers of the evening, and gave an excellent account of itself. So pleased was the audience with the playing of the young folks that they were forced to respond to a number of encores.

It is hard to say which of the grade schools is entitled to most credit in the folk songs and dances. The Knox pupils rendered songs and dances of Scandinavia, the Washington school represented Scotland and the Northrop pupils did themselves proud in their rendition of England's classic songs and dances. Last and most elaborately presented because of the greater age of the actors were the songs and dances of Russia by pupils of the Central school. The audience showed its appreciation of the children's work by demanding an encore following each number.

Thursday noon the Thief River Falls Commercial club acted as host to the men teachers at a luncheon served at the Sons of Norway hall. Besides the members of the club a large number of other citizens were present at the lunch to welcome the visiting school men, the assemblage occupying all the available space at the three banquet tables spanning the entire length of the large hall. President H. W. Froehlich of the club presided at the luncheon and in a short talk welcomed the visitors to the city. This was followed by two excellently rendered vocal solos by F. I. Schweppe of the Crookston schools. Short talks were given by Supt. G. H. Sanberg of Crookston, Prof. F. B. Knight of the University of Iowa, and Dr. Fred Engelhardt of the University of Minnesota.

Another very enjoyable feature of the convention was the schoolmasters' banquet at the Evelyn Thursday evening, in which all of the men educators participated. With Supt. I. T. Simley acting as toastmaster and short talks by a number of guests, together with a feast fit for a king, it was an occasion of much enjoyment for all concerned.

Among the resolutions adopted by the association may be noted the following:

"Be it resolved, that the members of the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association extend their thanks and appreciation to the citizens of Thief River Falls for their hospitality, to the teachers of Thief River Falls for their hearty welcome, their cordial reception and their superb musical entertainments, to the members of the Commercial club for the very fine luncheon and their congenial comradship, to the Woman's club for their rest room accommodations, to the officers of the association for their work in preparing the helpful and inspiring program.

"Whereas, continuous and uninterrupted sessions of school are needful for effective work, and whereas at present school work is interrupted by a rather large number of legal holidays, and whereas these days may be more appropriately and patriotically observed in the school room, therefore be it resolved that the state legislature be asked to enact proper remedial legislation.

"Whereas the state has committed itself to the principle that the state shall by special aid help districts with a heavy school tax, and whereas the legislature of 1923 did not make a sufficient appropriation to cover this aid as granted by law. Therefore, be it resolved that we urge the legislature of 1925 to pass a deficiency appropriation to redeem the moral obligation of the state to the schools.

"Resolved, that the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association approve of a statewide music contest similar to the one conducted in North Dakota.

"Resolved, that we recognize the importance of boys' and girls' club work, commend the fine work that has been done in the northwest district and urge its continuance."

DR. WATT LEADS AT CONFERENCE

Scottish Bible Teacher Delivers Strong Talks in City This Week.

Dr. Gordon Watt, the Scottish bible teacher who is touring America in bible conference work, opened the Third Annual Pennington County Bible Conference, Interdenominational, Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian church. Bringing the traditional Scotch wit and familiarity with the Scriptures, Dr. Watt is proving of unusual interest to his audiences. Speaking every afternoon and evening until next Sunday night, he will reach a large part of the people of Thief River Falls with his message.

Dr. Watt's first appearance in the city was in the morning service of the Presbyterian church last Sunday when he preached on Paul's great text, "I am not ashamed of the gospel." He showed how the Gospel of Christ is the greatest power for good ever exercised in the lives of men. Sunday afternoon to the united congregations of the four churches uniting in this conference he spoke on Christ's power over the men whom he called specifically mentioning Andrew and Peter as examples. Peter was the man whom Christ changed from quicksand to solid rock.

Sunday evening Dr. Watt took for his text the Cloud of Fire, famous in the history of Israel. It was a cloud of fire or a cloud of darkness depending on the point of view of the men who saw it. So are all human experiences birght with hope or dark with disappointment and sorrow according to whether a man looks from the viewpoint of God or man.

In this manner Dr. Watt is bringing to the people here the chief message of the bible for us today.

The conference meetings are held every afternoon at 8 and every evening at 7:45 in the Presbyterian church, except the Sunday meetings which will be held in the Auditorium at 11:00; 3:00; and 7:45.

The churches uniting in this conference are the Methodist, Swedish Mission, Scandinavian Evangelical, and Presbyterian. It is interdenominational in character and all people are welcome.

Name Executive Committee For Athletic Association

At a conference of the superintendents of schools belonging to Athletic District No. 1, which conference was held at the time of the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association convention in Thief River Falls last Thursday, the following men were elected to act as executive committee: Supt. I. T. Simley, Thief River Falls, chairman; Supt. A. C. Pederson, Argyle; Supt. K. A. Rygh, Roseau.

Noted Speaker to Address Woman's Club on Monday

Mrs. Evva Chapin of New York City will address the Woman's club at its meeting next Monday, October 20, on "Applied Psychology." Mrs. Chapin is an authority on this subject, which recently has been receiving increased attention by all classes, and her address is sure to be of interest.

The business meeting will be held promptly at 3 o'clock followed by the program. The refreshments will be in charge of the Social Welfare club as heretofore and serving will be from 4:40 to 5:15. Mrs. E. F. Dolan, Mrs. Albert Lonson and Mrs. John Bratrud will act as hostesses. The general public is invited.

CONTRACT LET FOR GRAVELING

Stretch From City to Red Lake Falls Included in Awards.

Automobile taxes are spreading more miles of grading and graveling, also building many bridges on trunk routes in many parts of the state under new contracts being awarded low bidders this week by Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner.

The new list of highway improvements includes 92 miles of grading, 54 miles of graveling, and numerous bridges and big concrete culverts. The low bids aggregate $429,000, a total well below that of preliminary estimates. Sharp competition among many road contractors, a large percentage of whom are located in the smaller cities and towns of Minnesota, brought low prices generally. Unit prices went as low as 11½ cents a yard mile on gravel hauling, 22 cents a cubic yard on excavating and $16.50 a cubic yard for concrete.

The projects are quite widely distributed over the big 7,000 mile highway system, with the two following in this vicinity:

T. H. No. 32—Red Lake Falls north, 6.8 miles graveling at $11,383, S. J. Reader, Minneapolis.

T. H. No. 32—Thief River Falls south, 7.4 miles graveling at $16,739, S. J. Reader, Minneapolis.

While all the trunk highway improvements must be paid for eventually with motor vehicle tax funds, it was officially explained, most of those listed above are made possible now by county reimbursement bond issues. All interest on such bonds already is being paid from the auto tax receipts and a sinking fund of more than $2,000,000 has been accumulated towards paying the obligations, most of which run from 10 to 20 years longer. The interest is offset partially by that collected on sinking fund balances at 4½ per cent annually, also by reduced maintenance expense following the improvements and most by the earning power of the better highways, it was pointed out.

New Auto Mechanic.

Bud Hann of Devils Lake, N. D., this week assumed his duties as mechanic at the Aaseby & Burstad garage. Mr. Hann is a man of wide experience in all branches of automobile and electrical work as well as welding. A complete new outfit for welding is being installed at the garage. Mr. Hann was raised in his father's work shop and his training in a technical school was paid for by the Pence Auto company of Minneapolis, with which concern he was associated for a long time.

MEMBERS OF PIG CLUB CLOSE OUT

Dispose of Animals Cared for During the Summer Months.

A fairly large crowd of bidders was in evidence last Friday afternoon at the fair grounds when the purebred Poland Chinas cared for the past summer by the girls and boys of the county under the supervision of Fuller & Mayhew were placed on the auction block. While no fabulous prices were realized, the animals averaged up well and the members of the pig club feel well repaid for their efforts.

The young folks who have taken care of these pigs during the summer have not only realized a neat sum of money for their trouble but have gained a great deal of valuable experience as well. That a large majority of the club members have been faithful in caring for the pigs is evident from the general high class of the animals presented at the sale.

The pig club is a decidedly worth while project and Fuller & Mayhew are to be commended for the part they have taken in the work.

MUSICAL REVUE FRIDAY EVENING FINEST TO DATE

Cast of 150 Local People to Take Part in Wonderful Production.

Affair Given Under Auspices of American Legion Auxiliary.

All arrangements are now complete for one of the most delightful entertainments of the year, the Musical Revue which is to be presented Friday evening at 8:15 at the city auditorium by the Legion Auxiliary. Under the able direction of Mrs. H. H. Hodgson of Crookston, the cast of 150, all home talent, has been whipped into shape and promises to deliver a very finished performance.

The first part is comprised of a group of dances representing morning which appear in the following order: "Mist Maidens", "Wood Nymphs", "Blue Birds", "Roses", "Butterflies", "a Nosegay", and "Grasshoppers". The second part, representing a toy shop, opens with a solo, "The Wooden Soldiers", sung by Dora Kelly, and this is followed by dances by the clowns, dolls, candy sticks, blocks, and Jack-in-the-box. Ariel Kinghorn sings a solo, "Raggedy Ann", to which a group of "Raggedy Annes" and "Andy's" dance. The "Gold Dust Twins', Eileen Arneson and Kern Olson, sing a duet, "Remember Do Re-Me", from "Topsy and Eva" and the act is concluded by Dory Kelly singing "Jealous". The third part opens with a one-act play entitled, "Cinders", which is very cleverly enacted by the two characters, Lucille Roark and Lawrence Mickelson. The remainder of the production is a minstrel show which includes a song, "The Grass Is Always Greener", by Mrs. Anna Erickson, a solo dance by Milton Larson, a group of songs by Herman Bischoff, "In the Evening", by Mr. Reedy, "Sittin' in a Corner" by Buell Will, "Sleep" by Mrs. M. W. Brink, dances by the "Maids of '24" and the "Maids of '76", "It Had to Be You" by Lorraine Will and "I'm Goin' South' by Dave Robinson, and "Oh, Baby", by Kern Olson. These numbers are filled in with numerous jokes and "wise cracks" by the two end men, Roy Brown and Dave Robinson.

The production is certain to be very entertaining and should be given every bit possible of support to encourage the Legion Auxiliary which is working so hard to raise funds for the 1925 convention.

LITTLE STAR IN GREATEST PLAY

Baby Peggy Appears at Lyceum Next Friday and Saturday.

A problem play with a baby as the central figure, or perhaps a Baby Peggy play with a problem as a background—it is difficult to decide just which of these descriptions best fit latest Universal Jewel starring vehicle, which comes to the Lyceum Friday and Saturday with one of the "The Law Forbids," Baby Peggy's strongest casts ever assembled at the Universal city.

It is the dramatic story of a separated couple with a child, told from the child's standpoint. She wants the love of both her parents; they embark on a trial separation" with various legal regulations regarding the baby's custody. The law doesn't consider the child, of course; courts are more concerned with property settlements and alimony claims. But the court decides that the child is to remain with each parent for a six months' period.

"The Law Forbids" tells the child's side of the average American divorce problem; Baby Peggy voices the plea of thousands of children of divorced parents; a plea that has never been heard before. It is this that makes Bernard McConville's story one of the outstanding features on the screen, especially when the futility of hasty divorce is portrayed by the child's parents realizing their mistakes immediately after parting.

The baby romps through the dramatic action that forms a background for her tricks with a pet rooster and other endearing little things that lead up to the big climax. Then she turns tragedienne, and in the simple and direct way of childhood settles the problem that purists and sociologists can do nothing with but debate over, or quibble endlessly without showing definite results.

J. F. Gould. State Game Commissioner, to Speak at Club Lunch Tomorrow

The principal speaker at the meeting of the Thief River Falls Commercial club Thursday noon, October 16, will be James F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner. Mr. Gould is a good speaker and is sure to have a message of importance to club members and others who might wish to hear him. A number of business and professional men from neighboring towns have expressed their intention of being present upon the occasion of Mr. Gould's visit and prospects are that it will be one of the largest Commercial club meetings held for some time.

Many routine business matters and other things of importance are to be considered by the club tomorrow and President H. W. Froehlich urges a one hundred per cent attendance of the membership.

WAR VETERANS TO STAGE SHOW

Entertainment Planned by Grand Forks Ex-Service Men.

Plans are under way by which a play under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans of Grand Forks will be presented in the Thief River Falls auditorium on Saturday evening, November 8. The name of the play is "Extra-Service Men," and it is said to be a splendid production. It was presented last year as part of the Armistice Day program at Grand Forks and made a deep impression.

The story of the play in brief is as follows:

In the opening act of the play, five years were rolled back, and the scene evidenced four soldiers crouched down in a murky, dirty trench, somewhere in France, in the early morning of the first Armistice Day. Bob Reynolds, a young chap who had entered the war just after completing a college course through which he had "worked his way," in the person of Richard Watson, Earl W. Smith as Corporal Kelly, a soldier who was fighting for the sake of the fight, Frank Labine as "Daddy" who had recently learned that he was the father of a son and as a result was beginning to think seriously, and Sam DeRemer in the role of "The Kid", a typical American boy who enlisted for no particular reason and feared only that he would seem afraid—these are the characters who will tell the soldiers' side of the war story.

The story in the first act is simply that of the routine day of soldiers in the trenches, with its attendant casualties. In the dialogue, Daddy is wont to talk of his baby at home, reiterating many times the hope that son will not have to go through the same experiences as he was passing through. The Kid dwells upon his many choice "blondes" at home, wondering always which he should decide upon for his bride. Bob, conscientious to the extreme, agrees with Daddy that war was wrong and should be done away with, while the corporal, hard-boiled and relentless in the beginning, finally melts a bit from his stand that fighting is the only business.

Popular Dramatic Reader Comes Here October 24th For Delightful Program

Miss Grace B. Whitridge, popular writer of plays and dramatic reader for study clubs in the Twin cities, is scheduled to visit Thief River Falls October 24, when she will give an evening program in the Presbyterian church. Miss Whitridge is head of the work in dramatics for Macalester college and is well known to several Thief River Falls lovers of good plays.

Her program here promises to be a rare treat for the people of Thief River Falls. She has not yet indicated what she will give in her program, but she may produce the prize play of 1910, "The Piper," which was given the Stratford prize.

Miss Whitridge has been trained in the Boston School of Oratory, of which she is a graduate, in Harvard university, in Columbia university and she also is a graduate of the New York School of Dramatic Art.

Improvement Completed.

The work of remodeling the basement of the court house, which has been in progress during the greater part of the past summer, is now practically completed. A number of nice new rooms have been provided, with an additional vault for the protection of county records. It is expected the new quarters will be put into use as soon as the construction work can be passed upon by the board of county commissioners.

CITY TAX LEVY FOR NEXT YEAR REDUCED $6,000

Strong Note of Economy Is Sounded by Present City Government.

Reductions Made in Several Funds Lightens Taxpayers' Burden.

In accordance with the general demand for a reduction in taxation the present city council went on record last night at their regular meeting as being desirous of running the city's affairs as economically as possible. They slashed the tax levy for next year over ten per cent, fixing it at $49,000, as compared to $55,000 a year ago. The levy for the preceding year had been $57,000, the highest in many years, if not the highest in the history of the city.

The sum of $2,000 was cut off the current expense fund, this being fixed at $30,000 for next year. The interest fund was cut from $2,000 to $1,200; the library fund from $3,700 to $3,000; the park fund which a year ago received $3,000 was given nothing; this was also true of the cemetery fund, which a year ago got $800 but is given nothing this year. However, the local improvement fund which a year ago got nothing is given $1,300 for next year.

No changes were made in the following funds: auditorium, $1,000; sinking, $500; poor, $4,000; hydrant, $2,000; and paving, $6,000.

The council had held meetings Monday afternoon and evening in a preliminary effort to reach the above conclusions and the conditions of the various funds as compared with that of a year ago was the basis of arriving at the decision reached.

The park fund two years ago had to its credit $741 and a year ago $3,503, while this year there is $6,185, due to the fact that the board has been holding back on public improvements such as securing added ground and also building a bath house until sufficient funds were available. This denial of any funds the coming year will mean no further improvements can be undertaken. This is also true of the cemetery.

FOOTBALL HERE FRIDAY, OCT. 17

Strong Bemidji Eleven to Try Conclusions With Lincoln Team.

The Lincoln high football men are scheduled to play one of the strongest teams in the Northwest when they meet the Bemidji aggregation Friday afternoon at four o'clock on the local field. The game is announced on the posters for Saturday but was changed to Friday in order to give the business men and a greater number of students an opportunity to attend.

Bemidji is reputed to have an unusually fine team this year and will be well worth while watching in action. So far this season they have been defeated by Hibbing, 16 to 0, but were victorious over Detroit by an overwhelming score. The local team has been defeated by Warren, 21 to 0, and tied Crookston last week 12 to 12. As they have played no mutual teams, an accurate statement of their relative strength would be hard to make. In any event, the game is certain to be one of the best the season offers.

Olle i Skratthult Coming for Return Date Saturday

Hjalmar Peterson, better known as "Olle i Skratthult," and his company of Swedish entertainers, are booked to appear at the Sons of Norway hall in this city next Saturday evening, October 18. Two performances will be given, one at 7 o'clock and the other at 9.

This popular troupe has visited Thief River Falls on many previous occasions and never fails to draw a packed house. It is said that a number of new artists have been added since "Olle's" last appearance here, making the program of a higher class than ever before.

Some Fine Weather.

After a number of heavy showers over Saturday and Sunday, the weather cleared off beautifully and since then has been ideal in every respect. Threshing and other farm operations have been resumed and indications are that farmers will be given a chance to complete their fall work without further interruptions.

Community Girls Enjoy Party Monday Evening

The losing side in the Community club membership campaign entertained the winners at a most enjoyable party Monday evening in the Legion club rooms and proved conclusively that, as losers, they were the best sports imaginable.

Immediately upon arrival, every girl was presented with a dance program in Hallowe'en colors and for a short while, the time was taken up with filling the programs with dances. Then Miss Dora Holmes, accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Brown, sang a solo and after much applause, rendered a short encore. A two-piece orchestra had been provided to furnish music and the hours from 9 to 11 were spent in dancing. For those who did not wish to dance, cards and tables had been provided. The first six even-numbered dances were prize dances and the best couple on the floor, according to the three judges, was awarded a prize.

The club rooms had been decorated for the occasion with orange and black streamers, orange shaded lights and other Hallowe'en decorations, such as corn stalks, pumpkins, and witches.

Exceptionally fine refreshments were served at eleven o'clock, a unique feature of the luncheon being the chop suey which was the main dish.

About one hundred fifty Community girls were present and all are unanimous in their expression of a wonderfully good time. Too much credit cannot be given to the committee of twenty-five losers who planned the affair.

I Am the Newspaper.

By Bristow Adams.

I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other friends. I speak to the home in the evening light of summer's vineclad porch or the glow of winter's lamp.

I help to make this evening hour; I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the days and weeks that go to make up life.

I am for and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter; I take to them the thrill of old days, with wholesome messages.

I speak the language of the common man; my words are lifted to his understanding. My congregation is larger than that of any church in my town; my readers are more than those in the school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, instruction, entertainment, inspiration, solace, comfort. I am the chronicler of birth and love and death—the great facts of man's existence.

I bring together buyer and seller, to the benefit of both; I am a part of the market place of the world. Into the home I carry word of the goods which feed and clothe and shelter, and which minister and comfort, ease, health and happiness.

I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of states and nation.

I am the exponent of the lives of my readers. I am the newspaper.

Telephone Conference.

A meeting of the local Northwestern Bell Telephone company, and those of the surrounding towns met in this city last Friday for a conference. Due to the unfortunate conditions of the roads, the attendance was much smaller than otherwise would have been expected.

Flying Circus Here.

Two planes and several aviators belonging to the Dispatch Flying Circus have been in the city for several days the past week taking up passengers and doing some exhibition work. A fine program had been planned for Sunday afternoon but on account of the high wind prevailing at the time the aviators were forced to remain on the ground most of the day. Toward evening, after the wind had moderated somewhat, a number of Thief River Falls citizens were taken up for rides through the air.

SCHALL'S SMOKE SCREEN.

Tommy Schall, the blind congressman, set up quite an ingenious smoke screen in his speech at the Auditorium Friday night. He roasted the editor of The Tribune after satisfying himself that the latter was not present to defend himself. Good for Tommy. It is the bravest thing he has done since he went to congress from the tenth district, and there is hope for him yet. When someone asked him two civil questions at the mass meeting held at the Peoples church, St. Paul, last Friday by the League of Women voters, Tommy Schall did just what he did here. He roundly abused the man who asked him questions and in the opinion of all decent people who attended that meeting he only succeeded in making a perfect ass out of himself.

Before this campaign is over The Tribune will disclose the source of Tommy Scall's support, a fact which he well knows, and he cleverly imagines he can shield himself by attacking the editor of this newspaper. J. S. Arneson is not a candidate for public office but Tommy Schall aspires to the greatest legislative job within the gift of the people of Minnesota. If the Republican party wishes to stultify itself by electing this man to the senate of the United States, that is their business, but The Tribune does not desire to be a party to any such deal. That is why Tommy is mad. And that is all the editor of The Tribune has to say concerning the matter at this time.

J. S. ARNESON,
Publisher of The Tribune.

Pennington county must have more people before she can reach her stride in the production of agricultural products. If a few hunderd more farmers and their families could be induced to settle in the county within the next year it would make a world of difference. When you write a letter to relatives and friends at a distance it might be well to enumerate a few of the advantages of the county in which you live. That kind of advertising cannot help but prove beneficial even though it does not result directly in inducing new settlers to locate here. The cumulative effect of favorable publicity is marvelous.

In the heat of argument incident to a political campaign, it is well for folks here to remember that no matter who is elected, the way to permanent prosperity as far as Pennington county is concerned lies in the direction of more alfalfa, more cows, more hogs and more sheep.

The white lights of the cities are very fine, but they are a poor substitute for the good old home made pie produced in Thief River Falls.

Much fruit will be canned this fall. A number of politicians also are in line for the same treatment.

Tie Score Results From Football Contest Staged at Fair Grounds Friday

Local football fans were given a number of thrills last Friday when the Lincoln high eleven and the Crookston team met at the fair grounds and played a tie game, the final score being 12 to 12.

The locals were decidedly the victors during the early part of the game making both touchdowns in the first quarter. The first touchdown was made within a few minutes after the playing started, Bjorkman carrying the ball over the line. The try for point failed making the score 6 to 0. The second touchdown was made by a pass to Penney and again the attempt for the extra point failed. Neither team scored in the second period but after the intermission between halves, Crookston came back strong and went over for her first touchdown. They failed to make the extra point, using a line buck. Their second touchdown came immediately after when they kicked off and the ball went over the line. The local player, not knowing the rule in the case and expecting the ball to be taken back to the 20 yard line, failed to fall on it and Crookston was again given a touchdown when their own player touched it. Again a line buck was unsuccessful in bringing them the extra point. No scores were made in the last quarter, though both teams worked hard to break the tie, and the game ended 12 to 12.

The bleachers which had been erected along both sides of the gridiron were a great improvement and made it much easier for everyone to see all the plays. Both sides were practically filled to capacity.

The referee for the game was Cosch Bachman of Warren; the umpire, Tandberg of Middle River; and the head lineman, Hayes of East Grand Forks.

THIS WEEK

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

For President Coolidge.

And Those That Pay.

2,000 Fighting Planes.

For One Dreadnought.

President Coolidge recalled Secretary Wilbur of the Navy to Washington to discuss with him "the relative value of battleships and flying machines in war."

This means, of course, that the President will LISTEN to others, and TAKE COUNSEL with himself. It means that, with all his work, he has found time for the serious problems of air defense, and does not intend to keep this country among the backward nations, as regards real preparation.

Facts alone will influence the President, and they are not lacking. For instance:

One battleship of dreadnaught class cost forty-five million dollars. For that sum the nation could build and mobilize TWO THOUSAND FIGHTING AIRPLANES. Does the President or any other sane man ask what chance a battleship would have against 2,000 fighting air machines dropping TNT from the clouds?

The French have come through a real war, with invasion to the very gates of Paris, millions killed, other millions wounded. THEY know something about fighting. What has France done to prepare against danger across her border?

France has a first line of air defense, consisting of two thousand fighting air machines, with a reserve of two thousand more.

And that fighting French air fleet is what makes England, with all her lumbering battleships, cruisers, etc., "the world's greatest battle fleet," so pitifully polite to France. She will continue to be polite until she can dominate in the air, as she used to dominate the sea.

The two thousand first line fighting planes that spell security for France, cost, in Europe, less than half the cost of one first class dreadnaught here. No wonder France insists that Germany shall build no fighting planes.

We continue spending millions on big guns and ammunition for practice. They also will soon be classed among museum curiosities, used to make a loud noise in the Presidential salute, or tickle the vanity of some admiral returning to his ship.

A sixteen-inch gun costs as much as two fighting airships. It lasts only long enough to fire one hundred twenty shots. The life of a fighting plane, costing half as much as a single big gun, is equal to that of an ordinary forty-five million dreadnaught.

Battleships, besides being obsolete, are frightfully expensive, soon out of date, worthless in peace. Flying machines, enough of them to make this nation safe against attack by sea or land, could be built without burdensome taxation, kept up with slight expense, and they would pay their way in peace, twice over, in the mail service, and in spying out forest fires.

Legion Dance.

A big Hallowe'en dance will be given Friday evening, October 24 at the city auditorium under the auspices of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

PUBLIC FORUM

Thomes Schell'e Speech.

Thomas Schall, who spoke for two and a half hours last Saturday night, is an eloquent speaker, but more than half of his talk consisted of mudslinging, self-praise and blasphemy. If he gained any votes by his talk it was a case of the blind leading the blind. His name means "sound" but his arguments were not sound—they were hollow enough to permit the G. O. P. hogs to go through and perhaps even Magnus Johnson's bull. His greatest (unintentional) joke was uttered when he said that the Republican party was the progressive party. We know that the Republican party has always opposed reform legislation when it was first advocated by progressives. When Republicans have passed reform laws they have done so only after the call for them has become so insistent that they were afraid of losing their jobs if they did not give the people what they wanted, and in other cases it has taken years before it has penetrated their conservative skulls that the laws were for the people's benefit.

The Democratic party will be the third party next November because it will not cast as many votes as the Progressive party will. Then the Republican and Democratic parties will have to consolidate and become the conservative party as they have done in North Dakota and other places where the progressives have become too strong for the conservatives when divided into two parties. Members of the Conservative party will continually leave it as they are educated into becoming progressives. There are only two reasons for staying in a conservative party. One of them is ignorance and the other is self-interest stronger than one's altruism. Those who are conservatives for the last mentioned reason are those who get an income from the labor of others on account of the profit system. We should not blame Rockefeller or Morgan or any other individual for taking advantage of the existing system, but what we should do is to vote to destroy the system that is so unjust that it permits one man to become a millionaire or even billionaires in a few years, while millions die prematurely because they do not have enough of what is necessary to preserve health and life to old age. Neither can we blame magazines and newspapers for advocating the continuance of the present system because their principal income is from advertising, and as advertisers income is from profit, they can control the policy of the papers by refusing to advertise in periodcals that advocate the abolishing of the profit system.

Neither LaFollette nor the Progressive platform are socialistic except that they advocate government ownership of railroads, but what the capitalists are afraid of is that if the people get that much socialism they will like it so well that they will want more. The people seem to be quite well satisfied with the socialistic institutions that we have—the public schools—public roads and the postal system.

Schall evidently believed that there were a lot of boneheads in the audience when he told us that we had the supreme court to protect our rights. Autocratic power, like the power the supreme court of the U. S. has usurped, should not be given to any imperfect individuals, but as long as we don't have the referendum and recalls it is better to give it to five hundred (congress) than five (supreme court). If congress makes a law that the majority of the voters don't want, we can elect another congress that will nullify the objectionable law, but what can we do if the supreme court says that a law is unconstitutional? Under present laws we can neither recall the judges nor the decisions, because the supreme court judges are appointed for life by the presidents. The constitution does not give the supreme court the power to declare laws unconstitutional, but as long as the voters allow it to do so, it (or five of its members) can nullify ALL laws that congress makes, which is not probable but not any more impossible than that congress may make a law that one person shall be president for life and his son after him, as Schall said. That government by appointed judges is not "a government with the consent of the governed"—even a blind man ought to see.

My next article will deal with bible-prophecy about U. S. which Schall misquoted.—Martin G. Christenson.

The Red Lake Road.

Dear Editor:

I beg of you to get the use of your columns for a brief letter as I believe I have a message that is of great importance to the people of your city and community. I have been informed that Road Commissioner Babcock has been to Thief River Falls and has decided to build a road to Red Lakes from that point, by extending the Elwell road across the reservation on to the Sandridge and the lake. A road that will be used for pleasure only. Now, would it not be more sensible to turn north by Goodridge until it hits Ditch No. 20 and on east by the way of Thorhult and the Scenic ridge and thereby giving the vast territory known as the Grygla community and these six townships of Beltrami county something out of the auto tax which we are paying. A road on the north route will give us a road to Thief River Falls and west, an outlet to the lakes and our county seat. Unless we get gravel roads soon (we have given up getting a railroad) we soon will all be pulling out, and abandoning our farms. A good many of us have stopped paying taxes, the rest of us will soon follow suit, and this vast territory will revert back to the state. We have spent two million dollars to drain out this country. Now get busy and help us to get a graveled road so we can get our stuff to market. Every township should get out a monster petition and send in to the commissioner as soon as possible, and let him know that we are here first and that we want some benefit. From this program the north route will be cheapest, and the benefits will be much more; in fact it is the only show we have of ever getting a gravel road both ways at once. Time to wake up.

Yours truly,
GILBERT BENSON.

According to a straw vote taken in the four American history classes of Lincoln high, the election of a United States president resulted in a deadlock, no candidate receiving a majority of the votes cast. The returns of the mock election were Coolidge 42, LaFollette 37, and Davis 9. This is of considereble interest here as the high school student body should be fairly representative of the entire community.

STATE OF MINNESOTA

CLIFFORD L. HILTON
Attorney General

St. Paul, Minn., June 14, 1924.

HONORABLE MIKE HOLM,
Secretary of State, Capitol.

SIR: As required by section 46, General Statutes 1913, I have the honor to furnish you herewith, a statement of the purposes and effects of all amendments proposed to the constitution of the state of Minnesota by the legislature of 1923 and which are to be submitted to the electors of the state at the general election in 1924.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 1.

Chapter 447, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment to section 5 of article 9 of the constitution of the state. The section now reads as follows:

"Section 5. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the state may contract public debts, but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single object, to be distinctly specified therein; and no such law shall take effect until it shall have been passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature, to be recorded by yeas and nays on the journals of each house respectively; and every such law shall levy a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest of such debt, and also a tax sufficient to pay the principal of such debt within ten years from the final passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation and taxes shall not be repealed, postponed, or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid. The state shall never contract any debts for works of internal improvements, or be a party in carrying on such works, except in cases where grants of land or other property shall have been made to the state, especially dedicated by the grant to specific purposes, and in such cases the state shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion."

If amended this section will read as follows:

"Section 5. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the state may contract public debts, but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single object, to be distinctly specified therein; and no such law shall take effect until it shall have been passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature, to be recorded by yeas and nays on the journals of each house respectively; and every such law shall levy a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest of such debt, and also a tax sufficient to pay the principal of such debt within ten years from the final passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation and taxes shall not be repealed, postponed, or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid. The state shall never contract any debts for works of internal improvement, or be a party in carrying on such works, except as authorized by section 16 of article 9, and by article 16 of this constitution; but it may levy an excise tax upon any substance, material, fluid, force or other means or instrumentality, or the business of dealing in, selling or producing any or all thereof, used or useful in producing or generating power for propelling motor or other vehicles used on the public highways of this state, and shall place the proceeds of such tax in the trunk highway fund provided for in section 2 of said article 16 and further except in cases where grants of land or other property shall have been made to the state, especially dedicated by the grant to specific purposes, and in such cases the state shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion."

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to confer express authority upon the legislature to provide a special tax on gasoline or other substances used, or useful, for the propulsion of motor vehicles on the public highways of the state or on the business of dealing in, selling or producing such substances. The money so raised by such tax is to be used for the construction and maintenance of trunk highways.

The effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be that the cost of the construction and maintenance of trunk highways, the whole of which is now paid by a direct tax on motor vehicles, supplemented by federal aid, will be borne in part by the revenue derived from such gasoline tax, so-called, as the legislature may impose.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2.

Chapter 448, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment of section 36 of article 4 of the constitution of the state. This section now reads as follows:

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof; Provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits now established. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least thirty days in three newspapers of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent, and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses; if of two houses, at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto to the qualified voters of such city or village any alternate section or article may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other articles or sections of the charter or any amendments thereto. The legislature may provide general laws relating to affairs of cities, the application of which may be limited to cities of over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty and not less than ten thousand inhabitants, or to cities of ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all such cities of either class, and which shall be paramount while in force to the provisions relating to the same matter included in the local charter herein provided for. But no local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the state defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors."

If amended this section will read as follows:

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof: Provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits now established. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least ten days in any daily newspaper of general circulation in such city or village, or if there be no daily newspaper of general circulation in such city or village then for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses; if of two houses, at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto to the qualified voters of such city or village any alternate section or article may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other articles or sections of the charter or any amendments thereto. The legislature may provide general laws relating to affairs of cities, the applications of which may be limited to cities over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty and not less than ten thousand inhabitants, or to cities of ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all such cities of either class, and which shall be paramount while in force to the provisions relating to the same matter included in the local charter herein provided for. But no local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the state defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors."

The purpose of said amendment is to change the number of newspapers in which proposed amendments of home rule charters of cities and villages must be published and the duration of such publications.

The effect of said amendments, if adopted, will be to authorize the publication of proposed amendments to the home rule charter of a city or village for ten days in one daily newspaper of general circulation therein, if there be such a newspaper, or once each week for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper of general circulation therein, if there be no such daily newspaper, instead of publishing the same for thirty days in three newspapers of general circulation therein as now required.

Chapter 450, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment to the constitution of the state of Minnesota by adding thereto a new article, to succeed article 16, and to be appropriately numbered, to read as follows:

Article ....

"Section 1. Laws may be enacted for the purpose of encouraging and promoting forestation and reforestation of lands in this state, whether owned by private persons or the public, including irrepealable provisions for definite and limited taxation of such lands during a term of years, and for a yield tax at or after the end of such term, upon the timber and other forest products so grown.

"Section 2. The purpose of said amendment is to empower the legislature to enact laws to encourage and promote forestation and reforestation of publicly and privately owned lands.

The effect of said amendment, if adopted, will be to empower the legislature to enact laws to encourage and promote forestation and reforestation of publicly and privately owned lands, and to that end to enact irrepealable laws for a definite and limited taxation for a term of years of lands devoted to forestation or reforestation, and laws for a yield tax, at the end of or after such term, upon the timber or other forest products so grown upon said lands, and to repeal provisions of the state constitution inconsistent with said amendment.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 5.

Chapter 451, Session Laws of Minnesota for 1923 proposes an amendment to the constitution of said state by adding thereto a new article, to be known as Article 17 (a), to read as follows:

Article 17 (a).

"Section 1. The state and (or) any of its political subdivisions, if and whenever authorized by the legislature, may contract debts and pledge the public credit for and engage in any work reasonably tending to prevent or abate forest fires, including the compulsory clearing and improvement of wild lands (whether belonging to the public or privately owned) and the assessment against such lands of the value of all benefits so conferred and the payment of damages so sustained in excess of such benefits.

"Section 2. Any and all provisions of the constitution of the state of Minnesota inconsistent with the provisions of this article, are hereby repealed, so far, but only so far, as the same prohibit or limit the power of the legislature to enact laws authorizing or permitting the doing of the things hereinbefore authorized."

The purpose of said amendment is to expressly empower the state, and its political subdivisions, to undertake the prevention and abatement of forest fires, and to incur debts and pledge the public credit in so doing.

The effect of said amendment, if adopted, will be to empower the state, and any of its political subdivisions when authorized by the legislature so to do, to engage in any work reasonably tending to prevent or abate forest fires, including the compulsory clearing and improvement of publicly and privately owned wild lands, to assess against said lands the benefits accruing therefrom from such work, and to pay the damages to such lands in excess of the benefits, if any resulting from such work, to contract debts and pledge the public credit in carrying on said work, and to repeal all provisions of the state constitution inconsistent with said amendment.

Yours respectfully,
CLIFFORD L. HILTON,
Attorney General.

THIEF RIVER VALLEY CO-OP. POULTRY PRODUCERS ASS'N.

By H. L. Schuster, Secy.-Treas.

Returns from Minnesota Co-operative Egg and Poultry Exchange were received and were very satisfactory—much higher than what was expected.

Another car of poultry will be shipped out of Thief River Falls October 20—and the price will undoubtedly be higher.

Turkeys will be shipped between November 10th and November 15th. Plan for these dates.

Don't ship your chickens or eggs to the Association unless they are called for by the Association.

B. O. Norby went up to Lancaster Monday to do missionary work for the Association.

Mr. Collett, Mr. Johnson, Warren Simpson, Prof. T. M. McCall, agricultural instructors respectively of Warren, Fosston, Fisher and the agricultural college at Crookston visited here Friday and Saturday and were interested in gaining first-hand information in regard to the workings of the Association with the idea in view of getting associations started in their respective communities.

By-laws and articles of incorporation will soon be printed and mailed to members.

We neglected to make mention of the fact that the Commercial club gave President Neset a rising vote of thanks for his efforts in getting the local association under way. A member of the club called it the "biggest single-handed deal" that had ever been pulled off.

Foreman Palmquist will grade poultry at the car in Roseau next week.

Considerable sales have been made by the Association to local merchants.

Three-Quarters Million Teachers.

The total number of public school teachers in the United States in 1923 is estimated by the Bureau of Education to have been 729,426. This estimate does not include superintendents, supervisors, and principals. Forty-three per cent of these teachers, or approximately 313,805, are classed as rural teachers. In this classification rural is interpreted to include open country, country villages, and towns not maintaining independent city systems.

Put Gas Tax on Roads.

The gas tax amendment is one of those to be voted upon this year. Please don't think that this is to decide whether we have the gas tax or not. Oh, no! We will have the gas tax whether you vote for this amendment or not. If this amendment is carried it will enable the state treasurer to put the money collected from the gas tax into the road fund instead of the general fund. Therefore, vote the amendment.—Hokah Chief.

Treat Your Gasoline With-

Blitzen Fluid

"The Fountain of Motor Youth"

Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas

Increases Mileage of Gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon.

CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor troubles. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap in motor engineering, as it softens the fiery coke-like carbon deposits and expels it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forms a film on the surfaces of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

When carbon is gone grinding of valves becomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean and perform at their highest efficiency; carbon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and you will enjoy that extra power and smoothness of a clean well preserved motor.

Blitzen Fluid is used by men in the Auto Motive industry who know that it will not injure the most sensitive motor. It is produced by chemists to put and keep your motor in the state of highest efficiency and saves in gasoline and repair bills sufficiently to entirely or largely reduce the cost.

ADD 2 OUNCES OF Blitzen Fluid TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS and give Blitzen Fluid a fair test in accordance with the condition of your motor. Notice the difference.

In your community Blitzen Fluid "The Fountain of Motor Youth" is sold at Pyramid pumps and service stations.

INSURANCE FOR CITY EMPLOYEES IS CONSIDERED

Council Feels Need of Protection Against Personal Injuries.

Prichard Company Secures Contract for Furnishing Coal Supply.

The city council was in session for nearly three hours last night, Aldermen H. A. Brumund and T. A. Fossum being the only absentees. Routine matters occupied the attention of the members a short time, but the matter of compensation insurance for city employees, awarding of bids on coal for the winter, and completion of the tax levy for the coming year all required careful consideration and took time.

Six bids on coal were on file with City Clerk P. G. Pederson when the chairman ordered them opened, the bidders and their varying amounts being as follows:

Minneapolis Bridge Co., $9.25 and $9.75.

Christenson Hdw. Co., $8.75 and $9.75.

Andy Sjolberg, $9.60 and $10.75.

Ed. O'Harra, $9.10 and $9.65.

Edison Gannon, $9.75 and $11.

Prichard Lhr. Co., $8.90 and $9.40.

It was decided that the bid of The Prichard company of $9.40 was the best of all submitted considering heating and steam qualities, and the clerk was authorized to enter into a contract with this company for 175 tons, the coal to be delivered from time to time as required.

The fact that the city has been very fortunate for several years past in not having any personal injury suits proved of advantage in securing a rate on the various city employees, according to estimates submitted to the council on compensation insurance. This would cover all men such as employees at the power plants, the electric light men, the police and firemen, street sweepers and others, many of whom are in danger every day. The state law does not require such insurance from cities and counties, but it is optional and the aldermen present last night thought the city should be protected. The estimate submitted was for $626.63, exclusive of the firemen, who come under a $10 rate for each man, making an additional cost to the city of $160.

The regular monthly reports of the various city officers were submitted and ordered filed, the only exception being that of the Chief of Police, who had failed to make a single arrest during the month of September. The report of the municipal court as filed by Judge N. W. Tarrant showed fees during the month of $25.65. The city's funds on September 30 totalled $7,582.34 as compared to $12,312.21 a month previous, the receipts having been $4,492.97 and the disbursements $9,222.84, but there are outstanding warrants of $20,410.68 so that the actual cash on hand was nearly $25,000. The earnings of the light department for September were $3,895.04. The librarian's report showed 1,652 books loaned last month with a total estimated reading room attendance of 3,250. All dairy herds were found all right by the inspector, Dr. L. R. Twete, who examined the various places supplying milk, there being 187 cows in the source of supply. All samples tested of milk and cream were above the requirements. Special attention by the inspector was called to cracked bottles and these are forbidden from now on.

Three building permits were requested, two for garages and the third for remodeling a residence, all being duly granted, as were also four milk licenses to V. C. Noper, Jacob Hermanson, Mrs. J. O. Dahl and A. D. Peterson.

The free use of the auditorium Sunday morning, afternoon and night was granted for the Bible conference now being held in the city by four of the local churches.

The tax levy will be found elsewhere in this issue, it being $6,000 less than a year ago, a reduction of over ten pen cent.

GLORIA SWANSON MAKES REAL HIT

If you are one of the millions, who have loaned an ear recently to the mysteriously recurrent rumors of Gloria Swanson's demise, we say, yea beseech you, to take a trip down to the Lyceum theatre Sunday or Monday and see "Manhandled," Gloria's latest production for Paramount. And if after that you still think Gloriaa's a dead one, then we say she never was alive.

But we admit ourselvee that it ie a different Gloria Swanson you see on the screen at the Lyceum. That is, different as far as picture characterizatione are concerned. She's the liveliest person you ever saw in your life in this Allan Dwan production, an adaptation from Arthur Stringer's Saturday Evening Post stories by that name.

Here's a picture with a climax as sensational as its title—a story of a salesgirl in a big New York department store, who is out for a good time, willing to receive everything but give nothing in return. She falls in with men who misjudge her—misinterpret her idea of a good time, manhandle her and then—the girl comes around to her right senses with a bang, realizes what, unwittingly, she had almost brought upon herself, and goes back to the safe and sane life, happy in the love of an honest-to-goodness sweetheart. He may not have jewels and a car to offer her, but she's seen the rest and knows when she's got the best.

Tom Moore is Miss Swanson's leading man in "Manhandled," which will close its run on Monday next. Others in the cast are Frank Morgan, Ian Keith, Paul McAllister and Lilyan Tashman.

WHEAT GROWERS FOUND SOLVENT

North Dakota Association Declared O. K. by Accountants.

That the North Dakota Wheat Growers association is in a perfectly solvent condition, having $1.05½ of current or liquid assets for every dollar's worth of current liabilities was the declaration made at Minot last Friday by F. E. Luehe, certified public accountant, who with F. W. Burchard of Grand Forks had just completed an audit of the concern's records.

This statement by Mr. Luehe is considered by the Wheat Growers as of particular significance due to the fact that an action has been instituted in Burleigh county district court by Peter Weisenberger of Tuttle vicinity, alleging that the organization is insolvent.

"Our audit discloses that the Wheat Growers organization has been ably and sanely managed, the officers always having in mind the ultimate desire of the organization to better the condition of selling and marketing the farmers products, declared Mr. Luehe. "It is only natural to infer that the final success of such an organization can only be accomplished by and through the full co-operation of the members."

CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS.

Army of Republican Workers to Insure Party Victory.

That well-worn sentence, 'Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party," which would-be typists have given so much exercise, really means what it says in the present election campaign and such an appeal has been directed, not only to men but to the women voters of the state by the Republican Volunteer Committee, of which Herman Roe of Northfield is secretary.

"This campaign provides an opportunity for every citizen to render some real service and the voters are urged to become activ participants in the fight," declared Mr. Roe. "Contributions to the Republican campaign fund are also solicited. The days of large campaign contributione are past and party committees must rely on small sums supplied by the rank and file of the party. County committees do not reach hundreds of loyal Republicans who, when they realize the necessity, will gladly contribute a dollar and up to the campaign fund and will also volunteer to do some personal work among their neighbors. Given a large army of volunteers who will assist in distributing literature, in informing the voters about the issuee and in presenting the Republican party's record of accomplishment in state and nation a complete victory for the Republican ticket on November 4th is asured."

For the first time since 1903, when Northrop Field was built in the form in which it stood through the season of 1923, the University of Minnesota has a football field in keeping with the needs of the institution and the excellent reputation of Minnesota teams.

The Memorial stadium, commemorating all Minnesotans who have given their lives in defense of their country, whether in the World War or earlier conflicts, has been built by the subscriptions of students, graduates, faculty members and friends, who have pledged nearly $2,000,000 for a stadium and an auditorium.

Of this sum about $650,000 has been put into the stadium, to which the athletic association has added $70,000 for the annual playing field, the locker and team rooms, shower baths, coaches quarters, running track, and the like. The remainder of the pledges will be devoted, as collected, to the construction of a huge auditorium, to be the center of University group life.

Minnesota opened the stadium October 4, winning from North Dakota 14 to 0 in a slow contest which was played before 16,000 persons, the largest opening crowd on record. The structure seats a few more than 50,000 persons. The utmost capacity of the old field was 22,000. The entire capacity is expected to be sold for such big games of the present season ae that with Michigan, November 1 and with Illinois November 15. The Michigan game will be Homecoming for alumni, while the Illinois game will see the stadium dedication exercises.

The first practice in the new stadium was held on Thursday, October 2. Clarence Schutte, halfback from Aberdeen, S. D., made the first two touchdowns in the arena. George Abramson of Aurora kicked goal following each of them. These were in the North Dakota game.

Series of Sermons to Be Given on Lord's Prayer

A series of lectures are to be preached Sunday evenings at the Trinity Lutheran church by Rev. S. L. Tallakson, comemncing next Sunday night at 7:45. Hymns appropriate for the special prayer topic will be sung. The pastor suggests that in order to appreciate the sermon, look up the many encouraging promises to prayer given by Our Father in the Bible. The Lord's Prayer shows you step by step the highway to everlasting bliss. Madame de-Stael, the celebrated French woman, said: "I desire no other evidence of the truth of Christianity than the Lord's Prayer."

SPUD CO-OP. HAS 13,000 MEMBERS

Late Sesson and Fear of Early Freeze-up Boosts Exchange Membership.

Membership in the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange this week passed 13,000, according to word from St. Paul. This is an increase of nearly 700 since the campaign closed this spring.

The low market and the fear of an early freeze-up is helping the Exchange's growth, according to Walter Oby of Detroit, secretary-treasurer of the Exchange.

"With prices down as low as 18 cents a bushel and no where more than 45 cents a hundred for graded stock, growers realize that they have everything to gain and nothing to lose by joining the association," said Mr. Oby. "In carrying out our orderly marketing program, we are selling few potatoes on the present market and conditions are developing so that we will be obliged to hold even a larger amount of potatoes than we contemplated several weeks ago. Negotiations are now pending which will give us storage for 5,000 to 7,000 cars in the big terminal markets at a cost that is less than half the usual rates."

Exchange officials are urging members to dig all of their potatoes as quickly as possible. An early freeze-up would result in the loss of thousands of acres of potatoes, because nowhere, especially in the valley sections, have farmers been able to get their spuds out of the ground. The late season and wet weather has prevented field work for some time.

"Exchange members," says S. G. Rubinow, general manager, "are fortunate this year. Non-members are obliged to sell for little or nothing, store the crop at home or let it freeze in the ground. We are prepared to accept and store all potatoes delivered by our members."

Ernest Erickson Goes Home.

Young Man Bound Over to District Court on Charge of Assault: Raises Bonds

On complaint of a young lady, whose home is at Greenbush, Stanley Sorenson of this city was last Friday evening arrested and placed in jail on a charge of indecent assault. Next day he was given a hearing in municipal court and bound over to the next term of district court under bonds of $500, which were furnished and the young man given his liberty.

The young lady exhibited a badly injured arm in court and testified that the injury resulted from her efforts in resisting the advances of the defendant, with whom she had gone for an automobile ride.

Rural Carrier Examinations.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Thief River Falls on November 8, 1924, to fill the position of rural carrier at Gatzke, Minn., and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from that post office. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of the post office where the vacancy exists and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form 1977. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles. Women will not be considered for rural carrier appointment unless they are the widows of U. S. soldiers, sailors or marines, or the wives of U. S. soldiers, sailors or marines who are physically disqualified for examination by reason of injuries received in the line of military duty. Form 1977 and application blanks may be obtained from the vacancy office mentioned above or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington, D. C., at the earliest practicable date. At the examination applicants must furnish unmounted photographs of themselves taken within two years.

Funeral services were held from the chapel by Rev. O. I. Raaum of Holt and interment made at the Greenwood cemetery.

POTTS PRAISES STATE BUTTER INSPECTION

Roy C. Potts, in charge of the marketing of dairy products in the United States Department of Agriculture, was in consultation with officers of the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries association last week, with regard to the improvement of the government inspection service on butter handled by the Association at Minneapolis and Duluth.

According to Mr. Potts, the government's inspection certificate is rapidly coming to be recognized as the mark of a standardized product. Inspection is now being used on fruits and vegetables, butter and other products. "The government inspection certificate is the mark of a quality product," said Mr. Potts, "and I believe the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries association has a special opportunity to use the inspection service to advantage because of the high quality of butter which it is handling."

The Creameriea association is planning to have the government inspection certificate affixed to its print butter which scores 93 or above. "This will enable the consumer to realize that he is getting a quality product," said A. J. McQuire, manager of the Association, "and will do more to impress upon him the necessity for demanding only a quality product than anything else we can do."

LARGE ACREAGE ALLOWED SUGAR BEET GROWERS

Four Thousand Acres Allotted to Thief River Falls District.

Tonnage Raised in This Vicinity to Be Trebled Next Season.

On the strength of the new beet sugar factory which it is proposed to erect at East Grand Forks to take care of the 1925 sugar beets raised in the Red River valley, farmers in the vicinity of Thief River Falls will be granted practically three times as many acres of beets in 1925 as could be allotted to them for the present season. The new mill will be able to take care of about 12,000 acres in the valley, of which 4,000 have been allotted to what is known as the Thief River valley, of which Thief River Falls is the center. More than 2,000 acres will be apportioned in the section immediately surrounding this city.

County Agent J. J. McCann has been provided with the necessary contracts and agreements and is busy signing up the acreage in this neighborhood. He states that he will have no trouble whatever in getting rid of his allotment in short order and he therefore urges farmers who wish to plant sugar beets next year to secure their acreage before it is too late. Call at his office or use the mail or telephone in making reservation for the 1925 allotment.

With everything else being equal, Mr. McCann states that the shorter haul of beets to East Grand Forks will mean an extra return of 50 cents on each ton of beets shipped from the vicinity of Thief River Falls. This, together with the increased acreage allowed on account of the new mill, makes the institution of particular value to Pennington county farmers.

DEATH RESULTS FROM INJURIES DUE TO SCUFFLE

Paul Schankey, New Solum Pioneer, Dies From Injury Sustained.

Friendly Wrestling Match Between Farmers Comes to Tragic End.

Paul Schankey, 55, one of the pioneer farmers of New Solum township, residing four miles northwest of Rosewood, died at the Physician's hospital in this city early Sunday morning. Death came as the result of injuries received in a friendly wrestling match in which he and a neighbor, J. J. Serbus, became engaged while assisting with threshing at the farm of a neighbor on Tuesday morning of last week. No blame is attached to Mr. Serbus for the tragic outcome of the contest.

Mr. Schankey, who had for many years been a sufferer from a serious form of hernia, exerted himself to the extent that his old trouble became greatly aggravated. He was immediately taken to the hospital but his condition was such that no hope could be held out for his recovery and he passed away as above stated.

Deceased was a highly respected resident of his community and a very successful farmer. He is survived by his wife and eight children, who have the sympathy of neighbors and friends in their hour of sorrow. The funeral was held this morning from St. Bernard's church in this city, of which deceased was a member, with interment in the Catholic cemetery. A large number of relatives, neighbors and friends were present at the funeral services.

Wants Pennington County Alfalfa.

Walter Lemon, whose business address is 1205 Pioneer building, St. Paul, is in the market for several carloads of alfalfa hay, and local people who have that commodity for sale are requested to communicate with him. Mr. Lemon owns the famous "Cy" Thompson herd of Holsteins and is rapidly coming to the front as a breeder of fine cattle. He regards Pennington county alfalfa as the best to be found anywhere and is extremely anxious to provide his cattle with the best of feed. The fact that Mr. Lemon is looking to Pennington county for his supply of alfalfa may not mean so much, but three or four years from now when district will be called upon to furnish alfalfa in large quantities, farm owners here will realize the importance of this industry.

FARMING THE FARMER IS SCHALL'S BIG OCCUPATION

Thomas D. Schall, Republican Candidate For United States Senator, Sold to Big Interests, Not to Farmers.

The exposure of Thomas D. Schall's attempted swindle of voters on the question of modification of the Volstead Law harmonizes with his other dishonest office-seeking schemes. Nothing could be more preposterous thon his whole system for deceiving voters.

There isn't an honest hair in the head of his professions of affection for farmers. His love and affection are for their votes; he wants the office of Senator; he needs their votes in his business. He wll say anything, make any profession, according as he hopes to get votes out of it. Honest and fair dealing have nothing to do with it.

Test the sincerity of his declamation of the phrases and proposition concerning them. There is a test in this very campaign, a test by the very act of Schall himself, which no honest voter, if he has plain everyday horse sense, can possibly mistake.

When Schall was nominated for senator, he had at the very outset of this present campaign to act decisively in a manner involving the fundamental interest of farmers. That interest was the organization of his party, the control of its activities, the fixing of its character, the creation of the personal obligation which Schall himself would incur if elected. His action involved the very meaning of his candidacy and his very purpose as a high official—if successful in the election.

If Schall were honest in his profession of devotion to farm interests, if these professions are not all the merest and crookedest bunk, he would have shown it and he could not have failed to show it in the organization of his campaign—could he?

There are plenty of strong, intelligent, competent farmers and men known to be honest and loyal to our great, basic agricultural industry—men who are also Republicans. In Minnesota there is a goodly number of such Republicans, men who have been tested and proved, who are known to be honest and who deservedly have the confidence not only of farmers but also of working men and all other classes in the community.

Schall would have selected such men for places in the party management, and for membership on the State Central Committee if he cared a tinker's imprecation for real, farm interests—wouldn't he? Is there a voter, man or woman, in the whole state so jolly green as not to see that point? What did Schall, in his tender love for the farmer, do? What champions and guardians of farm interests did he choose to co-operate with him and to represent his love and affection for the farmer? Whom did he select for members of the Republican State Central Committee?

Andy Rahn and "Big Ed" Smith.

The farmers of Minnesota know those two celebrated gentlemen. Their significance in politics needs no explanation for any honest man in Minnesota, no matter to what political party he belongs. Why was Andy Rahn back of Schall in the primary contest? Was it because of his devotion to farm interests? Why was Schall back of Andy Rahn for member of the State Central Committee? Was it to protect the farmer in his real needs in legislation and government? Why did Schall refuse to support any one of a score of competent, sincere, representative farmers and known friends of farmers, and prefer Andy Rahn above them?

Schall knows Andy Rahn. Everybody in the state who knows anything, knows Rahn—Rahn the lobbyist; Rahn who tampers with legislators and legislative committees; Rahn the political fine worker and agent of party bosses; Rahn, the tool of the great Carpenter Lumber Company; Rahn, notorious for his relation to all those abuses of government by great corporations and unscrupulous wealth from which our farmers have suffered so much. Rahn and "Big Ed" Smith are Thomas D. Schall's real position on farm questions. They are his very act. What do his mere words amount to on that or any other subject? Let any sincere man who hears Schall's professions of devotion to agricultural welfare, his glib recital of sympathy with farmers and wage-earners—let any intelligent voter, then pronounce the names, "Andy Rahn" and "Big Ed. Smith."

Why do Rahn and Smith want Thomas D. Schall in the United States senate? Is it to help the farmers and working men who so much need help, or at least fair play? Why does Schall want Rahn and Smith in the management of his campaign? Every sane voter knows that Schall and Rahn and Smith are together—that it is a case of birds of a feather flocking together. These two veteran political high-binders want Schall in the senate because they know him, and for identically the same purpose for which time out of mind they have been in politics in Minnesota—and for no other purpose on earth. In short, they want Schall there for the purpose for which all intelligent farmers ought to want him there.

Whatever may be thought of Magnus Johnson, he is a farmer. He never tampered with legislation in the interests of great corporations; he never was the beneficiary of legislative "slush" funds. Whether there is agreement with in all political points with John J. Ferrell, all voters know that his life has been honestly and effectively identified with our great agricultural industry, that he has honorably served its cause and that he is in thorough sympathy with all those men and women who must stand or fall with the farm.

But Thomas D. Schall and the farmer! Go and ask Andy Rahn and "Big Ed." Smith.—The Marshall News-Messenger.

GREAT CAST IN PICKFORD FILM

Noted Players Appear in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall."

Without exception the members of the cast of Mary Pickford's new and latest photoplay for United Artists Corporation, "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," which comes next Sunday and Monday to the Lyceum theatre, constitutes an even greater aggregation of stage and screen stars than any list of players that ever supported her in any of her previous offerings.

Mary Pickford in the role of Dorothy Vernon is again the young grown woman. This character, however, is wholly different from that of the little street singer so exquisitely portrayed in "Rosita", the picture in which Miss Pickford assumed a grown-up role.

The part of Sir John Manners is played by Allan Forrest, who recently worked in Jackie Coogan's "In the Palace of the King."

Anders Randolf, who appeared in "The Bright Shawl," takes the part of Sir George Vernon, and Marc McDermott, well known on stage and screen, makes an admirable Sir Malcolm Vernon, cousin of Dorothy, to whom she has been betrothed against her will.

Queen Elizabeth is interpreted by Clare Eames, well known in both this country and Europe for her brilliant work as England's famous queen.

Estelle Taylor, popular screen star, who has just finished with Cecil De Mille in "The Ten Commandments," was chosen as Queen Mary."

Lottie Pickford Forrest, sister of the star, and who has not been seen on the screen for more than two years, is cast as Jenny Faxton, maid and confidante of Dorothy Vernon, and the part of Perkins, servant and retainer of Sir John Manners, is played by Malcolm Waite.

FARMER-LABOR RALLIES SOON

Many Political Meetings Are Planned Between Now and Election Day.

In order to create interest and to carry information to as many people as possible before election, a number of meetings will be held in this section of the state under the auspices of the Farmer-Labor party before election day, which falls on November 4. A number of speakers, including O. A. Naplin and Andrew Trovaten of this city and others of more or less prominence, will deliver talks at the meetings.

The schedule of meetings is as follows, according to information coming to The Tribune: Viking, Wednesday, October 22; Rosewood, Thursday, October 23; Holt, Friday, October 24; Highlanding, Saturday, October 25; Hazel, Monday, October 27; Plummer Tuesday, October 28, and at Oslo on Saturday, November 1.

Pyrotol Demonstration to Be Held Here October 28

A demonstration for the use of pyrotol, the war salvaged explosive, will be made at the Andrew Hoverstad farm three miles east of Thief River Falls at 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, October 28. The demonstration will be in charge of Clarence Johnson of the University farm.

Pyrotol is a high explosive prepared from surplus war material. It is composed of ground smokeless powder and sodium nitrate; and it is furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture at cost. The explosive is said to be about one-third stronger than dynamite, pound for pound, and is highly effective in blasting rocks, stumps, etc.

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN SOLICITED TO AID FACTORY

Requested to Invest $4,000 in East Grand Forks Sugar Mill.

Committee at Work Today in Effort to Raise Required Sum.

In accordance with action taken last evening at the Commercial club rooms by a meeting of business men, local people will be asked to subscribe for $4,000 of the stock of the proposed new sugar factory at East Grand Forks.

This action was taken after a talk delivered by J. B. Markwood, of Mason City, representing the beet sugar people. Mr. Markwood, a former Crookston business man and now a Mason City wholesale merchant, explained that the promoters of the sugar factory at East Grand Forks were amply able to finance the proposed factory, but desired the small local assistance in order that there be no abatement of interest in the future.

It was fully explained at the meeting that the question of allotting acreage in his vicinity had nothing to do with the stock subscription. People may subscribe for stock if they so desire—but the acreage requred for this section has already been allotted and such acreage will not be affected by the sale of stock.

The meeting selected a committee composed of Alderman Paulson and Mr. Markwood to call upon the local business men today for the purpose of attempting to sell the $4,000 of stock.

Later in the season a committee will call upon the farmers in the vicinity to offer stock in the East Grand Forks factory, such stock sales to be financed according to Mr. Markwood by the Agricultural Credit Corporation.

Local beet raisers at the meeting last evening expressed themselves as well satisfied with the results obtained in the past and pledged themselves to increased acreage in the future.

READER APPEARS IN CITY FRIDAY

Miss Grace Whitridge Will Render Program at Presbyterian Church.

Miss Grace Whitridge, who gives a program of "Old Favorites" at the Presbyterian church Friday evening, is an interpreter of rare power. A member of the Century club of St. Paul writes: "Your choice of 'Old Favorites' was more than a program; it was a triumph." Her experience on the stage and her long experience as a coach for amateur plays in the Twin cities and in Macalaster college testify to her remarkable voice work which no lover of good things can afford to miss.

Miss Whitridge, who is a close friend of several Thief River Falls people, comes rather as a guest than as a professional reader and interpreter. It is hoped by those influential in persuading her to come to Thief River Falls that this program will receive the hearty support it deserves, that others may be encouraged to bring to the city the best talent possible.

The program of "Old Favorites" will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the auditorium of the Presbyterian church.

Minnesota Indians to Get $212,000 Interest

WELSH SINGERS COME HERE FOR GREAT PROGRAM

World Renowned Rhondda Male Chorus Appears Here Oct. 29.

To Give Concert Under Auspices of Thief River Falls Elks.

There will be real music in Thief River Falls next Wednesday evening, when the world renowned Rhondda Welsh Male Singers will appear at the auditorium under the auspices of the local Elks lodge. This organization is composed of sixteen male voices, the very best to be found in Wales, and the choir has been on tour of this country for some time. It has appeared in all of the larger cities and it was only through an extremely fortunate circumstance that the Elks were able to induce the singers to come to Thief River Falls while enroute from the United States to Canada for a series of concerts.

The Rhondda singers won first prize at the great international musical festival recently held at Pittsburg, Pa., the greatest musical contest ever held in any country. Fifty-three choirs of all classes took part in the event.

The Boston Transcript says: "The Rhondda Welsh Male Singers appeared at the Huntington Y. M. C. A. last evening and gave a concert which for all around musical excellence was equal to the best ever given in Boston, and from the standpoint of ensemble work by vocalists was superior to anything ever heard here. The choir gives evidence of most careful training and its leader, Prof. Tom Morgan, is obviously a man of the very finest musical perceptions."

The proceeds of the concert will be used by the Elks to swell their Christmas cheer fund, indeed a most morthy object. Tickets may be reserved at Lambert's drug store Friday. The prices are 75 cents, 50 cents and 35 cents.

GAME AND FISH CHIEF IN CITY

Delivers Interesting Talk at Meeting of Commercial Club.

James F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner of Minnesota, was in the city last Thursday on official business. Mr. Gould was present at the noonday lunch of the local Commercial club and favored the club members with a very interesting talk covering the activities of his department.

Mr. Gould corrected erroneous views held by many with respect to the method of financing the game and fish department, stating that its work is not costing the taxpayers of the state a cent in direct taxation. He said that any appropriation received from the legislature was more than offset in receipts to the state resulting from the work of the department.

The speaker explained in detail the work of conserving the game and fish of the state, and expressed in strong terms his disapproval of drainage programs which resulted in drying up marshes and feeding grounds, thus driving from the state large numbers of migratory aquatic birds. Red Lake and their fishing industry carried on there also were discussed and Mr. Gould stated there need be no fear that the fish supply in this great body of water will be depleted. The public interest will at all times be guarded, he said.

Game Warden Wm. Munsch of Crookston was present at the meeting and spoke briefly on the Red Lake situation.

Woman's March of Allegiance.

The March of Allegiance is an earnest and dignified expression by women voters of faith in and determination to support and defend the constitution of the United States. This march is strictly non-partison and non-secretarian. It appeals to every woman for surely there is no American woman who is not ready to support the constitution of the United States. This March is no idle gesture, no sentimental or emotional appeal. It is a call to other voters to join you at the ballot box.

Women of Thief River Falls: The members of the women's committee for a March of Allegiance to the Constitution invite you to unite with the score of women who love our country in a March of Allegiance on November 4, 1924, at 2:30 p.m. at Central school. The opportunity to march among the ranks of women is one that may never come your way again. The glory of it is something you must experience to appreciate.—Contributed.

Ideal Fall Weather.

During the past week or so this section of the state has enjoyed wonderful weather and as a result farmers have been given an excellent opportunity to catch np with the work which was badly delayed because of the rainy spell. Last Sunday a large number of people took advantage of the balmy day and went for long automobile rides in the country.

TUNE YOUR PIANO!

Classes in piano have now begun. Do not, for pity's sake, spoil the child's ear by allowing practice on a piano which is out of tune!

I guarantee to tune your piano CORRECTLY or it won't cost you a cent for the job. No one can tune a piano by ear alone, no matter how "good" he may think his ear is. He must know HOW, and that comes with study and years of practice. Last month I tuned 25 pianos in Argyle, Minn., alone, and in every instance the customer was thoroughly satisfied, many of them stating their instrument had never had that clear, ringing tone quality before. That is because I do the job scientifically.

I will be glad to call and inspect your instrument at any time. I also do any kind of repairing.

EXCHANGE TO STORE 5,000 CARS POTATOES

Deal Closed to Enable Association to Avoid Present Glutted Market.

The Minnesota Potato Exchange has closed a deal which will enable it to store, in the terminal markets, at least 5,000 cars of potatoes. This storage is in addition to that which it has acquired at shipping points and centers in the producing district.

By reason of its enormous volume of business, the Exchange obtained a rate that is less than half that usually paid. Storage obtained is supplied with every known equipment for keeping the potatoes in the best possible condition.

"With the potato market as low as it is, the Exchange was obligated to make arrangements for holding the bulk of its crop off the present market," said H. C. Possehl of Baker, member of the Executive Board. "Independent buyers are laying in stocks at 30 to 35 cents a hundred; a price that spells ruin for the grower. The Association will not be a party to further flooding the present demoralized market."

The full weight of its enormous tonnage was being felt by the Exchange this week. Receipts passed 1,500 cars and the Exchange enjoyed the distinction of receiving more than a tenth of all potatoes delivered in the United States.

The low market is making itself felt in the association's membership, which is growing at the rate of nearly 100 a day. Last week the membership passed 13,000 and is steadily climbing toward 14,000.

Large growers of the state who elected not to join the Exchange during the organization campaign are now signing the contract. Many contracts covering 50 to 100 acres are being received.

The organization's membership books will remain open and the membership fee will continue at $5 at least for the time being, according to S. G. Rubinow, general manager.

Credit Bureau Bares Loan Shark Methods

The Minnesota Rural Credit Bureau sounds a warning against fraudulent individuals who charge farmers exorbitant fees for helping them make out applications for loans from the Bureau.

It appears that in some cases these individuals pose as agents of the Bureau. In other cases they lead farmers to believe that they have a "pull" and that for a consideration they can get loans through the Bureau in a very short time. For such services they sometimes demand a fee of from one to two hundred dollars.

In a communication to the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, E. J. Oppliger, chairman of the State Bureau writes: "Quite a few farmers have complained about the cost of securing a loan from this Bureau. The Bureau has no agents and no one receives any special favors from it.

"The only charge made by the Bureau is the application fee of $10 for a loan of $2,000 or less and $15 for loans between $2,000 and $15,000.

"Many farmers have been able to get the work in connection with our loan application done for an expenditure of $5 or less. A charge of $10 is not exorbitant and in rare cases the work may be worth $25.

"When we find that a farmer has promised to pay an unreasonable fee for work he could do himself or have done at a reasonable figure, we are inclined to turn his loan down, with the feeling that he is not competent and would not be able to take care of his property."

Bureau Lists Votes on Farm Measures

Record of Congressmen Since 1921 Tabulated for Information of Voters.

The American Farm Bureau Federation last week sent to more than 1,700 farm bureaus in practically every state in the Union a record of the vote of every member of congress on 25 bills backed vigorously during the last few years.

This record goes back to 1921 and shows the results of the vote cast in the Senate on the resolution to recess in July of that year for the purpose of defeating all agricultural measures which were before it.

This information is condensed in a special edition of the Weekly News Letter issued by the Farm Bureau Federation, which, according to O. E. Bradfute, president of the Federation "will be one of the most closely read documents in the rural sections between now and November 4."

Special attention is directed to the fact that "the Federation does not publish this record at this time for any political purpose or reaction from the standpoint of party politics." The Farm Bureau "is interested in economic issues and not in party politics," said president Bradfute. "It is natural for farmers to want their congressmen to reflect their votes so that farmers may know just what their representatives have done during the period in question."

Simonson Grocery Sold.

The grocery store on Third street operated for several years by C. S. Simonson was sold last week to L. S. Gartland of Gary, who took immediate possession. Mr. Gartland is a man of wide experience in the grocery business, having operated a store for eight years at Gary. The Tribune welcomes him into the business circles of Thief River Falls and bespeaks for him success in his new venture.

LIVESTOCK CO-OP. CASE DISMISSED

Charges Dropped by Secretary Wallace After Probe Lasting a Year.

Charges against the Central Co-operative Commission association of South St. Paul, alleging irregularities in business practices were dismissed last week by order of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

Investigation of these charges has been under way for almost a year.

Sixteen cases, said to be irregular, were found by government auditors when they examined the books of the association covering operations from August, 1921, to July, 1923. Hearing was held at South St. Paul last February. The investigators recommended to the secretary that verdicts of guilty be found in five of the cases.

The case was then presented to Secretary Wallace by representatives of the Central Cooperative Commission association. This action resulted in the notice of dismissal of the charges which was received from Washington last week.

The "irregularities" in the case involved underpayment or overpayment to farmers for livestock shipped to the Association. The amount in each case was small and due to clerical errors.

"Of course we are pleased over the order of the secretary of agriculture dismissing the charges brought against our association," said J. S. Montgomery, manager, in a statement to a representative of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation. "We have always endeavored to conduct our business in such a way as to be above criticism, and are gratified that investigation has confirmed our intentions.

"The time will probably never come when it will be possible to handle as many transactions as were involved in this investigation without some clerical errors in rendering account sales. We have used every precaution to reduce the number of such errors to a minimum, and we are certain that we are handling our business as efficiently in regard to this matter as any commission agency in this or any other market."

The issuance of the order referred to above disposes of all charges against the Central Cooperative Commission association excepting those made by the Minnesota Pig & Cattle company, the investigation of which has not yet been completed.

Radio at Sanatorium.

According to information given out this week by Mrs. J. O. Sether, in charge of collecting the fund which will be used in purchasing a radio outfit for the inmates of Oakland Park Sanatorium, it is expected the fund will be complete and the instrument installed before Christmas. Ear phones will be provided for all of the rooms so that each patient may enjoy the programs whenever desired. About $500 will be required for the installation of the radio and more than $400 of this has already been provided through the sale of tags and donations made by school children in this section of the state.

THE GAS TAX.

The Tribune is heart and soul for the gas tax amendment. This newspaper earnestly believes that no friend of good roads in Minnesota would vote against the amendment when the same is fully understood. The amendment has nothing to do with the imposition of a gasoline tax. That is already within the power of the legislature to enact, but if the amendment is sustained at the November election the legislature will be empowered to divert the money so raised into the state highway fund. Thief River Falls and adjacent territory has benefitted greatly in recent years from the building of better roads and we trust the voters will indicate their appreciation by giving liberal support to the proposed gas tax amendment.

HENRY RINES FOR TREASURER.

The Tribune is 100 per cent for Henry Rines for state treasurer. Henry was a progressive member of the house many years ago and he has never faltered in his steady allegiance to best principles. As a keeper of the state finances he is the first man in many years who has managed to keep things straight and we suggest he be kept where he is. No man in Minnesota is better posted on general conditions and we know of several instances in recent years where his wise counsel kept the ship of state off the rocks.

TOMMY SCHALL—NATIONAL FIGURE.

Minnesota's leading member of congress said this in St. Paul two weeks ago, speaking of Tommy Schall: "Tommy Schall is known from one end of the country to the other as the most useless member of congress."

J. F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner, who addressed the Commercial club of this city last Thursday, showed a familiarity with his subject which surprised his auditors. Mr. Gould's appointment last summer did not sit well with the friends of fins and feathers in Minnesota, but the successor of Carlos Avery has developed rapidly and has won many friends throughout the state by his untiring energy and intelligent efforts to build up a better system of game protection and propagation. The commissioner made many new friends here last Thursday.

In another column we print an editorial from the Marshall News-Messenger, a staunch Republican newspaper, concerning the solicitude of the blind and crazy congressman for the farmers of the Northwest. We believe every word of it to be true and invite the attention of our readers to the facts therein stated.

Magnus Johnson is a grafter and a crook. So is Alvah Eastman of St. Cloud, Editor Rossman of Grand Rapids, Postmaster McKenzie of Lake City, Editor Whitney of Marshall, J. S. Arneson of Thief River Falls and thousands of other who are not supporting Tommy Schall for United States senator.

In the opinion of Tommy Schall every Swede and Norwegian in Minnesota has the mentality of a 14 year old boy. The fact that Tommy was elected to congress from the tenth district seems to bear out his opinion of the Scandinavians.

That man Jacobs of the Harpoon reminds us of something the cat brought in. Every time we look at him we want to cover him with ashes and carry him out in a dust pan.

Tommy Schall claims some of the fat boys offered his $25,000 to vote for Bryan for president, an offer which he indignantly refused. Excuse us if we laugh.

Is Experienced Auctioneer.

S. F. Sherbon, of this city, formerly of Redwood county, wishes to inform the public that he is an experienced auctioneer, having officiated at big sales in southern Minnesota for more than 12 years. He is willing to make attractive rates to people who wish to hold auctions and guarantees to give satisfaction. Mr. Sherbon may be found at the north end of Main avenue, or may be reached by letter. He respectfully requests a trial of his services.

Nation of Imbeciles.
Good Start, Bad End.
Washington's Teeth.
Religion in Schools.
To Be Rich and Useful.

At Dayton a lighter-than-air flying machine carried up with it a small airplane, as a fish hawk carries up a fish. Two thousand feet up the little airplane was released by the big Zepplin and went flying off on its own account. That's interesting in this country which has made no preparation to meet the danger of invasion through the air.

Imagine a similar machine, ten times as big, leaving the coast of Asia, or Europe, carrying beneath it a dozen high powered bombing machines. Imagine that big ship coming out of the early morning sky, releasing its brood of swift destroyers to wreck cities—the mother ship and the little ships subsequently landing on safe neutral ground in Canada.

This nation will have the world's greatest fighting fleet of airships soon, or the United States of 1924 will be known in later history as "THE NATION OF IMBECILES."

In the Middle Ages not only men but animals were tried for murder when they killed a human being and, if "guilty", were executed. On a certain occasion a sow, with her litter of suckling pigs, had killed and eaten a young child. The sow mother and her offspring were tried in court. The sow was condemned to death, the little pigs were spared on the ground that "because of their extreme youth they could not be held responsible."

Some murderers have been hanged in the United States, with intelligence not far above that of the suckling pigs spared by mediaeval justice.

Among letters by George Washington, to be sold in London, one to his Philadelphia dentist tells how much trouble Washington had with his false teeth. They were strung on wires and got loose. They looked about as natural, when he wore them, as a set of small gold balls, being cut out of solid ivory.

Civilization does not realize what it owes to dentists and oculists, good false teeth and good spectacles.

Think of the ancient Greeks, to whom false teeth and eyeglasses were unknown. The marvel is that so many of them lived to be so old.

In a California decision, the State Attorney-General forbids, in public schools, even the Lord's Prayer, in the way of religion. There is no doubt that the public school system should teach the three R's and other positive knowledge, leaving religious teaching to the discretion of parents.

It is wise to keep all religious teaching or favoritism out of public schools. On the other hand, it is unwise, and an outrageous interference with the rights of parents, to tell them that they cannot, at their own expense, send their children to private or parochial schools where religion is taught—provided that educational requirements are met.

Young man, do you want to be rich and useful? Learn something about electricity and try to invent a light storage battery. Electricity, which in itself weighs nothing, will not always be carried about stored in heavy metal, weighing as much as the vehicle that the electricity propels.

Don't be discouraged by the fact that you are not an electrical engineer or a scientist. Sometimes knowing too much about a thing prevents seeing its possibilities clearly.

The man who invented the sewing machine couldn't sew. His whole idea was putting the needle's "eye" at the point of the needle, instead of at the other end. An expert seamstress would have said, "That's nonsense".

A Filipino laborer, working in the Hamakua sugar mill, is dead of bubonic plague in Hawaii.

Three rats infested with the plague have been caught.

How soon will our exaulted civilization, which gladly spends thousands of millions to kill other human beings spend the few necessary millions to get rid of rats and other disease carrying vermin?

SCHALL LIED

Claim That Railroad Brotherhood Is Backing Schall Candidacy Proven False.

In the recent issue of the Minneapolis scandal sheet espousing the cause of Tommy Schall, the claim is made that the Railroad Brotherhoods are backing the candidacy of the blind congressman for United States Senator. In the last issue of Labor, however, appears the following statement which completely refutes this claim:

"A little over a year ago the voters of Minnesota elected Magnus Johnson to the Senate by a majority seldom equalled in the history of the state.

"He had had no experience in national affairs—he was just a plain farmer who had devoted his life to tilling the soil. His opponents sneeringly declared he would accomplish nothing in Washington.

Magnus Johnson has disappointed his enemies and has gratified his friends. He has made good.

Of course, he is being opposed by the interests which profit from the exploitation of the farmers. The explanation is a simple one—they are fighting him because they can not use him."

PUBLIC FORUM

More About Schall.

Editor Tribune:

Thomas Schall should be given credit for what he has done for the common people, but if he is for the laboring class, why does he not join in their party instead of staying in a capitalistic party? By doing the last he is like the clergymen who talk and write against the creed of the church they belong to and still want to stay in it and draw a salary from its members.

Schall said that the Bible states that the land that had the longest river should be attacked by all the other nations. What resembles this more than anything else in the Bible is found in the 18th chapter of Isaiah. I shall try to make this chapter better understood by Tribune readers who may have read the Bible but have not studied it. Very many of the prophecies in the Bible have a spiritual (or hidden) meaning as well as a literal meaning which we also understand this one has. The first verse evidently refers to the United States, but if the King James version is right it would not indicate that the United States would win as Schall said, but Young's translation has "Ho" instead of "Woe" and the Norwegian has it "Hear" and I believe the last is right. The King James translation has shadowing with wings" which may mean that the United States shelters lovers of truth and liberty like a hen shelters chickens with its wings. Mat. 23, 37.) The Norwegian translation has "noisy" (hvinende) wings", which, if right, may mean the land where the aeroplane was invented. "Beyond rivers of Ethiopia" means "beyong sea west of Africa." Next two lines mean: that sends messages of truth to people by books made of paper (bulrushes, papyrus). The message of the good tidings about Christ's Kingdom to be established on earth, has been sent out by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society. "Go to a nation" the "holy nation—the 144,000 elect (1 Peter, 2, 9; Rev. 14,1) who are "scattered" over the earth. "Peeled" should be "polished", like jewels are (Malachi 3, 17). "A people terrible' (in their experiences). "A nation meted out and trodden down." These experiences are necessary for the development of the people who shall rule in Christ's Kingdom for one thousand years. "Whose land the rivers have spoiled." The last word should be "divided" or "separated". The river of death separates the elect from all earthly inheritance. The Levites, who were a type of the elect, did not get any land (Joshua 18, 14, 38). The elect sacrifice their flesh and everything else that is earthly for their heavenly reward. Verse 3. Take notice all when the standards of truth is raised in the kingdome and listen when the seventh trumpet is sounding. The seventh gospel trumpet has sounded for the last fifty years. Verses 4, 5 and 7. The years mentioned have been the harvest time of Christendom when the churches have been bound in larger and larger bundles to be soon burned up (destroyed) in the coming revolution, while the wheat (the holy nation) has been collected out of the harvest field (Babylon-Christendom) to be presented to the Lord of Hosts (Jesus) as his bride who is to rule with Him on Mount Zion—Christ's kingdom on earth which we pray for. Verse 6. During summer (and harvest time) the fowls of the mountains (vultures of society) have devoured the elect but when winter comes (when the elect have been changed into spirit beings) the beasts (governments) of the earth will become quiet like bears are during the winter.

My next article will deal with what Schall said about his blindness, praying, etc.—Martin G. Christenson.

LARGE INCREASE IN SUGAR BEETS

Industry Grows 400 Per Cent in State in Four Years.

Minnesota's most recent industry, sugar beet raising, has grown by leaps and bounds during the past four years, during which a 400 per cent increase was made in the acreage planted, according to a survey made in the office of N. J. Holmberg, state commissioner of agriculture.

The report shows that 28,000 acres of beets were planted in the state in 1924, as compared with 7,000 in 1920.

In the Red River Valley district in 1920, only Polk county raised any sugar beets, while in 1924, eight counties took on the new industry in this section, and planted about 7,300 acres, or more than the total for the state in 1920, according to the survey.

Plans are now under way to institute sugar beet factories at East Grand Forks, Moorhead, and perhaps Thief River Falls within a few years. Minnesota already has one factory situated at Chaska.

Mahnomen Scheduled to Meet Locals Saturday

The next football fracas scheduled for the Lincolnites will be with the Mahnomen high school on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the fair grounds.

Very little is known about the Mahnomen team this year but a strong aggregation and a fast game is expected. The locals now have a percentage of 500, having won two games, lost two and tied a fifth, and fans are hopeful of raising this to three victories next Saturday.

The support given the team this year has been very good, both on the part of the students and the townspeople, and as the season is nearing its close, even larger crowds are expected. Come out Saturday and let the team know that you are back of them.

Locals Defeated Friday By Strong Bemidji Team

Though the Lincoln high football eleven was beaten 33 to 0 by Bemidji at the fairgrounds last Friday afternoon, the defeat was softened by the fact that Bemidji was held scoreless throughout the entire second half.

During the first half, the honors went to Bemidji as they made five touchdowns and kept the local team from scoring a point, but the Lincolnites came back strong after the intermission and though still unable to score, they threatened to several times, and kept their opponents from counting again. A vast improvement was shown in the line during this game, with McCrum at tackle and Froseth at end showing up well. The strong backfield combination of Parenteau, Zeb, Wengeler and Bjorkman played its usual good game.

Bemidji has a team of which it may well be proud, for it plays clean and hard football and has proved itself one of the strongest aggregations in the Northwest.

An added feature of the game was the high school band which, under the direction of U. H. Reque, played several numbers between the first and second halves.

Ida Dahl, School Nurse Speaks to Girl Scouts

Miss Ida Dahl, school nurse, gave a highly instructive talk last evening at the high school to the Girl Scouts of the city. Her topic was "Bandaging" and her clear explanation of it will be a great help to the girls in their first aid work.

This is the second lesson in a ten week's course in first aid and home nursing which is being sponsored by the Girl Scouts, the first lesson having been a talk on "accidents" by Dr. Bowers. This was given last Wednesday evening in the Legion club rooms and was an exceptionally fine talk.

The course is open to the public at a cost of 20 cents for one lesson or $1.50 for the entire course. The third lesson will be given at the high school next Tuesday evening, with Dr. Biederman lecturing on "Minor Injuries and Emergencies, Shocks, Strains, and Sprains."

Instruction in Banking.

Lawrence Hermanson, cashier of the First and Peoples State bank, spoke to the students of the bookkeeping classes at the high school last week on the "growth and development of the banking system, banking methods, how to make deposits correctly, etc." His talk was very instructive and gave the students an insight into the practical side of banking which they cannot get from the textbooks.

$30,000 IS SAVED BY SPUD EXCHANGE

New Re-consignment Tariff Cuts Big Hole in Growers' Freight Bill.

A saving of $30,000 in the annual freight bill of the 13,000 members of the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange has been made possible by changes in the re-consignment tariffs. This announcement was made last week on the return of G. L. Kneeland from Chicago, where he spent several days inducing railroads to meet his requests.

Mr. Kneeland is director of the Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers' traffic department in the Sales division of the exchange.

The new tariff provides for the free re-consignment of cars in a large section of the territory into which Minnesota potatoes move. Heretofore, an extra charge for this service has made it difficult and expensive to switch a car from a market on which the full value of the potatoes could not be realized.

Potato shippers have been trying for years to have this free re-consignment plan put into effect and it is a credit to the co-operative movement that one of its representatives should have been successful in getting favorable action said H. C. Possehl of Baker, first vice-president of the exchange.

The membership of the exchange is increasing daily and is near 13,000.

The exchange is making a special effort to induce all of its members to dig every potato grown. These will be placed in storage and held for late winter and spring sales, when, according to all indications, the market will recover from its present slump. In many sections of the state, potatoes are selling as low as 18 cents a bushel, with 30 to 40 cents a hundred being the average. Thus far, the exchange has sold no car under 75 cents, F. O. B. shipping point.

Australia O. K.'s Law for Compulsory Wheat Pool

Melbourne, Oct. 14.—The legislative assembly today passed a bill providing for a compulsory wheat pool. According to the latest estimates of the Australian wheat crop, the yield will be approximately 119,000,000 bushels,, or about 4,000,000 bushels less than last year's crop.—Taken from the Chicago Daily Tribune of October 15, 1924.

Farmers for Ted.

In conversation last week with a prominent farmer of the county, he told us that in his neighborhood, the farmers seemed to favor Theodore Christianson for governor. They believed, he said, in "Ted's" ability, his thorough knowledge of the needs of the state, his practical plan to reduce taxes and the constructive utterances in his campaign addresses.—St. James Plaindealer.

Berger for Bob.

Victor Berger, of Milweukee, who was twice denied a seat in congress because of his socialistic and un-American principles, has come to the aid of LaFollette. Berger has fought LaFollette for twenty-five years, but is now willing to accept him, mainly because LaFollette stands for government ownership of railroads and abolishing the supreme court of the land. —Hibbing Daily News.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Henderson from Grove City arrived here Thursday evening for a brief visit with Mr. Henderson's cousin, Mary Shoberg. The Henderson's made the trip by car but were unfortunate in striking very bad roads most of the way and as the weather was very unsettled they did not risk remaining very long or go any further north their original plans being to drive up to Lake of the Woods. Several wagons and teams were used to haul the spuds and when the little fellow saw some tubers under a wagon he started to get them. His father, not seeing the little fellow, started the team and one of the heavy truck wheels went over the boy's head and one of his arms. Bartlett admitted that it hurt a little and he shed a tear or two. Even though his head was pressed completely down into the loose soil it seems he is none the worse for his experience.

"Right" Means "Go" To Your Telephone Operator

Trained runners, keenly alert, eager to leap in a spirited dash to the goal, await the crack of the pistol to start them off in the race.

In like manner, your telephone operator, after repeating the number you call, is alert for your acknowledgment before speeding your call through the maze of wire and other equipment to the person you want.

By saying "Right," if your number is repeated correctly, you let her know that she has understood the number. But if your operator repeats the number incorrectly, a wrong number is avoided by saying, "No," and giving her the number again.

The thoughtful cooperation of each telephone user makes the service more valuable to all.

MUSICAL REVUE SCORES BIG HIT

Attraction Presented Friday Night by Auxiliary Pleases Audience.

Once again the Legion Auxiliary scored a success when the Musical Revue which was presented last Friday evening pleased a very large audience.

The Revue opened with an interpretation of Dawn which was artistically and gracefully represented hy the dances of the Mist Maidens, Wood Nympths, Bluebirds, Roses, Bntterflies, Flowers, and Grnsshoppers. The dancers were all costumed to fit the part and gave a most effective and delightful piesentation.

The second part, representing a "Toy Shop" amused the audience with a very martial drill by the Wooden Soldiers, Dolls, Candysticks, Blocks, and the antics of a clown. Miss Durah Kelly sang the "March of the Wooden Soldiers" as a solo number. Miss Ariel Kinghorn, as n little girl, sang "Raggedy Ann", and this was followed hy a dance of Raggedy Ann and Andy Dolls. The Gold Dust Twins gave a very humorous imitation of tight-rope walkers and the second part was completed with a duet, "Rememher" by Eileen Arneson and Kern Olson and a solo "Jealous" by Durah Kelly.

Lucille Roark and Lawrence Mickelson showed some very fine dramatic ability in a one-act play, "Cinders", which everyone enjoyed. Mrs. Anna Erickson was one of the higgest hits of the evening when she sang "The Grass Is Always Greener" and Kern Olson, impersonating a woman soloist singing "DO RE ME", and Milton Larson as a girl ballet dancer, likewise received a large share of the evening's honors. Herman Bischoff delighted the audience with his beautiful voice when he sang three solo numbers, "Resignation", "Smilin' Thru" and "The End of a Perfect Day."

The minstrel show, composing the fourth part of the Revue, was replete with the clever jokes of the two end men, Roy Brown and Mr. Reedy, and solo song numbers hy Mr. Reedy, Buell Will, Mrs. M. Brink, Lorraine Will, and Dnve Robinson. A comparison of the dances and songs of the Maids of '24 and the Maids of '76 and a soft-shoe dance hy Dave Robinson completed the program.

Mrs. H. H. Hodgson of Crookston, who directed the production, and members of the Legion Auxiliary are to be congratulated upon its success, hoth financially and otherwise. The proceeds will go toward the 1925 Legion convention gion convention fund.

Scenes in "Black Oxen" Laid in Beautiful New York Homes.

A mnjority of the scenes from the Lloyd production are laid in and near New York and the interior settings used in the filming of the drama are said to be some of the most artistic yet seen on the screen. In addition to the artistic backgrounds, "Black Oxen" is fnrther enhanced pictorially by the elahorate wardrobe worn by Miss Griffith and other members of the cast, costumes and furs representing a cost of nearly $80,000.

The principal theme of the story developes when Madame Zatinny, rejuvennted by a marvelous glandular teratment, returns to New York after an absence of 34 years, to quietly attend the sale of her American business interests and return to Austria to assist in relief work. A visit to a first night theatrical performance, however, attracts the interest of Clavering, a newspaper man, and Dinwiddie, an old friend, and both men start immediately to ascertain who the charming visitor might be. Clavering is first to meet Zatinny and within a short time their acquaintance developes into a romance.

Zatinny, however, refuses to give her answer to Clavering's proposal of marriage until she has acquainted their friends with her true identity. When she reveals the fact that she is really old enough to be Clavering's mother, the newspaper man assures her that the great difference in their ages means naught to him. Zitanny puts his love to the test in many ways and finds his devotion is sincere.

Debating in her mind whether or not she is entitled to the lova of a much younger man, Zitanny learns that Prince Hohenhauer of Austria has arrived in America to see her. The Prince scoffs at the idea of such a marriage as Clavering has propesed and with the entrance of a flapper, deeply in love with Clavering, into the story, the romance takes several sudden changes of course which are said to be filled with rich drama and considerable amusement.

HOMECOMING IS GREAT SUCCESS

Northwest School Entertains Many Visitors at Annual Event.

Alumni and former students who returned for the home coming at the Northwest school at Crookston Saturday felt that it was complete in every way. The victory over Morris in the first athletic contest would have made the day a success regardless of the remainder of the program.

The get-to-gether dinner was one of good fellowship and much comment was made of the sportsman-like manner in which the team and coaches from Morris took their defeat. Darragh Geddes, '14, East Grand Forks, president of the Northwest school alnmni association dwelt on the home coming day as it looked to the alumni. The captains of both teams McArthur of Morris and Henson of Crookston, paid their compliments to their opponents and mentioned the fine spirit shown by both teams. C. C. Chase, coach for Morris and D. H. LaVoi, coach for Crookston were on the program for their impressions of the game.

After a saxophone solo hy Miss Nolan and on accordion and violin duet by Einar Loven and Arnold Aakre, N. A. Thorson, Crookston, was called upon. Mr. Thorson coached the Aggie team the fall of 1908 and had a number of humorous incidents to relate concerning the players a number of whom were present in the dining hall.

The day closed with a dance and a party both of which were attended by a large numher.

Mary Pickford Now As An Eighteen-Year-Old Spitfire

Again depicting a grown-up role Miss Pickford appears in her newest and greatest photoplay in a type of portrayal long and greatly admired by millions the world over.

Her wonderful smile changes in an instant to a tempest of anger and stamping of feet to as swiftly turn to pleas for pardon.

A splendidly romantic story rich in comedy, alive with thrills, replete with action, with Mary Pickford in a daring horseback ride.

"Dorothy Vernon of Hadden Hall" was presented at the New Wisconsin Theatre at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, last month, and The Daily News writes as follows: "Mary Pickford" with Marshal Neilan's able assistance loads the picture with comedy and little human touches, along with the many thrills, making not only one of the Best pictures of the year but an Unusual one.

No matter what your personal feeling towards Mary Pickford, the picture is worth seeing.

INDIAN POLICE GIVE HUNTERS SUNDAY THRILL

Local Nimrods Shake in Boots When Indians Appear at Neptune.

Action of Police Follows Chase of Deer Upon Indian Reservation.

Lo, the poor Indian, when viewed in his calmer aspects as he serenely wanders up and down the streets of Thief River Falls, is not regarded as such a fierce or ferocious species of the human family, but when that same Indian appears as several of the Red Lake tribe actually did appear last Sunday among a crowd of Thief River Falls hunters on the reservation, each red man with a huge star pinned to his manly bosom and a huge six-shooter slung to his side, then the said Indian looks entirely different to the naked eye, as several of our startled nimrods can testify.

There is an old adage to the effect that "all's well that ends well", but there were tense moments down near Neptune last Sunday when several hunters of local fame, whose names shall not now be disclosed were suddenly confronted by the chief of the reservation police and four of his trusty deputies. One hunter told The Tribune that he never wanted the services of an airplane so badly in his life. Several of the nimrods concealed themselves in the rushes which seemed, Oh, so inadequate. Another lay as flat as a pancake in the bottom of a canvas hunting boat, not daring to breathe. The balance of the party just stood around and shook and shivered like a bridegroom at his first wedding.

Here is the version of the affair given The Tribune by an eye witness: Along in the afternoon while all was lovely on the Potomac, an old-fashioned spring wagon drawn by two calico ponies drew near the blinds occupied by the hunters. No particular apprehension was felt regarding the approach until it was discovered that the occupants of said wagon were real Indians, who, judging by the expression on their faces, were not paying social calls.

The chief, who is constructed on heavyweight lines, hopped nimbly from the wagon and with a look on his face as omnious as a Kansas cyclone, began quizzing the nearest hunter, who, by the way, was choking with emotion. "Got a ticket?" he grunted. "Yes", quavered the hunter, who thought of his Minnesota hunting license. "Lemme see", said his Royal Indian Highness. "Me no have him here, him in town", replied the now thoroughly frightened hunter as he essayed a little Indian language in his capacity as spokesman for his companions.

At this juncture the chief and his four deputies had the hunters pretty well surrounded. They began to inquire about permits to hunt on the reservation and became inquisitive concerning the ownership of a large touring car standing nearby, various guns, boats, dogs, etc., which they threatened to take to the agency. What to do? What to do?

One suggested rowing down the river to get reinforcements from Thief River Falls. Calling out the local militia. Another whispered something about cranking up the gas wagon and making a run for it. Finally a resourceful member of the party got up real close to the chief and showed him some wampum in the shape of a five case note. That settled the whole fracas and a truce only equalled in its happy sequel by the armistice of the World War took place. Everybody contributed to the tribal funds for the privilege of shooting on the reservation and the police force departed apparently upon the best of terms with the white man.

"But believe muh", said one member of the party, I will never feel the same about hunting on the reservation." The demonstration is said to have taken place because of reckless shooting by hunters the previous Sunday. It is asserted by the Indians that several shots were fired at deer and moose and the Indians simply decided to put a stop to the practice.

The practice of issuing permits to the reservation has been discontinued, but hunters have been allowed to hunt out there so long as they observed the ordinary regulations imposed by the Minnesota game laws.

LADY INSTANTLY KILLED IN BAD AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. H. O. Dalnes, Wife of Railroad Man, Dies From Internal Injuries.

Woman's Husband Said to Be in Serious Condition as Result of Spill.

Yesterday's Crookston Times had the following account of a serious auto accident which occurred Monday on No. 8 north of Crookston:

Blinded by the dust of a passing car, H. O. Dalness, employed at the Great Northern roundhouse here, yesterday afternoon lost control of his automobile and went into the ditch near Fisher, the car crushing the life out of Mrs. Dalness, who died of internal injuries shortly afterward. Mr. Dalness suffered several ribs broken and numerous injuries.

The accident happened close to the spot on Trunk Highway No. eight where Clair Scribner, Crookston youth was killed several weeks ago and marks the second death of a woman motorist near Crookston in the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalness were returning to their home here from Grand Forks late Sunday afternoon when the fatal accident occurred. Near Fisher a car speeded by and the dust obscured the vision of Mr. Dalness who was driving. The Dalness machine, a Buick touring car, plunged off the edge of the road down the deep ditch, pinning Mrs. Dalness under the machine, which was completely wrecked. The woman was hurredly extricated from the wrecked machine and carried to the hotel at Fisher. Mr. Dalness was able to walk to the hotel but later collapsed.

Mrs. Dalness lived only a short time after the crash and word was sent to Crookston for the Stenhoel hearse and ambulance in which Mrs. Dalness and her injured husband were brought to Crookston. The remains of the dead woman were taken to the Stenshoel Undertaking Parlors and Mr. Dalness was removed to the Bethesda hospital where he was receiving attention today. Mrs. Dalness' chest was crushed in by the wrecked machine.

Her death yesterday marks the second fatality in the Dalness family. Harold Dalness, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalness, was a member of the crew of the ill-fated Cyclops, the American transport that so mysteriously disappeared during the World war and from which no word has ever been heard regarding its disappearance. Five other sons survive Mrs. Dalness and word is awaiting them before funeral arrangements will be completed. They are Hanneng, of Grand Forks, N. D., Victor and Olaf of Chicago, Bennie of Minneapolis and Axel Dalness, living some place in California.

SENATOR HOWELL, OF NEBRASKA TO FIRE LAST GUN OF CAMPAIGN

Nebraska Senator to Give Address at Auditorium Saturday Evening.

In 1914 he was the Republican nominee for the governorship of Nebraska but was defeated. Appointed as chairman of the first radio service Commission in 1921 he also served in the United States Post Office department at the same time.

He was elected as senator from Nebraska in 1922, defeating Gilbert H. Hitchcock, who was chief spokesman in the senate for the Wilson League of Nations.

DOG FILM BRINGS DELIGHT TO KIDS

Children and Grown-Ups All Enjoy New Strongheart Picture.

Squeals of delight from the kiddies, accompanied by less audible sounds of satisfaction from the adults, is the usual thing at the Lyceum theatre where Strongheart, the wonder dog, in "The Love Master" is the attraction next Sunday and Monday. Strongheart has always been a prime favorite of the youngsters, and in this production he has the aid of another beautiful police dog—Lady Julie by name—and five of the cutest puppies that have ever broken into pictures.

Despite the drama and near tragedy of the story which unrolls on the screen the production abounds with humor, and Strongheart and his family provide the big majority of the laughs. Strongheart's courting of Lady Julie and the incidents which befall him when he fares forth with love in his heart brings heartier laughs than are usually the lot of pictures which are labeled comedy. The last laugh of the production, however, falls to one of the sons of Strongheart. Through the closing scenes he is busy trying to clamber up on a board to see what all the excitement is about, and when he finally gets up the excitement is all over and the picture fades out on one of the most puzzling looks a puppy has ever worn.

INSURANCE IS DISCUSSED BY CITY COUNCIL

Decision to Purchase Compensation Insurance May Be Reversed.

Brief Session Tuesday Taken Up With Routine Work Only.

The city council reversed its tentative decision of two weeks ago and cancelled all existing policies on compensation insurance at the regular meeting of that body last evening, at which time Alderman T. A. Fossum was absent when the roll was called, Alderman Oscar Paulson being excused later in the evening before the vote on the insurance was taken. Only routine matters otherwise occupied the attention of those present.

The cost of the insurance, about $700 a year, was rather more than the aldermen thought the city should spend for such insurance, some prefering to set that sum aside and the city carry its own insurance, while others thought that as the city had gone 40 years without any serious accident that the insurance was not a necessity, and with the plan of cutting down expenses it was moved that the existing policies or riders be cancelled. If, however, the matter is brought up again it may be the aldermen will reverse their decision.

The city attorney, H. O. Chommie, was asked to serve notice on Jacob Hermanson, 518 State avenue north, to remove the barn located in the alley at the rear of his residence as it was on public property and an annoyance to those who have occasion to use the alley.

The city clerk was authorized to draw a warrant in favor of J. G. Robertson for $2,136.11 as final payment of his work of installation of machinery in the filtration plant.

T. A. Tasa was granted a transfer of refreshment license at 818½ LaBree avenue north, from Hans Finsend, who sold out to him, and who also was granted a similar license at 201 LaBree avenue north.

The U. C. T. was granted a permit to hold a dance in the auditorium Friday evening of this week, October 31.

After the usual allowance of bills the council adjourned until Friday evening, November 7, at which time the bondsmen of the Citizens State bank are to meet with the council regarding the payment of the funds due the city which were in the bank when it was closed January 5.

Registration Board Put in Irksome, Weary Day

Voters Show Slight Interest in Efforts to Place Names on Election Lists.

The efforts of the local election board to register voters at the Auditorium yesterday elicited no visible excitement on the part of the said voters, inasmuch as the result of the entire tiresome day's work showed a net result of a baker's dozen names added to the poll list.

The election blanks sent out by the state seem to carry with them instructions to register voters in all cities and in accordance therewith, local election officials kept open house yesterday, but only a dozen appeared for registration according to the statement of an official to The Tribune.

There is nothing in the law which requires such registration except in cities of the first class and hence there would seem to be no necessity for such work in Thief River Falls. All men and women eligible to vote may appear on election day and vote regardless of whether or not their names appear on the poll lists.

CONGESTION AT CITY TERMINALS BY GRAIN RUSH

Embargo Placed on Shipments When 15,000 Cars Tie Up at Duluth.

Local Inspection Men Handling 200 Cars Daily, Says Inspector Keating.

A steady stream of grain cars averaging more than 200 cars daily through the Thief River Falls yards is one of the causes assigned for the temporary embargo placed this week upon shipments from the West by the regional grain board of the Northwest.

The latest bulletin issued showed more than 15,000 cars of grain tied up at Duluth, with storage facilities filled and taxed to the utmost according to officials in charge of that terminal. The statement received yesterday by Inspectator Pat Keating in charge of the local inspection force, indicates that only about 1,800 cars are taken out of Duluth daily. The embargo now in force became operative on the 27th and is effective until the 1st of November.

The result of the enormous shipment of grain to the head of the lakes and the failure of relief by the shipping interests at Duluth, has been a serious tieup of railroad equipment. It is said that almost every available siding between Thief River Falls and Duluth is filled with loaded cars.

The statement issued yesterday goes on to say that 5,200 cars are in transit in the yards at Minneapolis, causing a serious tieup at that terminal, the shipments to date being greatly in excess of the capacity of the terminal elevators to handle.

In the face of the enormous demand made upon them the railroads have handled the situation with unusual dispatch, having placed at the disposal of shippers every available empty car and never before in the history of northwestern railroading have such efforts been made to keep the rolling stock and other equipment in good order.

The repair crews of the Soo Line at this point have worked overtime in repairing damaged freight cars and rebuilt in large numbers are sent out over the system every day from Thief River Falls. In view of the efforts made to relieve the congestion at terminal points it is not likely that the present embargo will be continued for any length of time.

DEATH OF RED LAKE INDIAN IS ACCIDENTAL

Wm. Kues, Settler. Mistakes Frank Nestling, Indian, for Wolf.

Mystery Surrounds Death of Ben Lawrence. Found Dead in Auto.

The following account of the tragic death of two Red Lake Indians comes from Bemidji:

Attorney G. H. Torrance returned to Bemidji Saturday evening from Red Lake where he had been to investigate the deaths of two Indians during the week. Mr. McKee went there Thursday evening and Mr. Torrance went Saturday morning.

The coroner's jury in the case of Frank Nestling returned a verdict of accidental shooting. From evidence it was clear that Wm. Kues had shot the Indian, mistaking him for a wolf. Kues had been bringing wood into his shack at the north end of Red Lake when his sheep rushed into the yard. Thinking of a wolf, Kues got his gun and stepped out into the brush. He saw what he thought was the throat of a wolf, and advanced a few more steps before shooting. The bullet struck Nestling in the stomach and when Kues got to him and saw he had hit a man he offered help. Nestling refused aid at his home and asked Knes to help accompany him to the lakeshore, a distance of a short mile, where his partner would take him down the lake to the agency. On the way Nestling complained of a pain in his stomach and Kues went back for his team, thinking to haul the wounded man to the lake. On his return with the horses and wagon Nestling had disappeared. It developed later that he had gone up the lake where he met acquaintances who took him to Red Lake. The trip took about four hours and Nestling lived until five o'clock the following morning.

The shooting took place about dusk on Tuesday evening. Knes was cleared of any suspicion as the case was proved to be accidental through Nestling's testimony before he died. The bullet had penetrated several intestines and only the man's remarkable vitality kept him alive through the long trip. Burial was made at Red Lake Friday after the inquest.

The inquest in the case of the death of Ben Lawrence has not progressed to a decision on Saturday, much mystery surrounding the case. Lawrence was found dead in a car at the Wm. Cook place last Wednesday evening after having eaten two meals there that day. His mother says he had been drinking quite heavily for a few days previous to his death, but two young men who had been with him that day claim he drank only slightly. The evidence in the case was so conflicting that little could be done by authorities last week.

The doctor at the agency is of the belief that death was due to alcoholic poisoning and his decision is the generally accepted one.

Burial of Lawrence was made Saturday afternoon at Red Lake. Further particulars may develop in this case, due to the mystery which surrounds the death at this time.

Deceased was found in the car with his feet on the rear seat and his head hanging down to the floor of the machine. There were no evidences of foul play.

Locals Beat Mahnomen Last Saturday 53 to 6

The Lincoln gridiron men succeeded in thoroughly trouncing their opponents last Saturday afternoon when they met the Mahnomen team on the local field and won a 53 to 6 victory.

The boys put up the best brand of football they have shown this year, excelling their opponents in practically every department of play. Their passing, tackling, line plunging, and interference was fine throughout the whole game and showed that great improvements have been made since the first of the season. Mahnomen also had quite a light team so that the locals met men of very nearly their own size for the first time in two years.

The Lincolnites scored one touchdown after another from the start and it was not until the last quarter, when almost the entire second team had been put in, that Mahnomen managed to go over for six points.

AS OTHERS THINK

Schall's Blindness and Praying.

Editor Tribune:

Schall said that when he fought with other newsboys he used to pray: "God help me lick him." I call it blasphemy to pray God help us to do something that He has forbidden us to do. Jesus said: "Resist not evil; but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also." Such a course would make most smiters ashamed of their conduct, but resistance increases enmity.

Schall should not have blamed God for his blindness when it was caused by a sinful act. If one suffers as a Christian or for righteousness sake one is blessed and need not be ashamed of the suffering. (Mat. 5, 10; 1 Peter 3, 14; 4, 15, 16). Is the use of tobacco a sin? Yes, everything that we do that harms either ourselves or other living beings is a sin, and nothing else is sin. By this statement Schall probably got the ill will of many users and sellers of tobacco, as all who advocate any kind of reform, get opposition and enemies but it does not matter much if I get some foes as I am not a candidate for any office. I would not have an office if, in order to get it, I had to blacken my opponent and praise myself as much as Schall did. Does tobacco harm others than the users? I have suffered so much from tobacco smoke coming from others that I know it harms non-users. No one can be a real Christian and use tobacco in any form. "The truth shall make you free." (Rom. 6, 22; 8, 32-36). A Christian is not a slave of any habit. Those who want to live forever (after the resurrection) must make the will (the spirit) master of the flesh either in this life or the next. To be of the "little flock" one must do it in this life, for those who are of the bride class will not have any flesh in the next life as they will have spiritual bodies like the one Jesus has had since his resurrection. (Cor. 15, 44-50; Rom. 8, 18; Gal. 5, 24; 6-8). When we do what is right, what happens us is for the best of ourselves and others and even if we are chastened for sins it is for our own benefit (Heb. 12, 5-11) so Schall's blindness may be for good even though it was the result of a sin that few are punished as severely for as Schall was. Heb. 12, 10 is one of the texts that prove that there will be no everlasting torment for anybody because that would not be of any profit to the tormented.

Defends Kirby.

Thief River Falls, Minn.
October 27, 1924.

Editor Tribune:

Having noticed an article in the Times concerning S. R. Kirby, I can not understand how it is that a coroner's jury could say that this man's death came from Kirby's treatment and I do believe that they as men would never of brought in such a verdict if they had the true facts given them. As this man had consulted other doctors before coming to Kirby and was told that he had a cancer and as I understand that Kirby called it the same, being a cancer of the rectum. And do we know what a cancer means? And one thing certain, this man didn't die under Kirby's care.

A SUBSCRIBER.

The Great Opportunity.

The 4th of November will be the greatest chance we have had since before the Civil war to register our disapproval of corruption in the National government, and our approval of men of integrity and strong character in governmental positions. Furthermore, we will have the opportunity to repudiate both of the two old parties instead of choosing the lesser of two evils, or wasting our votes on candidates that would have no show whatever to win, as has been the case for the last 60 years.

The American people do not organize new national parties for light and trivial reasons, but only when conditions are so bad, and parties in power so cowardly and corrupt, that these conditions cannot be remedied through either of existing major parties.

The American people will also have a splendid opportunity at the coming election, to show whether they can be fooled as to issues or not.

The old parties in order to try to keep people from considering their records and insincerity of their platform promises, have tried to get up all kinds of fake issues, and false propaganda, chief of which are the "Constitution" and "Communism." The Farmer-Labor party from LaFollette down to the Legislative candidates, are strong for ALL of the constitution, including ALL Amendments to it, while the old parties pretend not to believe in that part of the constitution which provides the method of amending it, because they say the Farmer-Labor party wants to tear the constitution to pieces just because we favor an amendment to it defining the powers of the supreme court. The constitution is not any more an issue in this campaign than when the question of the prohibition amendment was up. LaFollette is wholeheartedly opposed to Communism, as every intelligent reader of the press knows. Foster and Gitlow are the Communist candidates for President and Vice-President, and aside from these two, Communism is positively no issue in this campaign.

The two most important issues in this election are, first, to clean out the corrupt gang of politicians and officials in the federal government shown to exist during the last and preceding sessions of congress, and get a new party administration into power which does not owe their election to predatory wealth and corruption and "slush" funds.

Second, the federal reserve system and federal reserve board, the former which made it possible and the latter which executed the terrible deflation policy of 1920-23 which wrecked more farmers, business men, manufacturers, and banks than all other calamities together, and created more idleness, misery, poverty, and suicide than any other cause. This deflation was started by the Democrats in July, 1920, and continued by the Republicans after March 4, 1921, in spite of the condemnation thereof in their 1920 platform. Their platform promises meant nothing after election in 1920, neither would they mean anything after this election even if their party could win.

All citizens should carefully consider the real issues in this campaign and be sure to vote—both women and men—in order to be loyal to the country, and if they do so, there is no doubt in my mind but that the Farmer-Labor and LaFollette Independent party will win.

Yours for the United States Constitution,

ANDREW TROVATON.

A SHINING EXAMPLE.

The voters and taxpayers of Minnesota do not need to go further than to North Dakota to find a concrete example of just what the state ownership platform, which Floyd Olson, farmer-labor candidate for governor, is now openly espousing, and pleading for the voters of Minnesota to adopt, will do to them.

That pet of the reactionaries of North Dakota, the state owned flour mill, was the one beautiful dream of the leaguers of our sister state, held up before the voters as the weapon with which to deal the death blow to the grasping, greedy millers who had been robbing the farmers for years.

But the beautiful dream turned out to be a nightmare. A fantastic, financial failure, which cost the taxpayers of North Dakota millions of dollars in the first instance, and since the state owned mill was completed there has never been a day when the mill has paid running expenses.

Not only does it not pay operating expenses, but the state owned mill pays no taxes on the property into the state treasury, And on top of this the taxpayers of North Dakota are required to pay an interest charge of about $1,000 a day on the bonds which were issued to build and equip the state owned mill and finance the business.

The state controlled and state ownership program which was foisted onto the state of North Dakota, and which this same crowd would like to saddle onto Minnesota, has put upon the backs of the taxpayers of that state a bonded debt of seventy millions of dollars.

Yet in face of the disastrous results in this one venture in North Dakota, Mr. Olson, and his co-workers for public and state ownership, would like to saddle onto the state of Minnesota, not only a state owned mill, but public ownership of transportation and industrial utilities, stock yards, large abbatoirs, grain elevators, terminal warehouses, pipe lines, tanks, all other public utilities and natural resources, such as coal, oil, natural gas, mineral deposits, also state insurance, banking, etc.

Would it not be well for Mr. Olson and his co-workers to take the voters of Minnesota into their confidence, and explain just how the state owned mill in North Dakota has worked out, and how the taxpayers of that state are going to work out from under the heavy load foisted upon them by the reign of radicalism, before asking the voters and taxpayers of Minnesota to follow them into a like quagmire of financial ruin.

Surely the state owned mill of North Dakota is a shining example of financial disaster that the voters and taxpayers of Minnesota may well take note of to their profit.

FOUR MONTHS OF CHAOS

It does not take a very strong imagination to figure out what would happen in this country if it had to go through four months of chaos while dragging the election of a President of the United States through Congress.

That is just what is likely to happen if the voters of Minnesota do not return a republican victory on November 4.

Minnesota is a pivotal state in this election, its 12 electoral votes may mean the election of Coolidge, and if they fail to go for Coolidge, it may mean that the election of a President will be thrown into Congress.

Does any sane voter in Minnesota want to turn over to Congress the duty of choosing the President of the United States?

That is a question that should make every voter stop and think.

We all know how even the general election every four years unsettles all lines of business—hits the laborer and the farmer, as well as those engaged in other industries. What then would be the result of a tie-up in the electoral college and the dragging through Congress the choice of a President.

There is absolutely no hope of the election of either Davis or LaFollette. Both know that they do not stand a ghost of a show of being elected by the votes of the people on November 4. All either of them hope to do is to win enough votes in the electoral college to tie up the election and thus throw the choice of a President into Congress. It is their only possible chance to beat Coolidge.

If the voters of Minnesota don't want to turn the election of the President over to Congress, which with the present political makeup, would result in a tie in the House and the election of a Vice President in the Senate, who would become President on March 4, then they must vote for Coolidge.

The voters will either elect the President on November 4, or Congress will take the job off their hands and do it for them.

The voters can elect Coolidge President, or eventually have Congress give them Bryan of Nebraska, after four months of chaos.

Woman's Club Addressed By Noted Psychologist

An unusually fine meeting of the local woman's club was held last Monday afternoon in the club rooms when Mrs. Eva Thurston Chapin of New York City, as the main speaker on the program, delivered a talk on "Applied Psychology."

Mrs. Chapin proved to be an intensely interesting and clever speaker and as her subject was new to most of the club members, she made a deep impression. She explained psychology as it applies to every day life, controlling one's eating, sleeping, and thinking, and how, if correctly used, it can be made to lessen duties, cares, and responsibilities of day to day existence. She stated ber belief that all pople are good and that if one believes and expects that, be will not be disappointed. She asked that everyone learn to know his neighbors because they always improved upon acquaintance and usually proved well-worth cultivating. Another one of her firm beliefs is that anyone can do anything if he is only willing to concentrate all the necessary effort on that one thing. She applied this to the club as a whole and showed how it could be made to whatever the members wanted it to be if enough concentrated effort was put forth.

Mrs. Charles Gerlinger introduced as a current event topic the three present political parties and made a strong plea to all women to vote on election day. This was followed by talks on the presidential candidates and their parties, Mrs. Gaston Ward speaking on Davis and the Democratic party, Mrs. A. M. Heggan on Coolidge and the Repubilcans, and Mrs. Hermanson on LaFollette and the Progressives.

Herman Bischoff pleased the audience with two vocal solos and Mrs. O. F. Mellby conducted the community singing, which completed the day's program.

Thank goodness, the struggle will be over next Tuesday.

Vote as you please on election day—but do not forget to vote.

If you are a good American citizen you will cast your vote on election day.

Tommy Schall say he is behind Coolidge. We'll say he is. Far Behind.

A Michigan man killed his wife when she refused to give him money. The Lord help the men if women get to killing their husbands for the same reason.

If the women of Minnesota ever get onto Tommy Schall's record as a lawyer who has defended crimes against their sex, his goose will be cooked forever.

No matter what anyone may say about him, Magnus Johnson is a creditable representative of the farming interests in congress. He may not be as "smart" as Tommy Schall in the matter of dodging upon important measures which have come up in congress, but then Magnus never claimed to be an "artful dodger."

Fred Sherman complains in the St. Paul Herald because women encase their necks in furs and leave other portions of their anatomy bare and unprotected. No one but Fred would notice such things, but then one can expect anything of a man who will walk fifteen blocks to make sure a beauty spot is not a mole.

Theo. Christianson is better fitted by nature and experience to administer the office of governor than any man who has come before the voters for that important office in many years, in the opinion of close observers. A vote for Theodore Christianson is a vote for a competent man in the governor's chair.

The man or woman in this great free country of ours who does not think enough of the franchise to get out and vote on election day ought to be disfranchised. What a howl would go up in such an event and yet something of a radical nature must be done to get the vote slackers to realize the extent of their duty. As the matter now stands less than fifty per cent of the voters determine the elections. The rest of the people just stand around and kick over the result.

We have noticed with considerable alarm that the women take a keener interest this year in political issues than the men. They seek for information at every available source, and it is plain to be seen that if that condition continues they will supplant the men in forming the issues of the future. Perhaps the men are tired of administering the affairs of state and are willing to let it go with dish washing and rearing children.

The Tribune is not ashamed to support Magnus Johnson for United States Senator. His principal opponent is a shyster lawyer from Minneapolis whose political dishonesty is a byword among those who know him best. Magnus Johnson is honest, fearless and sincere in his efforts to help the farmers of the Northwest. Minnesota is a great agricultural state and it would seem as if the farmers are entitled to one man in the national law making body.

It is hoped by the friends of President Coolidge in the Northwest that he will appoint a Minnesota man to succeed the late Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture. Mention has heretofore been made of Colonel March of Litchfield, a man thoroughly conversant with the needs of agriculture, and a man fitted by education and environment for the high post. President Coolidge could make no mistake by selecting his campaign manager, Mr. March, as a member of his cabinet.

Thief River Falls has a real, honest-to-goodness, blown in the bottle political headquarters where political information is disseminated with a free hand. The men—excuse us—it isn't men at all, but women who are doing this work, and permit us to say it is the livest thing in the line of political activity we have witnessed in the great campaign now drawing to a close. A farmer's wife, Mrs. J. H. Hardisty, is in charge, and believe us she displays more real pep in the conduct of affairs than all men in the city put together. Step into the headquarters in the old Penney building and see for yourself. If Mrs. Hardisty fails to make you vote for Coolidge and the rest of the Republican ticket—particularly after regaling you with coffee and doughnuts—we'll say you are too hard boiled to assimilate human argument. (We swallowed all she gave us except Schall.)

F. H. PETERSON
Republican Candidate for Congress, Ninth Congressional District.

It seems to us as if editors reach the limit of inconsistency when they declare with all the fervor at their command for the constitution of the United States, with all the freedom which that instrument gives, and in the next breath criticize men like John Lind, Tom Frankson and Frank Ellsworth for apearing on the same stage with Senator LaFollette. We shall get along better in our politics in this country when we are more tolerant towards our neighbors.

Royal A. Stone, appointed last year to succeed Judge Hallam on the Supreme Court, is a man of fine temperament. He was assistant attorney general under Hon. E. T. Young and made a splendid record in that position. As a former service man he has the united support of the service men in his candidacy for election, and the prediction is freely made that he will lead his opponents in the voting next Tuesday. A vote for Judge Stone is a vote for a most efficient and deserving young man.

VOTE FOR AMENDMENT No. 1.

If you are a friend of good roads—and everyone who lives here ought to be—you will vote "yes" on amendment number 1 on the pink ballot. If this amendment becomes a law the tourists from other states who use our roads almost as much as we do will assist in building and maintaining our highways. Besides, the passage of this amendment will greatly enhance the future of road building in Minnesota.

This state stands now in the forefront of progressive road building commonwealths and this is a poor time to take a backward step.

We trust, therefore, that Pennington county will roll up an overwhelmingly majority for Amendment No. 1, the Gas tax amendment.

DON'T FORGET MIKE HOLM

One man in the state house who deserves re-election is Mike Holm, our old friend and neighbor. In past elections Mr. Holm has always led the ticket in Pennington county, and it is our firm belief that he is as popular as ever in this section of Minnesota. His duties are arduous and exacting and the office of secretary of state has never been more efficiently administered than during his administration. With reference to the handling of auto licenses, adjoining states have availed themselves frequently of the fine system adopted by Mr. Holm, a system which is now standard in many states in the Union.

Mr. Holm is one of the "Home boys", a former resident of Roseau county, a man of whom the people of the district are proud, and we trust he will be remembered by his numerous friends next Tuesday.

THE MINNESOTA MUD-SLINGER.

Never before in the history of Minnesota politics has the campaign for the office of United States Senator been placed upon such a low plane as is the case this year. Mr. Schall, the Republican nominee, won his nomination by a campaign of slander directed against his opponents. His attacks upon Ole O. Sageng, of Otter Tail county, stand out as the most cruel and baseless slander ever employed against a candidate for office.

Ever since the primaries this man Schall has paced up and down the state, frothing and slavering at the mouth, denouncing all who dared oppose him. He has made senseless and uncalled for attacks upon people who were strictly minding their own business and who had no interest in the campaign.

He has attacked his principal opponent, Magnus Johnson, in a manner which calls for the condemnation of all decent citizens. Who is there in Minnesota that will believe Magnus Johnson, the common every-day farmer from Meeker county, guilty of building a new barn with bribe money?

Who will get up and give credence of any kind to the infamous charges that this same Swede farmer from Meeker county, who has sworn to uphold the constitution of the United States, took $25,000 which was offered Tommy Schall in connection with the world court plan? Preposterous. No one believes a word of it, and yet the slanderer who is running for United States senator on the Republican ticket would have the voters believe that Magnus Johnson is dishonest—a cheap bribe taker—who would betray the people who elected him for the sake of a few paltry dollars.

From every nook and corner of the state comes the same story of slander by Tommy Schall. Like a mad dog he snaps and snarls at everything in his path, besmirching characters, destroying reputations. Truly a humiliating spectacle in a campaign for political honors.

PAY GAS TAX AND PROFIT

A gasoline tax for road building is a tax on the use of the highway as measured by the consumption of gasoline. A tax of two cents a gallon would take only about one-tenth of a cent a mile. According to best calculations, surfaced or gravelled and paved roads will make a saving on gasoline alone, of more than a half cent a mile. Or, stating it the other way, dirt roads levy a tax on gasoline of a half cent or more a mile. More than a third of Minnesota's main highways are still unsurfaced.

It will be great economy to pay a little more per gallon of gasoline and buy fewer gallons. And it may be added, fewer tires, less upkeep and have more comfort and save time.

A gasoline tax for Minnesota—and "yes" votes to put it on the roads.

Notice of Election.

The election for the Town of North will be held this year at the Sons of Norway building, Thief River Falls, on November 4, 1924. Polls will be open from 6 a.m. until 9 p.m. Citizens are urged to get out and vote—to vote as they please—but VOTE!
33 M. H. BALLANGRUD, Clerk.

VOTE FOR MARIUS WALDAL

Candidate for Re-election for Representative of the 65th District

His record shows that he has worked in the interests of the state and community in a commendable manner. He is independent, free from party influence and consequently is free to serve your best interests. He is a farmer and knows the farmers' problems. Having served one term as your representative his experience will prove a valuable asset in furthering your interests if re-elected. There are three candidates from this district, two to be elected. Day is unopposed from Clearwater county. Gordon and Waldal are from Red Lake county and the contest is between them. Anyone who wishes to vote for Waldal should not vote for Gordon.

Vote "Yes" on No. 1 to Escape New Tax

Automobile Owners May Be Taxed for Roads and State Expenses Added Should Tax Proposal Fail.

Campaigning to make plain to all automobile owning and other readers of The Tribune that common sense dictates "yes" votes on gas tax amendment No. 1 on November 4, Nickles N. Dimes, gas tax man, this week explained that the big question is whether Minnesota car and truck owners are to be taxed for roads and for other state expenses in addition.

"The car and truck owners already are putting up every dollar for improving and maintaining roads for four out of five highway users," he said. "But if the gas tax amendment is adopted the gas tax money cannot be used for roads at all and the auto owners will be forced to contribute in addition for general expenses of the general state government.

"Virtually everybody agrees that Minnesota must join the other states and collect a gas tax. And gas taxes should go on roads—there's no argument against that. Without the amendment, not a dollar can be spent for any road purposes whatever. That's all there is to the gas tax amendment—authority to put the gas tax money into needed road improvements—and there's no reason for failing to vote "yes."

"Drop me a line at St. Paul—it'll reach me all right—if you want any straight facts about the gas tax plan. I'll be glad to hear from you and will inclose with my compliments some pictures of a handsome gentleman offering some good advice with which you can decorate the windshields of your own and your friends' cars," said Nickles N. Dimes.

'HER TEMPORARY HUSBAND' MAKES LAUGHING HIT

Starts in High and Never Lets Up—Audience Registers Well for It.

"Her Temporary Husband", a First National farce comedy, will be shown at the Lyceum theatre Friday and Saturday this week.

The mission of "Her Temporary Husband" is evidently to provoke laughter, to cure the blues and to take one away from the usual monotony of every day life. And it fills its mission one hundred per cent.

The picture provokes laughter—lasting laughter. Unlike most comedy features it is something more than a hodge-podge of "gags". It tells a story, based on a well-founded plot, unusual it is true, but nevertheless plausible and convincing.

The picture is a screen version of Sidney Paulson's popular stage comedy success of the same title. While taking the main theme of the play for its plot, the director, John McDermott, enhanced the picture with added situations and circumstances which through the limitations of the stage could not have been included in the original play. He has evolved a rib-tickler, which, without doubt, is one of the best of its kind ever shown in this city.

It would spoil the enjoyment of those planning to see the picture to outline the whole plot; it is so uproaringly funny.

The picture passes quickly from laugh to laugh, growing in intensity to a real explosive finish. Anyone who fails to laugh at and with "Her Temporary Husband" is like the proposed bridegroom, a fit candidate for the undertaker.

Grace Whitridge Proves Reader of Rare Charm

Miss Grace Whitridge of Macalaster college, who gave a program of "Old Favorites" at the Presbyterian church last Friday evening, proved herself to be a reader of unusual charm and power.

Among the numbers on her program were a group of poems by Sidney Lanier, several choice selections of Robert Browning, a group of the lighter and more modern poems, some of the best of French poetry, war poems, and the latest modern poetry in free verse, the entertainment closing with the "Chambered Nautilus." Her selections had been chosen with great care and her interpretation of them was as fine as could be given.

Those who were influencial in bringing Miss Whitridge to the city deserve thanks and it is hoped that more programs of this class will be given here in the future.

FOR GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

Floyd B. Olson Admits that He Stands for Socialist Program.

While he has successfully dodged the issue for a long time Floyd B. Olson, farmer-labor candidate for governor, was finally "smoked out," and in a lengthy statement issued October 15, admits that he stands for government ownership and other public utilities. In fact, Mr. Olson publicly climbs out on the socialist platform and "tells the world" that he is in favor of the vagaries and revolutionary policies that are being so strenuously pushed by the communists and radical socialists of the state. Of course, all of this has been common knowledge, and that Mr. Olson, who was formerly a democrat, was willing to swallow the platform adopted at the radical labor controlled farmer-labor convention held at St. Cloud on March 14. A platform embracing public ownership and industrial utilities, including stock yards, large abbatoirs, grain elevators, terminal warehouses, pipe lines, tanks, etc. Government ownership of other public utilities and natural resources, such as coal, oil, gas, mineral deposits, etc. Attack on the Supreme Court, State Insurance, Banking, etc., in fact a platform so pleasing to the communist organization, which takes its orders direct from Moscow, that they did not file a state ticket in Minnesota, as they did in Wisconsin, but are loyally supporting the whole farmer-labor ticket.

Now that Mr. Olson is out in the open it remains to be seen if the voters of Minnesota are going to vote for a man who endorses such vagaries and socialistic theories, or whether they will support a man who has proven his worth by many years of public service as a progressive statesman and friend of all the people, the republican candidate for governor, Theodore Christianson, of Dawson.

SHOULD BE AUTHENTIC.

"Minnesota," a weekly newspaper published in Minneapolis and edited by Lewis Harthill, for 25 years one of the leaders in organized labor circles in Minnesota, and who served as chief of police of Minneapolis under Thomas Van Lear, former socialist mayor, and who has associated with him in the publication of "Minnesota," Ralph Van Lear, son of the former mayor, states in a recent issue that the personal representative of Floyd Olson on the farmer-labor state central committee is none other than I. G. Scott, Tenth ward socialist alderman of Minneapolis.

That statement should be authentic enough to place Mr. Olson in his right pew in the eyes of the voters of Minnesota in regard to his socialistic leanings. "Minnesota" further states that:

"Scott has been a member of the communist party and if not a member at present, is at least an active sympathizer, acting as host to Foster, Ruthenberg and Dunne when they were in Minneapolis, and securing dates for them to address trades union meetings.

"The borers from within have also secured executive positions in the various units which are supporting the farmer-labor ticket, and as an instance of this it is pointed out that an avowed communist, Wangerin, is secretary of the Ramsey county division of the farmer-labor party.

"This condition, progressives feel, is the reason why the communist organization, which takes its orders from Moscow, is not filing a state ticket in Minnesota, and is creating uneasiness in many quarters, particularly since Floyd Olson has never denounced communists, and since his principal aids in Hennepin county appear to be I. G. Scott, his appointee on the state committee, and Dick Wiggin, member of the city legal staff and guiding figure in communistic activities in the Minneapolis City Council and the City and County Employees Union.

"Communists continually bore from within, and never support any organization which they do not know is friendly to their cause, and are willing to support the whole ticket in order to get the Minneapolis City Hall bunch moved over to the State Capitol."

The above from the pen of one who ought to know what he is talking about, should be proof enough that Floyd Olson is not only being supported by the communists and socialists, but is in favor of their policies and program.

The farmers, and a big majority of the voters of Minnesota, are not radicals or socialists, and are not going to be hoodwinked into voting for a man who stands for those policies.

The voters of Minnesota are entitled to know where a man, who is asking to be elected to the high position of Governor, stands on this question of socialism.

SOCIALISTS WORKING HARD

The members of the Socialist party are working as they have never worked before for the success of the LaFollette-Wheeler ticket. The national office of the socialist party, in sending out a plea for funds, says:

> "In the 1924 campaign the socialist party has two vital tasks: To help the organized workers and toiling farmers to pile up a crushing vote for LaFollette and Wheeler, thus laying the foundation for a permanent and powerful new party, and to build up the socialist party as a potent factor within such a party."

This party sees its opportunity in LaFollette and Wheeler to get its socialistic ideas put into this government. Both are radical. Both are entitled to classification with Debs, Hillquit, Berger and every other disciple of Marx. The purpose of both LaFollette and Wheeler is a "legal" revolution, an overthrow of the American form of government by political action, and to substitute in its place a socialistic democracy. Such a move is the opposite of progressive, it is most reactionary.—St. James Plaindealer.

THIEF RIVER VALLEY CO-OP. POULTRY PRODUCERS ASS'N.

By H. L. Schuster, Secy.-Treas.

Due to a misunderstanding our poultry car did not reach Lancaster as per schedule, for which we are very sorry, but will try not have it happen again.

Copies of letters on how to dress your poultry will be mailed out in the near future. Your careful perusal of these letters will be of real value to you.

Hold your ducks and geese until after Thanksgiving as the price is going to be better and you will be well repaid for your efforts and time.

Sell your poultry alive, as it is unwise and unprofitable, where the volume is small and the Association as yet has not the facilities for caring for dressed poultry.

Barrels for packing turkeys may be secured from the Association.

Equipment for killing and picking turkeys has been secured by the Association. We anticipate a good turkey business and are getting lined up early.

A carload of mixed feeds, meats, scraps, and other ingredients to be fed to poultry to produce winter eggs has been ordered by the Association and is due to arrive in the near future. This feed will be sold to members at cost plus a very small margin to care for any waste that may occur.

H. A. Palmquist, foreman of the plant, returned from Minneapolis Tuesday, after spending several days there attending a "school for foremen." This school was for the purpose of grading poultry, and packing of same.

Folks in the Gatzke territory are very anxious to get lined up with our association and have asked Mr. Norby to make them a call. Mr. Norby will spend a couple of days in this territory this week.

Members at Roseau, according to County Agent Taylor, received during September, an average of 11 cents per dozen more for their eggs than they could have received locally.

A car will be started at Lancaster November 1 on the Soo Line, which will go on to Oklee for November 3. This car will not stop at Thief River Falls.

A live poultry car will start at Roseau November 5 and will be at Thief River Falls Friday, November 7 until Saturday at 10 a.m. This car will be loaded on the Great Northern.

Plan to deliver your poultry on the above dates; the price is getting better and better.

Help your association by selling to it and securing more members. Success is all there is in sight for the Thief River Valley Poultry Association, if you help.

Salvation Army.

Five cities in the Northwest will be visited by Envoy Walter Jeffray, blind Salvation Army musician, during the next month, according to an announcement of Col. Wm. S. Barker, head of the organization in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota. He will open his tour of the Northwest at Fergus Falls. Other cities to be visited are Little Falls, Brainard, St. Cloud and Minneapolis.

Envoy Pauline Swartz, better known as "Auntie Pauline", has completed a tour through the three states and probably will return to Salvation Army headquarters in Chicago, it was announced.

GREAT NORTHERN VALUATION SHOWS NO "WATER"

In response to assertions that railroad stocks were watered and that the investments recorded in the companies' books were inflated, Congress, in 1913, by the LaFollette Act, directed the Interstate Commerce Commission to determine, among other things, the cost of reproduction new, cost of reproduction less depreciation, and the value of the various railroads in the United States.

The corporate assets of the Great Northern Company consist of two classes of property: One is the physical property used for transportation purposes and located in the United States; the other consists of investments in stocks and bonds of other companies, including lines located in Canada, and other miscellaneous property used for non-carrier purposes. The Interstate Commerce Commission recently has completed its tentative valuation of the first of these, that is, the physical property used for transportation purposes and located in the United States. It has not valued the second class of property because not required to do so by the terms of the Act.

The value as found by the Commission for Great Northern properties used for transportation purposes and located in the United States as of June 30, 1915, was as follows:

Total owned	$391,740,302.00
Total used	895,353,655.00

In arriving at these figures, the Interstate Commerce Commission deducted $65,140,474.00 from the cost of reproduction new on account of assumed depreciation. The Company, of course, contends that the depreciation of certain parts of the properties, such as the aging of its roadbed, is more than offset by the appreciation of the property as a whole, as it is well known that a railroad property in use for several years is better and worth more for transportation purposes than a newly built property.

Included in the second class property not valued by the Commission is:

604 miles of railroad in Canada.

Nearly 49 per cent of the Stock of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad.

One-half of the stock of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railway.

Also the stocks of some other smaller railway companies, and the stocks of coal, lumber, land and other subsidiary corporations.

The investment in securities not valued by the Commission amounts to $227,076,312.83. Other property not used for transportation purposes amounts to $24,315,418.31, so that the Commission's value on the first class of property, plus the value of the second class of property, which the Commission did not value, amounts to $643,132,033.14.

Since the valuation date, June 30, 1915, there has been added $104,881,141.26 which brings the total value of Great Northern property to July 1, 1924, up to $748,013,174.40. The total par value of stocks and bonds of the Great Northern as of July 1, 1924, was $563,258,165.16, showing an excess of $184,755,009.24 of value above the total capitalization. The following table makes these statements clear:

PROPERTY		CAPITALIZATION
Portion of owned property valued by the Commission as of June 30, 1915	$391,740,302.00	Great Northern Stock	$249,477,150.00
Stocks, bonds and other properties not valued by Commission as of June 30, 1915	227,076,312.88	Great Northern Bonds	313,781,015.16
Other property as of June 30, 1915	24,315,418.81	EXCESS OF PROPERTY OVER CAPITALIZATION ON JULY 1, 1924	184,755,009.24
Property added since June 30, 1915	104,881,141.26
Total	$748,013,174.40	Total	$748,013,174.40

This furnishes the most conclusive answer to the charge of watered stock.

The Great Northern never did have and never will have a dollar of watered stock.

Nickles N. Dimes
The 'Gas Tax' Man

To the Ladies—

Good roads mean so much to you and the children that you will be sure next Tuesday to vote "Yes" on Amendment No. 1 authorizing the legislature to put any gasoline tax money into the highway fund, instead of the fund from which are paid general state government expenses. But may I respectfully ask you to vote the pink ballot first to make doubly sure?

To the Farmers—

You need good roads even more than other automobile owners. Regardless of the vote on Amendment No. 1, it is generally predicted that Minnesota next year will have a law taxing gasoline used in highway vehicles. That tax money will be used to your greatest benefit if used on the roads—where it belongs. Big city car owners will pay about the same proportion of gasoline taxes as they now pay of the motor vehicle taxes going entirely on your country roads, and tourists from other states will contribute over $500,000 a year of new extra money. Vote "Yes" for your own biggest gain.

To the Car Owners—

You are already bound by the state constitution to pay for all improvement and maintenance on state trunk highways, and unless Amendment No. 1 is adopted your automobiles and trucks may be taxed in addition for part of the general expenses of state government. The average car owner in Minnesota now receives the use of more than $500,000 of highway betterments for each $1 taxes he pays on his machine.

You can reduce your car running expenses as much as five cents a mile with good roads, while your automobile taxes are less than a fifth of a cent a car mile. Fight for the big gain. By voting "Yes" on Gas Tax Amendment No. 1 you have everything to gain and nothing to lose.

To All the People—

Think of the better things being brought into our daily lives by the automobile and good roads. Look back over the last few years at the changes they have worked for your betterment and that of your community. With more and still better highways will come still bigger things. We must unite to speed their coming, and not quibble over petty things. Minnesota can keep its good roads reputation only by keeping pace with other states in highway development. The cost will be nil for good roads pay for themselves. What we do not put into needed road improvements must come out of the cars, as everybody well knows. But we never will progress if everybody waits for everybody else to advance the necessary funds. Certainly, if we have a gasoline tax, the receipts should go on roads for the greatest benefit of road users who will pay.

Let's do one big thing for Minnesota and for our own interest by going to the polls next Tuesday and putting "X" after "Yes" on Gas Tax Amendment No. 1, first on the pink ballots.

That State-Owned Mill.

The state-owned mill at Grand Forks lost only $80,718 during the month of June. Every time a barrel of hard spring wheat flour rolled out of that institution, and there was 4,000 of them every twenty-four hours, the taxpayers kissed 54 cents goodby. The net loss of the mill up to June 30 was $627,362.84. North Dakota is generously giving the rest of us an impressive example of public ownership, but how long can the taxpayers stand it?—Stillwater Gazette.

Just as Reasonable.

Speaking of the proposed idea in the past, and some of it is still prevailing, for a law to guarantee bank deposits, an exchange wants to know why not a law to guarantee that people who borrow money from the banks would pay it back together with interest. Another observes that failure to pay loans is what causes bank failures. One law would be as reasonable as the other.—Le Sueur Center Leader.

How to Catch Wolves.

Sivert Sjulson of the town of McKinley has a rath unique method for catching wolves. He is employing a snare made out of galvanized wire which he sets in rabbit runways, and which he claims is far superior to an ordinary trap. Last winter he caught nine wolves in this manner and he expects to do still beter this year.—Lancaster Herald.

Coolidge and Christianson.

As the campaign draws to a close, the election of the national ticket and the election of Theodore Christianson for governor, becomes more certain.

The opposition is waging an active, but futile, campaign. In spite of all of their efforts, the record of Theodore Christianson stands out sharp and clear. Not a puncture has been made in the record for right and progress that Ted Christianson has built during the many years he has devoted his time and talent to the welfare and upbuilding of Minnesota.

Do the voters of Minnesota want Coolidge and Christianson and a safe, sound, progressive administration of the business affairs of the State and Nation—

Or do they want to change to half-baked policies and theories which spell chaos in governmental affairs, such as government ownership of railways, government ownership of banks, state insurance, industrial enterprises, public utilities, in fact, the turning of all industry over to the government, and the killing off of all private initiative in all lines of endeavor, to the destruction of the farmer and the laborer?

They do not.

The voters are giving this momentous question thought and study—and they have decided.

The voters want Coolidge and Christianson—Frazee Press.

THE FALL OF SCHALL

An Unparalleled Self-exposure---Issues Dodged and Straddled---Preposterous Campaign Antics---The Grotesque and Dishonest Methods of His Canvass

The show which Thomas D. Schall has made of himself in this campaign has utterly disgusted a multitude of Republicans. Their number has increased from day to day as he has gone about the state exposing himself to actual view.

It is common knowledge that thousands to whom, at the time of the primary, he was little but a name cannot tolerate him and will not vote for him, now that they know the type of man he is, his caliber, his antics, and his methods. They have seen, heard, measured him—they know him now. If the Republican primary were to be held today Schall would be burried deeper than ever plummet sounded.

Schall for the great office of United States Senator! It is too serious to joke about. Republicans, intelligent men of all parties, all who have pride in the State, may well pause at the thought of six years of Thomas D. Schall in the national senate.

When Schall by the merest accident—an accident due to general ignorance of the man—won by a hair's breadth in the primary, not one in a dozen Republicans, even of those who voted for him, dreamed that as his very first act in the campaign he would utterly betray our farmers. That first act was to name as his representatives on the State Central committee, Andy Rahn and Ed. Smith. In the primary contest he made immense pretense of his devotion to our great agricultural interests and thus fooled great numbers of honest farmers, who, not knowing him, supposed him honest and took him at his word.

But Schall was hardly nominated before the real thing that is inside of him came out in the shape of Rahn and Smith. And he forthwith started out on the speaking platform with his mountebank antics, at a certain point in his speeches stripping off his coat and vest to show to his audiences the flannel shirt and the caricature of farmers' suspenders which he wore for the occasion—a stage costume deliberately prepared and a scene anxiously rehearsed by him in advance.

What kind of a man is it who could prepare such a moving picture exhibition of himself for the intelligent people of Minnesota? And that too with a view to the United States Senate! What would the people of the United States think of him—and of us?

The voters of Minnesota, men as well as women, are profoundly interested, on one side of the other, in the question of modification of the Volstead law. It is one of the chief public questions on which a Senator is elected to act and to vote. The question has been publicly put straight to Schall as to Farrell and Magnus Johnson. Schall dodged, equivocated, evaded. He wants to deceive voters on both sides. The campaign is now near its end, and no voter in all the state knows how Schall stands on this vital issue. All voters do know now that his stand, whatever it may be, is crooked and dishonest.

Out of it all one good result has come: Schall has made it clear enough that he is not to be trusted on that or any other question.

How does Schall stand on the Ku Klux Klan question? That question has risen up before him every day of his canvas. The voters today as the campaign closes know no more of his stand on this question than they did the day the campaign opened. His thought by day and his dream by night is to deceive voters on both sides of it.

Look at Schalls methods in detail—they reveal the real man. Look at the scandalous special issue of that sheet called the Harpoon devoted to detraction and calumination of Magnus Johnson—filled with column after column all in the grossest and yellowest style known to the art of printing, of abuse, of misrepresentation, of low-minded insinuation. Whatever else may be said of Magnus Johnson, no fair-minded Republican or Democrat in Minnesota can think without indignation and contempt of that Schall-Harpoon mess of scurrility and injustice.

And Schall has gone about the state declaiming on the stump his story of the pretended offer to him by some unnamed man in Washington of $25,000.00 to advocate in Minnesota the World Court—a story told in such a way as to imply that Magnus Johnson had changed his position on the World Court because the same offer was made to him as to Schall. What are voters to think of a man who could invent so preposterous and malicious a yarn?

Can Republicans, can Minnesota, stand for such a man as Schall in the Senate? A man who has made before their very eyes such a display of his very self in this campaign? A man who is capable of such methods, such thoughts, such a misconception of the intelligence and character of the people of this great state ?

Eminent Speaker to Address Women at Local Headquarters at 3 P. M.

Mrs. O'Toole, woman speaker sent out by state headquarters, will address the women of this city next Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in support of the Republican candidates. Mrs. J. H. Hardisty, in charge of the headquarters, desires a large attendance at this meeting which will probably be the last of the campaign, her notice from the state chairman being to the effect that Mrs. O'Toole is a speaker of widespread prominence.

The local headquarters has been well provided with literature dealing with the important issues of the campaign and the women of the vicinity are requested to call and avail themselves of this material which will enable them to vote intelligently on election day.

Do not miss the address of Mrs. O'Toole, as a treat is promised those who attend.

Bemidji Football Player Loses Sight When Hit on Head in Crookston Game

Local football fans will be interested in the following item which appeared in the Minneapolis Journal Monday:

"Crookston, Minn., Oct. 27.—Louis Neuman, Bemidji high school football player, was still in a Crookston hospital today, blind as the result of injuries suffered Saturday in the football game between Bemidji and Crookston high schools here. In the second half of the game, Neuman, while attempting to stop the line plunging of Crookston players, suffered a blow on the head. Examining physicians were unable to say whether his skull was fractured, or whether or not he would regain his sight."

Louis Neuman will be remembered as one of the Bemidji players who helped defeat the Thief River Falls high school team here October 17.

Goose and Lutefisk Supper by Men of Trinity Nov. 7

Annual Event In Church Basement to Be in Charge of Men Only.

The men of the Trinity Lutheran church have decided to take full charge of the annual lutefisk and goose supper to be served in the church basement on the evening of November 7. A committee of the men held a meeting yesterday and arranged everything down to the smallest detail.

In order that there may be no confusion and the expected crowd may be served promptly the men have decided to open the doors at 5:00 p.m. at which time supper will be served..

These annual suppers have been successful to a degree which has prompted the men to make more elaborate plans than ever before and something both novel and tasty is promised by the committee which has the cuisine in charge. There will be lutefisk in abundance, the best the market affords, and goose enough to fill an army, say the chefs. It goes without saying that a cordial invitation is extended to the public.

WOMEN MARCH HERE SATURDAY AT 2:30 O'CLOCK

Voters to Be Reminded of Election Duty by March of Women.

Next Saturday afternoon the women of Thief River Falls will conduct a march of Allegiance, in other words, they will make a marching demonstration in an effort to impress upon the minds of all voters their duty as citizens on election day.

This is decidedly not a partison move—but merely a move for better citizenship—a strennous and praiseworthy effort on the part of the women to wake up the city and country to the urgent necessity of voting.

The women in charge of the parade which will start as above stated from the Central school promptly at 2:30 p.m., urgently request the women of the city, regardless of political affiliations, to participate in the parade.

Following the parade a woman speaker, Mrs. O'Toole of St. Paul, will speak at the Women's Headquarters at the Penney building.

REPUBLICAN LANDSLIDE LIKELY JUDGING FROM EARLY RETURNS OVER RADIO—RECORD VOTE CAST

Coolidge Easy Winner Over Davis, With LaFollette Trailing—Christianson and Schall in Lead in State Contest. Wefald Defeats Peterson For Congress and Marius Waldal Is Apparently Re-elected to Succeed Himself as State Representative From 65th District.

A Republican landslide in the nation was forecast last evening by returns received at local radio receiving stations, and reports from the United Press to The Tribune at a late hour this afternoon verified the early figures. New York went to Coolidge hy nearly a million, while California reported a majority of 200,000 for the President. All doubtful states have returned Republican majorities and the President will hava more than 300 electoral votes.

Minnesota appears to be safely in the Coolidge column by a substantial plurality over LaFollette, with Davis a poor third. At 4 p. m. Coolidge had a lead of 67,000 votes in 1624 precincts; indicating that he would carry the state by at least 30,000.

The sama report gave Schall a lead of 26,440 votes in 1406 precincts over Mngnus Johnson. This lead may be reduced by later returns from tha country.

For governor Theodore Christianson is in the lead over Floyd Olson by 40,000 in 1784 precincts.

There are 3600 precincts in the state and late returns may completely change the above figures. It is announced from headquarters, however, that the Republican state ticket below governor is safely in the lead.

Owing to the lateness of the hour, The Tribune is unable to give Pennington county returns by precincts, bnt the totals for all offices, national, state and county, are as follows:

Marius Waldal Returned as State Representative

In the legislative contest in the 65th district, Marius Waldal has apparently won over his nearest opponent, R. O. Gordon, by a majority of about 300 in the district. In Pennington county Waldal received 1666 to 1607 for Gordon. Red Lake county gave Waldal 987 to 790 for Gordon. Reports from Clearwater are incomplete but indicate a slight lead by Waldal over Gordon.

Walter Day of Bagley is assured of election as the other member of the House.

Judge Backe Defeats Opponent, Peter Wold

The only contest for county office except that of county commissioner, was the one between Judge of Probate Lars Backe, incumbent, and Peter C. Wold, who had the backing of the Farmer-Labor organization. The judge defeated his oppontnt by exactly 300 votes, Backe receiving 1940 votes while Wold received 1640, this city giving the judge a fine endorsement in the voting.

SPEAKERS HEARD AT FELLOWSHIP CHURCH SUPPER

Second Men's Club Event at Presbyterian - Church Proves of Interest.

The Men's club of the Presbyterian church held its second monthly supper of this season in the parlors of the church Friday evening, with a good attendance of the members of the club. The meeting was presided over by O. R. Sande, the president. Fellowship singing, a new feature introduced at this meeting, was greatly enjoyed by the men as evidenced by their hearty response to the old songs suggested. Reports were given on the work of the club. F. F. Haynes outlined the plan by which the club would condnct the suppers in the future, committees being in charge of the invitations to the men. Bert Umland reported on tha Men's Bible class and urged all the men to take advantage of this opportunity to hold an open discussion on religious subjects. Mr. Gerlinger reported plans for the Boy Scout Troop of the church, tbe only active troop in the city at present.

Tbe subject for the evening was announced as "Our Home Town." Morlan Bishop gave an interesting talk on the social life of our community and suggested ways in which it could be improved. He urged co-operation between various social organizations to raise the standards of social life. Ha was followed by Mr. Wedge, vice president of the First National bank, who spoke on "First Impressions of Thief River Falls." He spoke highly of the progressive spirit of the city and marked it as truly "western" in that respect.

For the next Fellowship supper on November 28, the subject has been announced as "Edncation." The snbject will be treated from the various aspects of intellectual, moral and religious.

Welsh Singers Please in Fine Concert Here

Famous Musical Organization Elicits Storm of Applausa at Auditorium.

The famous Welsh singers who appeared here last Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Elks lodge, failed to fill the auditorium as had been anticipated, but those who came out to hear them were rewarded with a musical treat such as never before has been heard in Thief River Falls. Every member of the organization is an artist and those who were privileged to hear them last Wednesday voiced approval of every number by vociferous applause.

Tha Welsh singers were on their way to Winnipeg where they appeared the following evening. This constitutes their fourth American trip, each succeeding visit to this country having been more successful than the one preceding. Although the Elks lost money upon their venture they are to ba congratulated for bringing such a fine musical treat to this city.

Wefald Defeats Peterson.

Reports from the congressional contest in the Ninth district indicate the re-election of Knud Wefald over F. H. Peterson by a substantial majority. A report from Crookston was to the effect that Wefald was leading by a slight margin, but later returns increased the lead of the congressman.

Football Game Is Feature of Armistice Program in City Tuesday, Nov. 11th

One of tha big features of the Armistice Day program will be the football game between the local high school eleven and East Grand Forks, to be played at 3 o'clock at tha fair grounds.

East Grand Forks has an exceptionally strong team as was evidenced by its victory over Warren last Saturday 20 to 0. The locals are smaller and lighter men and hence it is expected thay will concentrate their efforts on a passing game. As their passing has proved successful in other games this season, they should be able to give their larger opponents cause for worry. With the return of Capt. "Mike" Parenteau and Sylvester Wengeler, who were unable to play in the last game due to injuries, and barring any accidents for the remainder of the week, the regular first team lineup will be on hand for the game.

East Grand Forks has been victorious over the Lincolnites for the past two years. Come out to the game next Tuesday and do your bit to keep them from winning a third time.

"Triumph" Is the Result of Nation-Wide Contest in Writing Movie Story

It will be recalled that as a result of a nation-wide idea contest conducted by Cecil B. DeMille, 30,000 answers were received. The winning idea, "The Ten Commandments," was made into a sensationally successful motion picture.

Aside from the idea to film the decalogue, however, the contest was invaluable in giving an accurate view of what representative theatre goers really wanted.

An outstanding cry was, "Give us more stories of business, of industry." Said the husbands, "We want to see men ou the screen like those we know." Said tha wives, "Wewa nt to see the movies but it is hard to gtt our hubbies to stir out in tha evenings. They say they dou't like just love stories. Give them something of their own stuff, and our job will be easy!"

Hence the new DeMilla picture, "Triumph," which carries one from modern factories to gilded cafes, from overalls to Paris gowns, and from polo to a park beach in Madison Square, New York, a picture for men as well as women.

The picture, which will appear at the Lyceum next Sunday and Mouday, is portrayed by a large cast that fairly bristles with interesting names.

Handles 3,000 Carloads.

The Minnesota Growers Exchange announces that it has received from farmers 3,000 carloads of potatoes. Some of these potatoes have been sold, while many cars are either being stored in terminal warehouses or held in local storage houses.

Senator Hansen Returns.

Senator C. L. Hansen returned Saturday morning from a three months tour of Europe. He visited the Scandinavian countries as well as France, England and Germany and made many many observations concerning present conditions across the big pond which he has promised to reduce to writing for publication in The Tribune. The return trip was made on the liner Minnetonka, which the senator describes as the grandest of floating palaces on the Atlantic today. Notice of Mr. Hansens' return was sent out to northwestern news bureaus by the marine service at New York.

Australia O K's Law for Compulsory Wheat Pool

Melborune, Oct. 14.—The legislative assembly today passed a bill providing for a compulsory wheat pool. According to tha latest estimates of the Australian wheat crop, the yield will be approximately 119,000,000 bushels, or about 4,000,000 bushels less than last year's crop.—Chicago Daily Tribune, Oct. 15, 1924.

Armistice Day Proclamation

Six years ago the din of battle was hushed. Men taxed almost beyond human endurance, laid aside the armament of devastation—glad to return to their families and former occupations.

Next Tuesday, November 11th, on the occasion of this momentous anniversary, this nation pays homage to the 70,000 men who fell on the field of honor. Those men did not die or suffer in vain, for since that memorable November day of 1918 great strides have been made toward universal peace.

Let us be happy in the thought that while our sacrifice was severe, the marks of battle were not indelible, and let us all—men, women and children—pay due homage and respect to the men of the colors, both living and dead, by a proper observance of Armistice Day.

Therefore, I respectfully request that all places of business in Thief River Falls be closed on Tuesday, November 11, 1924, at the hour of 10:30 A. M., and remain closed during the remainder of said day, in order that all citizens may join in an observance of the day by attending the exercises which will be held at the Auditorium under the auspices of the American Legion.

Given under my hand this 3rd day of November, 1924.

J. S. ARNESON, Mayor.
